ROBINSON'S MONEY

It Has Estranged a Family and Excited a County.

MOTHER KEPT FROM DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brutally Treated by Dr. Percy—Habeas Corpus Suit.

Special to The Journal.
 Kasson, Minn., Dec. 5.—Whatever may be the outcome of the litigation between the Robinsons and Percys in the now celebrated "Robinson will case," the contending factions are putting up a succession of legal battles unprecedented in this county. Last August P. Robinson, a resident of Monteville, died suddenly, leaving an estate of between $60,000 and $75,000. By the terms of his will he left a life support for his widow, who has been an invalid for many years, and small bequests amounting to about $12,000, the residue of the property at her death to go to the adopted daughter, one Josephine L. Percy, wife of Dr. James F. Percy of Galesburg, Ill. It appears that the widow has been married twice, having two daughters by the first husband, Mrs. Sarah Smith of Salem, S. D., and Mrs. E. B. Raymond of Milwaukee. By the second marriage there were no children, but Mrs. Smith having been left a widow with three children it was deemed advisable by Mr. Robinson to adopt the youngest, his step-granddaughter, now Mrs. Percy.

 During the many years Mrs. Robinson was an invalid her daughter, Mrs. Raymond, was almost constantly with her. Upon being advised of the death of Mr. Robinson the daughter, accompanied by her husband, hastened to Minnesota to assist in the care of her mother in her declining years. In the meantime the adopted daughter had arrived from Galesburg and being named an executrix in the will took complete control of the home of the widow as well as the estate of the deceased, immediately making application for letters testamentary from the judge of probate. This was accomplished and she was allowed to serve on a $500 bond. She then made application for the appointment of a guardian for the widow, this being done without notice to either the daughter or her husband. This so incensed Mr. Robinson that he expressed himself with great freedom. Thereupon the doctor and his wife ordered the daughter and her husband to leave the house of the widow, but they refused to go. The widow was then wheeled into a bedroom by a trained nurse and locked in the room, and the doctor and his wife proceeded to put their orders into effect. The doctor, it is alleged, threw them out by force.

Then came the first case, for the appointment of guardians. This was bitterly contested. Childs, Edgerton and Wickham, of St. Paul, were retained by Mrs. Robinson and were assisted by J. J. McLaughlin while Sam Lord and Taylor & Taylor, all of Kasson, were retained by the Percys.
 The proceeding terminated in the appointment of two guardians, Miller Ruth and L. M. Birch. This decision favored the Percys. Two trained nurses have since then guarded the widow night and day, and no one is permitted so far as is known to see her alone, both being in the employ of Mrs. Percy. Mother and daughter could not converse alone together and it was finally concluded to bring habeas corpus proceedings as the daughter considered her mother was practically a prisoner. Then came a four-day trial with three sessions a day. The courtroom at times was packed to the doors.

Among the sensational features was Mrs. Percy's testimony. She admitted she had called her foster mother an "old charcos," saying she would be better off dead than alive, also that she had engaged a coffin for her mother of a local undertaker. The judge in rendering his decision said in part:

"I also find that said acts of Josephine L. Percy and her husband in so forcibly thrusting the relator out of said house and from the presence of her invalid mother were and are unjustifiable, unwarranted and cruel to relator and also to her mother, and this court emphatically condemns said acts, and hereby orders that the relator be freely allowed without restraint or embarrassment at all proper times to visit her mother, enjoy her society and minister to her comfort as she and her mother shall desire and request."
 The Percys now ignore the order of the court and the daughter and mother are as much apart as ever, but one of the guardians has, during the past week, notified Mrs. Raymond she can come any day at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Raymond has now brought an action against the Percys for $20,000 damages for injury. The husband has also an action he can bring and it is rumored that more sensational charges will shortly be filed.

Grand Jury Extolls Lynchers

New Orleans, Dec. 5.—Judge James M. Thompson, in opening the district court in Washington parish, the scene of the recent burning of a negro at the stake, followed by a riot at Balltown, where several lives were lost, called the attention of the grand jury to these occurrences and urged it to take action to maintain the good name of the community which had been much injured. The grand jury, however, brought in the following report:
 The men who participated in the burning were among the best citizens of the county and nothing but a desire to protect those who are nearest and dearest to them would move them to undertake such measures.

Special to The Journal.
 Kalspell, Mont., Dec. 5.—Attorney M. D. Baldwin returned to-day from Cutbank, in Teton county. While there he preached a funeral sermon over the body of James McKillop, who was accidentally killed on Thanksgiving Day by William Goggin, a Great Northern brakeman. McKillop was one of the bystanders at a turkey shoot held at Cutbank on the day named, when Goggin picked up a 23-calibre rifle, intending to take a shot at a turkey. In some manner the weapon was prematurely discharged and the bullet struck McKillop in the temple, inflicting a wound from which he soon died. The killing was held to be entirely accidental by a coroner's jury. McKillop's parents reside at Blackduck, Minn.

Thin Blooded People

These are they with pale faces and flabby muscles, whose vitality is low and pulse weak. They are ill-nourished, these people, and can't seem to gather strength. The most trifling task is almost insurmountable and life contains little of interest to them.

The genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract takes hold of thin-blooded people and builds them up. It does not do this by any mysterious means or strong drugs. It does it through the food they eat. Nearly all the difference between the strong man and the weak man is that one gets the full benefit of his food and the other doesn't.

Johann Hoff's Malt Extract

helps the stomach digest food and sends the nutriment through the blood. This is the honest way to get health and strength, the kind that lasts and develops and breeds the energy which accomplishes much.
 Take Johann Hoff's Extract with your meals and your food will do the rest.

Dr. J. V. Littell, of Lafayette, Ind., writes: "I prescribe Johann Hoff's Malt Extract and find it in all the requirements of a true nutritive tonic and tissue builder."

Johann Hoff's is the Original Malt Extract—has been sold since 1847. Beware of Substitutes.

SUCH A CHANGE.

Not only in feelings but in looks. The skin is clear, the eyes are bright, the cheeks are plump. No more pain and misery, no more sick headache, no more jaundice. What worked the change? Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which cured the disease of the stomach that prevented proper nutrition, and also cleansed the clogged and sluggish liver. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of lungs, heart, liver, and other organs which seem remote from the stomach because many of these diseases have their cause in a diseased condition of the stomach involving the allied organs of digestion and nutrition.
 "I sent you a letter about a year ago," writes Mrs. J. Ellis Hamilton, of Farmington, Marion Co., West Va. "I stated my case as plainly as I could, and received a letter from you in a few days, telling me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription'—a bottle of each. I used three of each, and feel like a new woman. Don't suffer any more pain or misery any more. Before using your medicines I suffered all the time—had jaundice, caused from food not digesting properly. I would have sick headache three and four times in a week. Could not do the work myself. I commenced using your medicines as recommended for liver complaint, and think I am cured. I asked our doctor if he couldn't cure me, and he said he could give me medicine to help me but the trouble might return any time. I have had three years without any relief. Haven't had sick headache since I took the first bottle of your medicine."
 Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation.
