Woman, to-day, as ever, supplies the en-thusiasm which sustains the church, and she has a right in turn to ask the church to sustain her in this struggle for liberty, and not only as individuals, but as influential organizations, to take some decisive action with reference to this momentous and far-reaching movement.

Charles Kingsley said: "This will never be a good world for woman until the last remnant of the canon law is swept from the face of the earth."

Executive Committee.

The second meeting of the executive committee was held this morning in the club room of the West hotel. The special plan of work committee appointed to put together the portions approved is Mrs. Lucy Hobart Day, of Maine; Mrs. Ida Porter Boyer, of Pennsylvania, and Mary Bentley Thomas, of Maryland.

The interesting feature of the morning was a spirited discussion of the topic of movable conventions introduced by Miss Laura Clay of Kentucky, who favors abolishing the present plan of holding conventions in Washington the winter the opening of each congress. She would have the conventions meet wherever expedient. Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, national treasurer, was the chief champion of the present plan. Of the other members of the business committee the senti ments of Miss Anthony, Miss Shaw and Mrs. Avery are known to be fovarble to the present system and Miss Blackwell to the movable convention. Mrs. Catt is said to believe in the general policy of movable conventions, but to be in no hurry to apply it. No vote was taken on the question and it is probable that the next convention will be held in Wash-

The recommendation of the business committee that the association establish a periodical to be published quarterly, entitled "Progress," was adopted, also the provision that the corresponding secretary should be at headquarters. Last night the executive meeting in addition to laboring with the plan of work adopted a resolu-tion protesting against the introduction of the European system of state regulated vice in the new possessions of the United

During the committee meeting this morning, while the question of advising all state suffrage associations to try to secure the appointment of police matrons was under discussion, Henry B. Blackwell of Massachusetts mentioned that Dr. Martha Ripley of Minneapolis, when a resident of Haverhill, Mass., secured the appoint ment of a police matron many years before the general movement for police matrons began, and that, largely through her in-itiative, Massachusetts secured a genemal police matron law in advance of all the

Miss Anthony's Address. Miss Anthony said:

If the divine law visits the sins of the fathers upon the children, equally so does transmit to them their virtues. There fore, if it is through woman's ignorant subjection to the tyranny of man's appetitie and passions that the life current of the race is corrupted, then must it be through her intelligent emancipation that the race shall be redeemed from the curse and her children and children's children rise up and call her blessed. When the mother of Christ shall be made the true model of womanhood and motherhood, when the office of maternity shall be held sacred and the mother shall conse crate herself, as did Mary, to the one idea of bringing forth the Christ child, then, and
