

CITY NEWS

Rev. Anna Shaw Will Speak—Rev. Anna Shaw will occupy the pulpit of the Hennepin Avenue Methodist church Sunday night.

Not a Police Gift—The Journal recently said that Detective Thomas Gallagher had a diamond star presented to him by his fellow police officers.

MRS. N. C. AXTELL'S funeral will be held from the residence, 536 Fourth street S., at 2 p. m. to-morrow.

WILL MOORE DO IT?

The First Step in the Hospital Investigation

IF THE MAYOR HOLDS BACK

President of Board of Charities and Corrections May Call a Special Meeting.

If the board of charities and corrections should decrease an investigation into hospital methods and management, the initiative will plainly have to come from some one on the board other than Mayor Ames.

President Moore is out of town to-day and could not be seen in the matter. It is well known that he has not been satisfied for a long time with the way things were going at the city hospital.

Dr. Woodward, as a candidate for re-appointment, will naturally follow the mayor's lead.

Mayor Ames has frequently used the democratic method of town of New Utm, to assist Colonel Bollerle made a martial holiday there.

It is said that the mayor will lose no opportunity to travel about the state with the staff during the next twelvemonth, and that he proposes to accept every chance offered him for a speech or any other move that will impress the people.

The doctor was a fine sight for military eyes as he sat in his office signing state documents, receiving the people and listening patiently to their tales of trouble.

Now some other equally competent, and unhampered by the doctor's natural desire to make out a case in his own behalf, nothing is to be done about the hospital in the least goes to prove his contention.

"The doctor is quite off in his reasoning," declared a city official closely connected with the work and the operation of the courts.

"Few criminals ever find their way to the Minneapolis workhouse. That is a report for drums and vags almost exclusively. Actual criminals take quite another route.

The fact that there are only 50 inmates there now, against twice that number a year ago, is a reflection on the criminal situation in Minneapolis at all.

The criminals arrested and convicted will be found in the jail and at the state's prison and reformatory, and not in the workhouse.

The fact that there has been such a falling off in the workhouse population proves only two things, that more men are employed than before and that there are fewer arrests of vagrants and vagrants with us.

These are the only conclusions that I believe that any disinterested man could draw from the situation. The doctor is so zealous, however, to make a case for his police that I doubt if he would be able to see the point, or concede it if he could see it."

LUGGER'S SUCCESSOR

A Search for a Competent Man to Be Made.

Dean Liggett, of the state agricultural school and Professor W. M. Hays, consulted with Governor Van Sant yesterday as to a successor to Dr. Luggier.

It will be necessary to appoint a state anatomist this summer, as the position is vacant.

The order directed by the railroad and warehouse commission against the ore-carrying roads was being considered by the desk yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

MILLS HOLDS THE ORDER.

The order directed by the railroad and warehouse commission against the ore-carrying roads was being considered by the desk yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

BIGGS JURY LET GO

Two Men Refuse Absolutely to Vote for Conviction.

THO' VERY CLEARLY CORNERED

Jurymen Think the State Did Not Present a Very Strong Case.

The first effort to convict F. A. Briggs, the gambler, by a jury, has proved a partial failure.

After what seemed to be a rather feeble effort on the part of the state yesterday, the case was given to the jury, which remained out over night only to report this morning that an agreement was out of the question.

Justice McGee discharged them, leaving the case to be tried over again.

Despite the fact that some of the jurymen felt that the case, as presented by the state, was not a strong one, ten of the twelve voted for conviction from first to last. The other two voted just as persistently for acquittal.

Had Them Cornered.

According to a member of the jury, the ten men who were in favor of conviction labored hard with the other two, but without avail.

At one time an agreement seemed to be at hand. The two agreed finally that it could be shown that Mr. Briggs had advised Flannigan to put a machine in the Brunswick barroom, and if the court would instruct the jury that such advice constituted guilt under the indictment and the law, they would vote for conviction.

Judge McGee, when asked for instructions on the above point, promptly stated such advice as that indicated would constitute guilt.

The evidence of Mr. Flannigan, the only witness called in the case, was clearly to the effect that Briggs had advised the putting in of a slot machine, but that "the man" who the jury returned to its room, after the judge had given the desired instructions, the two refused to change their votes and continued to stand for acquittal.

Substance of the Testimony.

The trial, as may be inferred from the above was short. Upon the completion of the jury, the state explained what it proposed to prove, and then called the proprietor of the Brunswick hotel, Mr. Flannigan as its first and only witness.

Mr. Flannigan was an unwilling witness. He said "a man had said to him, 'You would better put a machine in your bar room.' Mr. Flannigan had said he did not care to do the business, but 'the man' had replied that the other folks were putting them in and he ought to. On cross-examination he admitted that he knew the man who had introduced the machine into the Brunswick hotel, but he did not care to say who it was.

Under the instructions of the judge, this testimony was enough to connect Briggs with the offense charged in the indictment, but there was a feeling among some of the jurors that the state could have introduced evidence to show that Briggs had done something more than advise in the matter of putting in the machine.

One of the jurors also says he was introduced to the case by the composition of the jury, otherwise the two men who stood so strongly for acquittal would not have been permitted to serve, especially as they did not care to testify upon examination was shown to be undesirable from the state's standpoint.

Nobody to Lead.

Commissioner Miller's term expires July 1, and the natural expectation is that he will be replaced by some one closer to the mayor's heart, and with but one more regular meeting before him, it is quite useless for him to take any active steps in the matter.

Dr. Woodward, as a candidate for re-appointment, will naturally follow the mayor's lead.

Mayor Ames has frequently used the democratic method of town of New Utm, to assist Colonel Bollerle made a martial holiday there.

It is said that the mayor will lose no opportunity to travel about the state with the staff during the next twelvemonth, and that he proposes to accept every chance offered him for a speech or any other move that will impress the people.

The doctor was a fine sight for military eyes as he sat in his office signing state documents, receiving the people and listening patiently to their tales of trouble.

Now some other equally competent, and unhampered by the doctor's natural desire to make out a case in his own behalf, nothing is to be done about the hospital in the least goes to prove his contention.

"The doctor is quite off in his reasoning," declared a city official closely connected with the work and the operation of the courts.

"Few criminals ever find their way to the Minneapolis workhouse. That is a report for drums and vags almost exclusively. Actual criminals take quite another route.

The fact that there are only 50 inmates there now, against twice that number a year ago, is a reflection on the criminal situation in Minneapolis at all.

The criminals arrested and convicted will be found in the jail and at the state's prison and reformatory, and not in the workhouse.

The fact that there has been such a falling off in the workhouse population proves only two things, that more men are employed than before and that there are fewer arrests of vagrants and vagrants with us.

These are the only conclusions that I believe that any disinterested man could draw from the situation. The doctor is so zealous, however, to make a case for his police that I doubt if he would be able to see the point, or concede it if he could see it."

LUGGER'S SUCCESSOR

A Search for a Competent Man to Be Made.

Dean Liggett, of the state agricultural school and Professor W. M. Hays, consulted with Governor Van Sant yesterday as to a successor to Dr. Luggier.

It will be necessary to appoint a state anatomist this summer, as the position is vacant.

The order directed by the railroad and warehouse commission against the ore-carrying roads was being considered by the desk yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

FITTINGLY OBSERVE

Minneapolisans Keep the Day Sacred to the Soldier Dead.

MILITARY AND CIVIC PARADE

Mass Meeting at the Exposition Building Addressed by President Cyrus Northrop.

Memorial Day, 1901, was favored with auspicious skies and a magnificent making possible a large turnout of the surviving veterans of the civil and Spanish-American wars.

In the morning when the ceremonies were to be held the sun shone warmly from a clear sky, and the street railway company was hard pressed to carry the multitude which wished to visit the city of the dead.

Despite the fact that some of the jurymen felt that the case, as presented by the state, was not a strong one, ten of the twelve voted for conviction from first to last. The other two voted just as persistently for acquittal.

Had Them Cornered.

According to a member of the jury, the ten men who were in favor of conviction labored hard with the other two, but without avail.

At one time an agreement seemed to be at hand. The two agreed finally that it could be shown that Mr. Briggs had advised Flannigan to put a machine in the Brunswick barroom, and if the court would instruct the jury that such advice constituted guilt under the indictment and the law, they would vote for conviction.

Judge McGee, when asked for instructions on the above point, promptly stated such advice as that indicated would constitute guilt.

The evidence of Mr. Flannigan, the only witness called in the case, was clearly to the effect that Briggs had advised the putting in of a slot machine, but that "the man" who the jury returned to its room, after the judge had given the desired instructions, the two refused to change their votes and continued to stand for acquittal.

Substance of the Testimony.

The trial, as may be inferred from the above was short. Upon the completion of the jury, the state explained what it proposed to prove, and then called the proprietor of the Brunswick hotel, Mr. Flannigan as its first and only witness.

Mr. Flannigan was an unwilling witness. He said "a man had said to him, 'You would better put a machine in your bar room.' Mr. Flannigan had said he did not care to do the business, but 'the man' had replied that the other folks were putting them in and he ought to. On cross-examination he admitted that he knew the man who had introduced the machine into the Brunswick hotel, but he did not care to say who it was.

Under the instructions of the judge, this testimony was enough to connect Briggs with the offense charged in the indictment, but there was a feeling among some of the jurors that the state could have introduced evidence to show that Briggs had done something more than advise in the matter of putting in the machine.

One of the jurors also says he was introduced to the case by the composition of the jury, otherwise the two men who stood so strongly for acquittal would not have been permitted to serve, especially as they did not care to testify upon examination was shown to be undesirable from the state's standpoint.

Nobody to Lead.

Commissioner Miller's term expires July 1, and the natural expectation is that he will be replaced by some one closer to the mayor's heart, and with but one more regular meeting before him, it is quite useless for him to take any active steps in the matter.

Dr. Woodward, as a candidate for re-appointment, will naturally follow the mayor's lead.

Mayor Ames has frequently used the democratic method of town of New Utm, to assist Colonel Bollerle made a martial holiday there.

It is said that the mayor will lose no opportunity to travel about the state with the staff during the next twelvemonth, and that he proposes to accept every chance offered him for a speech or any other move that will impress the people.

The doctor was a fine sight for military eyes as he sat in his office signing state documents, receiving the people and listening patiently to their tales of trouble.

Now some other equally competent, and unhampered by the doctor's natural desire to make out a case in his own behalf, nothing is to be done about the hospital in the least goes to prove his contention.

"The doctor is quite off in his reasoning," declared a city official closely connected with the work and the operation of the courts.

"Few criminals ever find their way to the Minneapolis workhouse. That is a report for drums and vags almost exclusively. Actual criminals take quite another route.

The fact that there are only 50 inmates there now, against twice that number a year ago, is a reflection on the criminal situation in Minneapolis at all.

The criminals arrested and convicted will be found in the jail and at the state's prison and reformatory, and not in the workhouse.

The fact that there has been such a falling off in the workhouse population proves only two things, that more men are employed than before and that there are fewer arrests of vagrants and vagrants with us.

These are the only conclusions that I believe that any disinterested man could draw from the situation. The doctor is so zealous, however, to make a case for his police that I doubt if he would be able to see the point, or concede it if he could see it."

LUGGER'S SUCCESSOR

A Search for a Competent Man to Be Made.

Dean Liggett, of the state agricultural school and Professor W. M. Hays, consulted with Governor Van Sant yesterday as to a successor to Dr. Luggier.

It will be necessary to appoint a state anatomist this summer, as the position is vacant.

The order directed by the railroad and warehouse commission against the ore-carrying roads was being considered by the desk yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

The commission refuses to give it out for publication until it has been served, but the substance of it was given in The Journal yesterday.

GRAIN DEPARTMENT CHANGES

Weights Being Discharged to Make Room for New Men.

Eight deputy weighers and ten employees of the Minneapolis inspection department will leave the service June 1.

Their resignations have been requested, in order to make room for some of the eighty-six men who have already reported for duty, and are getting acquainted with the work.

The following deputy weighers will quit Saturday:

Albert Amos, L. A. Weberg, J. P. Brakke, J. W. Baird, J. C. Gubbins, August Schaper, A. B. Applin, E. E. Taylor, Nine new men will be put on as follows:

E. M. Parish, J. C. Reichert, Charles B. Piche, St. Paul, G. A. Laga, W. E. N. Lindh, Alexandria, J. E. Schunert, A. P. Teel, Ward T. Gray and C. M. Marboe, Minneapolis.

The old inspection force will be retained until Aug. 1, but sealers and helpers are being discharged in order to make room for new men.

Those who leave June 1 are as follows:

H. D. Dimond, flag sealer; J. S. Anderson and O. Rogers, sealers; Ferdinand Johnson, Hansman, R. W. G. Gubbins, E. Dahlmann, H. G. Boe and Nels Peterson, helpers. H. H. Fuller, a sealer, quit May 15.

Their places are being filled. John L. Jacobson, a brother of the late Carl Parle statesman, has reported for work.

Staples, a brother of the commissioner. Others who have been assigned to work are St. L. Staples of Morrison county, J. E. McNamara of Murray, and Frank C. H. Ferguson, chief clerk in the weighmaster's office, has resigned on account of ill health, and Frank Lydard has been appointed to succeed him.

Ferguson will be retained in a clerkship.

C. C. Evans, a brother of the attorney, had been assigned to the Duluth inspection department, but has resigned on account of ill health. Ed Emerson is transferred from Minneapolis to Duluth.

At the close of the address the firing squad of Morgan camp, Sons of Veterans, No. 4, was discharged, and the service was pronounced by Rev. Mr. Brown.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the Grand Army lot were decorated with flags and evergreen wreaths.

The graves of the 150 dead in the