FINISHING TOUCHES
Fargo's Annual Fire Festival to Open on Wednesday.
Special to The Journal.
Fargo, N. D., June 3.—The committees are losing no time in getting things in shape for the eighth annual fire festival, Wednesday and Friday. Nearly everything but the decorations and stands has been completed, and they will be in position by to-morrow afternoon. The military parade Wednesday will be one of the best features, as it will also be a reunion of many of the Philippine veterans. The industrial parade and carnival will be Thursday's features, and the big secret society parade will be the event of Friday.

With the many forms of amusement for all visitors everyone will have a good time. All the railroads are making cheap excursion rates, and advice from the smaller towns justify the predictions that the attendance will exceed that of all former years.

GRADUATION WEEK

Baccalaureate Services at the University Yesterday.

SERMON BY REV. DR. HALLOCK

President Northrop Tells the Young Men to Go Into Politics.

The baccalaureate service at the university yesterday was attended by a large gathering of friends of the graduate and alumni of the institution. The auditorium was filled with the national flag, bunting in red, white and blue, and the university colors.

According to custom the senior classes of the different schools marched in just before the exercises began. The academics were dressed in cap and gown. On the platform were members of the board of regents and pastors of East Side churches. The music was furnished by St. Mark's choir, with George H. Nor-mington, organist of St. Mark's, at the piano.

"The Radiant Morn" was the opening song by the choir. Rev. William Love, pastor of the First Methodist church, made the invocation, which was followed by "The Heavens Are Telling," rendered by the choir. Rev. Dr. Hallock, pastor of the First Congregational church, read the scripture selection. The audience rose and joined in singing "How Glorious God's Commands." At the close of the baccalaureate address, Rev. Dr. Hallock, pastor of the Plymouth church, "America" was sung.
The benediction was pronounced by Rev.
F. H. Cooper of the Olivet Baptist church.

Dr. Hallock's Address.

Dr. Hallock's text was taken from the seventh verse of the fourteenth chapter of Romans: "For none of us liveth to himself." He said in part:

"That we live at all is a ground for congratulation, for progress is possible at all only to the living. Things which are inanimate do not progress, but only living things progress; in motion. Only living things grow. What are we going and to what shall we attain? We are uncertain, and that uncertainty gives a charm to every man's life. We are uncertain, and that uncertainty
