THE STATE MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF WORCESTER, MASS., offers unsurpassed advantages to the insurance investor. Under the Massachusetts law the State Mutual policies are practically endowment policies every year, and one runs no risk at all in investing money in them. Your age and address to either of the undersigned will secure a specimen policy with full particulars.

Lighting Bids Postponed—The bids of the General Electric and Minneapolis Gas-light companies for the lighting of the coming year, were considered briefly by the gas committee of the council yesterday and then put over until next Saturday evening. The committee was of the opinion that the bids as presented, it would be impossible to add a single light to the present schedule next year. He thought there might be something gained by postponement.

Eight and thirteenth ward endurance over street conditions. The people of that section of the community declare that things have reached the stage where the street railway company has simply got to do something or go out of business in their section. They say they have stood for the herding practice on their street cars lines just long as they are going to.

Lands in the extreme western part of North Dakota, over which the cattle of Theodore Roosevelt roamed in his early eighties are at last to come under the domain of the small farmer. The Northern Pacific has received from the government tracts, which constitute the greater part of the remainder of the original grant in western North Dakota, surveyed, and has been disposing of in big lots.

George A. Brackett, a former resident of Minneapolis, who has spent much of his time recently in the Klondike, and who is at the head of a company which controls a number of valuable claims at Atlin, B. C., is in the city for the winter. He left the gold country about a month ago, and heard nothing of the reported rebellion against the Canadian government until he arrived here.

John H. Steele and A. Y. Merrill, attorneys for Sheriff Mogaarden, waited on Governor Van Sant this morning to plead against his suspension from office. This visit developed a fact that has thus far escaped the light of day.

MEANS TO BE TAKEN. The court machinery has been taken out of the sheriff's hands. Sheriff Mogaarden has not had charge of the machinery of the district court this term. The court for the December term were drawn by Coroner Williams, and subpoenaed under his orders. The witnesses in the case against the sheriff are also being subpoenaed by the coroner.

Joe Yacht Club Thanksgiving—The Minnetonka Yacht Club has planned for a enjoyable Thanksgiving Day at the lake. A turkey shoot will take place in the afternoon. In the evening there will be music and dancing on the clubhouse. Those who expect to attend are asked to send notice to the clubhouse as early as possible, so that adequate preparation can be made for their reception. The train leaves for the Minnetonka & St. Louis station at 11:30 in the morning.

Yesterday Alderman Fred Powers of the eighth ward called on General Manager Held of the company and demanded, in the name of his constituents, that more cars be put on the Como-Harriet and Lyndale avenue lines. The travel on those lines has long warranted a ten-minute service all day and extra cars morning, noon and night, he said, and he told the street car man that his people were in a frame of mind to accept nothing else. The company had simply got to give more cars.

Another deal was announced to-day in which 125,000 acres in the extreme western part of North Dakota goes to the Missouri Slope Land and Coal company, composed of H. A. Hunter of Minneapolis, State Senator L. A. Simpson of Dickinson, N. D., A. C. McGillivray, receiver of the Bismarck land office, and A. L. Martin of Sentinel Butte. This tract is located on the main line of the Northern Pacific, and it is believed that, being well adapted for agriculture, it will attract a great many immigrants. The company which bought it will engage in mining lignite coal, and cheap fuel will be one of the attractions in the campaign for immigration.

Everything was orderly at Atlin when I left, and I came down on the boat with a large party from Nome and other points. They knew nothing of any rebellion, and I cannot believe that it has any existence outside of the somewhat lively imagination of whoever circulates the rumor. We have a fine, three-story hotel at Atlin, and the means of transportation are excellent. Why, you can go up the Yukon on one of fifteen steamers, each of which is much more comfortable than any flying boat between Minneapolis and New Orleans when I first came here. The boats are all electric lighted, and set a good table. They take you right to the mines operated by the company.

Harvest Festival—Harvest Festival week is being celebrated by Bethesda Baptist church. It began with "silver day," on Sunday, when all the silver in the church was made. To-night will be the regular harvest festival evening. A two-part program has been arranged. The first part will consist of musical numbers; the second will be a play, followed by an elaborate supper. "Deacons' night" will be the following evening.

Mr. Held protested that the company had no more cars and could do nothing. Alderman Powers insisted that the company did have cars and plenty of them, at least, small cars if not large ones, and that it should provide them in service or look for trouble. Unless the company comes to terms before Friday night it is possible that action will be begun in the council looking to a betterment of the existing conditions in that section of the city.

An Honest Barberer—Patrick Broderick of Waseca, Minn., was a happy man this morning when the police returned to him $500 in certified checks. The money, which he left in a Minneapolis saloon a few days ago. He told the police that he thought he had left it in some saloon, but which saloon he could not remember. Last evening the barber in Jim Ford's saloon, having seen the stories in the newspaper, turned the pocketbook and its contents over to the police. Broderick was notified by telephone, and he came to the city this morning and got his money.

Ph. D. Process Simplified—The faculty of science, literature and arts and engineering of the University of Minnesota, at their meeting Saturday afternoon, adopted a recommendation which simplifies the method of securing the degree of doctor of philosophy, although the rules are as stringent as before. The candidate now must pass a satisfactory examination in three subjects, a major and two minors, which will be carried on in three departments and to cover three years. The usual examination by the faculty is retained.

This locality is to receive much help from the immigration work done between now and spring. It has been the belief of many immigration men that the extreme western part of North Dakota could be made one of the great farming sections of the northwest. Billings county, in which the above lands are located, is expected to increase materially the flux and wheat acreage of the state in two years.

Newton's Case Nolle. Non-Support Action Ended by the County Attorney.

Charles Newton was brought before Judge Elliott this morning to answer to an indictment charging abandonment and neglect of his family. He pleaded not guilty promptly, and to the surprise of the court room, the county attorney just asked I may not live to see it, but my sons will.

No Skating at Loring Park—Considerable disappointment will be felt by the young people of the city when they learn that the park board has decided to prevent the use of the Loring park skating rink Thursday. Though Van Cleve park is open and the ice at Powderhorn promises to be in condition by that time, the board thought that Loring park will have to wait a while yet, as the ice is not thick enough to bear the weight of the skaters. That was the reason for the decision. The house is not ready for skating yet, and it is not ready for some time. As it is wanted now is a good freeze to get the necessary six inches of ice.

The feeling of street car patrons in the above district is generally shown by letters received by The Journal. Yesterday such a communication was published and to-day the following was received to the Editor of The Journal.

The business agents of three Iowa colonies arrived in Minneapolis this morning to make arrangements for the transportation of their people to the state. One of the colonies from southern Iowa will locate on the Soo road in North Dakota. The others are planning to settle west of the Missouri river in the same state.

In Secretary Root's Hands—Word was received by St. Paul and Minneapolis Commercial clubs that the committee preparing the Fort Snelling memorial had very satisfactory interview with Secretary of War Root. Senator Nelson and Thomas Cochran composed the memorial. They called on Secretary Root at his home in Washington, last evening, and presented the memorial. Secretary Root is very favorably impressed with the claims made for Fort Snelling as the location of one of the four big army posts of the country.

While you are calling attention to the carelessness of the street car conductors in falling to call the streets, under the caption, "Where Minneapolis Falls Down, why don't you say something about the lack of cars which produces the crowded condition, under which condition it is impossible for the conductor to direct fares and call the streets properly. You blame the conductors, but they are not wholly to blame. The Twin City Rapid Transit company, which is anxious to pay large dividends, should share the responsibility of providing a smaller number of motormen and conductors, a saving of expense and a larger income. It also means passengers packed in cars like sardines and an overcrowded street car.

The answer of the local weather bureau to the prediction of a certain Washington correspondent that congress would probably investigate the weather bureau because of "kicks" registered by rural free delivery patrons of the service is that yesterday a requisition was received from Zumbrota for 10,000 of the forecast cards to be used in distribution among persons on free delivery routes. T. S. Outram, the Minneapolis observer, is absent, but information is gained in his office that no complaints have been made and the fact that the service is carried on by voluntary assistance is proof of the evidence that the farmers want the forecast. The only complaint comes from those whom it is impossible for the forecast to reach in time to be of any use.

The only complaint comes from those whom it is impossible for the forecast to reach in time to be of any use.

Newton's Case Nolle. Non-Support Action Ended by the County Attorney.

Charles Newton was brought before Judge Elliott this morning to answer to an indictment charging abandonment and neglect of his family. He pleaded not guilty promptly, and to the surprise of the court room, the county attorney just asked I may not live to see it, but my sons will.

MEANS TO BE TAKEN. The court machinery has been taken out of the sheriff's hands. Sheriff Mogaarden has not had charge of the machinery of the district court this term. The court for the December term were drawn by Coroner Williams, and subpoenaed under his orders. The witnesses in the case against the sheriff are also being subpoenaed by the coroner.

CONSUL DIES. James Fletcher, Appointed to Genoa, Italy, From Iowa.

While you are calling attention to the carelessness of the street car conductors in falling to call the streets, under the caption, "Where Minneapolis Falls Down, why don't you say something about the lack of cars which produces the crowded condition, under which condition it is impossible for the conductor to direct fares and call the streets properly. You blame the conductors, but they are not wholly to blame. The Twin City Rapid Transit company, which is anxious to pay large dividends, should share the responsibility of providing a smaller number of motormen and conductors, a saving of expense and a larger income. It also means passengers packed in cars like sardines and an overcrowded street car.

The answer of the local weather bureau to the prediction of a certain Washington correspondent that congress would probably investigate the weather bureau because of "kicks" registered by rural free delivery patrons of the service is that yesterday a requisition was received from Zumbrota for 10,000 of the forecast cards to be used in distribution among persons on free delivery routes. T. S. Outram, the Minneapolis observer, is absent, but information is gained in his office that no complaints have been made and the fact that the service is carried on by voluntary assistance is proof of the evidence that the farmers want the forecast. The only complaint comes from those whom it is impossible for the forecast to reach in time to be of any use.
