STEAL A PRESIDENT

Most Astonishing Performance in Columbia.

SANCLEMENTE IS CARRIED AWAY

This Is Done at the Behest of Leaders Who Had Already Stripped Him of Power.

New York Sun Special Service

New York, Nov. 4.—A correspondent of the Herald at Honda, under date of Sept. 3, writes: Dr. Manuel Antonio Sanclemente, the venerable president of the republic of Columbia, has been kidnapped by the orders of the political leaders who had already stripped him of power. Locked in a guard, a miserable parody on the Sedan chair in which courtiers once took their ease, he is being hurried over rough mountain roads from his home in Villetta, department of Cundinamarca, to his beautiful hacienda, known as Pichu, in the department of Cauca. He must be carried through the very heart of two great chains of the Andes, passing Honda, Manizales, Cortego, Tulua and Buga, towns which gave him ovations while he exercised the presidency. The greatest secrecy has been observed, and every effort has been made to prevent the facts from becoming public for fear that the allies of the deposed president might attempt to rescue him. No paper in the republic to-day would dare to print the bare fact that Sanclemente had left Valleta, much less that he was a prisoner.

CHARGED TO A NURSE

Woman Suspected of Poisoning 12 Persons.

Boston, Nov. 4.—A fiend incarnate or the innocent victim of a chain of circumstances, every link of which is the death of a human being—one or the other is Miss Toppan, professional nurse, who is now in a cell in the old brick jail at Barnstable, charged with the murder by poisoning of Mrs. Mary E. Gibbs of Cataumet, who died Aug. 31.

Twelve deaths in the wake of this woman, some so far back that the lapse of time precludes the possibility of the cause of death being changed from that which was given in the death certificates granted at the time.

Although suspicion had been directed against her before Mrs. Gibbs died, it came out yesterday that the arrest was made because it was feared that Miss Toppan, believing she was being watched by detectives, would commit suicide or evade the detectives.

The station on the detective was called to Miss Toppan by a person at Cambridge. He began an investigation, but before it had progressed sufficiently for any action to be taken Alvin E. Davis and his wife had died. This was in July. Their daughter, Mrs. Annie G. Gordon of Chicago, who was visiting them at Cataumet, died, and then Mrs. Gibbs died. Her information upon the detective led his informant before District Attorney Holmes at New Bedford. Miss Toppan had been the nurse at the bedside of all four members of the Davis family.

Little has been done thus far by the authorities to trace the antecedents of Miss Toppan's family. The prisoner refuses to say anything about her or about any matters relating to her arrest.

LIEUTENANT GENERALS

THREE ADDITIONS TO THE LIST

Gens. Merritt, Brooke and Otis to Be Honored on Their Retirement.

New York Sun Special Service

Washington, Nov. 4.—Secretary Root will endorse the recommendation made by Adjutant General Corbin that congress shall authorize the retirement of not to exceed two major generals on the active list and one on the retired list with the rank of lieutenant general. This recommendation is made not for the purpose of placing other officers on the same footing with Lieutenant General Miles, as some of Miles' friends seem to think, but for the purpose of enabling the government to give recognition to the only three general officers in the United States army who have not been rewarded for their long services. These three men are Major Generals Merritt, Brooke and Otis. They all served in the army during the civil war and been officers in the regular army since that war. They are the only officers of long and distinguished service who do not win promotion by their service in the war with Spain. General Corbin and Secretary Root recommend that congress should make provision for giving these three officers the only promotion possible, the honorary rank of lieutenant general at the time of their retirement. The president approves the recommendations.

IMMIGRATION AGREEMENT

New Regulations at Canadian Ports for Immigrants to U. S.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Commissioner General Powderly of the Immigration bureau has entered into an agreement with the principal steamship and railroad lines of Canada for the regulation of immigration to the United States through Canada. This agreement, which takes the place of the former arrangement which expired three days ago, is regarded as much more favorable to the United States than the last one and will be more effective in keeping out the prohibited classes of immigrants.

It provides that aliens arriving in Canada destined to the United States shall be inspected at Halifax, N. S.; Quebec, Point Levis, Vancouver, St. John, N. B., and Victoria, B. C., by United States commissioners, who shall issue certificates so such as are entitled to enter this country, and the holders of these certificates shall be entitled to enter the United States at any of the above-named places without further examination. The examinations at these points shall be similar to those conducted at the ports of the United States. All aliens adjudged inadmissible shall be returned to the countries from which they came by the lines bringing them over.

MRS. BAIRD HERE

English Actress and Song Writer Seeks a Divorce.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 4.—Mrs. J. Stewart Baird, the well-known English actress and topical song writer, better known by her stage name, Muriel Nelson, has arrived here from "dear old London" and makes no secret of the fact that she is seeking to establish a residence for the purpose of securing a divorce. Speaking of the object of her sojourn here, she said, with great candor:

"Oh, Jacky is not such a bad sort. But he is so insufferably dull and prosaic. Now I treasure no malice against him. Why should I? He is a good fellow. I shall go back and shake hands with Jacky and tell him how much better I feel and hope he will find a fitting mate."

"America? Well, from what I have seen of it, I rather like it. The American? I have seen little of him as yet. As far as I know at present I should say that with regard to everything that I will 'get there' if it is 'on the map,' or try to."

HOW RAILROAD TRAINS ARE CLEANED

Interesting Description of "Housecleaning" by the North-Western Line—C, St. P., M. & O. Ry.

Housecleaning in most homes comes but once a year—in the spring—but it comes twice a year for the North-Western Limited trains. Twice a year both these famous trains, which are operated daily between Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago, are run into the shops for a thorough overhauling and cleaning—and such a cleaning as they receive! Every bit of woodwork, nickel and brass is rubbed and polished, all the mattresses and springs are renovated, the upholstery is done over, the woodwork receives new paint and varnish and many skilled mechanics finally turn out two brand new trains. In fact, the daily cleaning these trains receive in Minneapolis and Chicago is much more thorough than the most tidy housewife gives her home.

The fall cleaning of the North-Western Limited trains has just been completed and it would pay any one to go to the Union station and look at them. They shine with new paint and varnish within and without. The carpets, upholstery and curtains are new and everything about these beautiful trains is spick and span.
