

City Water NOT Dangerous

WHEN FILTERED THROUGH GERM-PROOF FILTERS

WHAT THE BACTERIOLOGISTS AND CHEMISTS SAY ABOUT HYGEIA FILTERS

This is to certify that I have examined a sample of water drawn from a No. 1 Eclipse Filter with following results: The amount of water used was 1 CC. The number of colonies of bacteria that were developed in a plate culture was 0. Control tests were made of water before filtration with following result: Amount of water used, 1 CC; number of colonies of bacteria developed in sterile plate culture was 132.

Therefore I should say that these filters were capable of rendering river water absolutely sterile.

J. FRANK CORBETT, City Bacteriologist.

*1 Cubic Centimeter, about 1/4 teaspoonful.

This is to certify that I have examined chemically several samples of water drawn from the city mains through a No. 1 Eclipse Filter and have compared their composition with other samples drawn at the same time and place without filtration.

The filtered water has in each case shown a very marked improvement, containing less organic matter and evolving much less quantities of both free and albuminoid ammonia than the unfiltered samples.

The results of such chemical analyses as I have made, supplemented by the bacteriological examinations made by Dr. Corbett, would tend to show that these filters were capable of effecting such a degree of purification of the river water as to render it entirely satisfactory for household use.

COMISKY'S TEAM IS IT?

Chicago White Sox Take the American League Pennant.

EACH MAN ON THE TEAM GETS $500

Ban Johnson Predicts an Enlargement of the American League Next Season.

Vale, American League!

Ban Johnson's prediction that the weather would permit, and would up their season with proper eclat from a baseball standpoint. Since the middle of the season there has not been any question but that Comisky's Chicago white Sox would have the pennant again. When they lost three straight to the Boston crowd many felt that the championship would go to the hub but the distance between the two clubs was never decreased except when they came together.

Comisky's players were inferior to many another bunch in batting and in fielding, but they were nervy as batsmen and they had three fine pitchers in Clark Griffith, Jimmy Callahan and Roy Patterson. It was base running and superior twirling which enabled the white Sox to pull down the pennant. It cost them $500 for every man on the team. It does not seem possible that Charles Comisky would let go of about $7,500 just to get another pennant, but he is so possibly right.

As soon as the season was over, President Johnson announced that it had been successful beyond expectation. The league, he said, was firmly entrenched, and three National League strongholds and next season two more would be entered—New York and St. Louis. There is no question but that several national league stars have already signed with the Americans. Among them is Ed Delehanty, of Philadelphia, who has been paid big money to act as an emissary of the Americans. It is expected that the Philadelphia and St. Louis teams will lose heavily by desertions to the American. In fact none of the clubs are safe except Pittsburgh which is already signed all of its players for next season.

NEW FISHER'S BIBLE

Nashville Clergymen Express Their Appreciation of Clean Ball.

Undoubtedly the most unique gift ever handed the home plate was the handsome bound bible which the ministers of Tennessee, presented to Newton Fisher, the well-known Minneapolis catcher now on the roster of the Southern league team at Nashville. This was Newt's first experience as a manager, but he seems born for the role for he picked a team of winners, who will get the pennant with no trouble and he gave Nashville such clean ball that the clergymen of the city united in commending the sport to the world.

Said of the Players.

Pete Dahlquist of Cedar Rapids was the only pitcher in the three-league to win all his games.

Charles Gangel, the old Detroit and Boston catcher, is the latest appointment to "Nick" Young's staff of umpires.

Ballou, a similar business, Yeager and Burke were released by the American League and found their way to the Pittsburgh club.

Pitcher "Ted" Lewis will play for the N. Y. after the close of the baseball season. He has accepted a position to teach in New York.

Jimmy McAleer, who has retired from the management of the American League, is said to have returned to his home in New York.

Haute the champion Terre Haute team played an exhibition game at Columbus, N. Y., beating the great National League team of St. Brown and Murphy were the pitchers.

The Boston league team has neither a spare pitcher nor a spare catcher. It has only thirteen men on its payroll. The manager has a number of major league team. Two pitchers, four infielders and three outfielders.

Jack Menefee is making himself very useful for the American League. He is said to be desired, and he smashes the ball at timely moments.

It is said that Catcher Schlichter's American League contract for $2,400 has been canceled because he was still trying to work both leagues. He has had his figures accepted twice.

Breanham of Baltimore has played in every position in the American League. He was originally signed as a pitcher, but he has been practically blackballed by the American League. He must now play with one of the minor leagues or remain in the National League at whatever salary he can get.

There has been considerable complaint among the members of the Cincinnati team over the fact that President Ban Johnson has not effort to sign them to contracts for next season.

Warren Beckwith, who achieved notoriety several years ago by eloping with Jessie Lincoln, grand daughter of President Lincoln, has been playing with the American League in Illinois all summer.

According to the Baltimore dispatch, McGraw has the contracts of Pitcher Tomlinson, Taylor of Chicago, and First Baseman McGinn.

Third Baseman Jimmy Burke, released by Comisky for signing a Pittsburgh 1902 contract, has joined the Pittsburgh team for the balance of the season.

Umpire Joe Cantillon says that if Milwaukee is transferred to St. Louis next year he will apply for the franchise in the Western League and manage a team in the Western League.

THE COMING OF CRESCUS

A Good Program Arranged for His Date Here.

Repeated rains reduced the Minnehaha course to a muddy marching ground, for Saturday last thus the matinee announced for that day, was again postponed. Saturday next is the now listed date and the race will be put in racing order by tomorrow morning and racers and trainers alike are at liberty to train and educate there for the coming event, the desire of the management being to keep the track in good condition until October 31st when Crescus, the champion trotter, makes his appearance for a fast mile.

There will be a free-for-all race also on the card the day that Crescus comes and also several classes for trotters and a trotting class for the professionals, also to make the day complete a barbaque is to be put on and a first class band will be engaged to furnish the music. In view of the fact that the racing events will be called early, there will be a liberal number on the card and that the sport will be concluded early, it is expected that a high attendance, Crescus' circuit is now as follows: This week at Baltimore, next week at Lexington, following with Toledo, Cleveland, Kansas City then the four city tour, Chicago, in California where he is already billed up to December 10.

There are still several trainers at the Minnehaha track and it is now understood that one or more of them will be in the winter. W. H. Matthews has in his stables at the park, S. S. Johnson's grand young trotter Hamber who has shown a 2:15 in 1900. His work this season, Posey Trotter, 2:13 1/2; George, 2:14; Pauna Glen and several other fast steppers. Orrin Ostrander has Robin Wood, 2:14 1/2; Richball, 2:12 1/2; and several other good ones, among them being a Norwegian King who captured the blue ribbon for trotting sires at the state fair and several speedy sons of the handsome steed.

St. Paul horses are now returning from the season's campaign and are getting acquainted with the winter. H. M. Stocking has two very good luck with his horses and had very few clever ice track pacers in the past. Foster and Dell S. 2:14. W. G. Corliss' handsome and speedy Dick Turpin, 2:09 1/2, has about recovered from his lameness which disabled him in the 2:12 pace at the fair and will soon be in racing form again. Dr. Pomeroy's crack pacer George, 2:15, is in the shape and succeeded in being a winner at New Richmond last week in fast time.

Y. M. C. A. GYM OPENING

It Will Take Place Next Monday—The Program.

The formal opening of the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium for the fall and winter will be held next Monday, not this evening. There will be class drills and individual work on the parallel and horizontal bars, tumbling, wrestling, fencing, swimming, hand ball and basket ball contests.

A basket ball team will be organized this evening, games having been arranged with the other Y. M. C. A. teams. A boxing, fencing and wrestling club will be formed to-morrow evening. A room will be fitted up especially for the purposes of the club. A series of strength contests has been arranged between the teams from the Minneapolis and St. Paul associations. The men of each team will undergo weekly examinations for strength of legs, back, chest and arms.

Twenty-five members have taken part in the three runs made already by the barriers. The run is limited at present to a mile, the distance to be increased each week.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Minneapolis is likely to lose Leonard Swornstedt, for the chances are that J. T. Brush will want him for his Cincinnati team next season. Swornstedt worked yesterday for the reds, one of the two "punchest" teams in the National League. He pitched very well, and the champions from Pittsburgh, who have been batting all pitchers at will, made three hits only, and should have been shut out. As "Noddy" Hahn also won his game, the Cincinnati fans got much more than their money's worth.

The scores:

First Game—Cincinnati..... R H E
Pittsburgh..... 0 0 0 1 0 10 1 0
Batteries—Bergan and Hahn; Zimmer and Leaver

Second Game—Cincinnati..... R H E
Pittsburgh..... 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 6 1
Batteries—Hurley and Swornstedt; Zimmer and Tannehill.

Two games were dropped by the New York giants, one through Magee's poor work as pitcher and another through clerical errors in the eighth inning. Richardson, the new first baseman from the Three-eyed League, tied the score for the St. Louis club in the seventh by making a home run. This was the score:

First Game—St. Louis..... R H E
New York..... 0 1 1 2 0 0 0 0 4 8 2
Batteries—Schriver and Powell; Warner and Magee

Second Game—St. Louis..... R H E
New York..... 0 0 0 0 1 1 1 2 7 1
Batteries—Schriver and Yerkes; Warner and Taylor.

As usual, the Chicago remnants could not bat nor field and the Brooklyn secured a victory without working overtime. The score:

Chicago..... R H E
Brooklyn..... 0 3 0 0 1 0 0 4 10 2
Batteries—Kling and Hughes; McGuire and J. Hughes.

Quail Again in Season After Five Years' Immunity.

THEY ARE REPORTED PLENTIFUL

Ducks Are Coming in Numerously, the Teal Leading the Procession.

After five years' immunity from sportsmen's guns, the yearling quail, like the prairie chicken, they burrow into the snow drifts in winter and by wise husbandry manage to "stick it out" until they are again bid welcome to the sunshine and nature's bounteous storehouse.

The ideal spots for quail hunting are in the brushy country and along the river bottoms. The Minnesota bottoms are particularly inviting in this regard, and prospects are said to be enticing in Corcoran township.

Teal Are Plentiful.

Members of the Minnesota Gun Club, who have been cracking away at the ducks on the bottoms during the past two weeks, are getting ready to attack the teal. E. W. Goddard, William McKenney, Ed Sumner, Harry Legg, Dr. Hunter, Perry Morris and Perry Harrison were among those who donned their rubber boots and crept into the Minnesota marshes. Between them, in one day, they bagged 125 ducks in pass shooting.

A rather remarkable fact noted by the hunters is that every duck dropped was a teal, not a single blue or mallard being seen yet. No one has as yet offered a satisfactory explanation of the absence of blue bills, which are, as a rule, very plentiful at this season of the year. The teal are there by thousands.

October is the ideal month for sportsmen. This glorious month is exempt from game laws so far as they apply to the feathered tribe. There is no longer a ban on anything with wings.

Squirrels and bunnies on the outskirts of the city are on the run now. An unusually large number of gunners went out after these shy creatures of the woods yesterday. Guns barked steadily all day in the vicinity of Keegan's lake, and later in the afternoon men trudged into the city with sacks bulging suspiciously.

Titus Will Meet Atkinson

In Reply to the Challenge you published from Mr. Atkinson, who holds the title of champion of Manitoba, I will say that I am willing to play him for any amount from $10 to $25, but prefer to make it about $25. I wish to eliminate all possible chances for repetition, and so want a match of restricted length of the Barker-Jordan style. If there are any of the local contingent who think they have a better right than I have to play the northwestern champion, I should like to be informed and will not cover the forfeit until time has been allowed for such information to reach me. I should like to have three, in three sections of openings, is the best selection to make. Respectfully,

PATIENCE! PATIENCE!

General Corbin's Verdict on the Sun and Wind

Woodbury's Facial Soap

CANNOT BE CIVILIZED IN A DAY

Adjutant General Extols the Filipino Character and is Satisfied With Conditions.

Washington, Sept. 30.—"Patience! patience! patience!" That is what this country must cultivate continually in its dealings with the Filipinos. If we are able in ten years to work the improvement in the condition of the people that some of our well-meaning but over-enthusiastic American citizens think can be brought about in ten weeks, we shall be doing a great work that will be a credit to our nation in the world's history, ancient or modern.

So says Major General Henry C. Corbin, adjutant general of the army, who is just home from a protracted official visit in the Philippine archipelago. He is a competent but disinterested observer, and was sent to the far east in order that the government might have the benefit of his views regarding conditions there. In all probability he will, at his leisure this fall, reduce his observations to writing, for the benefit of the secretary of war and the Philippine commission. He is not only a student of the management of Philippine affairs. Presumably they will be sent to congress by the war department, and afterwards published for general circulation.

General Corbin confirms what already has been said about the docile and kindly character of the native population. The people are not only willing but are anxious to learn. They realize in some measure the fact that they have been stationary for a thousand years, and that nineteenth century civilization has much, very much, that will make for their social, industrial, moral and intellectual uplift. They have no preconceived notions to overcome, no pet theories which must be petted. They stand before this country in an attitude similar to that of a boy, picked up in the slums of a great city and sent to school for the first time, by calling it the largest and hardest trotting beast in the collection. He said he had been sitting around all day and wanted a good shaking. The horse which was led out was a raw-boned, hammer-headed buckskin with a gait like a churn. The president stood it for two hours, and then at seven o'clock, four chops, a quart of peas and two slabs of apple pie.

—W. W. Jernama.

President Roosevelt as Rider and Eater.

President Roosevelt expects to take most of his exercise by horseback riding. He will have his own horses here in a few days, and meantime, he has drawn on the army stables. He began last Monday by riding the largest and hardest trotting beast in the collection. He said he had been sitting around all day and wanted a good shaking. The horse which was led out was a raw-boned, hammer-headed buckskin with a gait like a churn. The president stood it for two hours, and then at seven o'clock, four chops, a quart of peas and two slabs of apple pie.
