S. D. "SCAVENGER" TAX LISTS

Only One Fee for Each General Description and but One Publication.

Special to The Journal. Special to The Journal.
Huron, S. D., Aug. 8.—If the contention of Attorney General Pyle, anent the publication in each county of the scavenger tax list, is good, fifty-odd newspapers in South Dakota are short between $30,000 and $40,000 on what they had figured a few days ago. In addition to this, the clerk and treasurer in several counties have incurred expense and thrown away a lot of valuable time. The scavenger tax law of the last legislative session provided for the publication at this time, in a legal newspaper, in each county, of all taxes on real property delinquent the past several years. Those taxes constituted a sum total that is then certified to the clerk of courts and the amount be-comes a judgment against the property.

Under this law, the treasurer in each county has prepared a list for publication of delinquent taxes for the year 1900 and for each prior year. In this, Beadle county, the printed tax list occupies about twenty printed pages. In Hughes county, of which Pierre is the county seat, the work was too big an undertaking for the printing offices of the capital city, and the matter has been set up outside with type-setting machines. The list is said to have made about 150 printed pages, newspaper size, and figured as originally planned by the publishers would have cost Hughes county in the neighborhood Under this law, the treasurer in each cost Hughes county in the neighborhood

But now comes the attorney general with an opinion that but one fee may be paid for each general description, for the entire amount of tax due. For instance, lots 1 to 20, block 2, with the tax for the different years, can be assessed but one fee for the publication, and but one fee in printing judgment. There may be taxes due on ten or fifteen lots, and copy has been furnished the printer showing such delinquency, by years, giving num-ber of lot, block, etc. Often one of these descriptions occupies several inches of space in the newspaper, and would require much work to copy into the judg-The attorney general is of the opinion that but one fee can be charged for the work instead of each lot each year constituting an entry. Herein was the meat to the whole business.

If the opinion of the attorney general is good, the work must be done by the county clerks and newspapers at a loss. The larger the list, the greater the loss. The clerks of courts and county treasurers and newspaper offices have done a lot of work for which it would now appear there must be little or no pay.

The opinion of the attorney general, which has set the officers of over fifty counties in the state to scratching their heads, stopped composition in printing offices and put the brakes on printing presses, is as follows;

I have your telegram, stating that in your county under the so-called scavenger tax law the treasurer is unable to secure the publica tion of the list at the price mentioned in the

It is said that Whittler was trying to get some of his cattle on which Mrs. Putnam wanted to cellect damages for trespass, when the woman assaulted him with a pitchfork. Under ordinary conditions a candidate with such a long lead would have been conceded the nomination before the convention met, but the opposition hoped against hope. They made a fight in every county, in many cases hopeless fights, and they claimed everything that was not nailed down. Personal feeling made the leaders desperate and unyielding. There was nothing left for the machine people to do but hoist their colors and die fighting. They went into it heroically. They carried the credentials commit-tee, and took the contests on the floor of the convention. The Cummins people won, 845 to 767, and the convention understood that the fight was over. Then the Cummins men celebrated. They waved a Cummins banner over Chairman Byers' head, stood on chairs and yelled for fifteen minutes. A committee was sent out to bring the nominee in, and he arrived while the ballot for lieutenant HERRIOTT FOR SECOND PLACE

HERRIOTT FOR SECOND PLACE

Was an ovation, and when a few minutes later he rose to make his speech of acceptance, the vast audience fairly threw themselves at him. His address was well timed, brief, and apt, not so much in what he said as the way he said it. He spoke with no tone of triumph, but of concilia-tion, and said his highest hope was to win a small part of the confidence and devotion that had been so well bestowed on his rivals.

The anti-Cummins men tried hard to name Brandt for lieutenant governor and punish Herriott, but the Cummins com-bination voted for him in an almost solid block on the second ballot, and the ticket will read Cummins and Herriott. Judge Weaver, the Cummins candidate for su-preme judge, and Ed. C. Brown, Cum-mins candidate for railroad commissioner, went through on the first ballot with Way Feels Good.

Thomas A. Way of Britt, manager of the Cummins campaign, was one of the hap-piest men in Cedar Rapids last night. He has devoted almost his entire time for six months to the campaign, and it was six months to the campaign, and it was really his first venture in state politics, though he helped in the Gilbertson campaign last year. Mr. Way is now a Minneapolis business man, being a member of the firm of Lee, Way & Smith, which recently moved to Minneapolis and took offices in the Corn Exchange. They are a commission house, and Mr. Way will make frequent visits to Minneapolis from make frequent visits to Minneapolis from now on. His brother, S. X. Way of Wes-ley, Kossuth county, is another new man who made a name for himself this sum-mer. He handled Cummins' forces in the county, where the bitterest contest of the year was waged. It lasted three months, and cost the two sides at least $15,000. Mr. Way won, and was yesterday elected as the tenth district member of the state central committee.

The state committee is, on the face of things, six to five anti-Cummins, but there are rumors of a deal by which R. W. Clayton, of Oskaloosa, the sixth district member, is to come into the Cummins camp. He has been with the ma chine, but was re-elected yesterday with the aid of Cummins votes, and the same rumor has it that he will head the state committee. The chairman, whoever he is, will be a Cummins man.

All the Big Guns There.

Eight of Iowa's eleven congressmen were delegates on the floor of the convention. Henderson and Hull were out of the country, and Cousins, the other man, was a "distinguished guest." So were both senators. There is no state in the union where the congressmen keep in closer touch with the state organiza tion than in Iowa. They always attend state conventions, and, as a rule, mix in all the fights. Their interference is often resented, and it is a general com-plaint that the federal office holders are absolutely at the disposal of the machine. The Cummins people are quite bitter against some of the delegation, especially Hedge, Lacey, Hull and Hep-burn. Rumple, of the second; Haugen, of the fourth, and Thomas, of the eleventh district, were Cummins delegates

There will be bitter factional fighting in Iowa for years to come. Cummins himself does not desire it. He is not particularly anxious to make up with a few of the bosses, but wants to see the party workers united. It will be a hard

That we view with satisfaction and approved the work of the fifty-sixth congress, its action for the reduction of taxation and its constructive legislation giving effect to the party declarations of 1896 and 1900. We would emphasize our indorsement of its action in more firmly establishing our money system upon a gold basis and in providing for civil government in Porto Rico and the Philippines and for the relinquishment of our authority in Cuba. The policy of this government toward these islands has followed inevitably upon our expulsion of the authority of Spain. It has been dictated by the conditions present, has been consistent with the spirit and within the provisions of the constitution and the paramount consideration was all the found by the federal grand jury in the Seventh National bank case.

spirit and within the provisions of the constitution and the paramount consideration has been to secure the lasting welfare of these people whose fortunes and destines have become in large degree dependent upon us. The fact that our authority there is the result of a war waged not for our aggrandizement but in the name of humanity must forever govern and inspire our relations to them.

That we are earnestly opposed to all legislation designed to accomplish the disfranchisement of citizens upon lines of race, color or station of life and condemn the measures adopted by the democratic party in certain states of the union to accomplish that end.

Good Word for Reciprocity.

That we stand by the historic policy of the republican party in giving protection to home industries and point for its ample vindication to the extraordinary rapidity with which our national resources have been developed and our industrial and financial independence secured. We favor such changes in the tariff from time to time as become advisable their changing relations to the commerce of the world. We indoors the policy of reciprocity as the natural complement of protection, and urge its development as necessary to the development of our highest commercial possibilities.

That we assert the sovereigness of the resource of the man and brother-in-law of J. Ogden Armour, is defendant in an action for divorce brought by Mrs. Elizabeth S. Lester. The charges are cruelty, intoxication and desertion. Dossibilities.

That we assert the sovereignty of the people over all corporations and aggregations of capital and the right residing in the people to enforce such regulations, restrictions or prohibitions upon corporate management as will protect the individual and society from abuse of the power which great combinations of capital wield. We favor such amendment to the interstate commerce act as will more fully carry out its prohibition by discriminations in rate making and any modification of the tariff schedules that may be required to prevent their affording shelter to monopoly. That the republican party will seek faithfully to consult the interests of all the people, to develop the resources of this country for the common welfare, to levy the necessary taxation without bias or favor, and to secure that just recognition of the rights of every individual under which all find security and prosperity together. That we assert the sovereignty of the peoprosperity together.

Pride in Home Men.

Pride in Home Men.

That we voice the pride of Iowa in the prestige won for the state by its senators and representatives in congress. The character of its delegation, the important positions held upon the standing committees, the long and distinguished careers of the elder members, have acquired for the state an influence in the legislation of the country greatily to be prized. We take special pride in the elevation of an Iowa member to the post of speaker of the house of representatives and the discharge of duties of that high office by David B. Henderson to the satisfaction of the whole country. We hold in highest esteem the ability, services and influence of our distinguished senators, William B. Allison and Jonathan P. Doiliver, indorse the records they have made, and heartily favor their re-election at the hands of the general assembly to be chosen this fall.

We indorse with pride the administration of affairs of Iowa during forty years of almost uninterrupted republican rule. It is a record of capable and faithful management which will bear comparison with the government of any other state. We particularly commend and indorse the administration of Governor Shaw. It has been eminently practical and successful, while his discussion before the people of the great questions in national politics, has made him justly a leader of national influence and renown. He will leave the executive chair having reflected honor upon the state and bearing the confidence and regard of its people.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will time, and will work twelve months in the pinion as published in the State Register in reference to the publication of the notice after judgment, but that in your opinion a second publication of the entire list is necessary. I have not rendered any official opinion upon this question, but merely wrote a letter to a blank house which sent me blanks for approval. Upon this question I see no reason, however, to change the view expressed in that letter, as this is a purely statutory procedime. eeding, so far as the notice is concerned, shall be published twice.
