An Epidemic of Burglaries in North-east Minneapolis. NEIGHBORHOOD IS TERRORIZED

The Thieves Took Everything From Trinkets to Cash-Police Secrecy is Significant.

Up to the present time the city has been remarkably clear of characters who sneak thieves and vagrants, despite widely circulated reports to the contrary, and by extra exertions at this time, you will see to the good record you have already established.

Chief of Police Ames in order to police department issued last night. No report has been made by the police department of the following burglaries, all of which occurred Saturday night:

Hugh Donahue's home, on Twenty-seventh street N.E., $160 in money and a watch. Frank C. Williams, Twenty-seventh street and Johnson avenue N.E., $15 in money and a watch.

Ed Morse, 2709 Johnson avenue N.E., $35 in cash. John M. Major, 2803 Johnson avenue N.E., household utensils.

Out from the refrigerator and pantries, and into the following residences: J. E. Cox, Twenty-seventh street and Johnson avenue. A. L. Anderson, 2310 Johnson avenue. J. Knoke, A and Twenty-seventh streets. Will Rogers, street, near Twenty-eighth.

Relief of Terror. Northeast Minneapolis was terrorized Sunday morning when it was learned that several blocks in that section had been the scene of the deprivations of midnight marauders who had broken through broken windows and cut open doors, and who were bold enough and so sure of their ground that they not only rummaged through six residences but stopped to eat from the refrigerators and pantries, steal and smoke cigars while at work, and even take time to milk a cow in a barnyard.

The robbers first visited the home of F. C. Williams at Twenty-seventh street and Johnson avenue. Then entered through a side window in the dining-room. Going up the sleeping room, they took $15 in money from Mr. Williams' trousers, and a gold watch from a chair by the bedside. They then piled chairs and a lamb near the bed so that Mr. Williams could not but make a noise if he arose and went down stairs, where they tapped the refrigerator, ate liberally of cake and carried away some of Mr. Williams' cigars. That they were cool enough to smoke the weeds while at work is shown by the fact that burned stubs were left at the home of Mr. Major's, which was visited about three hours later.

Donahue Lost $160. The thieves went to the home of Hugh Donahue, just back of Mr. Williams', where they took off a pantry window and entered. They secured $160 in cash from Mr. Donahue's pockets, took his watch and rummaged the kitchen and pantry. At 11 o'clock they cut away a screen, Twenty-seventh, on a street, near Johnson avenue, but they made their escape, then encountered a closed and locked window. They then started to cut the lock out of the door, but were scared away by a dog.

The Burglars Seen. At Ed Morse's residence, which they entered through a window in the pantry, they secured $35 in cash. Two checks amounting to about $50 were left on the floor. They ransacked the lower floor of the Major's residence, at Twenty-eighth and Johnson, but secured nothing of value. The robbers were discovered while taking off a screen at the Anderson home, 2310 Johnson avenue, but they made their escape. Mr. Knoke, A and Twenty-eighth streets, was disturbed by the robbers about 4 o'clock in the morning. Learning that their game would be flushed, they ran.

At Konke's they milked a cow in the barnyard and left the bars down when they returned. The burglars were four in number and had a buggy into which they loaded the spoils. They have not yet been apprehended.

PHYSICIAN TO THE QUEEN

Dr. Ronald McKaig of Glasgow Here on His Way to the Canadian Rockies.

Dr. Ronald McKaig of Glasgow, Scotland, was in the city yesterday on his way to Banff, the Rocky mountain health resort. Dr. McKaig is one of the prominent physicians of Scotland and was Queen Victoria's physician when she was at Balmoral.

From what he has learned of America for Great Britain, Dr. McKaig is convinced that more people suffer from the effects of "high living" in this country than in the British isles. Not that the people of Britain who can afford it are more temperate, but that the middle and lower classes of this country are financially better able to indulge in luxuries than the wage earning class in Britain. Americans generally are large consumers of meat, tobacco and liquors. The wage earning classes in Great Britain are forced to limit themselves in the consumption of these things.

The advent of the hay fever season was noted. The doctor made the remark that hay fever was a result of habit and must be cured by correction in habits. That if the man afflicted with hay fever would on the last of next January "swear off" the use of meat, liquor and tobacco, his next attack of hay fever would be less severe. Persistence in this denial would eradicate it entirely.

Wanted: A Name for a Parkway

The park board would be glad to receive suggestions from the public for a name for the East Side park now known as the east river bank park. Residents in that interesting locality believe that the park has reached a stage in its development when it is entitled to something better in the way of a name. In a communication to the board yesterday from one of the residents thereof, it was suggested that it be called St. Anthony parkway. This did not satisfy Commissioner Jones, however. He called attention to the fact that there was something more than a parkway down there; that it was now a full-fledged park, and in time would be one of the most beautiful ones in the city, and that it deserved to rank as a park. Some one then suggested St. Anthony park. President Powell thought that wouldn't do, from the fact that there was another St. Anthony park only a few miles away. The park below the present location of the city hall, which was the original site of historic old Cheever's landing, where the boats used to land in the days of the city's youth, and possibly there was in this fact a suggestion for a name for the new park. The matter was put over to await other suggestions.

Better Weather Conditions Prevail in Minneapolis District, Gets a Little Bill. HE USED A NEAR-BY VACANT LOT

The Story as Told by the Thermometer-Cool Breezes Headed This Way. Now the Owner's Agent is After Him to Collect the Rental.

Nature gave the atmosphere a good washing yesterday and in the morning the skies were as clear as blue sky ever gets. The low barometer region which has centered in the southeast Wyoming and the southwestern Dakotas is apparently coming this way which will bring westerly and cooler winds when it has passed. The "low" has been practically stationary, but has changed in form.

Minneapolis citizens should not register any complaints against the weather, for it is worthy of notice that Marquette, the cool summer resort on Lake Superior, had a maximum of 108, Houghton 100 and Escanaba 100.

What the Thermometer Says. The thermometer at the weather bureau registered 72 at 6 o'clock yesterday a. m., 72 at 7 and 85 at 11. Mr. Outram says in his morning daily report for the district of Minnesota:

Scattered local showers have occurred in all districts of the corn and wheat belt; the temperature has continued high in all districts except the northern portion of the Minneapolis district, where it was cooler yesterday, and it is cooler this morning in this district, as reported at New Ulm, Park Rapids, St. Paul, Larimore, Lisbon, Huron, Milbank, Redfield. Mitchell reports 1.08 inches rainfall.

First Death at St. Paul. The first death from heat in St. Paul occurred yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Emil Didier, a driver for the People's Ice company, succumbed at his boarding-house, Woodbridge and Sycamore streets. He worked until noon, although he complained of dizziness and exhaustion. When he retired to his room, shortly after noon, a physician was called, but Didier was then only partially conscious and on the verge of collapse. He died easily, the convulsions which usually accompany heat prostration being absent. Didier's home was formerly at LeMars, Iowa. He had been in St. Paul but a few weeks.

BUSINESS FAKES TO BE EXPOSED

The Club Will Take Steps to Safeguard the Interests of Investors.

At its meeting Monday evening the public affairs committee of the Commercial Club passed a resolution embodying a petition to President McKinley favoring reciprocal trade relations with Canada and asking the president to reconvene the American and British high joint commission to discuss the Canadian side of the best customers this country has, and as the law stands now buys a large amount of goods from northwestern jobbers and manufacturers. The movement for the movement for nearly all of the business organizations in the northwest, including the Northwestern Manufacturers' Association, which is at present arranging for an exhibit at the Winnipeg Industrial exposition.

Auditorium Plan Indorsed. Out of the several plans presented for a convention and music hall, that presented by A. M. Shuey is the most popular. Mr. Shuey's plan includes the acquisition of the exposition building and enlarging its seating capacity, as well as making other improvements on the property. He presented his plan at the meeting of the committee last evening. The committee unanimously passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the public affairs committee that the plans submitted by A. M. Shuey for remodeling the Exposition building to be used as a permanent convention and music hall be, and the same are hereby approved.

The real estate and investment committee has a plan outlined for the investigation of certain investment and mining concerns doing business in the city, with the intention of ascertaining whether these concerns are able and liable to keep the rosy promises they make to investors. The work of the committee is becoming so voluminous as to require the services of a permanent secretary.

The public health committee has been investigating the question of water supply. It is to confer with the council committee on water supply in the near future. A third pump at the Camden station is favored by most of those who have investigated the subject. The plan also includes the immediate completion of the new reservoir and the abandonment of the lower stations.

'HORSE THIEVES'

Montans Lynch Bucking Bill, Fred Conne and Pete Waller.

Special to The Journal. Helena, Mont., July 17.-The first lynching to occur in Montana for many years has taken place at Helena today, a small trading post on the Missouri river, in Fergus county, about 150 miles northeast of Helena. John Tingley, a ranchman near Big Sandy, sent word into Big Sandy that three horse thieves were hanged on the river below Judith Saturday by a posse who was after them.

The men reported hanged were "Bucking Bill," who used to work for McNamara; Fred Conne and "Pete" Waller, the latter two old timers in the country, each bearing a bad reputation.

The men were men who were reported of horse stealing for some time, and just before the news reached Big Sandy a posse was being organized to go out after them.

HOLLY BENNETT FUND

It Continues to Grow-Interest is Widening. The Holly C. Bennett fund is increasing rapidly. To-day $4 was sent in by friends. The total is now $21.50. The simple but pathetic story of the young man's departure from his home after the noon lunch and the early return of his lifeless body to his young widow after he had sacrificed his life in a storm for the sake of others, regardless of the fact that he was the sole support of the little family, has awakened the interest of a wide circle of The Journal's readers, and it has found expression in the swelling of the relief fund for Mrs. Bennett. Some attorneys hold that where the records are thus plain the life of the jury is at an end, and whatever indictments may be brought now will doubtless be contested upon that ground. Judge Simpson advances the explanation that the clerk was mistaken. He says the facts in the matter will hold good. If the jury adjourned until to-day at the command of Judge Elliott, the latter will have the right to correct the records of the clerk to correspond to the fact.

The general impression, however, is that there was an intention to convey to the public the idea that the jury had really adjourned for good and all, in the hope of catching certain violators of the law unawares. If such was the case the case was doubtless successful.

Among the first witnesses to be examined were Private Detectives Simon Mc Nulty and John Hannan, who have appeared in some former cases against liquor ordinance violators. They were especially quizzed regarding the gambling appliances which it is said were in operation at the Minnehaha race track during the recent investigation. They also had been detailed to duty at Lake Minnetonka and gave evidence against blind pigs. Others called in were witnesses in the blind pig cases. It is believed that the jury will be returned for illegal sale of liquor and that two more may be expected Friday next when the jury meets again.

In walking a mile a man uses 17 1/2 foot-epochs. An ordinary day's work consumes 300 tons. TEXAS OIL NEWS

Pointers for Plucky People. Gusher No. 16 came in Thursday evening July 11. It is the well of the Columbia Oil company, striking oil at a depth of 790 feet. The well is not as great a producer as the deeper wells, and there is some talk of drilling deeper. The oil gushed only 20 feet above the surface. The location of the Columbia well in Block 21, Gladys City, being about 500 feet northwest from Guffey No. 3, as shown in the plat issued by the Saratoga Oil & Pipeline company.

A lady wrote to the Saratoga Oil and Pipeline Co., 728 Andrus Bldg., yesterday, asking where she could subscribe for Texas Oil News. It is published every day now in two Minneapolis papers, two Duluth papers, one Fargo paper, one Ansonia paper and occasionally in a Wisconsin paper. It is true and may be intended to interest the people who know a good investment when they see one.

A great oil tank is being built opposite New Orleans on the Mississippi river looking forward to a great oil trade up the river. While this is only a beginning, it may yet mean crude oil shipments to the Northwest by river steamers.

The Guffey Petroleum company have announced that they will refine Beaumont oil for illuminating purposes. This is a very important fact, because it proves the practicability of taking illuminating oil from the Beaumont product, which has remained in doubt until now.

Full particulars about the Saratoga Oil & Pipeline company may be had by writing to 728 Andrus building, Minneapolis.
