

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons.

CASTORIA The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of...

What is GASTORIA Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic...

Berlin—Emperor William has conferred the Order of the Red Eagle upon Dr. von Hollen, the German ambassador to the United States. Grand Rapids, Mich.—Henry A. Taylor, of New York, was found guilty of conspiracy to bribe by the jury in the superior court. This is the second conviction of a result of the recent investigation of the city water scandal. The ice on the Susquehanna broke between Columbia and Marietta and passed down stream until it reached the old dam just below Columbia, where a jam formed. The water has entered the boiler-rooms of the electric light plant, drowning the fires and leaving the town in darkness. "I am an applicant for no political office. It is understood that all of the northwestern appropriations asked for, with the exception of the appropriation for the Burlington bay improvement, will be included in the bill. There will be no reductions in the demands made for the dock and dam and reservoir improvements. America's Good Taste is again strikingly illustrated. The Bone-Setter's References

Are His Cured Patients, Who Voluntarily Give Their Testimonials Above Their Signatures in the Leading Daily Newspapers of the Country—Many of Them are the Best People in the Land.

Every crippled person who begins an investigation of the Bone-Setter and his work, is confronted at the very start with the plain, simple principles of everyday honesty. First, he or she reads the testimonial in the paper from some cured patient. The specific address of the patient is always given with the printed signature. This stamps it as being perfectly honest, as it is. The inquirer then writes or goes to see the patient who has been cured. The published statements are found to be absolutely true in every particular. The next step is to write to the Bone-Setter and describe how they are crippled. In response they receive an honest reply, for if the Bone-Setter has good reasons for believing that nothing can be done for them, they are so written, plainly. If the description of the condition is such as to lead the Bone-Setter to believe that he can give the desired help, they are written favorably and invited to come to West Superior at once. After the examination is made the applicant is told just what can be done, approximately how long it will take, and the cost. If the applicant becomes a patient the work of righting the wrong is commenced at once. Every promise made is faithfully fulfilled, and truth and honesty characterizes the whole professional and business transaction, and sooner or later the patient gives his or her testimonial for publication, and thus the good work goes on. In writing give your street and number, write plain, enclose a stamp and reply, and address Bone-Setter, West Superior, Wis. "West Superior, Wis., Feb. 19, 1902. "To All Who Are Crippled: "When I was about four years old, I met with an accident that rendered me a cripple ever afterward until to-day. There was a trouble with my ankle and foot; the ankle was weak, and the foot turned out. For many years everything was done for my foot and ankle that could be done, but the desired relief was not given. I heard and read of the Bone-Setter and came to see him on the 13th of January last. He made an examination and told me that both my ankle and hip were dislocated. I did not know before that my hip was dislocated. He set my ankle at that time, without the least pain, and in less than a minute, as I have heretofore stated in this paper. To-day I came to his 'Home for Cripples,' again, where he set my hip perfectly. In the twinkling of an eye, so to speak, for it was done so quickly that I did not know when it was done, and that without the least pain in the world to me, with his bare hands, and seemingly with perfect ease to him. It is a lovely piece of work. Now I move easily in walking, and while there is still a slight limp, as I have heretofore stated, it is not the great change wrought. And as soon as the part becomes adjusted naturally, the limp will not be, in any way, the least semblance of my ever having been a cripple. The Bone-Setter's work is certainly wonderful, and I cheerfully recommend him to all who may be afflicted in any way crippled, to see him at the earliest convenient time. He has been upright, truthful and honest with me, and from what I have heard and seen, he is the same with all who apply to him. He makes the stranger within his house feel perfectly at home, and there is nothing too good for his patients; every kindness is shown them. (Signed) "EMMA DICKINSON, "710 E. 14th Street, Minneapolis, Minn.
