GREEN TIMBER

Result of Fraudulent Cutting on White Earth Reservation.

Contractors Will Probably Have to Pay $150,000 or More.

From The Journal Bureau, Room 45, For Building, Washington.

Washington, Oct. 17.—The interior department refuses to give any figures regarding the government's proposed cash demand from White Earth reservation contractors who violated the dead-and-down law last winter.

"Should the settlement take this form, however," continued my informant, "it will be for considerably more than $40,000, but just how much more I do not care to say at present."

All the papers in the case have been forwarded to Captain Mercer at Leech Lake, who will conduct the negotiations with the offending lumbermen and report to Secretary Hitchcock.

While no specific information about Special Agent O'Neill's report can be obtained from the Indian office or interior department, considerable light is shed on frauds in the cutting of dead-and-down timber in Captain Mercer's annual report, which embraces last winter's operations, just received at the Indian office.

It contains the first official statement of dead-and-down operations up to July 1, last, reduced to actual figures. The report shows that prior to the date named the total assessed value of the unauthorized green timber cut by contractors was $106,307.95.

Since the report was made Special Agent Farr compromised with the contractors on the Cass Lake reservation for the payment of unauthorized green timber, which has added about $14,000 to the fund, making a total of nearly $93,000 realized from contractors since the discovery of fraudulent operations.

The interior department officials:
x: expect to realize the full value for:
x: all illegally cut timber and the:
x: prospect is that contractors will:
x: be mulcted in a sum of more than:
x: $150,000.

Captain Mercer says that he made twenty-four scale contracts and forty-two logging contracts and the number logging camps was fifty-two. The amount paid Indians for their labor in camps was $41,312.29 and for allotments for timber $11,454.

Operations on Red Lake reservation $21,287.94; on allotments on White Earth $130,565.23; on allotments on ceded lands $8,242.51; expenses charged to reservations and ceded lands $4,446.24; total, $236,575.01.

What each superintendent found is shown in following:
Value of reclassification by Superintendent Farr at Cass Lake, $14,302.13, on hand and in dispute (July) with contractors, $15,610.01, value of reclassification by Superintendent Farr at $65,532; to the Indians, $949.20; by Beaulieu, $1,157; total, $83,737.34.

TWO YEARS AHEAD

The Christian Missionary Convention of 1903 Is Located.

IT WILL BE HELD IN ST. LOUIS

To-day's Session Was Given Over to Addresses on Various Aspects of Home Work.

Christian Convention Program. WEDNESDAY EVENING, 5 to 7—Prohibition club reception. Portland Avenue church of Christ, Convention hall, 7:30—American Christian Missionary society, 9 a. m.—Meetings of related interests of the American society, Convention hall, 1:30 p. m.—Pastors and Evangelists, Convention hall.

By an overwhelming viva voce vote, the convention of the American Christian Missionary society, in session at the exposition building, decided yesterday to hold the 1903 convention in St. Louis.

This was the only business of the day, the remaining hours of the session being devoted to addresses. Thursday afternoon set aside for sight-seeing, the excursionists planned including a trip to Minnetonka.

It will be seen that the figures published herewith agree with those published in The Journal as the result of a special investigation last spring and it is expected that when the O'Neill report is made public it will further bear out The Journal's charge that the inspectors did not find all the green timber that was cut.

Commercial Club Annual Important Matters to Come Up at Meeting Nov. 11. Increasing interest is shown by members of the Commercial club in the annual meeting to be held Nov. 11. The club has had a prosperous year. In addition to its membership of 800 it has a long waiting list and its prospects are bright.

tion. The number of people in that district made it, Mr. Wright said, the greatest field in the country for evangelization. The city, he argued, was to the nation what the head is to the body and its importance as a strategic point in the war against Christ should not, he thought, be overlooked.

THREE THOUSAND REGISTER

This Number Does Not Include the Unofficial Visitors. The total registration at the Christian convention is in the neighborhood of 3,000. The exact number has not yet been ascertained. A few came to-day and some will arrive in the morning to take part in the national meetings. The registration does not include every one who has been in attendance from out of the city for many have neglected to list themselves and many are accompanied by members of their families not included in the official count. The exodus begins to-night.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY Temporary Organization Is Effected—Prominent Men at Meeting.

The most talked of historical society was temporarily organized Tuesday afternoon at the West Hotel. Errett Gates was made chairman and C. C. Morrison secretary. The interest in the formation of an organization which will preserve the historical records of the church was evinced by the attendance of the most prominent men here. After a general discussion in which all agreed as to the advisability of the organization, a committee of five was appointed to draw up a report to the Congress of the Disciples in Cleveland next March. The committee consists of E. Gates, C. B. Newman, A. B. Philpott, W. A. Jenkins and F. D. Power.

COLLEGE MEN MEET Banquets of Kentucky "U" and of Eureka College Alumni.

The excursion yesterday and the early departure of the alumni of Butler and Colver universities interfered with the banquet of the Disciples in Cleveland next March. The committee consists of E. Gates, C. B. Newman, A. B. Philpott, W. A. Jenkins and F. D. Power.

Address by Dr. D. Power of Washington, D. C. Last night in the place of Burris A. Jenkins, who gave his address last night, will be one of the strong speeches of the convention. Mr. Power's reputation does not depend alone upon his historical connection with President Garfield, but upon his brilliancy as a pulpit orator. His subject will be "The Spirit of Our Movement."

CONVENTION NOTES Dr. B. T. Tyler of the North Broadway church at Des Moines, Iowa, will deliver a series of meetings at the North Side Christian church in Omaha next Sunday.

He Succeeds J. Spencer at Head of American Society. The prediction made in The Journal a last week that in all probability Rev. H. O. Breeden, pastor of the Central Christian church in Des Moines, Iowa, would be made president of the American society, has been fulfilled.

TO MEET IN OMAHA The 1902 Convention City Chosen by Close Vote. Omaha will entertain the American Christian Missionary Society in 1902. The committee on place reported in favor of Pittsburg, but the report was rejected and Omaha chosen by the convention, the vote standing 200 to 242.

A Cry From Canada. W. J. Lhamon, of Allegheny, Pa., was then introduced. His topic was: "The Macedonian Cry of Canada, 'Come Over and Help Us.'" Mr. Lhamon was for three years a resident of Canada and in his address advocated a political union of the stars and stripes and the union jack under the cross of Christendom.

POODLE IS MISSING DRAWING THE LINE

Custody of 'Billie' Finally Awarded to Mrs. Louis B. Newell.

Mrs. De Verne Must Produce the Pet or Pay His Owner $50.

It is a certain diminutive French poodle, greatly resembling an angora mat, would obligingly make known his whereabouts.

Mrs. De Verne was busy with a customer when a reporter called at her establishment this afternoon to make known the verdict of the court.

Then he pulled out his watch and remarked: "I will give you just three minutes to produce that dog or I'll make you sweat in the loup."

She declared that it belonged to Mrs. Newell and demanded that it be turned over to its rightful owner.

The Newells carried the case into court after that but Judge Brooks dismissed the case and he was satisfied the dog was not in our possession.

We have since learned that the dog had been given to Mrs. De Verne by the Newells, and I suppose he really belonged to them.

Lumber Retailers Have a Grievance

Against the Wholesalers. WANT TO CUT OUT "IRREGULARS".

The various retail lumbermen's associations scattered throughout the Mississippi valley and the northwest "have a bone to pick" with the wholesalers represented mainly by the Mississippi Valley Lumbermen's association with headquarters in this city.

One big object of the retail associations is to stop what is termed "irregular shipments" by the wholesalers. This means shipments to those who are not regular dealers.

Since this new program has been in force, the wholesalers have said little. Most of them affected to be in harmony with the arrangement.

Many of the association men regard this as a direct assault on their organization. They say that to carry out any such program would be to destroy the usefulness of the retail association.

The Newells carried the case into court after that but Judge Brooks dismissed the case and he was satisfied the dog was not in our possession.

We have since learned that the dog had been given to Mrs. De Verne by the Newells, and I suppose he really belonged to them.
