MRS. TUTTLE DECLINES Will Not Serve Another Term as District Vice President.

Mrs. H. A. Tuttle, vice-president of the Minneapolis district of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs, has arranged to hold the regular fall meeting of the district Friday afternoon, Oct. 4, at 2:30, at the residence of Mrs. H. F. Brown, 226 Seventh street S. The meeting is always held shortly before the annual convention, and the delegates elected for the state conference are likely to go astray.

The business of this meeting is mostly preparation for the state conference, and the question of the state officers to be elected at Owatonna will be an important topic. The Minneapolis district will have to confront the problem of selecting a new vice-president for Mrs. Tuttle, whose term expires this year, has declined not to allow her name to be used as a candidate for another term.

The officers to be elected this year in the state federation are president, district vice-presidents, recording secretary, auditor and historian. There will be two new district vice-presidents created by the change of congressional districts, and at least two of the present officers are no longer in a district over which they have been presiding. This will involve a number of changes. The officers of the federation are for two years, and the remaining officers—vice-president, at-large, treasurer and corresponding secretary—are elected in the alternate years.

Y. W. C. A. CLASSWORK

Numerous Classes Provide Nearly a Full School Course. INDUSTRIAL TRAINING PLANNED Large and Enjoyable Culture Classes—Opening Reception Will Assemble Pupils.

Class work at the Young Women's Christian Association begins Oct. 1, and registration has been going on for the past week or two. While the association is much crowded in its present quarters, it will be able to carry on this year an even larger amount of work in its classes than in the past year, which was a banner one.

The association is practically the only institution in the state in which industrial and gymnasium courses are offered to all who wish them apart from other work. Side by side with these lines of work are educational classes, in which the training of the mind can be carried along with physical and manual training. The classes are so varied and the personnel of the instructors is of such a high order, that last year several young women took courses in a school curriculum. Not a few of these were students from out of town, who put in several months very profitably.

Perhaps the foremost place in the industrial work may be assigned to the domestic science classes of Miss Mary Healy, which were attended by ninety-eight pupils last year. Miss Healy's pupils are enthusiastic about the practical work, and she is in line with the best teachers in striving to adapt her instruction to actual conditions, while seeking to create a desire for ideal conditions. She makes popular plain and emphasizes them in a way calculated to make her pupils do their own thinking. There is nothing of the blind teaching of a few recipes about her work in cooking. During the summer Miss Healy attended the summer school at Chautauque, N. Y., where she had an opportunity of comparing her work with that of the foremost cooking teachers of the east.

The instruction this year will include classes in plain cooking, one beginning and the other advanced. The former will meet on Monday evenings and Tuesday mornings at 9:30.

Housekeeper's course, with a group of emergency dishes from left-overs. Marketing suggestions for menus. Also entries, fancy salads and vegetable salads for receptions and teas. Wednesday, 9:30 a. m.

Household's course, to include the principles of cooking, from courses 1 and 2. Twenty-four lessons, Friday, 2:30 p. m.

Suggestions for light housekeeping, with practical and simple uses of the chafing dish. Fridays, 7:30 p. m.

Practical classes (12 to 16 years)—Plain cooking, Saturday, 9:30 a. m.

Chafing Dish Course—Lobster Newburg, omelets, etc. p. m.

Nurses—Special arrangements will be made for classes in invalid cooking for nurses.

Demonstration lectures of one hour length will be given at intervals during the year and will be announced later.

Popularity of Needlework. Another popular industrial class is the embroidery taught by Miss Alma Osterberg, an artist in dainty stitchings, who enthralls her classes to an unusual degree. Much handsome fancywork is done, as well as recalled by all who saw the exhibit of class work last spring. The work includes the different stitches, colorings, raised work, Battenburg, shadow tones and French embroidery. Classes Monday, 2 p. m., and Thursday, 7 p. m.

The latest and most popular art of basketry, will be taught by Mrs. Laura F. Tinsley, who learned the art in her public-school work. The classes will meet Wednesday at 7 p. m. on Friday at 9 p. m.

Sewing will be taught by Mrs. Jennie M. Gray, who has been in the association work for several years. She has been scientifically instructed in the system of model making and garment-making carefully to the needs of her classes. The following courses will be given:

First—Model Sewing—How to sew, including different kinds of seams and hems, and how to apply them to the making of garments; gathering, plaques, gussets, patching and darning; buttonholes, setting on of buttons, hooks and eyes.

Second—Making of undergarments and take measures and aprons. This will be taught how to make a large supply of patterns.

Third—Making a plain skirt and waist. Cutting, fitting and finishing the same.

Lessons will be given at 9 o'clock Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, the latter being especially planned for teachers in the public schools. An evening class will be formed if a sufficient number register.

On the Physical Side. The gymnasium is the scene of many pleasant hours, as well as the means for marked physical improvement. Miss Ellen H. Douglas is an inspiring leader as well as a competent instructor. She is now at the association rooms each day from 9:30 to 5 p. m. to meet all who wish to consult her in regard to gymnasium work. This enables pupils to take their medical examination that is required before entering classes, and to get their suits ready before the classes begin. The association is provided with tub and shower baths, the use of which is free to gymnasium members on class days. Special exercises are given to those whose health needs to be improved by the examining physician, Dr. Mary B. Damon, show that they need them. Medical or corrective gymnastics are also given for special ailments, and several doctors have been able to secure the special attention needed for some of their patients and have given high indorsements of the work.

Training the Intellect. In the educational classes, Mrs. Della White, a teacher of experience in the public schools, will have a class in English, meeting Tuesday evenings at 7 o'clock, and a class in arithmetic the same evenings at 8 o'clock. The aim in the latter is to give accuracy and rapidity in mathematical calculations. The class for foreigners beginning to study English will be taught by Miss Anna Zinnel, who has had exceptional success in this work. This class meets Wednesday evenings at 7:30 and no tuition is charged.

French is one of the most popular studies at the association, a state of affairs largely due to the personality of Mrs. Main, the instructor. She has taught this association classes for a number of years, and in a large class three years of work saw almost no changes in the personnel, and she has a record. Mrs. Main not only interests herself deeply in her pupils, but is a loyal supporter of all of the association work. The advanced classes will meet Monday, 7 p. m.
