In Labor's Field

NOT BRIGGS' FRIEND

Organized Labor's Position as to Effort in His Behalf.

T. AND L. COUNCIL'S LIVELY TIME

Resolutions Passed Setting Forth the Position of the Order Plainly.

Members of the Trades and Labor council made it plain enough at Wednesday night's meeting that organized labor had nothing in common with Fred Briggs, the most distinguished guest at the workhouse this winter, and that it would not countenance in the least any effort made in his name to effect his release through a commutation of sentence. The session of the council is said to have been one of the liveliest in the latter day history of the organization and rarely, it is said, have any officials of organized labor in Minneapolis received such a severe shaking up as some did on this occasion.

Organized labor generally is slow to accept the explanation, however, and the statement made by Fred Briggs, his little effort in tempering criticism. Organized labor circles are considerably stirred up over the matter and the popular verdict is that it was a great mistake for parties occupying prominent positions in organized labor to take the step complained of, and that the inevitable result will be to throw discredit on the cause of labor in Minneapolis.

No External Symptoms.

The blood may be in bad condition, yet with no external signs, no skin eruption or sores to indicate it. The symptoms in such cases being a variable appetite, poor digestion, an indescribable weakness and nervousness, loss of flesh and a general run-down condition of the system—clearly showing the blood has lost its nutritive qualities, has become thin and watery. It is in just such cases that S. S. S. has done some of its quickest and most effective work by building up the blood and supplying the elements lacking to make it strong and vigorous.

"My wife used several bottles of S. S. S. as a blood purifier and she is now able to tone up a weak and emaciated system, with very marked effect by way of improvement. We regard it as the greatest tonic and blood purifier."—J. F. Duff, Princeton, Mo.

S. S. S. is the greatest of all tonics, and you will find it the appetite invigorates at once, strength returns, and nervousness vanishes as new rich pure blood once more circulates through all parts of the system.

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known. It contains no minerals whatever. Send for our free book on blood and skin diseases and write our physicians for any information or advice wanted. No charge for medical advice.

A Deal in French Lawns. A famous importer bought too many for his own retailing and we cleaned up his stock at the end of the season—at our price, not his. We have held the goods for many weeks until a good time came for a big sale. That time is now. Thus you can understand these prices:

- 40c French Lawns, per yard, 25c.
50c French Lawns, per yard, 33 1/2-3c.
65c French Lawns, per yard, 42c.
75c French Lawns, per yard, 50c.
All Remnants of White Goods on Bargain Tables in Center of Store.

New Dress Goods.

These have been coming along so fast that our lines are now nearly complete. We'll not go into particulars just now, but will suggest a wise thought or two. You want the most pleasing thing in the market. It is probably here now. If it pleases you it will please others. If you don't buy it, they will. Dribbles will come on later. If you are sure that the last will be the best, then wait. But who knows? If the last should not be so good, and if somebody else has bought all the best of the earlier goods, where will you be then? The wool market is strong. Manufacturers are fighting for an advance of prices. When they succeed, our prices will have to go up. Just now they are down—lower than ever before on some lines. There is another argument against waiting.

Infants' Wear.

Something to interest every mother who thinks of her child and her pocketbook at the same time. Short Slips made in Hubbard style, with tucked and hemstitched yoke, and ruffles of hemstitched lawn at neck and sleeves, 50c. Good Linen News

A linen dealer paid so much attention to the fancy lines that he lost his trade in staples. We found him wondering what he was going to do with a lot of Damasks. They were beautiful goods, pure linen, silver bleached, soft finish, 60 and 66 inches wide. We had sold the state of Illinois, and the rest of the after a lively bull-and-bear fight we got the goods. Sha'n't tell what we paid, but we'll sell them 47c.

Box Coats

Styles of the season, for ladies and misses. Whatever the first mark; they are Now at Half Price.

Ladies' Clothing

Besides the extraordinary prices mentioned elsewhere, there will be bargains here which ought to make a busy day without their help. Every Tailor-Made Suit is now offered at TWO-THIRDS the former prices. A lot of Misses' Short Jackets, about 40 in all, that were $3.50 and $4.00 each, Saturday they will strike $2-minute gait and go out, 1.00. Astrakhan Capes that were $2.50, closing out, 18.50.

Two Sales of Ties

A new 50c line, including Tecks, Four-in-Hands, Imperials and Puffs. You may think it is early to be blossoming out in spring styles, but we'll make it an object to buy now by offering the lot 39c.

Wash Goods

Imported English Tissue, nothing like it hereabouts; Colors are fast and styles above reproach. Saturday, per yard, 19c. Batistes and Double Fold Percales, 8c line, all dark colors; yard, 6 1/4c. 36-in. Percales, 7 1/2c. Satin Striped Dimities, Challies, Dress Gingham, 7c. Worth to 15c a yard.

Fancy Linens

Pure linen Huck Scarfs, 16x50 inches, were 48c; sale, 25c. Plain Linen Shams, double hemstitched, 30 inches square, were $1.25 pair, now, 75c.

Flannels

Ramona Fleece Flannels, basket weave, in pink, light blue, cream and cardinal. If you want a 15c grade in lengths of 1 to 10 yards 10c you may have it at, 10c. White Baby Flannel, of good firm quality, worth 30c a yard, Saturday at, 22c.

Profit Sharing

An Interesting Instance of the Principle's Application. Fall River, Mass., offers an interesting instance of the benefits of profit sharing. The directors of the Bourne cotton mills at that place have just announced a dividend to operatives of 3.24 per cent on the last six months' wages. The wages are no high as the highest in Fall River and the mill is one of the most prosperous there. The profit sharing principle has been in operation for twelve years. The Bourne mill is one of the modern machinery. In the Bourne mill one weaver will tend twenty looms, in many other mills only eight. Part of the benefit of the improved machinery therefore, goes to the operatives in higher wages and dividends. In the opinion of that eminent authority on the subject, Professor Gunnard, "The design is not of the latest, but the price will make you forget that. We bought this lot for the fun of having a flurry Saturday night. Take home all you want at this price, per yard 10c.

Two more cases of Simpson's

Prints, the best; one case of Revell's Percales and one of Y. O. Tyme Gingham, all 6c and 7c goods, yard, 4 1/2c.

Ladies' Waists

New Silk Waists. Spring styles are shown up as numerous, beautiful and novel as ever; black and colors. Will tell more about them later. There is one elegant line at, 3.98. Black Brilliantine Waists, that were $2.50 and $3.00 apiece, will be on the jump Saturday when 1.25 we mark them at, 1.25. Big Value in Comforts. They are made of figured silk-line, with plain lining, filled with fine white batting, size, 72x72 inches, each, 98c.

Notions

Hairpin Cabinets, with a good assortment of plain and crimped, heavy and invisible pins, 3c each. Whittemore's Gilt Edge Dressing for ladies' and children's fine shoes; an excellent preservative and restorer of color, per bottle, 21c. Hose Sippers, up-to-date in construction, all colors, per pair, 10c.

Blankets Reduced.

You wouldn't want your warmth reduced in such weather as we have been having, but a big price cut won't affect their comfort in any way. Union and all wool Blankets are reduced 25 per cent because so many people have looked at them as samples. 12-4 Cotton Blankets, the largest size, that were $1.25 a pair. Only about a dozen left. These, 1.00 per pair. Crown, President, and other well known 50c Suspenders, closing out at, 39c.

To-day's Decisions of the Supreme Court

Frank M. Arne, appellant, vs. Pauline L. Holland, respondent. The proper practice in securing a modification of an order or decree in divorce proceedings is to file a petition for modification in the original action, and not by the commencement of an independent suit upon a new complaint. Upon a hearing for such modification it is discretionary with the trial court whether the evidence bearing upon the question shall be in the nature of affidavits or duly sworn and examined witnesses. In this character of proceeding, the court is not limited strictly to rules applicable to the introduction of evidence in ordinary cases, and its rulings and orders are not subject to the same legal excesses. The legal test required is that the court shall not abuse its discretion. Evidence and rulings examined, and found to contain no error. Judgment under an agreement that the court should not abuse its discretion. Judgment affirmed. —Lewis, J. Andrew J. Pinnegar, respondent, vs. Fannie S. Janeway, defendant, and Helen T. Leonard, appellants. When property is mortgaged by an owner to answer for the debt of another, such property occupies the position of a surety, and anything which would discharge an individual surety, personally liable, will, under similar circumstances, discharge the property. A mortgage given by a third party as collateral security for a judgment under an agreement that the judgment creditor shall collect it from certain property subject thereto, and the remainder rendered void, if the judgment creditor satisfies the judgment and releases the property without collecting the debt. Judgment affirmed. —Lewis, J. George J. Graves and Lester V. Graves, mis-deemors, by Mary C. Graves, their guardian ad litem, appellants, vs. Modern Workmen of America, a fraternal beneficiary society of the state of Illinois, respondents. The fact that George H. Graves was a member of defendant society, having been received therein as such in April, 1894, a proper certificate evidencing the fact being duly issued to him. By the terms of his membership the by-laws of the society were a part and portion of his contract, and he was required thereby to pay into the treasury of the local camp of which he was a member certain assessments and dues at stated periods, in default of which he became suspended from all rights and privileges in the society. The clerk of the local camp was in the habit of receiving from the members, including Graves, payment of assessments after they had become due and when the members stood suspended from the society for non-payment; but this custom was not known to or authorized or sanctioned by the defendants, or the local camp, or by the officers of either, and was in direct violation of the by-laws of the society. Held, following Elder vs. Grand Lodge, 79 Minn. 48, that the custom of such clerk, being unknown to the society, was ineffectual as a waiver of the by-laws requiring prompt payment of assessments, and as Graves stood suspended from all rights and privileges in the society at the time of his death, plaintiffs cannot recover. Judgment affirmed. —Brown, J. Anton Lindom, respondent, vs. Northern Pacific Railway Company and Fred Diamond, appellants. First—In an action to recover damages for personal injuries alleged to have been caused by the negligence of such clerk, being under a charge of negligence, as disclosed by the allegations of the complaint, consisted in the conduct of defendant's servants in permitting a passenger on a railway train to alight from the train at a public street over which plaintiff was driving with his horse and buggy, and a noise by blowing off steam which frightened plaintiff's horse, causing him to run away, in consequence of which plaintiff was injured. The jury returned special verdicts to the effect that the engineer and fireman in charge of such engine were not guilty of negligence with respect to the

of fact for the jury whether the defendant was guilty of negligence in announcing the station and opening the car doors and then immediately closing the doors, and in not stopping without warning the passengers in some practical way that the first stop would be at the crossing, and further, that the question of the plaintiff's contributory negligence in the premises was also one of fact for the jury. Order and judgment affirmed. —Starr, C. J. CHICAGOANS SCARED Fire, Explosions, Panic and Injured Firemen. Chicago, Feb. 7.—Fire that destroyed the Sanford building on Randolph street early to-day almost occasioned a panic among the tenants of the twelve-story building which adjoined the burning structure and among the employees of the clock factory of Marshall Field & Co. The fire started in the paints and oils of the George E. Watson company and destroyed the stock of George F. Rosche & Co., pianos. Several small explosions among the tenants in the fire frightened spectators, and several firemen were hurt by falling bricks. The damage was about $90,000. RIVER GUARD FENCE EXTENSION. Special to The Journal. Hastings, Minn., Feb. 7.—The guard fence in the river at the railroad bridge will be extended 190 feet on the east and 25 feet on the west, operations to begin next Monday. The total length when completed will be 545 feet. —A marriage license was issued yesterday to James Erwin and Miss Elizabeth Burns of Burnsville. —Mr. and Mrs. Anton Schiller, old and highly esteemed residents of New Pines, celebrated their golden wedding yesterday. They are aged 71 and 72 years respectively. —The masquerade ball at the W. A. hall last night proved a grand success, with in point of maskers as well as spectators. —John Heitje, the young man killed by the train here last evening, was an Austrian by birth, and had worked for Patrick Nitz at Welch since last July. He was about 30 years of age and a tanner by trade. The body was taken to Red Wing.

METEOROLOGICAL PIONEER French Scientist Proposes Monument to Lieut. Maury, American. Paris, Feb. 7.—A proposition has been made by Dr. A. Bergeret to raise an international monument to Lieutenant Maury, the pioneer of modern meteorology and hydrography. The occasion was a lecture by Dr. Bergeret, professor of terrestrial physics at the Sorbonne, on the "Circulation of the Air." The lecturer recalled that Feb. 6, 1848, a sailing vessel left Baltimore for Rio de Janeiro provided with Lieutenant Maury's charts. The voyage to the equator was effected in twenty-one days instead of forty days, which was previously the minimum required. Dr. Bergeret explained the theory of the trade winds and of cyclonic and anti-cyclonic centers which Lieutenant Maury rendered practical and popular. The eminent American hydrographer's studies on the Gulf stream and the maritime currents were dwelt upon. The order of gyration of the winds results from the general law of circulation of the air laid down by Lieutenant Maury by his epoch making labors. Lieutenant Maury demonstrated that scientists are the servants of humanity. He diminished the breadth of ocean by half, for he made it possible to cross the Atlantic in half the time previously necessary. The economy, moreover, in the cost of maritime transportation resulting from the use of Lieutenant Maury's charts was estimated at $90,000,000 francs annually. The suggestion to raise a monument to Lieutenant Maury was received with warm applause, and a provisional committee was formed to carry it out. The Journal's 1902 Almanac and Year Book contain much valuable information. You can't afford to be without it. Post-paid to any address upon receipt of price, 25 cents. THE LADIES APPRECIATE The bargains in Dr. Reed's Cushion Shoes. Get them now while you can. Sale room 4 Fourth street N., Kasota Block.
