BUSINESS DUTIES LAID ASIDE

Monster Gatherings at Many Points—People's Grief Emphasized in Speech and Song.

Specials to The Journal. Winona, Minn., Sept. 19.—Winona today joined in general mourning at the untimely death of President McKinley. Many of the stores were closed and all business was practically suspended at noon. At 2 o'clock, amid the tolling of bells, exercises were held in the opera house, being presided over by Mayor O. A. Stewart. Quartet sang, and Rev. C. F. Blum offered prayer. The address of the afternoon was made by Bishop Earl Cranston, who is here to preside over the deliberations of the North German conference. The opera-house was appropriately decorated.

At the normal school the recitations of the first period from 8:15 to 9 o'clock were held this morning. At the latter hour all the students gathered in the assembly room, where addresses appropriate to the national calamity were made by Thomas Simpson, Dr. Irwin Shepard and Resident Director C. A. Morey. There was some singing and the normal school. After this the school was adjourned for the day.

Brief exercises were carried out in the high school and in most of the public schools yesterday afternoon. Exercises today were entirely suspended.

Northfield, Minn., Sept. 19.—In honor of the burial of President McKinley, the public schools, business houses and colleges were closed today. At Carleton college no exercises were held. A memorial service was conducted in the gymnasium at 9 a. m. The service opened with song and prayer, and an eloquent and appropriate address was given by Dr. Eugene W. Lyman. The meeting was largely attended by students and citizens.

St. Olaf was closed for the day, but the memorial exercises planned were abandoned in view of the services conducted in the auditorium this afternoon. The services of the auditorium at 2 p. m. were very impressive. The recitations and music and speeches were in keeping with the solemn occasion. Addresses were made by Rev. James W. Strong, LL. D., president of the normal college; Rev. J. M. Phillips, cashier of the First National bank. The local clergy and prominent citizens participated. The large chorale choir of the First National church, directed by Professor W. L. Gray, gave vocal music. The attendance taxed the capacity of the auditorium.

Redwood Falls, Minn., Sept. 19.—The burial of President McKinley was appropriately observed by the people of Redwood Falls and vicinity today. In accordance with a proclamation issued by Mayor Aune, every business house was closed from 2 to 4 o'clock, and a vast throng of people gathered in the large courthouse when the funeral program, prepared by a committee appointed by the mayor, was carried out. This included addresses by A. D. Stewart, C. T. Howard, Rev. G. W. Lutz, Rev. Father James J. Woods and McKinley's pastor, Rev. W. Logan Brackley. "William McKinley as a Soldier," by Judge J. A. Leonard; "William McKinley as a Statesman," Thomas Spillane; "William McKinley as a Lawyer," by Logan Brackley; "William McKinley as a President," by Charles E. Callahan. Two bands furnished appropriate music and Father Flordan and Rev. Mr. Fowler also participated. The parade was the longest ever held in Redwood Falls, and every fraternal society, the militia company, pupils in the public schools, county officials, G. A. R. and citizens on foot and in carriages, were in the line of march.

Jackson, Minn., Sept. 19.—Services were held this morning at the opera house in memory of the late president. All business houses were closed for the day.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 19.—This afternoon memorial services for the late President McKinley were held in the Presbyterian church and those of the south side, with the exception of the Episcopalians, met in the First M. E. church. The Episcopalians held a special service, which was also attended by the Knights Templars. This evening there will be a public memorial service at the opera house. Business and all the public offices were closed the entire day. Many citizens arranged elaborate decorations for their buildings.

Aberdeen, S. D., Sept. 19.—The memorial exercises for President McKinley at the grain palace this afternoon were attended by a vast multitude, notwithstanding the inclement weather. All business houses and public offices were closed, the entire carnival program for the day was suspended, including the races, and the city was in mourning. Addresses were made by several local speakers. Many among the vast audience gave way to tears when the president's favorite hymns were sung by the singing chorale. The president and Mrs. McKinley during their long stop here two years ago made hundreds of friends, so that his death was regarded as even more than a national loss.

Iowa City, Iowa, Sept. 19.—Two services were held here today in memory of the late president. One at the opera house, presided over by George W. Ball, President George E. MacLean of the state University of Iowa, Rev. Father Schulte, and Charles Noble Gregory, dean of the college, and the other at the normal school, presided over by Mayor F. K. Stebbins. The speakers were Milton Remley, ex-attorney general of Iowa, Judge M. J. Wade, Rev. Dr. George Cady, Chief Justice and A. E. Swisher. From sunrise until the hour of interment, the State University of Iowa held a session here, and the old soldiers joined in the observances.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Sept. 19.—Mostly all business houses here are closed today out of respect to the memory of the martyred president. Memorial services were held in the Central M. E. church this afternoon.

West Superior, Wis., Sept. 19.—All business was practically suspended today out of respect to the late president. Several memorial services were held in different parts of the city. The larger and more important were the union church services and the mass meeting of citizens, the latter at the Grand opera-house. A feature was the number of memorial services that were held by the different foreign church people of the city at different times during the day.

La Crosse, Wis., Sept. 19.—Today has been one of mourning in La Crosse. A drizzling rain all day made the day disagreeable. Business was suspended during the afternoon and the city is draped in mourning. A mass memorial service was held at 2 o'clock on the courthouse square, prominent citizens speaking.

ley. The hall was densely packed with persons of all creeds. The services consisted of addresses and musical numbers. Among those who delivered eulogies were Mayor R. J. Jones, Judge J. A. Leonard, of the United States court of appeals; General F. C. Winkler and Judge E. S. Elliott. Business was generally suspended.

Oshkosh, Wis., Sept. 19.—Memorial services were held in all the Oshkosh churches this morning, and in the afternoon a general meeting was held under the auspices of the Grand opera-house. The street cars were stopped for five minutes at 3 o'clock.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 19.—Every business house, factory, shop and street car line suspended operations a portion of today in connection with the memorial exercises. The funeral service was held in the new Auditorium this afternoon, where the new Auditorium Miss Atkinson, a Congressman J. A. T. Hull delivered an address on "McKinley, the Patriot."

Madison, Wis., Sept. 19.—Madison churches, societies and citizens generally united in memorial services for the late President McKinley this afternoon. A procession of citizens, headed by the grand marshal, marched a mile to the university gymnasium, where the exercises were held. Dean E. E. Bryant of the law school, Rev. M. Naughton and Rev. A. W. Stalker gave the addresses. Mayor Storrs presided. The university buildings, capitol and most of the business places in the city are decorated in mourning.

St. Cloud, Minn., Sept. 19.—Father Cleary of Minneapolis made the principal address at the opera house here today and Bishop Trobec offered prayer. Resolutions of sorrow and eulogy were unanimously adopted. All fraternal societies took part in the parade which was a monster affair. The military bands did not hold the people who desired to enter.

Stillwater, Minn., Sept. 19.—Stillwater is draped in mourning. The city is heavily draped in mourning, and the parade, which included all the local societies and organizations, was the largest ever given in this city. Appropriate music was given by prominent local artists. The vest choir sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and "Lead, Kindly Light," the dead president's favorites. This afternoon general services were held at the opera house, the address being delivered by Rev. S. J. Kennedy. The Grand Army, Elks and Knights of Pythias attended in a body. All business houses closed at noon and the military bands and city and county offices deserted.
