VIEWS OF ENCKE'S COMET

WILSON OF NORTHFIELD GETS TWO
Aug. 21 Will Be a Favorable Time, 'Tis Thought, for Further Observation.

Northfield, Minn., Aug. 12.—Dr. H. C. Wilson of Goodsell observatory has been able to get sight of Encke's comet twice. This comet is very uncertain in its movements and has been watched with much interest by astronomers owing to the fact that the time of its arrival is not fixed. It appears every few years and calculations place it somewhere in the vicinity of the sun and earth, as it cannot be seen on the outer part of the orbit.

RHEUMATISM

Rheumatic pains are the cries of protest and distress from tortured muscles, aching joints and excited nerves. The blood has been poisoned by the accumulation of waste matter in the system, and can no longer supply the pure and health sustaining food they require. The whole system suffers the effect of this acid poison; and not until the blood has been purified and brought back to a healthy condition will the aches and pains cease.

SSS
The great vegetable purifier and tonic, is the ideal remedy in all rheumatic troubles. There are no opiates or minerals in it to disturb the digestion and lead to ruinous habits. We have prepared a special book on Rheumatism which every sufferer from this painful disease should read. It is the most complete and interesting book of the kind in existence. It will be sent free to any one desiring it. Write our physicians fully and freely about your case. We make no charge for medical advice.

KAISER AND COUNT WILL OPPOSE HILL

Story of Late Dowager Empress' Secret Marriage Revived.

COUNT VON SECKENDORF THE MAN

He Wishes to Be Chief Mourner at the Funeral and Quarrels With the Emperor.

New York Sun Special Service

Paris, Aug. 12.—Was the late Dowager Empress Frederick secretly married in 1887 to Count von Seckendorf? A story in the affirmative in the French papers is now reviving. It is the European sensation of the day. It is believed to be true and it is quite likely that other sensations will soon follow these revelations.

The Kaiser's furious at publications concerning the empress, not only in France, but in England and the United States. He is understood to have ordered a censorship of telegrams sent to foreign papers. In the French journals numerous anecdotes are recalled concerning quarrels between Emperor William and his mother regarding the question of a marriage between the latter and Count von Seckendorf.

In letters written by the Baroness von Rosbach, who was formerly one of the chief ladies-in-waiting to the empress, she insists that the empress and Seckendorf were secretly married in 1887; that they lived together as man and wife; that they had the deepest affection for each other, and that their marital relations were as happy as they could possibly be under the circumstances.

At the home of his wife's father, William Kistler, in Buffalo, Prairie township, Harney and his three children having been here on a visit since June 12. Judge Harney said, however, that he could not at this time make his statement as full as he would like, owing to the fact that he is now in a trial in the case still pending before him, and the matter to which he would otherwise refer has been embodied in the documents filed by the plaintiff in support of the motion.

RATIONS DISCONTINUED

Fort Yates, N. D., Aug. 12.—The treaty of 1857 with the Indians stipulated that the government should provide sustenance till such a time as they should become self-supporting. Now, after a quarter of a century, from his bountiful hand, the government has withdrawn its aid, and the reservation has become self-supporting. Consequently the interior department instructs Indian Agent Bingenheimer to whom in his station are deemed able to support themselves.

THIRD PARTY, IF NOMINATED

Hill, He Says, Stands for the Same Things as McKinley and Hanna.

Special to The Journal.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 12.—Ex-Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota, will not support David Bennett Hill for the presidency of the United States even if the New York politician is nominated by the democratic party. Mr. Pettigrew, who has just arrived from his trip to Alaska, said this statement in an interview with the Journal. He stated, stands for the same principles at the bottom as the Republican party. In case the New Yorker is nominated, Pettigrew says, a third party will be formed which will uphold the principles of Bryan. The outlook for his party at the next national election the ex-senator does not consider very auspicious because of its divided nature.

New Party Talk.

"If the democratic party remains true to the principles of Bryan," said Mr. Pettigrew, "in opposition to the trusts and the excessively rich, it will have my support at the next presidential election. But if the party is divided, as it is now, we will form a new party. I will not support Mr. Hill for the presidency and neither will the mass of the democrats. Why am I against the New York party? Because all that the party has done is to support Mr. Hill. Kinley and Hanna stand for. If he were nominated all the voters would have to do would be to toss a coin to see which candidate they would cast their ballots for. In the end, the result would be the same. There is danger that the republican party, which is the friend of plutocracy, will capture the democratic party. When you examine the matter you will find that Hill really has no principles.

South Turning to Protection.

Ex-Senator Butler seemed more ready to talk of the industrial condition of North Carolina than the present conditions of its politics. He is still a comparatively young man, with a brown Van Dyke beard and his keen eyes and sharp features. "When I graduated from our state university thirteen years ago," he began in a softly modulated voice, while the South Dakota politician bent his energies to breaking up a box "I had no idea the time would come when North Carolina would be a manufacturing state and would advocate protection, while New England would want free trade. I had no idea the time would come when North Carolina would be a manufacturing state and would advocate protection, while New England would want free trade. I had no idea the time would come when North Carolina would be a manufacturing state and would advocate protection, while New England would want free trade.

MADE NO REDUCTION

Assessment of the Roads in South Dakota Left at $18,000,000.

Special to The Journal.

Pierre, S. D., Aug. 12.—The railroad assessment in this state this year will be practically $18,000,000, about the same as being in the new mileage. The railroad representatives asked for a reduction, but the board evidently considered them assessed on an equitable basis last year and made no change. The unimproved road was represented by A. D. RAILROADS NOW BUILDING IN Timber and Mineral Wealth to Draw Upon—Some Good Farming Lands.

Special to The Journal.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 12.—There are over 8,000 square miles—5,238,000 acres—of vacant and unappropriated land in the United States land district of Duluth. This is a tract larger than the state of Massachusetts. It lies close to Duluth, none of it more than 150 miles away, and it is inhabited by a few Indians and occasional trappers and woodsmen.

Some Still Unsurveyed.

Of this vast area more than 1,500,000 acres remains unsurveyed so that it cannot be entered by the public except as squatters and under squatters' titles, which retards development. It is expected that much of this land will be surveyed after the coming session of congress. In addition to the vast area of government land there are millions of acres in the same territory that is held by railroads under their grants, and of this greater part is unoccupied, though efforts are now under way to bring in settlers. These figures are for the land surface alone and take no account of the lakes, which are nearly 15 per cent of the total area of northern Minnesota.

Cook county, lying in the northeast corner of the state, and bounded on the south and east by Lake Superior, and on the north by Canada, has not a mile of railroad in its 1,000,000 acres of area. It has 800 inhabitants, one to 1,200 acres. In this county alone are $30,000,000 worth of standing white pine, a great quantity of spruce, cedar, birch, maple and poplar. Thousands of acres, too rocky for cultivation, have been burned over, but bear in the great stumps and logs of pine and spruce, and in the surface of the soil, evidence that magnificent forests once covered them, and if the fires are kept out will do so again, as the young pine is springing up everywhere. This young pine is from ten to fifteen years old and is sixty or seventy years more will be worth hundreds of dollars to the acre. There are several entire townships that, on account of the rocky soil, are better adapted to forestry than to anything else, and these in time will be taken by the state and forested. Elsewhere in the county wheat, rye, oats, clover and root crops are raised abundantly. The surface of the rocks of a large part of the country resemble to a marked degree the noted iron mining regions of Wornland and Nerica. Sweden. Itasca county has nearly 1,000,000 acres of unappropriated soil and is nearly timber and farming. The remaining counties contain large areas of good land.

Normal School Diplomas

Question of Indorsement Taken Up by Normal School Presidents.

Special to The Journal.

Winona, Minn., Aug. 12.—President J. F. Millsap is home from a meeting of the Normal school presidents, at which the indorsement of diplomas was taken up. This indorsement is conditional upon two years successful experience in teaching after graduation from one of the normal schools. A normal school diploma is equivalent to a teacher's certificate for the first or second grade positions, but at the end of two years it expires unless indorsed by the board of normal presidents. After such indorsement, if it is a diploma of the normal school, it becomes good for life and if of the elementary course, it becomes good for five years, when it must be indorsed again. Those graduates of the normal school who had their diplomas indorsed were Gertrude L. Evans, Winona, five years; Marguerite Jones, Luverne, five years; Emma Lamp, Owatonna, reinforced for five years; Ida L. Davis, Winona; Emma Riesenmeyer, Minneapolis; Susie H. Urquhart, Minneapolis; Rosalia O. Bren, Hopkins; Olive Taylor, Hampton, Iowa, life.
