ATTORNEY FINK SPEAKS OF THE REMOVAL OF BORCHSENIOUS

IN THE CAPE NOME TROUBLES

The Letters That Passed Between Judge Noyes and the Wisconsin Man.

Special to The Journal. Seattle, Wash., July 30.—Albert Fink, a Nome attorney for the Pioneer Mining company, opposing Judge Noyes, has arrived in Seattle.

"Judge Noyes is playing a desperate game, as I know that he is in the last ditch and must risk all in order to save himself. He is determined to indict all of the men who have taken a preliminary deposit."

"In order to do this he has attempted to pack the grand jury to be drawn for the July term of court by having the clerk of the court report as drawn in regular way a list of names to be drawn."

"On July 11, Judge Noyes told Borchsenious that he had returned to Nome."

"Prefering under the circumstances to be removed rather than resign the clerk declined to resign, and Judge Noyes instead sent Judge Noyes the following letter:

"Dear Sir—I have the honor of acknowledging receipt of your communication of the 11th inst. and show a return copy to you."

MINNEAPOLIS MAN AND HIS COMRADES

LOOKED INTO RIFLES.

ORDERED OFF A CLAIM AT NOME

Mutual Charge of Claim Jumping Made by Them and Their Opponents.

On a bleak and barren coast in far away Canada, the part of Minneapolis heroes have been harassed of their rights, goosed of their possessions, humiliated by reckless adventurers in search of the stuff that makes a name near being crucified upon a jagged rock.

"The tale is harrowing, and to those acquainted with the gentlemen aforesaid, a promising story."

Major J. M. Bowler is just in receipt of a letter from his son, J. M. Bowler, Jr., a member of the little band which recounts the awful fate that has overtaken the Minneapolis gold-seekers.

"I began my effort to get a car at 9 o'clock and although I am an ordinarily strong and healthy man I was twice compelled to retire from the mobs which surrounded the car at the Wildwood platform, and take my chances at a later hour."

"To certain knowledge there were dozens of Minneapolis people on this car and there were hundreds who were unable to come in at that time who arrived at St. Paul at a later hour and were compelled to pay for a night's lodging in that city."

"The claim which the Minneapolis contingent had gone to work was a good one and was paying about $40 a day ready money."

MINNEAPOLIS VISITORS TO WILDWOOD

HAD HARD LUCK YESTERDAY.

NO LATE THROUGH CARS RAN

Minneapolis people who spent Sunday at Wildwood are complaining of the street car and hard luck stories are to be heard from nearly all of them.

"I began my effort to get a car at 9 o'clock and although I am an ordinarily strong and healthy man I was twice compelled to retire from the mobs which surrounded the car at the Wildwood platform, and take my chances at a later hour."

The Plymouth Furnishings. Established 1882.

There's a big rush on these unlined fancy flannel suits; if you're just starting on your vacation, better hustle and size up the stock.

They are cut in Norfolk jackets, military sacks or plain; all sizes and in stouts, slims and regulars.

$8.50 includes the best in the house, formerly sold at $15 and $18. Others at $5 and $7.50.

There is no suit more comfortable or easy-fitting for summer than those made up from the new shades of the chalk-line flannels.

Men's Straw Hats. Still all sizes in the $1.50 and $2 hats for 50c—rough-and-ready and split straw.

Also in the splits and sennits for $1, that were $2, $2.50 and $3. Who'll take a faded hat with him on his vacation when he can get a new fresh one for so little?

Fancy Hosiery, 25c. 100 dozen fancy half hose, manufacturers' samples, no two pairs alike, in stripes, plaids and polka dots, some with drop stitch, some with full lace front.

$25, $22, $20 SUITS now $15. Now is your chance to buy the highest grade tailor-made clothing for less money than most dealers ask for the ordinary kind.

Swell, summer-weight Cheviots, in the new shades of wood brown, and olive green, cassimeres and velours in the plainer effects of medium gray mixtures, worsteds in handsome fancy patterns of stripes and invisible plaids.

We have marked down the price to only $1.50 a pair on some 500 pairs of fine Cassimere and Scotch Pants, fashionable 1901 patterns, and well worth the regular prices, formerly $3, $2.50 and $2.

MELLEM'S FIGHT FOR LIFE

NEW EVIDENCE IN BARRY TRIAL Struggle Between Murderer and His Victim Was of Fifteen Minutes' Duration.

Special to The Journal. Langdon, N. D., July 30.—With Leslie McCullough on the witness stand it was to-day first made public that the struggle that ended in the death of Mellem and the trial of Barry to-day lasted fifteen minutes before Mellem was killed.

Barry told at the time that he had done the deed because of Mellem's assault on his sister and his continued immoral attention that had brought upon her a condition of melancholy and that for three weeks had caused her to become a nervous wreck.

The cross-examination of the state's witness, Robert Swanlow, when the court first questioned, materially weakened the testimony given when he first took the stand. It was compared by the defense with the statements made when he was examined at the preliminary examination, in February. He appeared to have heard little actually spoken by Barry, but swore mainly to what was reported to him by others.

The state put Harry Farham of the Milton State bank on the stand to testify to Barry's making a deposit of cash and securities of over $3,000 value that morning. The objection of the defense was sustained and the testimony will be submitted later when the insanity part of the trial is reached this week.

CONGRESSMAN COOPER WEDS

Married in New York to Miss Sarah Phelps. Racine, Wis., July 30.—Congressman Henry A. Cooper of Racine, representing the first congressional district of the state of Wisconsin, chairman of the committee of insular affairs, was united in marriage in New York on Saturday morning to Miss Sarah Cooper-Phillips, a resident of that city, who is well known in New York and Washington society. The couple will spend their honeymoon abroad.
