AUGUST REAL ESTATE OFFERINGS

The Real Estate Board Is Showing a

Lively Disposition. meeting of the Minneapolis Real estate board held this week was one of great importance. The previous meeting was a sort of tentative affair. The members were brought together at a dinner and the time was spent in getting acquainted and in the discussion of proposed measures. On Wednesday these measures were presented to the board in a concise form by the executive committee and favorably acted upon. A feeling of earn-estness was prevalent and the discussion was right to the point when each issue was presented. W. W. Price was elected to membership. The treasurer's report showed several hundred dollars on hand. Said one of the speakers, "the tide is up and every little thing helps. We ought to use every plan for advancing the real the evident feeling of each one present Them ap question received the most attention. The executive committee in investigating discovered that several brands of Minneapolis maps are in existence, some of which are very poor and others not correct enough for the purposes of the After much thorough discussion whether new lithograph stones should be ordered or old ones corrected to date should be used it was decided to order 15,000 from the plates of the map used in the city directory. Changes will be made in the color scheme and some new features will be added. The map will be indexed and supplied to the members of the board at a low rate. It is expected that the realty men will see at once the desirability of widely distributing such a map among their customers. enough orders were received on the spot to take 10,000. Three thousand were ordered as soon as President Jones announced A Junket to Duluth.

The executive committee suggested a trip by the members to Duluth and the proposition was taken up at once. W. Y. Chute has the matter in hand and will report soon as to progress. The plan is to go up soon to the zenith city, look over the town under direction of the real estate board, of that town. Among the pleasures promised is a steamer trip around the bay. The St. Paul men will be asked to make the junket at the same time, and it is predicted that the boards of the two cities will be brought into closer relation-ship than by any plan heretofore proposed.

The Bradley-Clark company has bought from the Armour company land 22x150 feet, and it is understood will erect a $30,000 wagon repository next spring.

First Street Changes.

The old wooden buildings on First street, which are to be replaced by the Janney, Semple, Hill & Co. warehouse, have been demolished by Pike & Cook, the contractors for the excavation. The three-story brick hotel on First avenue will go next. The buildings on the immediate corner will remain, as the property is retained by the owner. F. B. and L. L. Long, architects, are preparing plans for the new building.

St. Paul, another from St. Paul, another from Chicago. Minneapolis men did not take a hand at all. Contractors are accepting only jobs that will net a profit, and are snubbing the small deals. A drawback to the enjoyment of the present prosperous times is the inability to secure steel and iron for structural work.

Residence Property Sales.

Moore Brothers & Sawyer sold a 73x248 lot on Park avenue this week for $3,950, to R. H. Patterson. David P. Jones & Co. negotiated the sale of the property known as lot 5 and part of lot 6, block 3, Lowry Hill, from George N. Lyman to Jennie M. Sullivan, formerly of Chicago, for $10,000.

Thrope Bros. Move.

Thorpe Brothers will move into their new offices on the second floor of the Andrus building. This change is radical, as the move takes them from the building they have occupied for nine years into the new office district center which the building of the Andrus block has established.

The fact that only three contractors put in bids for the $30,000 Carnegie library at St. Cloud indicates that more work is on hand than can be attended to. Henceforth Statesmen Will Find It More Desirable Than Ever to "Have the Floor."

New York Sun Special Service

Washington, Aug. 17.—Days of "cold feet" for the members of the house of representatives are numbered. The handsome new maple floor overlaying the tiled air chamber is now completed and ready for polishing and replacing the seats and desks. Before, when the carpet was re-moved from the floor of the house in the summer, the floor was unsightly indeed. In the future it will present the most attractive appearance, being of hard maple, beautifully matched and highly polished. The new carpet will be cut to fit about the radiators, chairs and desks, thus obviating the damage to the floor by their removal. The space between the tiled floor and the upper one of maple is sufficient to admit of men passing between the two with soap, water and sponges. Three times a week in winter the cleaners will wipe off every inch of the tiling under-costly caned seats and backs, quite in keeping with the handsome desks. The new floors of the galleries are also complete, ready for placing the seats. The floors of the galleries will also be polished, and the carpets cut to fit about the seats, which are to be of maple, stained and polished to represent mahogany.
