expressing themselves as they would do under the high endorsement. Everybody in the party must stand by the president and his foreign policy, and since foreign affairs are likely to engage the attention of the country to the partial exclusion of domestic concerns from that section during the continuance of the present good times, the Babcock proposition for the present may not get beyond the talking stage.

Such will depend upon the western states, especially those of the Mississippi valley. These states, while republican for several elections last past, are close politically. In a presidential campaign they are necessary to the party that wins. In these states sentiment for the Babcock bill should continue to develop, and finally reach a stage where party feeling is neutralized by the middle west.

Now that the Cuban have demonstrated their good faith in the United States it is expected that a fairly speedy evacuation of the island will follow, contingent only upon the establishment of a new government in the island. Just to what extent the United States will require practical evidence of this faith is not definitely known, but the officials here think that such steps should be taken by the Cubans as will demonstrate their ability to maintain order and peace, so that the interests of all the people, native and foreign, shall be adequately protected.

Washington, June 13.—The news of the adoption of the Platt amendment by the Cuban constitutional convention was received with genuine gratification here. The Cubans have demonstrated their good faith in the United States it is expected that a fairly speedy evacuation of the island will follow, contingent only upon the establishment of a new government in the island.

Washington, June 13.—It is expected that the Cubans will have their independence will be an accomplished fact by next Christmas. The next step now that the Platt amendment has been accepted, is for the constitutional committee to draw up an electoral bill which will provide for the election of all the officers necessary to set up an independent government.

WOMAN LAWYER WON First Victory of Sex in New York Court of Appeals. New York, June 13.—Mrs. Fanny H. Carpenter, a lawyer, has the distinction of having won in the New York court of appeals, the first case ever won by a woman in that court. Almost coincident with this honor comes her election as president of the Women's Lawyers' Club. The case was that of La Tourette vs. La Tourette, in which a husband repudiated a gift of property to his wife. The lawyers in whose hands the case for the wife was placed refused to appeal it from the lower courts, considering it a forlorn hope. Mrs. Carpenter carried it to success, and is the second woman to argue a case before the court of appeals. Mrs. Carpenter is the wife of Philip Carpenter, also a lawyer, and shares his offices with him.
