STMR. NORTHFIELD GOES DOWN Collides With the Propeller Mauch Chunk—Conflicting Statements as to Deaths.

New York, June 15.—The wooden side-wheeler Northfield, which has been in the service of the Staten Island Ferry company for the past thirty-eight years, was rammed last night by the steel-hulled propeller Mauch Chunk, used as a ferry boat by the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

The collision occurred just off the Staten Island ferry slip at the foot of Whitehall street, and in less than twenty minutes afterward the Northfield, which was crowded with passengers, sank at the outer end of the Spanish line pier in the East river.

The Mauch Chunk, which was badly damaged, landed two dozen passengers who were aboard her. Over a hundred of the passengers of the sunken Northfield were dragged out of the water by people along shore and the crews of the fleet of river tugs which promptly responded to the cry for help.

The district attorney has assigned an assistant to take charge of the cases against the captains of the Northfield and Mauch Chunk. Captain Griffin of the latter boat gave himself up early to-day.

BRYAN DEBATING STEEL TRUST PLAN

CRITICIZES A PASSAGE IN JUSTICE BROWN'S INSULAR DECISION. SAYS HE BECOMES ENTANGLED

Special to The Journal. Lincoln, Neb., June 15.—Mr. Bryan, in an editorial in The Commoner entitled "Perhaps," says: "Justice Brown would be happier if he had contented himself with a decision without attempting to give any reason for it. There are many vulnerable passages in the opinion which he delivered, but the one passage which shows the uncertainty produced by his decision. Hereafter, the people have rights of liberty as an inalienable right, and freedom of speech and freedom of the press have been considered absolutely necessary to its defense. Those who have liberty and regard freedom of speech as above price will not take kindly to the word 'perhaps,' used by Justice Brown in discussing this subject."

To sustain the judgment in the case under consideration it by no means becomes necessary to show that none of the articles of the constitution applies to the island of Porto Rico. There is no question as to the power of congress to act in all, irrespective of time or place, and such as are enumerated throughout the United States or among the several states.

Thus, when the constitution declares that "no bill of attainder or ex post facto law shall be passed," and that "no title of nobility shall be granted by the United States," it goes to the competency of congress to pass a bill of that description. Perhaps, the same remark may apply to the first amendment, that "congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for redress of grievances." We do not wish, however, to be understood as expressing an opinion upon the rights contained in the first eight amendments of general and how far of local application.

HARRISON GETS IN NORTH DAKOTA MAN ACTUALLY "ARRIVES" AT LAST.

Washington, June 15.—General Harrison Allen of North Dakota was to-day appointed deputy auditor for the postoffice department by President McKinley. General Allen was endorsed for a position by a resolution of the North Dakota legislature more than two years ago. This failed and other places were selected for him, but he failed to land in any of them. The office to which he was appointed to-day was created at the last session of congress on Captain Castle's recommendation that an additional deputy was needed to conduct the affairs of his office. It pays $2,500 a year.

STEEL CORPORATION'S POLICY FOR OPERATIONS IN EUROPE. REVERSAL OF EXPORT TACTICS

THE TRUST WILL DEVOTE STEADY, SYSTEMATIC ATTENTION TO FOREIGN TRADE.

London, June 15.—Notwithstanding J. Pierpont Morgan's soft assurances to British manufacturers, the United States Steel corporation has decided to wage an active campaign for foreign trade. Your correspondent is authoritatively informed that the trust's "world policy" will be a complete reversal of the export tactics American steel makers have pursued in the past. Instead of bidding for foreign orders only when domestic business is slack, the trust purposes devoting "systematic, steady attention" to the export trade.

Mr. Schwab is determined that American mills shall no longer rest under the accusation of "dumping surplus stock" on European and Asiatic markets. He desires to demonstrate to the Yankee steel and iron are able to hold their own in competition with the world and to do so at a profit to their producers. He intends to explode the European theory that Americans do business in the market at a loss in order to get rid of their overproduction.

There will be no foreign headquarters of the trust under the name of the United States Steel corporation. The office now maintained in Europe by the several constituent companies will continue without any formal coalition. It is understood that the trust charter does not permit it to sell anything but stocks and bonds. The offices for that purpose will be the United States.

FASTER PRODUCTION In the Coeur d'Alenes, Idaho.

A Safe and Business-Like Mining Enterprise, Starting first series of stock at 100 (par val. $1).

The Coeur d'Alenes Mining District in 1900 produced and shipped out about $11,875,000 worth of silver and lead. This came from 11 dividend paying mines within an area of 25 square miles. The dividends paid to stockholders in 1900 by those Coeur d'Alenes mines was over $4,000,000 or 35 per cent of the production. The Coeur d'Alenes produce over 40 per cent of the lead mined in the United States, the ore being very desirable for a flux and bringing the highest price at smelters.

Senator Clark, the great mine owner of Montana, is developing a group of mines within a mile of the Father Lode mine of the Coeur d'Alenes. Ex-Gov. McGill, of St. Paul, is president of a St. Paul company, also engaged in developing a mine there. The Father Lode is more than a prospect; it is a mine, ready to be worked out as soon as a concentrating plant is built.

Father Lode shares are being started on the market at 100 (par value $1). This is upon a capitalization of $2,000,000, or $200,000 for the property. There is ore available for stopping above Tunnel 3 alone calculated at $340,000. If this ore shoot continues, as anticipated and shown in longitudinal section above, there will be nearly $1,000,000 worth of ore in sight. It is proposed to sell enough stock to complete Tunnel 4 and erect concentrating plant capable of turning out over $500,000 of ore the first year. The prospectus tells the story.

THINGS HAVE CHANGED PARTY SPIRIT LESS ACRID Actions Once Regarded Unpardonable Are Now Freely Overlooked.

Washington, June 15.—There is a great deal of comment here upon the change that has come over the American press and the American people in their treatment of political and personal matters. Many of the letters and telegrams now being poured into the White House, expressing approval of the president's third term declaration, are from well known democrats. Most of the democratic papers of the country have expressed similar approval, without any of that small suspiciousness or sneering which a few years ago would have been pretty sure to accompany the expression of such sentiments.
