S. T. McKnight Says Reciprocity Convention Was a Success.

BIG CAPITAL WAS REPRESENTED

He Says It Was a Failure Only From a Free Trade View-point.

Sumner T. McKnight, one of the northwest delegates to the National Reciprocity convention which has just closed in Washington, returned to Minneapolis this morning. Mr. McKnight was honored by being appointed as one of the ten members of the committee on resolutions whose report was received so favorably that the time of the convention was shortened one day. Although the western delegates, Messrs. McKnight, Wm. Irvine, Chippewa Falls, Wis., Thos. Shevlin and C. A. Smith, were lumbermen, Mr. McKnight says that lumber received very little attention in the convention. Mr. McKnight explains very clearly as to the statement telegraphed by Washington correspondents to the effect that the convention was captured by the ultra-protectionists. He says further that in his opinion the report to the effect that the convention was a fizzle is ill-advised. Said he:

"The convention was made up of manufacturers of all kinds throughout the United States. An immense amount of capital was represented there, probably more than at any convention ever held in this country. There were pretty much all kinds of manufacturing represented except iron. Iron kept out. The convention was called for three days but finished business and adjourned the evening of the second day. The resolutions that were gotten up and presented to the meeting by the committee on resolutions were so satisfactory to the whole convention that an early adjournment was possible. We presented only two resolutions. The first was passed with only two dissenting voices. The second resolution passed unanimously and there appeared to be nothing more to do after the resolutions were passed. We met merely to decide what the sentiment of the manufacturing interests in the United States was and these resolutions appeared to cover it so thoroughly that there was nothing more for the convention to do so they adjourned on the second night. The object of the convention was to secure reciprocity, but when we came to analyze what reciprocity meant there appeared to be no element present that would sacrifice an industry in the United States that was making the country so prosperous as it is now and vote for that kind of reciprocity. The fact is that it was a pretty broad-based lot of men, perhaps than one would meet often. The men who were in favor of reciprocity all voted for these resolutions except two. In regard to the success of the convention Mr. McKnight said:

"In place of being a fizzle, the convention was a success as far as protection was concerned. As far as free trade was concerned it was a failure. I would want that. The large majority of the convention accomplished what they went for. A minority was there which acquiesced in what was done by the convention by their vote and shows for itself. There was remarkably good feeling in the convention and at the close of the meeting.

Lumber was hardly mentioned. The talk was more in favor of reciprocity with countries abroad; not with Canada as much as with others. It was a question whether reciprocity treaties which had been presented to congress for consideration should be ratified. The action of the convention would convey to congress that it was not the voice of the convention that they should be ratified, except in instances where it could be done without injuring any industry in this country. Shevlin will not return for several days. C. A. Smith will be back in the morning.

A FREE ART EXHIBIT

It Opens Next Thursday at the Library Gallery.

The first fall exhibition of the Minneapolis Society of Fine Arts will be a fine collection of Braun photographs, in which nearly all of the great work in both old and modern are reproduced with all of the great resources of skilled photography. Nothing else so nearly approaches the quality of the originals as these pictures.

As the aim of the society is educational, it has been decided to make this exhibition free. It will be in the art gallery of the public library and will be open week days from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. and Sundays from 2 to 6 p. m. The exhibition will open Thanksgiving morning and will remain at least two weeks.

On Saturday evening there will be a reception for the members of the society in the gallery.

CARRIED NEW YORK

Mrs. Zetser Won Deserved Recognition in the Metropolis.

Fannie Bloomfield Zetser, who will play in Minneapolis during the first week of December, returns after an absence from the city of three years. From her name one might be led to think that this gifted pianist is a foreigner. While she was born in Austria, her father, who was 2 years old has been spent in America.

By reason of her natural endowments, her ambition, her perseverance and her unexcelled opportunities for study, Mrs. Zetser has risen to stand among the three or four greatest pianists in the world. Perhaps she has but one superior, the incomparable Paderewski.

Unwilling New York was forced last spring to acknowledge the power of this western woman, pronouncing her the greatest living woman pianist.

W. H. Collins Expects Patronage From Former R. R. Associates.

W. H. Collins of Tomahawk, Wis., formerly a lumberman in the Chicago and Milwaukee & St. Paul, has organized the Pacific Fir company at Tacoma to manufacture and deal in timber supplies for eastern railroads. This is one of the strongest lumber concerns yet organized on the Pacific coast. Other members include W. T. Watkins of Chicago, of the Bradley-Watkins company, largest dealer in lumber in America, who is vice president. He was formerly assistant general manager and purchasing agent of the Soo road. The resident manager of the Collins company is E. W. Timber agent of the Great Northern railway. Its superintendent is H. L. McCaughey, formerly purchasing agent of the Great Northern.

TO KEEP CARS MOVING

Consignees Are Asked to Unload More Promptly.

Traffic men say that the car shortage will undoubtedly extend far into the winter months. Heavy rail coal shipments, which are just beginning to move west through Chicago, will undoubtedly result in a still greater car shortage. The consignees are generally excited but seem to be having no effect upon the general result. Plans are being discussed to force consignees to unload more promptly. An official of the Milwaukee said:

"In St. Paul and Minneapolis alone there are enough loaded cars waiting on track, which should be not in service again, to make a very respectable difference in the local situation. A fair illustration is in a shipment of wood, delivered early this week which is still on one of our tracks waiting for consignee to send his teams and unload. If he had acted promptly some man with potatoes or general merchandise to send out might have had a very profitable trip up in the freight house. Shippers are also slow in loading.

Copper Range Humor Revived.

Special to the Journal.

Copper Range, Nov. 23.—The fact that the Copper Range railroad has contracted with the Minneapolis contractor, C. J. Johnson, for ties for fifty miles of new track has revived the report that the company contemplates extending its line into this city at an early date. The Copper Range has had its corps of engineers at work surveying routes to this city, which would be a very profitable one, which would parallel the line of the Mineral Range direct from Hancock to Calumet, and the other would parallel the line of the Copper Range from Hancock to Calumet, by the way of the villages of Lake Linden and Dollar Bay. Either would put the Copper Range in direct competition with the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic.

Plans for Union Station.

Special to the Journal.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., Nov. 23.—Plans calling for a new $200,000 station to be built by the Wisconsin Central and Milwaukee roads in this city have been submitted to F. G. and C. A. Stanley, of Chippewa Falls, also to Contractor George R. Foster at Stevens Point and to the Chippewa Falls Constructive company. Work will begin April 1, 1902.

RAILROAD NOTES.

No reduced rates for Thanksgiving travel are to be made this year. Circulars issued, giving holiday rates, make no concessions for the holiday season.

The Milwaukee makes a fare and a fifth for tickets from Chicago to Milwaukee, valid Jan. 2 to Jan. 2, 1902.

General Traffic Manager Shaw, of the Canadian Northern, is in this city. He says that road will be completed by Port Arthur and ready for traffic by Dec. 15. The Canadian Northern will then have 1,320 miles of road.

FASHIONS AND FADS

Dr. Vincent's Fourth Lecture in Course on Public Opinion.

The law of fashion seems to lie in the initiative impulse in man. In speech, in gesture, in garments, in architecture, in the various branches of human endeavor, appear certain motives, steadfastly imitated, handed down from generation to generation. Occasionally some new force, a new idea, a new fashion, and sometimes win for great changes, but usually with compromises to satisfy prevailing and long-established customs.

It is fashion a permanent thing and it is good thing from the standpoint of political economy, are questions Dr. Vincent will illustrate in a lecture next Saturday evening. This is the fourth lecture in a course on "Public Opinion" given at the United Church fortnightly. Professor Vincent is delivering also a Sunday afternoon course on "Social Utopias." Those who have programs will notice that he combined the lecture on Bacon's "New Atlantis," and Campanella's "City of Sun," the last time he lectured. The subject Sunday afternoon is "Robert Owen" and "New Lanark," a topic full of inspiration and one that Dr. Vincent will handle in his usual masterly way.

WHY HE SKIPPED OUT

Cattle Rustler Didn't Want to Encounter Vigilantes' Chairman.

THAT OFFICIAL WAS ROOSEVELT

Ernest Seton-Thompson Had the Story From the "Bad Man's" Own Lips.

Ernest Seton-Thompson — or Ernest Thompson as he is better known — styled—who lectures at the Lyceum this evening on "Animal Minds and Animal Heroes" says that his experience with the Colorado game warden and the trial which followed was one of the most amusing experiences he has met with. The game warden, it appears, started out from Meeker, Col., with the intention of getting the seton, the foreman said. Ernest Seton-Thompson, who acts as guide for President Roosevelt on his hunting expeditions in the mountains. Goff and the lecturer were together when the seton was shot. The official then decided to treat Thompson as principal and take Goff along as a witness.

The trial took place at Meeker, and was typically western in every respect. The jury came in with a written verdict of "Not guilty and we regard the prosecution as malicious." Following the reading of the verdict the foreman said: "Your honor, while we did not care to say it on paper, we want you to know that we regard the arrest of this man Thompson as a 4-2 outrage. Whereupon the warden returned in kind and informed the court that if he would clear the courtroom of ladies, he would tell the foreman of the jury just what he thought of him."

Mr. Thompson said in his report of the trial many times. He has heard the verdict of many a mountaineer and plainsman on the vigorous American now in the White House.

"Roosevelt is regarded a 'shot' by the most critical mountaineer," said Mr. Thompson. "This is a high honor as the mountain country says I. The man who can hit a bulseye twenty-five straight without a miss they regard as 'fair,' but before he can be called a 'shot' he must be put to some exciting test. One day the mountaineer told me that he had seen Roosevelt drop twenty-five elk without a miss.

"In one of my Montana outfits years ago I had what the ladies called a 'bear' hunt. He had notches on his gun for each man killed, and had traveled all through the west. Around the camp fire one night he related his experience in western North Dakota.

"He said that after pulling out of a faro mix-up down in New Mexico, which had caused some gossip in border society, he came north to the country of the mountains of Montana. He decided to 'operate' in cattle. Operating meant that he was furnishing a home for other people's stock after branding them as his own. He had a bunch of cattle as any of the smaller ranchmen in that country. One night after coming home from town he found a notice on his door that he had collected as a man to leave the country. He decided to go.

"This surprised the rest of the company around the campfire, in view of the general reputation of the narrator. When asked why he complied so readily, he replied: "Well, you see, I didn't want to have a scene and I knew there was bound to be one if I didn't get out of there as soon as I could. I was a bit bashful about crowding the chairman any farther."

"Who was the committee?" asked one of the listeners.

"Oh, that d—d Roosevelt," was the reply.

ST. PAUL WANTS CLUBHOUSE

Women of Civic League Will Investigate the Question.

The desire for permanent quarters for the women's clubs has reached the acute stage in St. Paul and the Women's Civic League yesterday took the first step in bringing about this desirable consummation. The following resolution was presented yesterday afternoon at the league meeting by Mrs. George R. Metcalf and seconded by Mrs. Russell R. Dorr:

Whereas, the occupation of permanent quarters for the needs of this and other women clubs of this city, greatly conduce to the comfort, dignity and efficiency of the same, be it resolved that a committee be appointed by the chair and instructed to seek the co-operation of other women clubs to this end that such quarters may be secured in the near future and that this committee be also instructed to report the results of its work at the regular meeting of the same Friday, Dec. 28.

The various women's organizations were represented at the meeting yesterday. The program of the meeting was made up of descriptions of the permanent quarters of clubs in Milwaukee, Kalamazoo, Mich.; Chicago, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington, San Francisco and other cities.

The committee to look up the matter of permanent quarters was appointed as follows: Misses George B. Young, J. A. Wheelock, J. W. Edgerton, George R. Metcalf, Fred Ingersoll, Archibald MacLaren, C. J. A. Morris, A. R. Colvin and William Ely Bramhall.

Miss Preston Will Lecture.

The Eighth Ward W. C. T. U. held a well attended meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Swager, 3307 Stevens avenue. Devotional services were led by Miss Mattie Francis. The program was made up of items of interest to the members. Mrs. Houghton read a paper on "Co-operation of Teachers and Parents," and Mrs. Drew presented the department of temperance hospitals, reporting one visit to St. Barnabas hospital in New York. The program was closed by the reading of news of temperance work. The rummage sale of Nov. 12 was reported, also the November conference of unions. Miss Elizabeth Preston, state president of the North Dakota W. C. T. U., will lecture for the union tomorrow evening in Stewart Memorial Presbyterian church. Miss Preston is well known as one of the brightest and best speakers of the northwest.

Women's Medical Club.

The Women's Medical Club held an interesting meeting Wednesday evening at the home of the president, Dr. Adelle S. Hutchinson. After a general discussion of current diseases, a carefully prepared and valuable paper on "Blood Examination" was read by Dr. Annah Hurl, which was largely the result of her present work in the laboratory. The club is continuing this year its plan of providing speakers on health topics for all kinds of women's organizations that wish to know the latest in health and hygiene. The club will meet in two weeks with Dr. Hurl as speaker.

Bishops' Portrait Calendar.

The Women's Auxiliary of St. Barnabas held a meeting Wednesday evening at the home of the president, Dr. Adelle S. Hutchinson. Two Musical Evenings.

Whitney Tew, the much-heralded American basso, whose reputation has been made in England, made his first appearance in Minneapolis last night in a recital in the Teachers' club course at the Lyceum theater, before a very large audience.

The program was a long and exacting one, and was sung in an artistic manner, with a delightfully distinct enunciation. Mr. Tew's voice was rather a disappointment both in range and in appearance and manner and impressed by his graceful stage presence. A noticeable feature of the program was the prominence given to women composers. Several of these numbers were distinct additions to the program, but this cannot be said of the uninteresting and lengthy "In Memoriam" cycle by Liza Lehmann. The aria from "The Silver Flute" was one of the best numbers and was sung in Italian. Other numbers were "Ah Mio Caro," Handel; "The Jousting of King John," Saint-Saens; "Ständchen," Brahms; "Der Knabe Mit Dem Wunderhorn," Schumann; "Le Feu d'Artifice," Mendelsohn; "Ode to Bacchus," Chamade; "The accompaniments were played sympathetically by Emil Ober-Hoffer.

The second musical entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. course was given last night in the association lecture hall by Miss Jeannette Durso of Chicago. The concert was unique from the fact, while Miss Durso was the sole performer, the program was about equally divided between vocal and piano numbers. While not a great artist she showed excellent qualities in all of her numbers, displaying both refinement, good training and style. She was at her best in the lighter compositions. Her program included such exacting numbers as "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice," Saint-Saens; "The Erl King," Schubert; "March Wind," MacDowell; "Spring Song," Slading; "The Butterflies," Lavallee; "Funeral March," Chopin.

The large audience was delighted with the program and encored near every number.

Club Notes.

The Liberal Union of Minnesota Women

will hold its regular meeting Tuesday, at 10:45 a. m., in the First Unitarian church of this city. An interesting program will be given consisting of a talk on the Rochester meeting by Mrs. T. P. Hall, of Rochester, and a paper on "Islam," by Mrs. Emanuel Cohen, of Minneapolis.

The Chautauque Circle of Wesley church will meet in the church parlors at 7:45 o'clock Wednesday evening. The roll call will be answered by quotations relating to Venice from Byron's Child Harold. Miss Minnie Sawyer will give a paper on Venice. Miss Maxson will conduct a quiz on "Men and Cities of Italy," and a review of epic poetry will be given by Mrs. Reamer.

The annual reception and donation at the Diocesan Church Home for Aged Women will be held at the home, 230 Hoffman avenue, St. Paul, Tuesday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock.

C. M. Loring will speak before the St. Anthony Park Improvement association Friday evening on "How to Improve Home Grounds, Streets, Parks and Boulevards." The lecture will be illustrated with colored stereopticon views and will be given in the St. Anthony Park Congregational church.

The Colonial chapter, D. A. R., will give a musical program at the Soldiers' Home Tuesday afternoon. The members will take a chartered car leaving Sixth street and First avenue S at 2:11 o'clock.

The Tourist Club will have no meeting on Monday, taking its usual Thanksgiving vacation.

The Improvement League has changed its day and hour of meeting to the last Monday of the month at 3 o'clock. The November meeting will accordingly be held at the West Hotel on Monday.

A W. C. T. U. mass meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Portland Avenue Church of Christ. Addresses will be given by Mrs. Scovell and others who have just returned from the national convention.

The Young Matrons' Club met with Mrs. J. M. Herchermer of Harriet avenue yesterday afternoon. The meeting was saddened by the announcement of the death of one of its members, Mrs. Elsie Farusworth. The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Yoe, 3248 Colfax avenue S.

Mrs. O. M. Johnson will speak in Labor Lyceum, 24-26 Washington avenue S, tomorrow afternoon, on "Value, Price and Profit."

T. C. R. T. BETTERMENTS

Big Sum to Be Expended on Tracks and Equipment.

The report again comes from New York that the Twin City Rapid Transit company will expend $1,500,000 during the coming year in bettering its equipment. Most of this money, it is said, will go into big cars of the new type, which are to be utilized on every line in the two cities, and to extending the continuous rail system over all routes.

Assistant Corporation Attorney Franklin W. Griggs of St. Paul has stated that the company cannot construct the proposed third interurban line without rendering itself liable to the 5 per cent gross earnings tax imposed by the new St. Paul city charter. If Mr. Griggs is correct the construction of the line may be delayed.

Among the improvements which the company will be urged to make in Minneapolis is the extension of the Minneapolis line to Fort Snelling, thus bringing the fort into direct communication with Minneapolis, and making this city a rival of St. Paul for its patronage. The Commercial Club will interest itself in the matter.

The World's Greatest Nerve Tonic

Every Wineglassful a Dose of Health and Vigor.

Temptation Tonic

Makes Weak Men and Women Strong.

There can be no harmony in the lives of men and women who have weak nerves. If your nerves are unbalanced you are bound to live a discordant life, out of tune with your companions and neighbors and all the world about you. Debilitated nerves are too weak to carry a ray of real happiness to the human heart. The brightest prospects in life seem dull to those whose nerves are starving. People afflicted with nervous troubles are unnatural, and lack the mental force which nature designed they should have. This isn't vague theory. The old law of cause and effect is the bed rock basis of the claim. Medical science has laid the facts bare for the consideration of all who would know the truth. Nineteenths of the unhappiness and misery in this world is directly due to weak nerves. If you have a right to live in a society you have no right to ignore this fact. It is high time men and women realized that to go through life with weak nerves, when a remedy is within easy reach, is positively criminal. All nerve trouble caused by nerve starvation. When the nerve cells cease to generate the vital fluids which feed the nerves, it is impossible for the nerves to go on with their proper functions. TEMPTATION TONIC tones the vital organs of the human system and gives you everything nature intended you to have.

Temptation Tonic is for sale everywhere. If your dealer does not have it, write us for full information and we will send you FREE, all charges prepaid, our illustrated booklet containing full and complete information in the strictest confidence by our medical staff free of charge.
