MME. YALE'S HAIR TONIC LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: It is for you to call the attention of the public to Mme. Yale's Hair Tonic, which is the first and only remedy known to chemistry which positively turns gray hair back to its original color without dye. It has gone on record that Mme. Yale—wonderful woman—has made this most valuable of all chemical discoveries. Mme. Yale personally insures its action and gives the public the solemn guaranty that it has been tested in every conceivable way and has proved itself to be the ONLY HAIR STOPS FALLING IMMEDIATELY and creates a luxuriant growth. Contains no injurious ingredients. It is not sticky or greasy. On the contrary, it makes the hair soft, youthful, buoyant and keeps it from becoming thin and ladies with hair a little gray, streaked gray, entirely gray and with bald heads, it is especially recommended.

"THE GOOD TIME COMING" Iowa Suffragists Can See It—Mrs. Brown Not Feared. Waterloo, Iowa, Nov. 13.—The Iowa women's suffrage convention to-day was given over to optimistic speeches by the leaders of the movement in regard to the prospects of attaining their object in this state. It was declared time and again that the long drawn-out battle had been won and that the next legislature, to convene in January, would certainly enact a law looking to the submission of the suffrage question to the people for a constitutional amendment. Mrs. Evelyn H. Belden, president of the association, has declared that the coming of Mrs. Clara Belle Brown of Washington, D. C., to Iowa to fight their cause, will only have the effect of giving them new strength. Mrs. Belden, who has been a power for the organization in her position, has declined to stand for re-election. She is a newspaper woman engaged in work in Sioux City papers. The other officers will likely all be re-elected to-morrow.

Women Build a 'Phone Line. Special to The Journal. Aberdeen, S. D., Nov. 13.—The superintendent in charge of the work of constructing a telephone line from Pollock to Fort Yates reports that he experienced great difficulty in securing labor until several Russian women, who had been used to farm work, volunteered their services.

In Social Circles Mrs. Edson L. Harkness entertained forty women at breakfast today at her home, 1700 Morgan avenue S. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Harkness' sister, Mrs. Edward T. Keating of Jackson, Neb., who is her guest. Pink and white chrysanthemums adorned the rooms and breakfast was served from small tables decked with roses. A musical program was on the piano and mandolin during the breakfast. Mrs. Jacob F. Tourtelotte has issued invitations for a card party to be given at her home, 505 W. Fifteenth street, Saturday afternoon, Nov. 23. Mrs. S. H. Chute will give a luncheon Friday at her home on University avenue. Mrs. Prescott Burton Beldeman, nee Muller, will receive informally Thursdays in November. Mrs. H. H. Kimball will entertain at euchre Friday afternoon at her home on Twenty-fourth street. A charming affair of last evening was the cotillon given by Mrs. W. S. Dwinell at the Minnesota Club for Miss Lillian Bloom of North Carolina. The cotillon was in white and pink and a mandolin orchestra furnished music. George Case led the cotillon and about twenty couples danced. The favors were flowers, ribbons and pretty trifles. Supper was served in the dining-room, which was decked with clusters of pink chrysanthemums. Mrs. Dwinell was assisted by Mrs. W. H. Wheeler. Mr. and Mrs. George R. Newell gave a dinner of twelve covers last evening at their home on Vine place. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Barton were the guests of honor. American Beauty roses adorned the table and red and white roses were arranged through the rooms. Mrs. Alice W. Cooley was the guest of honor at a dinner last evening given by Dr. Adele Hutchison and Miss E. Frances Whitmore at their headquarters, 409 Clinton avenue. Covers were laid for eight and the decorations were in red with roses and red shaded candelabra on the table. Mrs. Cooley will leave for North Dakota next week. Mr. and Mrs. John Van Derlip entertained at dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Franklin M. Crosby last evening. About 500 people attended the reception given in the Westminster church parlors last evening for the members of the church. Palm trees and flowers furnished an attractive decoration. A program was given by Mrs. F. S. Muekey, Mrs. W. L. Waldron, Miss Edna Chamberlain, Miss Myrtle Thompson and Arthur Haskins and Mrs. E. H. Rimer and John H. Chick were the accompanists. Light refreshments were served. Mrs. James Paige was assisted in the dining-room by Miss George Terry, Mrs. Edgar Ryan and Mrs. Marshall, Helen Barbour, Marian Hurr, Mary Van Wert, Augusta Starr, Lillian and Cecil Purnoody, Louisa Bayless, Florence Wright, Adele Clark, Edna Rimer and Florence Wright. The affair was arranged by the Social Circle of the church. Miss Elizabeth M. Duff, daughter of Mrs. Ruby Duff, and J. O. Kelley were married last evening at their new home on Fourteenth avenue. Miss Mueller will give a cotillon to the members of her young people's dancing class and their friends Friday evening. Favors of all kinds will be in abundance, and among them are dainty match scratchers, sunbonnet baby pictures, calendars, miniature horns, etc. This is the first of the series of Miss Mueller has arranged for the winter. A pretty ceremony last evening at the home of the bride's parents, 2111 Eleventh avenue south, marked the union of Miss Emma L. Johnson and Gustav Lundberg. Rev. Frank Peterson read the service in the presence of about 150 friends. The bridal party entered to the Lohengrin march played by Miss Johnnie, a cousin of the bride. Miss Lillian Johnson was bridesmaid and Frank Letstet bridegroom. The bride wore a handsome costume with veil and carried roses. After a short trip Mrs. and Mrs. Lundberg will be at home at 2111 Eleventh avenue S. Personal and Social. W. A. Kerr has returned from a business trip to the east. Dr. Mary S. OUR DAILY BREAD Valuable Suggestions for the Kitchen and Dining-room. BY KATHERINE KURTZ. WHENCE COMES PUDDINGS. These dishes are English by name and nature and are the English "sweets," although they may masquerade in different disguises. "Le pudding" of the French, under whatever name it may be known to designate its variety, is but an adaptation from the English cuisine. However, it is left for the American cook to make a difference in name, at least, if not distinction in the character of the dish. We have all heard of the small boy whose father was "brought up" in the north, while his mother was "raised" in the south, and who compromised on "pudding-pie," because in the south the southern method is more English, but not so wholesome, but nevertheless many of these doubtful dishes are very delicious. Buttermilk Pudding. Take the yolks of four eggs, a cup of sugar, half a cup of sifted flour, a teaspoonful of soda, two tablespoonfuls of butter and a pint of buttermilk, with a little salt and grated nutmeg for flavor. Beat the eggs light, then add the sugar and beat again until very light. Add the flour and beat smooth; then add the soda to the buttermilk and stir into the mixture with the salt and nutmeg. Turn into three pie tins lined with puff or light paste and bake in a moderate oven until set. Take out and when cool make a meringue with the whites of the eggs and powdered sugar and heap on top of the pudding, and set back in the oven to brown slightly. Jelly Pudding. Separate four eggs and beat the yolks until light; cream a cup of butter and a cup of sugar together and add the egg yolks. Then add a cup of tart fruit jelly and a cup of sweet cream and a teaspoonful of vanilla with a pinch of salt. Lastly add the beaten whites. Pour into three medium-sized dishes lined with a crust and bake in medium oven until set. To be eaten perfectly cold. Cream Pudding. Take three eggs and whip them briskly for five minutes; then add eight tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar and two level tablespoonfuls of flour and whip another five minutes. Then add one and one-half cupfuls of sweet cream, rather thick, and stir until well mixed. Add four scant cupfuls of milk, a little salt, a grating of nutmeg, and bake in an upper crust until custard is set. This will make two pies. Do not bake too long or the custard will be watery, and have the oven rather moderate for same reason. Black Pudding. Cream one cup of sugar with three-quarters of a cup of butter; add the yolks of three eggs thoroughly beaten; three tablespoonfuls of sour milk with a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a little warm water. Then add a cup of jam. Mix well. Stir one and one-half cupfuls of flour with cinnamon and nutmeg to taste. Add to other ingredients and bake with an upper crust for thirty or forty minutes. Make a meringue of the whites and cover the top of the pudding. Return to the oven to brown slightly. Orange Pudding. Cream one tablespoonful of butter with four of sugar and add four well-beaten eggs; then the grated rind and juice of two oranges, and lastly fold in the whites beaten to a froth. Bake with under crust. All rights reserved by Banning & Co.

Children thrive on Toasted Wheat Flakes. Cream one cup of sugar with three-quarters of a cup of butter; add the yolks of three eggs thoroughly beaten; three tablespoonfuls of sour milk with a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a little warm water. Then add a cup of jam. Mix well. Stir one and one-half cupfuls of flour with cinnamon and nutmeg to taste. Add to other ingredients and bake with an upper crust for thirty or forty minutes. Make a meringue of the whites and cover the top of the pudding. Return to the oven to brown slightly. Orange Pudding. Cream one tablespoonful of butter with four of sugar and add four well-beaten eggs; then the grated rind and juice of two oranges, and lastly fold in the whites beaten to a froth. Too Much Housework wrecks a woman's nervous system. The constant care of young children, added to this, soon breaks the health of the strongest woman. The haggard faces in thousands of homes tell the story of the over-worked housewife and mother. Excessive work in stores and offices gives the same "dragged-out" feeling. Deranged menses result from overwork and exposure and falling of the womb, leucorrhoea and all the attendant ailments soon follow. Every little strain centers in the abdomen and gives insufferable pain to the woman who has allowed herself to become run down on account of her exciting duties. Every housewife needs WINE OF CARDUI to regulate her menstrual flow, to reinforce her strength and to keep her sensitive female organs in perfect condition. The Wine is doing this for thousands of women today. It cured Mrs. Jones completely and that is why she writes this frank letter: I am so glad that your Wine of Cardui is helping me. I am feeling better than I have felt for years. I am doing my own work without help and I washed last week and was not one bit tired. That shows that Wine of Cardui is doing me good. I am getting fatter than I ever was before and sleep good and eat heartily. Before I began taking Wine of Cardui I used to have to lie down for six or eight times every day but now I do not think of lying down through the day. Mrs. RICHARD JONES. Your druggist sells $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui. GLENDEN, KY., Feb. 10, 1901.
