The News of the Day

SEE SIX EASY ONES

Millers' Short Tour With the Lagards.

THE DEFECT IN THE LOCALS

Infield Is in Bad Shape--Klopf Should Not Be at First.

Six games which ought to be easy are on the millers' engagement book on their present junket. All are with second division clubs, Omaha and Des Moines, the latter being a rank tail-end team at the present time. The millers have not met either team since the ante-season games in which they suffered severely. Beall's men have improved greatly since that time, however, while the Omahogs and the rear guards seem to have gone backward. Ordinarily a team on the road is not expected to win more than one third of its games, but in this short trip and against such weak clubs the Beall players to sustain their pretensions ought to take at least four out of the six.

The weak places are being shown up very clearly. It is the infield, which is losing games. There is only one satisfactory player in the quartet, and that is Brashear. All the others have their good points, but they also have their faults. It was a mistake of the management to put Klopf on first and switch Tannehill back to third. Tannehill could at least have been the first corner in an acceptable manner, but is out of his element at third, while Klopf has never pretended to be a first baseman. The switch resulted in weakness at two positions, whereas even if Klopf could not take care of third better than King, he could not play it any worse and should have been placed there and left the first base in Tannehill's excellent care.

Outfield All Right.

At the present gait the team is going there is no need of interfering with the outfield or the backstop department. The pitching staff, also, though lacking real stars, is on the whole a very safe lot. The team has lost a great number of games behind Parvin, but it has not been Parvin's fault to any great extent. Still a star can be used and "Dad" Clark will be reinforced by Gilliam, a young man, who has been sent to a southern farm by the principal weakness of the millers is their lack of team work and their helplessness on the base lines. Possibly both these faults may be corrected by securing a star infielder who can captain as well as play ball. There is nothing prettier in a ball game or more pleasing to the fans than clean and clever team work with fast, daring and heady base running. But the fans see little of it at Nicollet Park.

Western League Notes.

Kind-hearted George Tebeau will send George Retter to the Des Moines team. The tail-enders are wofully weak in the pitching department. Retter is about the best and the steady pitcher of the Kawawa team. No other manager would think of doing what George Tebeau has done. But old "White" is coming back, and he is a star in the eyes of the fans. He is a suggestion that he ought to help.

W. P. Chase, Des Moines, says: "I first thought I would let him go, but now that he and Ellis have caused so much trouble I am bound to have him, whether he wants to report here or not. I am not afraid of losing Hardesty or Hartman to the Chicago team, because I have already let Pacard have three blues, and I think he will be satisfied."

W. P. Chase of Des Moines, says that the tail-enders are the highest priced team in the league outside of St. Paul.

Oliver Cromwell George Washington Mohler, who has a habit of writing epistles in defense of the lobsbers wearing Denver uniforms, was a little off-color himself, and not only neglected to get his eye on the ball, but also fell asleep in the field when a man started from St. Paul to steal second--Bouquet, in Denver Times.

FRESH TROUT BLOOD

Why Warden Fullerton Buys Wild Trout Fry.

CAPTIVITY MAKES FISH SLUGGISH

The 25,000 Youngsters Just Purchased Are Now 1-4 Inches Long--December Hatch.

In compliance with the instructions of the game and fish commission, Game Warden Fullerton has purchased 25,000 wild trout fry from Hanson's hatchery at Osceola. This is the first lot of wild trout fry secured for the state fishery. The idea is to infuse new blood into the "domesticated" stock fed trout hatched under the guardianship of the state. It is claimed that civilization does not improve the breed, and that the trout which is brought up under restraint with his food always provided for him, becomes fat and lazy, and otherwise gradually loses his most distinguishing characteristics. Above all other fish, the trout is restless. He is the best when he is on the move. When he has shifted for himself and hunted for his food along the gravelly beds where his favorite crustaceans are to be found, he is getting his sustenance just as nature intended, and works up a good appetite into the bargain.

It is this continual hard hustling for the delicacies which alone constitute his prey that keeps him in trim and in good condition. The trout which is brought in through narrow confines he gradually becomes sluggish and gluttonous.

The 25,000 wild young ones which are to improve the breed at the state hatchery near Hanson's hatchery in December last and are 1/4 inches long.

Trout "run wild" on Hanson's watery preserves. He has stocked the brooks in his preserves and there permits the speckled species to enjoy a free life, going and coming as they please, and seeking their own food wherever it may be found. As a rule, visitors or employees of Hanson's hatchery are kept away from the banks of the streams, so as not to unnecessarily frighten the wary fellows who are to fulfill the noble mission of preserving their species, under the watchful eye of the warden.

COLLEGES AND SCHOOLS

Freeman Varsity Captain.

Edward Freeman, the leading pitcher of the Minnesota university baseball club, has been elected captain of the team. The decision of the team will be generally approved at the university. During the 1901 season, the sophomore team played twelve games with the more important colleges and has won seven. As the team did a great deal of traveling and only three of the big games were played at home, the record is a splendid one. These games do not include any over Minnesota colleges, nor minor colleges anywhere.

Morris, Minn., June 5.--The Glenwood Morris team played baseball here yesterday afternoon. The score was 6 to 4 in the visitors' favor. Batteries--Brown and Gillespie; Wollen and Abrahamson. This game was one of the best seen here this season.

Death at a Ball Game.

Stanley Leach, aged 14, of Weston, Ohio, died last Saturday from a heart attack the day before while watching a baseball game. The unfortunate boy was in a line of spectators along the diamond, when Frank Mayes batted a fly into the crowd. It struck Leach on the nose, smashing it into the nose protruder, and fractured his skull. He belonged to a prominent family.

Talk of the Diamond.

Burkett, Hedrick and Donovan, the St. Louis outfield, is one of the fastest in the National League. It is ready to take the Grand Rapids franchise in the Western Association, and is bidding strong against Wheeling, which is the first choice of the magnates of the association.

The left-handed pitchers are entitled to whatever credit is due for discovering that the swing of the body could aid speed to the ball and at the same time speed the arm. They were the first who adopted the wide sweep that is now universally common. Often they were ridiculed, and many a good laugh the spectators got at the expense of the cause of the ridiculous contortions of the pitchers.

Haron Somers of the Boston American team has reduced the number of players to fourteen, making his salary list for the season $30,000, of which Captain Collins receives one-sixth.

McKerron Case Again.

New York, June 5.--In response to a petition of George W. Archer, Frank Bower and other officials of the National Amateurs' association, President P. P. Johnston has called a special meeting of the board of review to be held at the office of the association in Hartford on June 27. It is understood among horsemen that the meeting is for the purpose of reconsidering the ruling made in the session in New York. This will be the third time the turf court has considered the performance of H. K. Devereux's trotter in cup races at Boston last year.

DERBY IS WHITNEY'S

The American's Horse Wins Great English Event.

SPLENDID VICTORY AT EPSOM

Volodyovski Crosses the Line Ahead of Duke of Portland's William III.

London, June 5.--Whitney's Volodyovski won the derby.

The conditions of the race were as follows: The Derby stakes of 6,000 sovereigns by subscription of 50 sovereigns each; for 3-year-olds; the nominator of the winner to receive 500 sovereigns, the owner of the second horse 300 and the owner of the third 200 sovereigns out of the stakes; about one mile and a half, there were 279 subscribers.

The result in detail was as follows: William C. Whitney's brown colt Volodyovski (L. Reiff) Florizet II--La Reine, first.

The Duke of Portland's bay colt William the Third, St. Simon-Gravit second.

Douglas Baird's chestnut colt, Veronez, Donovan-Maise, third. Twenty-five horses started.

London, June 5.--The widespread interest in this year's derby, owing to the open character of the race, was testified to by the vast numbers that left London throughout the morning for Epsom. From an early hour the roads and railroads southward were densely thronged with a strange medley of race-goers. The race, usually favored by everyone, was able to secure room in any kind of conveyance and a continuous stream of ever conceivable type of vehicle, from the luxurious four-in-hand to the coster's donkey cart, rolled toward the famous Downs. An exceptional number of moters showed the growing popularity of the automobile. Huge crowds gathered at the main points along the route away to-day's color scenes, only witnessed on Derby day.

The Nadine colt (Naber) won the juvenile plate of 200 sovereigns for 2-year-olds, distance five furlongs.

At Epsom.

Epsom, June 5.--Although it was clear that the war in South Africa still keeps many habitually away, to-day's derby presented with a box of expensive confectionery, which usually contains a slip bearing a Bible verse.

The "prince" is jolly and entertaining and refined in manner. He always urges the women to lead better lives. He declares that he was never made for a stud, but that he had much rather study human nature than chemistry.

BATTLE OVER MRS. KENNEDY.

Kansas City, June 5.--It was evident when the trial of Lulu Prince-Kennedy for the murder of her husband, Philip H. Kennedy, was resumed to-day that the case will resolve itself into a legal battle. The defense will work for instructions from Judge Wolford that the jury must find the prisoner guilty of murder in the first degree and assess capital punishment or acquit her. Prosecutor Hadley, on the other hand, it is stated, pleaded for instructions for guilt in a lesser degree, making possible a short sentence.

TRYING TO BURN A TOWN.

Corry, Pa., June 5.--Fire broke out in the village of Waterford to-day and for a time the village was threatened with destruction. The Gullet block and a number of adjoining buildings were consumed. The fire was the work of incendiaries. This was the third attempt to start a conflagration.

How They Ran.

Foxhall Keene's Olympian (Henry) led until a quarter of a mile from home, when Volodyovski drew to the front, followed by William the Third and four other quarter of a length. Four lengths separated second and third horses. Florizet was fourth. The betting was 5 to 2 against Volodyovski, 100 to 7 against William the Third, and 40 to 1 against Veronez.

The starters were: Volodyovski (L. Reiff); Florizet, Handicapper (Martin); Revue; William the Third, Royal Rogue; Veronez, Sang; Arvo, Warrgrave; Ptermaritzburg, H. R. H. Velez; Ian, Peter George; Cottager, Olympian (Henry); Orchard, Tantalus (Maher); Lord Bob, St. Maclou, Ruskin, Doricles, Claqueur; Prince Charles II. (Turner) and Osoboch.

Special to the Journal.

Webster City, Iowa, June 5.--R. J. O'Hanlon, organizer for the National Humane society, established a branch of the order here last night with a membership of twenty-five. Great interest was manifested, and as each pledged himself to solicit for new members, it is thought Webster City will soon have one of the strongest societies in the state.--James Paul was arrested yesterday and taken to the penitentiary and once was held for the murder of his mother-in-law at Homer.
