M. de Label's Scheme for a Road in Two Hemispheres.

HE IS BACK FROM ALASKAN TRIP

Line From Circle City to Vladivostok—French and American Capital Enlisted.

Special to The Journal.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 30.—L. de Label, the eminent French geologist, who originated the plan of constructing a railroad from Circle City, Alaska, to Vladivostok via Bering sea, has returned from Alaska, where he made an inspection of part of the proposed route. The project is to be backed by $200,000,000 of French and American capital, and will be one of the greatest engineering feats ever undertaken. M. de Label expresses himself as being well pleased with the results of the vast enterprise. Many difficulties of a topographical nature will have to be overcome in the construction of the road. News which M. de Label has reported from France, he states, is also very satisfactory and on the whole the outlook for the railroad, which will be 4,000 miles long, is promising.

In company with his stepson, Rene de Label, the scientist arrived from Alaska on the steamer Cottage City. His inspection was confined to the district between Circle City and the Koyukuk. He left for the north by the Trans-Siberian road, and thence to Washington, where he will seek an audience with President Roosevelt with a view to laying before him the details of the proposed undertaking.

Later he will go to Russia for the purpose of seeing the czar and financiers of that country. This course is necessary, as the road will traverse Siberia, from Bering sea to Vladivostok, connecting at the latter place with the Trans-Siberian road.

"Everything is in a very satisfactory condition," said M. de Label, "and the indications point to success. News I have received from Paris shows that the syndicate is steadily developing, and is receiving substantial support. More than fifty-six of the great newspapers of Europe have endorsed the project, and the tone of the press is very favorable. They encourage the construction of the railroad."

TELEGRAPH TO DAWSON

New Canadian Government Line is Working Smoothly.

Special to The Journal.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 30.—The British Columbia and Yukon telegraph line, constructed by the Canadian government, is now working smoothly over some 1,970 miles of as hard a country as there probably is on earth, between Ashcroft, B. C., to which a Canadian Pacific telegraph line runs from Vancouver—and Selkirk and Dawson in the Yukon. The line also connects with British Columbia, the chief Atlin and Skeena points, which are in healthy mineralized country. Vancouver will be the receiving and distributing point for all Atlin and Yukon messages; cables and telegrams going to or coming from all parts of the world being transmitted through the Vancouver Canadian Pacific railway telegraph office. It is probable that early next year a special telegraph wire will be strung between Vancouver and Ashcroft to handle the Yukon business, which will at present be transmitted over that section through the ordinary commercial wires.

OLD GOOD ENOUGH

Iowa Congressmen Oppose Redistricting of the State.

SEATS WOULD BE IN JEOPARDY

Northwest Part of the State Wants a New Deal and So There'll Be a Fight.

Special to The Journal.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 30.—The question of a new division of the state into congressional, senatorial and representative districts was quietly given a good deal of discussion while republican politicians were gathered here in state conference. It has been generally supposed the question of redistricting would come before the legislature this winter, but the trend of sentiment among the present politicians is strongly against it. It develops that the congressional delegation is almost united against redistricting.

The same motives that led the Iowa congressmen to oppose redistricting in this state a twelfth representative when the question of reapportionment was before congress, are operating now. Regardless of the fact that there is wide discrepancy in the population of the present districts the congressmen will oppose congressional redistricting, for the reason that it would jeopardize the political future of several of the members.

In the tenth district, the Conner-Shaw faction is aware that redistricting would mean the lopping off of Crawford county, where Congressman Conner lives, and throwing that county into the ninth or eleventh district, the eighth district, Congressman Hepburn is satisfied with the district in its present form and fears a change would inure to the benefit of others seeking to fill his place. The same is true of the sixth district, where Major Lacey is congressman and of Congressman Hull and the seventh district. In a less degree and for like reasons there is opposition to redistricting from all the congressmen. On the other hand, there is a strong element in the northwest part of the state that will insist on redistricting and a bitter fight in the general assembly is likely to be stirred up on this subject.

In the first place, many of the "insurgents" in the northern part of the state, having no particular friendship for the old machine are willing to contribute to the congressional delegation's discomfort. In the tenth district, the friends of Thomas D. Healy of Fort Dodge want to see him in congress in place of Conner and there are other aspirants willing to see him cut adrift. Besides the tenth and eleventh districts are disproportionately large on this ground alone there is reason for a demand for redistricting.

In case congressional redistricting is postponed, it is unlikely any attempt will be made to modify the senatorial and representative districts.

An active campaign for the appointment to the office of United States marshal for the southern Iowa district has been started by R. W. Clayton, republican congressman from the sixth district. George M. Christian of Grinnell now holds this office. Clayton is endeavoring to get the support of Congressman Lacey, but has failed thus far. The marshal has a bearing on congressional politics of the district, as Clayton is threatening to turn his

ALASKAN TREASURES

Copper as Well as Gold in an Undeveloped Country.

San Francisco, Sept. 30.—Lieutenant J. C. Cantwell, who for the last three years has been in the revenue cutter service in Alaska waters, returned to the city and is about to begin work on his official report to the treasury department. He was warm in his praise of this undeveloped northern country and predicts a great future for it. He made tests of the coal found along the Yukon river. He says it is unequaled to be burned on steamers unless the latter are fitted with special funnels, because of a large amount of carbon. In the Koyukuk river district and in that of Tanana river there are rich deposits of gold which are undeveloped, owing to the enormous expense of getting in food. From what little prospecting has been done in the district it has been proved that the land not only contains large quantities of gold, but that there are liberal deposits of copper. The prospects in Nome are favorable and Lieutenant Cantwell says the newly discovered city will doubtless be a permanent one.

Tired of His Telephone.

John D. Rockefeller, the Standard Oil king, is the one man whom no one in Cleveland can get up over the telephone and worry half to death. Mr. Rockefeller has past that stage. Formerly he used a 'phone just as others do, but the calls for him were so numerous that he had to keep a man constantly at the receiver answering them. Now his 'phone service is so arranged that he can call others, but no one can call him. If you are worried by your telephone, drink "Golden Grain Belt" beer to quiet your nerves and you won't mind it. Brewed from the purest barley malt and hops, this beer is pure and delicious. QUARLES AND JONES

Indian Affairs Men at White Earth—Park Scheme Disavored.

White Earth, Minn., Sept. 30.—Senator J. E. Quarles, chairman of the senate park commission; W. A. Jones, commissioner of Indian affairs, and Congressman R. H. Pratt, superintendent of the Carlisle Penitentiary, and training school, were at the agency several days last week. They inspected both the agency and St. Benedict's Orphan Industrial school, and the various agency buildings, and pressed themselves as well pleased with the system employed and manner and condition in which the reservation affairs generally were being conducted.

On Friday they met several of the chiefs and head men, and matters of vital importance affecting the reservation were discussed. They expressed themselves adversely to the segregation of large tracts of land for park purposes, and favored the Menomonee or Wisconsin plan for the disposition of the remaining Indian pine and fir land; also the early opening to settlement of all the ceded agricultural land.

BOOKBINDER'S ESTATE

Only Heir Found to Have Died in the Poorhouse.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 30.—Rudolph Beck, a bookbinder of Brooklyn, died early to-day, leaving an estate of $40,000. A banking house of New York was named as executor of the estate. It could find no relatives of the dead man until some months ago, when it was learned that a distant relative named Mrs. Christiana Mathias was once a resident of this city. A representative of the banking firm came here to investigate only to find that the woman had died in the poorhouse last November.
