

CITY NEWS

Random Is Alive—Mrs. Clara Randolph writes from Spokane, Wash., denying the reports of Eugene Randolph, lately of Minneapolis.

Rev. Frank Peterson Honored—The degree of D. D. has been conferred upon Rev. Frank Peterson by the Central university of Iowa. Mr. Peterson is the district secretary of the American Baptist Missionary Union.

Escorted Patients Abroad—Dr. O. C. Heyerabend, medical physician at Rochester, returned this morning from a trip to Norway and Sweden. Dr. Heyerabend, had in charge two insane patients, and returned with their native towns. He delivered them safely and had a pleasant trip back, making a side journey to Germany on his own expense.

Attended W. W. Assn's Convention—Aldermen Rand, Nels Nelson and Supervisor McConnell, of the Waterworks Department, returned from New York city, where they attended the annual convention of the American Waterworks Association. Alderman Merrill, of the waterworks committee, was also present, but delayed his return to investigate pumping machinery in Boston.

Killed by Log—Charles Dahlberg, while unloading logs from the Northern Pacific train at Thirty-fourth avenue N. and the river last night, was struck by a falling log and instantly killed. He was a relative in this country, having come over from Sweden alone a few years ago. He was single man, 32 years old, and lived at 409 Thirty-third avenue N. He was in the employ of the Backus-Brooks Lumber company.

Stone Street Signs—The scarcity of street signs, which, although not expected by the citizens who are familiar with the streets, is a great inconvenience to strangers, has been partially remedied. Workmen are laying artificial stone curbs and gutters, have stamped the name of the street in the material when it is soft, making a sign which will not be obliterated by the small boy and which will remain as long as the curb itself. The names of the streets are on a sign on the lamp post to direct the pedestrian where to look for the denomination of the street.

A WISE CASE STORY

Emil Glatt Gives the Police Possibly Significant Information.

OVERHEARD HARDY AND MILLER

The Story Is Referred to the County Attorney as New Evidence.

Emil Glatt of Buffalo Lake, Minn., this morning gave the police a little information concerning the actions of Hardy and Miller, the two boys accused and acquitted of the murder of Anoka, which may aid the authorities in reopening the case against the young men first suspected. Glatt, while claiming Buffalo Lake as his home, is an itinerant laborer, working wherever the wind blows. On the day before the Wise tragedy, according to his story, told the police, Glatt attended a picnic near Anoka. There he met Hardy and Miller late in the afternoon.

Hardy was in a top buggy and his companion was on a bicycle. Glatt says that he saw Miller urging Hardy to leave the picnic grounds, and heard him say, "Come on, we have a job to do." "What job?" Glatt says Hardy replied, "Oh, let's let it go to-night." But Miller finally persuaded Hardy to go away with him.

Glatt says he did not think anything of the conversation, and on the next day left Anoka, having found work in another town. He remembered when the story of the tragedy was told what he had heard, but had never been able to connect it with what he knew and as they were proceeding against the boys in court he did not think it necessary to tell what he had heard in confidence at the time. He is a quarterer he was told to tell what he knew to the county attorney, and it is possible something will come of his story.

MAKING INVESTMENTS

Savings Bank Deposits Show How Money Is Used.

The people are evidently finding forms of profitable investment. The Farmers and Mechanics Savings bank reports an increase of $400,000 in deposits for this year up to date. Last year the increase up to July 1 was close to $500,000 for a similar period. The increase is accounted for by E. H. Moulton on the ground that more money is being invested in other directions, owing to the good times. A year ago the people were not sure that the future was really here, and were not so eager to invest in real estate and otherwise. This year they have been able to use money to better advantage than a year ago. Naturally the latter part of the year is the busy time. The deposits from the 1st of July to the 1st of January are double those of the other half.

THE LAND OF WOODTICKS

C. P. LUNDHOLM LEAVES IT He's a Member of the Daves Commission and Has Been in Indian Territory.

C. P. Lundholm, a government timber estimator under the Daves commission in Indian Territory, is in the city on a brief leave of absence. He has been tramping through the timber in the southeastern part of the territory since last February and a short rest is very gratifying. It is a rugged life, but he believes that the ticks—woodticks, the most ferocious in the world. He says: They are frightful. People up here who think of the suffering they cause when they swarm over one by hundreds, certainly by scores. Often in the woods we have to quit work in order to dig the ticks out of each other. I have seen ticks on my face and they would have killed us if we had not fought them all the time, for every one leaves a little poison in the system, and if they are pulled off, leaving the heads in the body, there will be a serious swelling. It's horrid in Minnesota than in the woods, but I am glad to be here just the same.

LABORING MEN BUILD

Looking Out for Desirable Lots—Walton Park Attractions.

Speaking of prevailing labor conditions W. C. Pike, of Pike & Cook, says that there is work in this city for nearly double the number of masons now residing here, and that the contractors would be very pleased to have as many as they can get here from the outside. Every mason in the city is employed at top prices and there is almost an unlimited amount of work in sight for them. The working men of the city are enjoying such good times that all are saving money, and almost without exception those who do not already own their own homes are looking about for convenient locations for establishing homes for themselves.

WILL ASK MORE TIME

Briggs' Attorneys Will Appeal, but Want Longer Stay.

John H. Steele and W. A. Kerr, attorneys for Fred Briggs, say they will soon file with the supreme court an application for an extension of the stay of judgment which was granted by Judge McGoey at the time Briggs was convicted for keeping a gambling device. As quickly as possible they will ask for a new trial, alleging errors on the part of the trial judge and the intimidation of witnesses. The latter allegation is founded upon the action of Judge McGoey in committing Andrew Anderson to jail and binding him over to the grand jury upon which the attorneys say the taking of Anderson from the witness box to the jail had the effect of frightening the remaining witnesses into testifying to anything desired by the state. They also assert that circumstances did not justify Judge McGoey in locking the jury up from the beginning to the end of the trial. The allegation of legal errors upon which the attorneys will rely has not yet been decided upon.

THE DR. P. S. GLADMAN

Cordially Welcomes Minnesota Liquor Dealers to the City.

HE PROMISES THEM A HOT TIME

The Convention Is the Seventh Annual Gathering and a Large Attendance Is Expected.

Mayor Ames welcomed the delegates to the Minnesota Retail Liquor Dealers association this morning, gave them the freedom of the city and in return thanked them, after which he gave President Vos a correct military salute and sild gracefully away to the old volunteer firemen's picnic. The "genial" mayor made a hit with the liquor dealers. When he appeared in the room business was suddenly suspended and a tap of the gavel brought every delegate to his feet to formative the distinguished guest. When given the floor, the mayor said: Minneapolis is a hot place this week, but we'll make it hotter for you before you go. (Applause.) There are some people in this town with narrow and contracted ideas, but the great majority are men with liberal ideas, who believe in progress and development, and they will extend to you a friendly hand. The others, though comparatively few in number, make a lot of noise, but don't mind the noise; it's a part of the town. The business in which you are engaged is an honorable one, and you are entitled to as much respect as the farmer, the grocer or any one else in the community. (Applause.) You show a disposition to elevate your business, and it is part of my mission to help you. You are entitled to all the protection of the law, and we extend to you all the liberty that is extended to any one. We want you to stay as long as you want to, and when you stay too long you can go to St. Paul. (Applause.) The keys and the freedom of the city are yours.

President Vos vouched for the good character of the delegates and assured his honor that the mayor would not regret the courtesies extended. This is the seventh annual gathering of the state liquor dealers association. It has about 900 members and considers itself very prosperous. A hundred or more delegates are expected and probably that many more. R. H. Halle, secretary of the national association, will arrive to-morrow and will be the guest of Thomas Lally. The convention will close Thursday, as there is no great amount of business to be done. The visitors will be banqueted to-morrow evening at the Malta Temple hall on lower Nicollet and on Thursday afternoon will be given a carriage drive about town.

TAKING A PROFIT

Why Iowa Farmers Are Selling Out and Moving.

THEIR LANDS BRING BIG MONEY

And They Can Buy Minnesota or Dakota Tracts for Big, New Farms.

Land values is good for this time of the year. So says J. M. Rait, who handles large tracts of land in Minnesota, northern Wisconsin and North Dakota. Letters he received from the east this morning indicate that more settlers than ever before are booked to come to harvest and fall from Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. The migration of settlers from the fine agricultural lands in Iowa, where they settled many years ago and have developed the producing power of their fields, is something of a mystery to the uninitiated. One reason assigned by Mr. Rait is that the Iowa land is now worth from $40 to $60 an acre. The farmer can obtain prairie land just as good as the Iowa tracts for from $1 to $8 an acre. Agribusiness in Iowa has become too small for their increasing business. An illustration of the business sagacity which cause the farmers to pull up and go west is the case of an Iowa man who sold a 160-acre tract in Iowa for $10,000. He has owned the land it has advanced $2 per year in value. He sold out and came into this state or North Dakota and buy cheaper but just as good lands which will produce more money and be quite as valuable. At the same time he can spread the money received from the sale of his former land over a much larger area. Mr. Rait has just sold 300 acres of land in northern Wisconsin, which a few years ago was supposed to be absolutely valueless. In southern Wisconsin, of course, there is no special immigration, but the acreage there is very expensive, averaging from $60 to $100 per acre.

THE MAN WILL GO TO PRISON

His Wife Will Plead Guilty to the Charge of Aiding His Escape.

William Plummer will serve out his sentence in the Iowa penitentiary. His wife, who dressed in boy's clothes, was arrested with him at the Milwaukee depot Friday, will probably serve sentence at the same institution for helping him to escape from the Sioux City jail. Sheriff Jackson of Sioux City, Gilrich of Mankato and Wagner of Scott county, held a conference this morning and, upon the advice of their attorneys, agreed that the City sheriff should have the couple. Plummer will then go to prison and his wife will plead guilty to the charge of helping a prisoner to escape, provided she can get a lawyer who will not get a sentence of over five years. Later the Mankato authorities may take up the charge of horse stealing and push prosecution. There seems to be little to connect the Plummers with the murder of the tramp, Riggs, near Merriam Junction.

William H. Whitelaw, at one time a Baptist minister, and later a druggist at Good Thunder, Minn., is alleged to have victimized James Gorman, a fellow-inmate of the Hennepin county poor farm, to the extent of $145. Gorman has been a cripple from infancy and a pauper.
