There were two narrow escapes in a small fire at 2220 Washington avenue N. last evening. The family, including a young child, were rescued from the fire started by a narrow escape from death by suffocation. They were carried from their rooms by Mr. Anderson. The loss will be about $1,500. Captain Thiel of the rotunda, furnished the district chief, Captain Kane of No. 4, and Albert Moon, in the employ of Mr. Ockwig, sustained painful injuries while fighting the fire.

NEW HOTEL HYSER

Something About Nicollet Avenue's New European Hotel.

The new Hotel Hyser is now ready for the reception of guests. It is located on the corner of Nicollet avenue and Fourth street, with the entrance and office on Nicollet, midway between fourth and fifth streets. It will be operated exclusively on the European plan, and offers to the traveling public 100 as comfortable rooms as can be found in any first-class hotel in the country.

The rotunda and office is very handsome, being finished in mahogany, with a tile floor and metal ceiling done in white and gold. All the decorations are in good taste, and the rotunda, furnished with many lounging chairs, gives an air of hospitality and good cheer. In the rear of the office is a first-class barber shop and bath room. A large, comfortable and airy guest room is on the second floor, all of which are well furnished and appointed. The ceilings and walls are painted a cheerful buff tint and the floors are laid with heavy carpet and Wilton rugs. On the second floor is a large parlor.

The rooms range in price from 75 cents to $2.50 a day, and there is not an undesirable room. All the rooms fronting on Nicollet and Fourth streets are especially comfortable and exceptionally light, airy and spacious. Every room has handsome rugs, new furniture and is equipped with new open plumbing, with stationary wash bowls and running hot and cold water. Combination gas and electric fixtures afford excellent light and each room is equipped with a new system of return air shafts and hot and cold water. The latest new bedding and a sense of newness and cleanliness throughout, gives one the feeling that he has good surroundings. Forty of the rooms have bath rooms with porcelain tubs, showers, and built-in wash basins. The furniture is of the best, and a color scheme of decoration is carried out effectively, the new wall paper and rugs, harmonizing perfectly. Some of the parlor rooms are arranged en suite and some are single, affording any combination desirable by large parties or families. The furniture is fresh from the makers, and while some of the rooms have metal beds, others have oak and birch sets. As far as choice is concerned the guest must be captious indeed who does not find in the new Hotel Hyser anything he desires in the way of comfort and convenience.

George C. Hyser, so well known to the traveling public from his long association with the Nicollet and West hotels, is proprietor and manager. The new hotel is a European hotel. Mr. Hyser will have as his chief clerk E. B. S. Hoyt, who has been in the hotel business for a number of years and is well known to the traveling people, having managed the Lake Park and Hotel St. Louis for several years past, and has been associated with Mr. Hyser in the operation of the hotel. The new hotel will be conducted on a high plane, the effort being to make it a European hotel worthy the best patronage.

OBSTACLES TO MISSIONS

Discussed by Dr. Frederick Knauer of Batanga, Africa. Dr. Frederick Knauer of Batanga gave an interesting account of missionary life in Africa at the Central Presbyterian church in St. Paul yesterday afternoon.

The greatest obstacles in the way of the missionary are polygamy, superstition and an absence of order, he said. The change from the loose, uncivilized way of living to a rising order in the morning, an early plunge in the sea, dining at regular hours, duties at stated times and a 9 o'clock retiring hour is a difficult condition for the African to accept. The German government proposes to regulate the matter of marriage as much as possible by placing an increasing tax on each wife except the first. The missionary is usually favorably received by the natives.

COMES TO THE CITY

N. W. Telephone Co. Gets Right With the Council. SEEMS PERMISSION TO DO WORK. This action probably marks the end of prolonged and bitter disagreements.

The city of Minneapolis and the North-western Telephone company, long at loggerheads, have finally gotten together on a working proposition and the company will now proceed to make some badly needed betterments in its service.

The telephone company management has always maintained a rather indifferent and independent attitude toward the city government and has been disposed to ignore it wholly in its operations. The city council began last winter to respond in kind and for the past few months repair operations with the company have been practically at a standstill pending concessions by one side or the other. The council's final action was taken a month or so ago when it absolutely forbade any further repairs to existing lines without a permit from the council itself.

Last night the telephone company representative appeared before the council and presented in detail its plans for repair work and some extensions outside of the underground district, and begged the council's permission to go ahead with the work. This is exactly the program that the rival telephone company goes through under similar circumstances and fulfills the council's idea of what is the proper thing. The petition was granted and the company will now proceed with a big batch of repairs that has long been imperatively needed. It is believed that this is the beginning of a better understanding between the telephone company and the city.

Paving Repair Fund Illegal. For nobody knows how many years the city has been making an appropriation of $1,000 or $10,000 annually for paving repairs, the money coming out of the general fund. Last night it was driven home to the city council by the city attorney that the city has no authority in the charter for the creation of any such fund. Paving repairs should be paid for out of the various ward funds.

The ruling disturbed some of the aldermen mightily and they argued the matter warmly almost to the point of physical exhaustion. Then they turned in and voted not to pay the two small bills which the council had passed that inspired the agitation of the evening. A single vote decided the issue. It is not probable, however, that this action will in any way hamper the practice. A paving repair fund is a handy thing for the aldermen of wards having cedar block pavement to keep in repair, as it takes just so much strain from the ward funds, and no doubt the interested parties will get together on another spring and vote to continue the old system, even if there is some doubt of its regularity.

The contract for the construction of the new engine-house on Fourth street now goes to B. McMillan & Co. at $18,500. Five bids were received last night, of which this was the lowest.

Refunding Bonds Ordered.

April 1 of next year $336,000 of city bonds fall due and there will be $182,000 on hand to pay them. To meet the exigency, Alderman Merrill introduced a resolution providing for an issue of $240,000 of bonds to refund the same amount. The old bonds bear 4 1/2 per cent interest, while the new issue will be 3 1/2 per cent. The city will have $2,400 in interest charges by the change. The resolution went to the ways and means committee and the aldermen of the committee, by the city engineer and Chairman McCune of the waterworks committee were authorized to make a journey to Lockport, N. Y., to inspect the new pumps now in progress of construction.

The special committee appointed to consider Alderman Leighton's resolution to give the citizens of Minneapolis the right to vote on the matter of the ownership of a street lighting plant, scheduled for yesterday afternoon, was postponed for two weeks.

DAIRY LICENSES WITHHELD

Eight Firms Have Not Complied With Inspection Laws. Eight of the city's largest milk concerns are now in contempt of the city ordinance which requires that all milk concerns fall to get the regular morning greeting from their milkman, it will be because the health department officials have seized his supply and the city council more than two years ago passed an ordinance requiring all dairies in the county furnishing milk to the city to be tested for tuberculosis.

The next step in the health department will be to confiscate the milk and cause the arrest of the offending parties. It is understood that the milkmen are preparing to fight the case in court.

NEW WORK AT CENTURY HALL

More Sunday School Effort Followed by Gospel Service. The new work at Century music hall was inaugurated last Sunday at 3 o'clock by the opening of the Sunday school. Over 200 were present. To-morrow afternoon there will be the second session of the Sunday school, when the classification will be made. A feature of the school will be the children's choir, which will assist in the opening song service each Sunday. Much interest has been displayed by the scholars. The newboys department will be opened on the 10th of November. The adult department is to be opened Nov. 3. The first gospel service will be held following the Sunday school to-morrow at 7 o'clock. A musical program led by Professor Francis E. Woodward and S. C. Chas. Gilbert, organist, will be given. A chorus of fifty voices will render "Here by Babylon's wave"; quartet, "Come Unto Me"; duet, "The Lord My Pasture Shall Prepare"; solo, "The Way of Peace," Mrs. Emily Ellis Woodward, and a sermon on "Our City for Christ," by Rev. W. B. Riley.

AN OLD WORLD RAMBLE

Dr. Montgomery Will Chaperon a Party Next Tuesday Evening. Next Tuesday evening at Wesley church, Dr. J. S. Montgomery will give, for the first time, a lecture on "Rambles in the Old World" for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society of Wesley church. This will be Dr. Montgomery's first appearance in this country since his return from Europe, and his many friends can be assured he will have an interesting story to tell them.

Dr. Montgomery will divide his lecture into three parts, history, biography, and art, and each will be instructive and entertaining.

STILL NO ST. SIGNS

Minneapolis Streets Still Unlabeled Despite Frequent Agitations. THE ALDERMEN ARE AT FAULT. Personally They Don't Need Signs and Ward Funds Are Low.

Strangers universally comment upon the absence of street signs in many sections of the city, and when a big convention comes to the city, like that of the Christian church, hundreds and thousands are put to great inconvenience. It is a situation that reflects discredit on the municipal authorities, but no amount of criticism appears to be of any avail to better conditions in this regard. The fault lies with the aldermen of the respective wards.

More than a year and a half ago the matter was discussed by the city council exhaustively and in the end the city fathers declared that the situation was a bad one. To remedy it they made a contract with a local sign manufacturer to furnish the various wards with 5,000 signs of a uniform standard, and at a very moderate figure. The expense was to be met from the ward funds. The matter then rested with the aldermen and street commissioners.

Later in that year 1,507 signs were purchased by six wards and placed in position. The number in each case being as follows: Third ward, 238; fifth ward, 44; eighth ward, 422; eleventh ward, 130; twelfth ward, 233; thirteenth ward, 400. This year the fifth ward invested in 54 additional signs. In the fourth ward, where signs are perhaps needed worse than in any other section of the city, none have been purchased.

Street Commissioner McMullen of that ward admits the need of signs in his ward, but says he does not propose to put any up until he is given something superior in quality to the signs decided upon by the council last year. He wants a blue enamel sign, and has put in a requisition to the city engineer for a supply of the same. The latter official cannot furnish them, however, without council sanction. Neither the street commissioners any authority to buy street lamps, and that is the kind that the fourth ward needs most, says Street Commissioner McMullen. He says he has been made to get the special council committee on signs together to supply the missing authority, but thus far no result.

SUSPENSE IS RELIEVED

The Exact Status of the Nelumbo Is Finally Established. Henry L. Lyon, one of the instructors in botany at the state university, has succeeded, after long study, in establishing the classification of the nelumbo, or sacred bean, a water plant which exists in profusion in Halsted's bay, Minnesota; and which has hitherto been erroneously classified as a water lily.

In his investigations Mr. Lyon made discoveries which led him to declare the plant to be a pond weed or grass, not a water lily, and his classification, while it has overturned the theory of M. Van Tieghem, the celebrated French botanist, has been accepted by the British Association for the Advancement of Science, President I. Balfour having spoken in favor of the discovery at a recent meeting of the association, and having given it his indorsement.

Hallock; "Mr. Seeley's Connection With State Association Work in Early Days," by Thomas Cochran, St. Paul; "His Connection with the Minneapolis Association in Early Days," by David C. Bell; "Mr. Seeley's Part in Securing the Present Association Building," by George R. Lyman; "His Work on the State Committee in Later Years," by Professor A. E. Haynes, chairman of state committee; "His Connection with the Local Work During Recent Years," by President W. J. Dean; special music by male quartet and association orchestra.

BUTCHERS ARE NERVOUS

Those of St. Paul Want Cases Against Them Dropped. A delegation of St. Paul retail butchers waited on Dairy Commissioner McConnell and made an ineffectual attempt to get him to drop the cases pending against them. Thirteen St. Paul retailers have pleaded guilty and paid fines, and the dairy and food department decides that each of the others must pay up. The delegation assured Mr. McConnell that they favored the law, and would observe it in the future. They had been forced into violating it by competition with wholesalers.
