PERMANENT COMMISSION PLAN EXTENSION OF TIME PROBABLE

Large Number of Congressmen Favor Babcock's Bill for Tariff Revision. The Action Promises to Be Hard Fought by Both Parties.

New York Sun Special Service Washington, Oct. 28.—In line with his policy of consulting influential members of the senate and house of representatives on public questions to be dealt with in his first annual message to congress, President Roosevelt will to-day have a consultation with Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, chairman of the committee on finance. It is not known that the president desires the advice of Mr. Aldrich on any particular subject, but it is certain that the general question of reciprocity treaties will be of those discussed. Senator Aldrich is one of the many men in congress who have persistently opposed the ratification of nearly all of the treaties that have been so long pending in the senate, but he has never stated that he opposes the policy of reciprocity. He always thought that the treaties negotiated by the state department, under the special supervision of Commissioner John A. Kasson, were just-handle affairs in which very little was obtained for the United States for what was given away.

The senator believes that even balanced reciprocity treaties can be negotiated and has not gone so far as to say that this would not be advisable. President Roosevelt's ideas are well represented in the speech made in Minnesota last month in which he approved reciprocity treaties in a general way but did not go into details.

Whole Tariff Question Up.

The tariff subject as a whole, with particular reference to the desirability of any legislation by congress, will also be talked over by the president and Senator Allison to-day. The Babcock bill proposing to remove the duties on such articles as are manufactured more cheaply in this country than abroad, finds favor among a large number of congressmen, some of whom have urged it in their recent conversations with President Roosevelt. There is another class of congressmen, however, who think it would be unwise to take up with all with the tariff question, believing it to be every way more advisable to make such tariff changes as are needed through the medium of reciprocity treaties.

Another branch of the question that has been brought to the president's attention and which will be forcibly presented to congress is the proposition for a permanent tariff commission to which may be referred questions relating to tariff changes, including reciprocal conventions with foreign countries. President Roosevelt has given considerable thought to this proposition and has been urged to recommend in his message that congress create such a commission.

BEALL AFTER A FRANCHISE

Baseball Manager Would Build a "Phone System." Special to The Journal. Sioux City, Iowa, Oct. 28.—A three-circuit telephone system is being installed in Sioux City. Seven years ago an independent system was built in Sioux City to compete with the Bell. The old line then put down was from $1 to $1 and $1, and matters continued in that wise for five years. Then after the Bell company had lost thousands of dollars in killing off its competitor, the independent system sold out and phones were put back to $1 and $1. Now A. B. Beall, manager of the Grand opera house, and last year manager of the Minneapolis baseball team, has organized a $5,000 independent company and is offering a franchise. The new system is a long-distance wire here, has asked for a franchise, agreeing to put in a multiple switchboard with a capacity of 5,000 subscribers. The Bell company declares their prices will go down to $2 and $1 if either of the new companies starts up.

YATES WOULDN'T TELL

Death of the Peersess Who Caused His Imprisonment. London, Oct. 28.—The Countess of Strathmore, whose death has just taken place in this country, was the peeress who was the cause of the arrest of Edmund Yates, who was the proprietor and editor of the London World. It was on her account that he was convicted of criminal libel and sentenced to a year's imprisonment. Yates could have escaped the penalty by giving the name of the writer of the libelous paragraph. This he declined to do. The libel in question was to the effect that Lord Londale, then, as now, a married man, had eloped from the Hunting Field with an unmarried girl, Lady Grace Fane, now Countess of Londale, though it was a paragraph for which there was not a shadow of foundation, and which originated in the lively imagination of the countess.

Struck for "Better Grub"

Special to The Journal. Sioux City, Iowa, Oct. 28.—One of the most novel strikes on record occurred in this county Saturday, when 140 workmen on the new Noville extension of the Northwestern railroad, struck for "better grub." They said they were perfectly satisfied with their wages, but unless they were provided with a better bill of fare they wouldn't turn another shovel. The foreman telegraphed to the commissary department at Chicago, and when a message came that a large consignment of a good variety of food was on the way, the men agreed to return to work.

Special to The Journal. Hot Springs, S. D., Oct. 28.—In a fit of jealous rage last night Luther Estelle, a colored man, shot and instantly killed Clyde McMains, a white man, and also shot and critically wounded May Berry, a white girl.

Estelle then ran to the home of his stepmother and shot himself, dying at once. All were employed at the Evans hotel.

McMains and the girl were visiting together on the veranda of the Evans when Estelle rushed upon them and began shooting. He was infuriated with the girl and madly jealous because she gave any attention to McMains.

MADDENING FOG

Consternation Among Fashionable Dwellers of London.

London, Oct. 28.—West and Central London were enveloped Saturday night in a black fog, which plunged the entire fashionable part of the city into impenetrable darkness. The fog found its way into the theaters and music halls, until in many cases the stage was scarcely visible. Cabs took refuge under the lights of public houses and refused to move, and scores of buses were abandoned around important landmarks, their drivers not daring to proceed.

ARMY POST AT FORT SNELLING WRETCHED STATE POSSIBLE

Formidable Objections to the Proposed Location of One at That Point. Czolgoz Will Die To-morrow and His Body Be Cremated in Buffalo.

From The Journal Bureau, Room 44, Post Building, Washington. Washington, Oct. 28.—President Roosevelt has already drawn up the articles, as the matchmakers would say, for a merry little fight with the senate early in the session—at least as much of a fight as Senator Tillman of South Carolina can give him. Southern democrats here first announce the news. The fun will start when the appointment of George E. Koester for collector of internal revenue, made by the president a few days ago, is taken up for confirmation, and with Senator Tillman as a principal it goes without saying that the fight will be a merry one.

The office of collector of internal revenue is the best paying one in South Carolina. Had the president appointed any republican of even passing respectability Tillman would have acquiesced. It is a republican administration and no democrat has license to kick if the president appoints only republicans to office. That is the philosophical way that Tillman views it. But when the president appoints a gold democrat to the best office in the state upon the recommendation of Tillman's colleague in the senate, a colleague who was elected as a democrat but who only last summer was read out of the party by the South Carolina democratic state committee, that is another thing. Senator Tillman is a pretty good hater and there is said to be no man in the state that he hates like this particular colleague—Senator McLaurin. The latter in the last congress supported a number of the more important administration measures and is a representative of the new progressive element of the south that would discard the cherished traditions of that section and accept new ideas with the promptness of the north. President Roosevelt is in sympathy with this new element and he likes so because McLaurin is an office which the senator from that state in which the appointee lives submits that confirmation would be offensive to him. Not that Koester himself is offensive, but he becomes so because McLaurin asked to have him appointed. It is a racket that has worked all right on past occasions regardless of the politics of the senator working it; but it may fall with Tillman.

Adjutant General Corbin authorizes the statement that it requires a number of weeks before the war department gets around to the question of the selection of four army posts in the state of South Carolina.
