He expects to be gone about two weeks. The G. A. R. posts in Cleveland have made elaborate preparations to receive him while in that city, and will also visit a number of eastern posts before his return home.

No Canteen at the Home—Members of the board of trustees of the Minnesota Soldiers' Home declare that they will not establish a canteen at the home. The trustees of the National Soldiers' Home recently issued such a notice, but the Minnesota board is not in sympathy with it. Conditions are different here, where the patients are taken care of by the institution and the inmates have very little spending money.

Police Pay Funeral Expenses—All of the expenses of the funeral of the late D. J. Whetstone, driver of the Central station patrol wagon, will be paid from the funds in the hands of the police picnic committee. Before Mr. Whetstone's death the officers at the Central station and headquarters contributed $25 for employing a nurse for the sick man, and this amount will be used for that purpose, will be applied to the doctor's bill.

Killed by a Fall—Fred Hamen died at St. Barnabas hospital last night from injuries received yesterday. He was working on a scaffold on the east side of the city, Minneapolis, and fell to the ground, forty feet high. His body struck across a suspended beam and several other men were injured. Hamen came to Minneapolis recently and has a wife and large family.

Pipeman Burns Let Out—The committee on the part of the city council at its meeting this morning dismissed Robert Burns, pipeman of company No. 19, for intoxication. Burns was arrested at the time he was on duty, and was taken to the police station. The committee on the report of the board of engineers, consisting of Chief Canterbury and assistants Hunt and Johnson, who investigated the charges preferred against the fireman. The evidence submitted to the board, in their mind, warranted Burns being drunk just after receiving his month's pay.

Sidewalk Riding to Stop—So far as lies in his power, Judge Holt is determined to stop the dangerous practice of riding bicycles on the sidewalks. He has issued orders to the effect that he will expect little mercy at the hands of the court. He so expressed himself this morning at the trial of a young man who was charged with riding his wheel on one of the principal thoroughfares. The man was fined $5 and his wheel was taken away. He is expected to receive his month's pay.

Sam Jeffrey Missing—Samuel Jeffrey, a waiter at the West Hotel, disappeared last Wednesday. He was last seen by Henry Roberts, who found him in the street, and who took him to the police station. Jeffrey's father, who lives at 1234 Washington street, is looking for him. He is expected to receive his month's pay.

He Kept the Change—A ham and egg sandwich and a $5 gold piece were the simple fare that landed Timothy Pedersgaard, a spruce-looking young fellow, in the workhouse for a term of ten days. The fact that Frank Gilmore sought to appease his appetite with a sandwich and a gold piece, and that a Washington street lunch wagon, and its attendant, had tendered a $5 gold piece. The proprietor of the lunch wagon, who had no money, when Pedersgaard had approached in the meantime, offered to go across the street and get a nickel and two small coins. After securing possession of the gleaming gold, he forgot to return to the stand, and proceeded to make a night of it.

ADMIRAL JACOBSON

Representative Riley Speaks a Good Word for His Candidate. Morris, Minn. Oct. 10.—D. L. Riley of Lakefield, who represents the fourteenth district in the legislature, has in Morris yesterday, in an ardent address, commended and served with him on the committee and subcommittee of appropriations. He believes that Jacobson has the best of congressional timber in him, and that he entered the race in this, the most distinguished district, and young would be reported as "also ran." But he says Jacobson is looking for a state position—"Bob" Dunn's place when Dunn is through with his duties, and he will move, Mr. Riley stated that it will be for governor. Lind, he says, will be the next democratic nominee for that position.

WATER FOR SCHOOLS

Medical Inspectors Recommend That Filters Be Installed. Purchase of distilled or spring water, filtration and boiling or distillation were the three methods suggested at the meeting of the board of health yesterday morning, for supplying the schools with pure water. The recommendation was signed by the four chief medical inspectors of the schools, Drs. R. D. Bergall, T. B. Berber, H. N. McDonald and G. W. Bass. Filtration is believed to be the cheapest plan. The process will not require additional fuel, the apparatus may be installed in each building, and the filters may be operated by the building committee. The report was referred to the building committee.

DR. BURTON FRIDAY

His Subject Will Be "The Drama of Personality." The full house that greeted Dr. Burton's opening lecture at the Unitarian church last Saturday has given rise to the impression that no more popular lecturers can be obtained for the course. About 150 of the sittings, however, were represented by single night tickets, and that number of admissions will be on sale this week at the Metropolitan Music store. The delight and enthusiasm of the large audience on the first night indicates that those who wish tickets for Friday will do well to secure them at once.

"THE PRESIDENT'S OWN"

A Cavalry "Regiment" Being Organized in Washington. Francis J. Carmody, Congressman Fletcher's secretary, writing to a member of the Roosevelt Club in this city, tells of a club now being organized in Washington and which will be conducted along similar lines. "The boys here," he writes, "are organizing a cavalry regiment to be known as 'The President's Own,' and in which I am to be one of the sergeants. One of our members is a former captain of the Royal Austrian Hussars. He brought down his old uniform the other night, and we decided to adopt it, with one or two minor changes. It is a showy affair, and we expect to be able to throw into the shade even 'Troop A' of New York, which made so fine a showing when our fellows were down here to attend the inauguration."

THE AMERICAN BOARD ASKS ALL TO HELP IN RAISING MISS STONE'S RANSOM.

A telegram calculated to arouse the active sympathy and enlist generous giving on the part of the Christian people of the United States, without regard to denomination, has been sent broadcast over the country by the American board. It had to do with the rescuing of Miss Stone, the American missionary, from the brigands of Turkey, in whose hands she is held for ransom. The call was made to the churches by S. B. Capen, president of the board of missions, which is now in session in Boston, and is as follows: Rev. L. H. Hallock, Minneapolis—A personal interview with President Roosevelt shows payment of ransom necessary to save Miss Stone's life. Prudential committee urges a popular subscription. Churches here are at work. Please notify churches in your city of all denominations immediately. Send money to Kidder, Peabody & Co., Boston, Mass.

There is no doubt but that the money demanded for Miss Stone's release will be immediately raised by the various churches and religious societies of the country. In Minneapolis the call came like a command. The ministers of the evangelical churches, without exception, who were spoken to to-day, were heartily in favor of the plan suggested by President Capen, and all will bring the matter before their congregations at the earliest possible moment. Dr. M. D. Shutter of the Church of the Redeemer said: "I will gladly co-operate with the other churches in this movement. I will at once take steps to lay the matter before the board of trustees, but I have no doubt but that our church will take hold and do its part in raising the money. As to a public announcement, the people of the Christian church will have charge of the services Sunday morning at the subject of Miss Stone taken up then. However, there is no time to be lost. Dr. J. S. Montgomery of Wesley M. E. church, was equally in earnest. He said: "I am most heartily in favor of taking immediate action for the rescue of Miss Stone. There will be no trouble in raising the money if the churches of the country take hold. I will heartily co-operate in the general movement, and will arrive here to-morrow to the matter. It is really not a time for talk. I think the mode of procedure should be, Miss Stone first, settlement afterwards."

Our congregation has had about all it could do in preparing for the national convention this week, but inasmuch as the Christian church is vitally interested in the cause of missions, I will refer the subject to Chairman Spencer, who will arrive here to-morrow. If he thinks best, the convention at some full session may be asked to make a contribution to be applied to the ransom fund. Similar sentiments were expressed by other ministers with sympathy and earnestness as to leave no doubt of Minneapolis' attitude toward the fund.

MISS HILL WEDDED

Railroad King's Daughter the Bride of George T. Slade. THE ARCHBISHOP OFFICIATED. Monsignor Auger Who Married the Bride's Parents Assisted—Ceremony in Drawing-room.

The marriage of Miss Charlotte Hill and George Theron Slade, which took place last noon yesterday, was an event of more than ordinary importance on account of the bride's father, J. J. Hill, the railroad king. The service was read at the St. Paul home of Mr. and Mrs. Hill, in the presence of 300 guests. Archbishop Ireland read the service, assisted by Monsignor Auger, who officiated at the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Hill thirty years ago, and Rev. Thomas Haffron. The white drawing room overlooking the river was chosen for the service, and was hung with garlands of white asters, while great clusters of white and yellow chrysanthemums, American Beauty roses, bloomed in every available nook through the great hall and other rooms. Dan's orchestra was stationed in the music room, and the hall and with G. H. Fairclough at the organ, furnished the wedding music. The little son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hill of Minneapolis stretched the white satin ribbons to form an aisle. The ushers were Brinkerhoff Thorne and Mr. Loomis of New York city, and they held the ribbons at the door. The bride was preceded by her mother and uncle, Mr. Hill's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. George P. Slade of New York, parents of the bridegroom. Miss Ruth Hill was the only bridesmaid and James N. Hill was the best man.

The bride entered with her father. Her gown was of white satin. A ruffe of point lace outlined the yoke of the bodice. She wore a veil and carried lilies of the valley tied with white gauze ribbons. The bridesmaid wore pink chiffon and satin and carried pink roses. The service was followed by a breakfast served from small tables with white china, ferns and American beauty roses. Among the gifts was a case of superb silver, a dozen gold plates, and a Russian enamel watch, exhibited at the world's fair, and Mrs. Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Slade will make their home in New York. Mr. Slade is an officer of the Erie railroad, and was at Yale college with the brothers of his bride.

MEAT PACKERS YIELD

They Pay Fines Under the Antipreservative Law. Two of the "big four" packing houses have backed down in their fight against the state law which prohibits the use of preservative in meat. Henry DePue, manager for Swift & Co., appeared in the St. Paul municipal court this morning and paid a $25 fine for selling sausage preserved with borax. The other defendant, Nelson Morris & Co. for selling Berliner hams containing the same preservative. Both stated that their companies would ship no more borax preserved meats into Minnesota. Stock of that kind now on hand will be shipped to some other state. Numerous cases of this nature against local butchers have been pending for weeks in the Minnesota courts until the attorneys for the big packing companies decided whether to attack the law. These will undoubtedly be settled by payment of fine at once, as the attorneys have concluded that the law is valid and resistance would be useless.

HER TOES WERE PINCHED

Nellie Mead Van Slingerland Sues a Gotham Shoe Dealer. Mrs. Nellie Van Slingerland, whose meteoric career is well known to Minneapolis, has again bobbed up in New York city with a suit for $10,000 against a shoe dealer because her toes were injured while she was having a pair of shoes fitted. Mrs. Van Slingerland says her feet are very tender and that she warned the attendant to be careful in fitting her shoes. The toes were pinched and she was compelled to use crutches as a result of her injuries. Mrs. Van Slingerland was first known in Minneapolis as Nellie Mead. She afterwards married W. H. Lyman, a well known local politician. She secured a divorce from him and removed to Costa Rica, later marrying the sister of the president of the Central American republic. Last year, Mrs. Van Slingerland achieved notoriety through her association with Postmaster Pitkin of New Orleans.

IT WAS BISHOP WHIPPLE'S WISH

The suggestion of the memorial committee for the erection of a dormitory at the university as a memorial for the late Bishop Whipple is in accordance with his expressed wish. Dr. W. W. Fellows of the university, an intimate friend of the late bishop for many years, said to-day: "I don't think there is any one thing that the church people of the state could do that would be so much in consonance with the bishop's wishes, as to erect such a dormitory to be known as Whipple hall. More than twenty years ago and while I was at the head of the institution, one of my favorite projects was the establishment of such dormitories as homes for such students of the different denominations as desired to take advantage of them. At that time I suggested the plan to Bishop Whipple, who was heartily in favor of it. Many times since he has expressed a wish that he might be able to erect a church hall which could be a home for college men attached to the Episcopal church. But the heavy burden of founding and maintaining the schools at Faribault has prevented him from carrying out his cherished project. Such a memorial as the proposed Whipple hall would be most fitting and would be the fruition of a long cherished wish of Bishop Whipple."

PRESIDENT TALKS OUT

Officers Must Have More Than the Indorsement of "the Organization." Washington, Oct. 10.—President Roosevelt talked plainly to-day to Senator Mason and a company of Illinois politicians who called at the White House in the interest of certain candidates for federal offices in that state, indorsed by the republican state organization. The four-year term is now about to expire and present appointees must receive new commissions or step down and out. The visitors stated their case and then proceeded to give the president a list of men they desired to favor, stating that "the organization" was behind them solidly. The president appeared to be considerably excited. He noticed that nothing was said about the ability or integrity of the applicants. The indorsement of "the organization" was the only argument in their favor advanced by Mason and his friends. "I am anxious to have the good will of the organization," said the president, his voice rising and gestures punctuating his words at frequent intervals, "but I want it distinctly understood here and now that no man shall be appointed by me to any office, in Illinois or elsewhere, who is not in every way worthy and well qualified. Organization indorsements in their way are all right and I am glad to have them, but there must be a good deal more than these. Presidential appointees must be high-class men, and I want everybody to understand this."

ROUGH RIDERS AS ACTORS

THE ROOSEVELT CLUB'S PLANS. Extravaganza to Be Given Annually by the Members of Club. The Roosevelt Rough Riders, elated at the success of their minstrel show at the Lyceum theater last year, have decided to extend the drama of the organization. The club recently perfected a permanent organization and intends to give dramatic entertainments, probably in the nature of burlesque extravaganza, annually. A committee will meet to-night to discuss plans for the entertainment of 1902, which will be given in February. Club members will assume all roles, both masculine and feminine. The operetta to be given will be similar to those staged by the Boston Cadets, which first produced all of the Barnet extravaganza, including "1892" and other pieces which afterwards scored conspicuous successes upon the professional stage. Carl De Laitre, one of the club members who has interested himself in the plan, has secured the libretto of a delivered a most eloquent address, telling of the dead president's association with the order and paying high tribute to his qualities both as a man and a statesman. The club having decided to attend all inaugurations.

LOYAL LEGION MEMORIAL

Addresses Made by Mgr. Ireland and Commander Torrance. The state commandery of the Loyal Legion held a McKinley memorial meeting at the Ryan Hotel last night, at which addresses were made by Archbishop Ireland, Judge Ell Torrance, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., and other speakers. The archbishop spoke extemporaneously, but nevertheless delivered a most eloquent address, telling of the dead president's association with the order and paying high tribute to his qualities both as a man and a statesman. The club having decided to attend all inaugurations.

W. B. MITCHELL RESIGNS

HE QUILTS THE NORMAL BOARD. The Prospect of Submitting to the Board of Control Accepted Him. W. B. Mitchell, the St. Cloud member of the state normal school board has sent his resignation to Governor Van Sant. The document is postmarked early in the week. While the state officials who know of it are inclined to reticence it is understood that Mr. Mitchell resigned rather than submit to board of control domination. Now that the normal board will probably carry its case into the courts there is still a hope of independence, but even that may not alter Mr. Mitchell's determination to quit, as he is understood to be thoroughly disgusted.

A PHILIPPINE RHAPSODY

Manila Freedom. You may sing of the joy, when you were a boy, of a plunge in the swimming pool; you may prate of the shade in the sylvan glade and the breeze sweet and cool; but to a fat man's mind there's nothing so kind nor in nature such a balm, when the mercury's high, as the native pantaloons. A company has just been formed in Geneva, Switzerland, to fill the gap left by ordinary insurance companies and issue policies against accident and loss of life to Alpine guides. This is the first company of the kind ever formed.

DIVORCE

Amended Canon Adopted by the Episcopal House of Deputies. San Francisco, Oct. 10.—The house of deputies has adopted the canon on marriage and divorce in its entirety as reported by the joint committee. The vote was 37 to 21. The Rev. Dr. Coles of Pennsylvania spoke before the women's auxiliary on "The Training of Missionary Workers."

On the house of deputies being called to order several minor matters were presented and the question of marginal readings again taken up for discussion. The executive session of the house of bishops resumed the consideration of unfinished business. The daughters of the King to-day are the guests of the local committee and are being entertained in various ways. The house of deputies decided to hold the next convention in Boston. It is expected that the house of bishops will convene at the same place.

Each Now Want Personal Damages From the Other. The case of Brown vs. Colilton, now under advisement by Judge Elliott, involves some interesting questions. William A. Brown, Jr., and James W. Colilton, had a fight on May 29 at the latter's store. Brown brought an action to recover $2,010 damages, alleging that Colilton threw him down and beat him until he was lame, ill and disabled for twelve days. Colilton enters a general denial and brings in a counter claim for $100 as damages for being disabled in what he calls the same transaction.
