THE FIRST REGIMENT

KHAKIS ARE NOT ON HAND

A Review Tendered Surgeon General A. A. Ames—Officers of the Companies.

Special to the Journal. Camp Lakeview, Minn., July 19.—The First Regiment is now prepared for ten days of work on the range and in the field. The customary routine of duty has been taken up, and if the weather cools off great results may be expected. The Minneapolis battalion is still in attendance owing to the Buffalo trip.

Surgeon General A. A. Ames was tendered an inspection and review of the regiment last evening. The same courtesy was extended him also by Colonel Bobleter, this being the first time in the history of the Minnesota National Guard that a surgeon general was ever tendered a review. The showing made by the regiment was very commendable.

Great disappointment was manifested yesterday when Captain Nordley announced that the shipment of khaki uniforms from the Henderson-Ames company was incomplete and wrongly filled. No issue will be made until the balance of the order arrives.

GIRL TO THE RESCUE

SAVES A MAN FROM DROWNING

Sixteen-Year-Old Olga Haan Reverses the Usual Course of Procedure.

New York Sun Special Service. New York, July 19.—There was a narrow escape from drowning and a thrilling rescue by a 16-year-old girl in front of the Elberon hotel at Elberon, N. J., yesterday afternoon. The heroine is Miss Olga Haan, daughter of R. M. Haan of New York. The man she rescued is Gustave Robbins of Philadelphia. Miss Haan, with her elder sister, Helen, and Mr. Robbins, was bathing. Mr. Robbins forced his way through the breakers, and was apparently enjoying himself in the smooth water beyond the surf, when suddenly he threw his hands up in the air and began to sink. Without a moment's hesitation, Miss Olga dashed to his assistance. She got to him just as he was sinking for the last time. Grasping hold of him, the brave girl held him up until a boat which had been launched came up and both were lifted in. It required some time before Mr. Robbins was fully recovered, but he is now no worse for his experience.

PICTURESQUE CAREER

It Is Terminated by the Death of a New York Jesuit.

New York, July 19.—Father Phillips Cardella, of the Jesuit brotherhood, whose career as a priest has been picturesque, is dead. He was found unconscious on the doorstep of St. Francis Xavier college, in this city, and taken to St. Vincent's hospital, where he died. He was connected with St. Francis Xavier church and had supervision of the convent of Mount St. Vincent. Father Cardella came from a prominent family in Italy. When 15 years old, in 1846, with his brother, who afterwards became famous in Rome, he entered the Jesuit order. He spent several years in study and after his ordination taught ethics, scripture and moral theology. When the Jesuit brethren were expelled from Italy, Father Cardella went first to Spain, where many of the expatriated priests took refuge, and after becoming thoroughly familiar with the language, went to South America where his order was just obtaining a foothold. He took a leading part in establishing many Jesuit danger in revolutionary times. Then he institutions, a labor fraught with much work to Mexico, where he continued his work. Finally he came to New York twenty years ago.
