

The Plymouth Men's Long Overcoats.

It is the long overcoat that is most fashionable. Whether you purchase a "Fullmore," "Funston," "Kitchener" or "King Henry" you are equally in style.

Oxfords, grays and blacks, all in rough fabrics, are found in the "Fullmore" and "Kitchener" overcoats.

All these overcoats are cut from 46 to 52 inches long, with broad shoulders and with ample fullness in the skirt, which combines ease with warmth.

"Fullmore" long overcoats, $12 to $45. "Funston" long overcoats, $18 to $30. "Kitchener" long overcoats, $12 to $30. "King Henry" long overcoats, $18 to $50.

Fullmore Overcoat, $30. Heavy black rough cheviot Overcoat, full silk lined with fine worsted interlining. This overcoat is cut in Fullmore style with side pockets. The workmanship is of the highest grade and the fit and style of this garment cannot be bettered at any price. Price $30.

Funston Overcoat, $25. This overcoat is cut 50 inches long with yoke effect, extending across the shoulders, as well as in front. Having a half belt across the back, which gathers the full skirt into plaits, this garment is very fashionable.

It is made of a rough fancy Scotch fabric, lined with serge and with satin sleeve lining. A tailor would charge $50 to duplicate this garment. Price $25.

HITCHCOCK'S HINTS

Secretary of the Interior Urges Forest Preservation.

PRAISES PENSION COMMISSIONER

A Recommendation That Irrigation Works Be Begun in Montana and Other States.

Washington, Nov. 25.—The annual report of Secretary Hitchcock of the interior department has been made public. It indorses the conclusions submitted by Indian Commissioner Jones regarding the present Indian education system. The secretary says:

"The management of the Indian service in the field and in the schools, while satisfactory under existing conditions, is not deemed to be the best for the benefit of the Indians, and different methods will hereafter be adopted.

"This policy contemplates requiring the working of Indian lands allotted to them, of a fair portion of lands allotted to them, and the contributing by their industry to their own support of all not disqualified by disability, physical or otherwise; the discontinuance of the issue of rations to those able to support themselves, and the extension to the latter of every possible aid for their well being and encouragement; the inauguration of a system of training in all schools where not established, so that such Indians of both sexes may be taught the trades or industries adapted to the circumstances.

The income of the various Indian tribes from all sources during the year aggregated $5,338,880, a falling off of $260,952, mostly due to the expiration of treaty obligations.

The curriculum of Indian schools, the secretary says, should be restricted to the common school courses, and the further extension of non-reservation schools should not be permitted.

In the future full leasing privileges will be confined to those whose disability or inability to work is of a permanent nature, and in a lesser degree to those whose disability prevents their working more than a small part of their allotments, their conditions to be clearly shown; all other allottees to be required to work at least forty acres of their allotment.

The law commission to the five civilized tribes in Indian Territory reports that the rolls of membership of only one nation, the Seminoles, so far have been approved, and their lands have not yet been entirely allotted.

Secretary Hitchcock recommends that the commission be increased by four members. He also favors a modification of the law relating to the distribution of land on the basis of equalized valuation, and that a definite period be fixed for the completion of all the work pertaining to the allotment of lands among the Indians in the territory.

Save the Forests. The report says that the act of June 3, 1887, known as the timber and stone act if not repealed or radically amended will result ultimately in the complete destruction of the timber on the unappropriated and unreserved public lands.

The time has arrived, according to the secretary, when reservoirs must be built and managed as a part of a national system of forest conservation.

They cannot be successful in maintaining, however, without a thorough system of forest protection.

The introduction of practical forestry on forest reserves has begun. The general policy as announced in an outline memorandum to the commissioner of the land office is that additional forest reserves will be set aside to insure the smallest amount of acreage should be created during this winter, the good will of residents in or near the reservation should be gained, forest fires guarded against, and the resources of the reserves should be made available for the conservative use of the people.

Systematic investigation designed to ascertain the extent of the timber should be undertaken and each forest reserve and part thereof should be dealt with on its own merits.

Legislation to correct the abuses that have grown up in the practice of lien selections of land is urged.

The report highly indorses the work and recommendation of Commissioner of Pensions Evans, and says that the veterans have no more sincere friend than their comrade, the commissioner, "who himself served as an enlisted man in the armies of the Union and who but maintains and defends the rights of the veterans as a soldier when, refusing to ignore both the letter and spirit of the law, he declines to permit the impostor, whether claimant or agent, to share the bounty provided for the veteran and those dependent upon him."

Arid Lands. On the question of reclamation of the arid region the secretary says:

"The investigations which have been carried on demonstrate that there is no question now before the people of the United States of greater importance than the reclamation of the arid lands of the west and their settlement by men who will actually build homes and create communities."

It is recommended that construction at once be begun as follows: The San Carlos reservoir in Arizona, reclaiming 100,000 acres or more of public land at an estimated cost of $1,000,000; reservoirs in the Sierra Nevada in California, reclaiming several lands in Nevada; the diversion of St. Mary river into the headwaters of Milk river in Montana. An appropriation of $250,000 is asked to carry on the hydrographic work of the geological survey.

The secretary says the net earnings of the bonded and land grant railroads amount to over $15,000,000 and increase in gross earnings to $37,000,000. The increase in expenses for the year was over $24,000,000. The debt of the Central Pacific road to the United States now stands at $58,812,715.

The secretary submits the annual report received from the Maritime Canal Company of Nicaragua, which shows that since its organization 10,145 shares of its capital stock have been subscribed for at par, aggregating $1,014,500, and that the company has a liability of $1,174,602. The expenses of the company have been $1,172,771 in cash; 31,950 shares of first mortgage bonds; $5,000,000 of first mortgage bonds; and $1,174,602 of the capital consist of the amount still due under its concession of the $1,855,000 of bonds mentioned, and of cash liabilities outstanding, aggregating $200,000. Its assets consist of the canal stock, the $218,500 first mortgage bonds and the 2,420 shares of capital stock received in liquidation of the claim against the Nicaragua Canal Construction company, the company, etc., and the plant, railways, supplies and other property in Central America.

RIVERS CONVICTED. Slayer of Thomas Hogan Gets Off With Manslaughter. Duluth, Minn., Nov. 25.—Patrick Rivers, who has been on trial for killing Thomas Hogan in a saloon room on Sunday, Oct. 13, has been convicted of manslaughter in the second degree.

The case went to the jury Saturday but it was not until 7 o'clock last night that a verdict was reached. Under the court's charge, the jury took the least crime for which he could be convicted.

The delay in reaching an agreement was due to the fact that several of the jurors held out for a verdict of murder in the second degree.

Porter J. Neff of Duluth defended Rivers and was assisted by Frank Larabee of Minneapolis.

WASHINGTON STATE OFFICERS

Senator Foster is Turned Down by President Roosevelt.

Washington, Nov. 25.—President Roosevelt has turned down a republican United States senator as to patronage in another state.

This time it is in Washington. There is a factional fight on in that state between former United States Senator John L. Wilson, now publisher of a Seattle newspaper, and Senator A. G. Foster, who succeeded him.

Some of Mr. Wilson's appointees are still in important offices, and as Mr. Wilson is fighting him and has hopes of returning to the senate, Mr. Foster wants to get rid of them.

He has picked out such men as he expected would be suitable successors.

When the matter was broached to President Roosevelt, he said he saw no reason why there should be any changes.

Mr. Foster is highly displeased, and Wilson is correspondingly so.

Senator Foster arrived here several days ago, and has been busy ever since, trying to straighten out his patronage problems. He expected some difficulty, but is surprised at the flat-footed stand taken by the president.

He says it will have a very serious effect upon the condition of the party in the state.

Senator Turner is preparing to make a hard fight for reelection. The democrats would like to see him returned to the senate, as he is one of the ablest men. If he can get the republicans quarreling among themselves, his chances will be improved materially.

Mr. Foster has decided what he will do, but it is most likely he will lay his case before the republicans and take their advice.

It will be the policy of the older leaders to avoid any clash with the president.

DIED IN A MINE

Bodies of Eight Men Recovered in West Virginia.

Bluefield, W. Va., Nov. 25.—The dead bodies of the eight well-known mining men who entered the mine of the Pocahontas Collieries company on Friday morning were recovered yesterday.

A rescuing party numbering forty persons, after going a distance of some 400 feet, found the bodies of eight men, chief inspector; Bob Odham, sub-inspector, and Frazier G. Bell, mining engineer, all huddled together.

They were in positions they must have met death suddenly and without pain. All of them were lying face downward, with no signs of a struggle. Hurst had made a pillow of his coat on which his head rested.

The bodies of the other five members of the party, Superintendent of Mines Walter O'Malley; Joseph Cardwell, superintendent of the Shamokin Coal and Coke company; R. E. St. Clair, second assistant inspector; State Mine Inspector Price, and Maurice St. Clair, sub-inspector, all were found in the mine, three of the bodies lying some distance apart.

The bodies of O'Malley, Maurice St. Clair and Price were discovered and bruised about the face, showing signs of a struggle, it being very plain to see they made a desperate attempt at retracing their steps to better air.

Schley to be Cleared. Admiral Dewey Capable of Putting Himself in Schley's Place. New York Sun Special Service. Philadelphia, Nov. 25.—Admiral Dewey has taken the position firmly that he will not sign any verdict that in any way censures Admiral Schley according to a Washington dispatch to the Ledger. The other members of the court, Admiral Benham and Admiral Ramsay, have not taken this decided position, but so far as they have expressed their conclusions it is understood they will not doubt join in the ultimate vindication of Schley.

When the court adjourned after the completion of the record, it was surmised from the character of the questions submitted by Admiral Benham that he had practically reached the belief that Schley was culpable for the retrograde movement. If the information as to Admiral Dewey's opinion is true, it would seem that he can see in the circumstances of that movement no ground for criticism of the commander-in-chief of the flying squadron.

Those who profess to know the reasons which actuated Admiral Dewey say he has been unable to look at the accusations made against Schley from any other standpoint than his own feelings when undergoing the fearfully concentrated responsibilities of commanding a squadron in battle. The uncertainties and perplexities that beset Schley at Cienfuegos and Santiago he has compared with his own experience in sailing into Manila bay, although he did so with a map in his hands betraying the course left free from mines by the Spaniards as a means of exit for their own ships. There is good reason to believe that Admiral Dewey will not in the end stand alone in this way of looking at the case.

UNDER WATER. Successful Outcome of the Submarine Boat Experiment. New York, Nov. 25.—In the presence of a big crowd which, despite the storm, assembled to witness the emerging of the submarine boat Fulton, that craft rose from the bottom of the bay yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock with all well and greatly surprised to find there was a storm raging.

The test of the Fulton's staying powers was highly satisfactory, not only to the officers of the company that built her and the naval officers present, but to those who went to the bottom in the boat.

They report there was not the slightest discomfort to them during their more than fifteen hours of submersion.

Captain Franklin of the Holland company, who was in command, said the boat could have remained down for three months if there were food enough on board.

Immediately on coming to the surface the Fulton, under her own power, ran alongside the dock and tied up.

Admiral Lowe and Lieutenant MacArthur refused to go into any discussion of the performance of the boat, except to say they would be satisfied to stay down longer.

Members of the crew say they experienced no difficulty in breathing, and that the air was all that could be desired and much purer and better than in an ordinary closed room in which are several persons.

35,000 Feet Above Berlin. Two German balloonists recently risked their lives by ascending to a height of 35,000 feet above the city. At 20,000 feet the voyagers began to lose consciousness, but one of them managed to get at the valve so that the balloon descended of itself after reaching an altitude of 25,000 feet. The lowest temperature recorded was 40 below the freezing point, not nearly as cold as had been expected. In the opinion of the average man, these balloonists could be much more profitably employed drinking "Golden Brain Belt" beer to strengthen their bodies and lengthen their lives, rather than in risking life and limb in a balloon. Some time ago, while I was in Millersburg, Pa., Mr. Freck, the landlord, was afflicted with severe pains in the stomach. I insisted upon his taking a Cascaret before going to bed and next morning he passed 6 in. of a tape-worm. He has a box of Cascarets and a tape-worm 4 1/2 feet long came from him last night.

"Cascarets cured me radically of dyspepsia and headache and my weight which before was 120 is now 150 lbs."—S. Navarro, Biloxi, Miss.

"I find Cascarets beneficial after a spell of brain work, clearing the brain as well as the bowels, and also working off edema. In good shape."—E. C. Stokes, Philadelphia, Pa.

A man who keeps his bowels regular with Cascarets Candy Cathartic, that is without strain or violence, can keep strong and healthy without much exercise. A famous professor in Jefferson Medical College used to advise his students: "Trust in God and keep your bowels open!" That's God's own wisdom, for when the bowels are regular and the digestion strong and healthy, then the system is safe and the brain and nerves will have inexhaustible elasticity and life.

Healthy Mind in a Healthy Body

Stomach and brain affect each other. A sick stomach sours the disposition and prevents sleep and brain rest, and a sick brain sours the stomach and clogs the bowels. Men of sedentary habits, brain workers who don't get much exercise, have sick stomachs and bowels, and wear out their brains and nerves.
