

would accept the apology in the same spirit in which it was offered. To everyone's surprise Mr. Laybourn simply opened the door a little wider and sprinkled some salt in it. He said: "I will leave it to every member of the house and others present as to the correctness of the charge relating to vacation of offices. He made no limitations to his charges. I will say now that his statement was untrue. I resent the insult then, I resent it now, and I will resent it if it is offered again. No one added another word and the matter was allowed to rest."

Sheriff's Salary Bill Passed.
Had the Hennepin commissioners any intention of opposing Senator Wilson's bill placing the sheriff and his staff on a salary basis and turning all the fees into the county treasury, they abandoned their plans, for the bill went through the house this morning without a hitch. It will become a law on April 1, doubtless greatly to the disarrangement of the plans of the present "combine" among the Hennepin commissioners. The bill was introduced by Representative Lawrence Johnson and explained that the measure affected only Hennepin county and was favored by the whole delegation.

A Grain Tax Bill.
A grain taxation bill introduced by Representative Wells appeared, providing that all grain in elevators, warehouses and grain houses must be taxed. The name of the bill was not given, but the charge is required to submit an oath-bound statement to the local assessor of all grain in stores here. The owners of the houses must pay the taxes, but are entitled to a lien on the grain against the owners.

The bill makes it a misdemeanor for an assessor to refuse to make reports to the assessor. For the agents to make false statements as to the amount of grain in the house is to constitute perjury. An important measure was introduced by Representative Nichols. It will be especially important this year in case the legislature proposes any constitutional amendments on the tax matters. This bill, similar to the one in the senate, requires for the passage of constitutional amendments a simple majority of the votes cast on the respective amendments.

A Hearing on Jacobson's Bill.
The senate tax committee held a public hearing this afternoon on the Jacobson bill. A delegation appeared from St. Louis county made up of County Commissioner R. F. Berdie of Patterson; County Commissioner E. M. Patterson, Captain T. E. McNeill, Alvin J. Merrill, D. E. Woodbridge, George H. Crosby of Duluth. An addition to this delegation is expected to arrive later. The people in the range, villages and cities have, it is said, been ignorant of the situation until now, but they are thoroughly opposed to the tonnage tax on ore, and another delegation is on its way here to talk against the bill.

Anderson's Inheritance Tax.
Representative Anderson's inheritance tax bill passed the house this afternoon, 52 to 2. There was little debate and all the talk was informational. Sherman Smith offered an amendment exempting all inheritances under $2,000, arguing that the bill would apply to insurance policies which were often the only estate. When he learned, however, that insurance policies could not be touched by the proposed law, he withdrew his amendment.

A County Work Bill.
Representative James A. Peterson introduced a bill on the subject of county commissioners of Hennepin county to contract for the business of the county according to business methods. The bill provides that in all contracts the expense exceeds $100 bids shall be advertised for in newspapers of general circulation giving ten days' notice of the opening of the bids. The bill is being introduced, however, to apply in cases of general emergency.

New House Bills.
H. F. 35, Nolan—Appropriating $322,000 for John K. Daniels and W. S. Jensen for services in constructing the better model of the new state capital for the Pan-American exposition. Appropriations.
H. F. 86, Wells—Providing for the listing and valuation of grain in elevators, warehouses and grain houses in the state. Taxes and tax laws.
H. F. 87, Nichols—Providing for an amendment to section 11 of article 14 of the state constitution, relating to the method of calling or amending the constitution of the state. Reception of bills.

IN THE MEANTIME
Senators Consider Small Bills While Awaiting Jacobson's Measure.
The only business of importance in the senate this forenoon was Senator Miller's proposed constitutional amendment, which provides a majority of the votes cast on future constitutional amendments instead of a majority of all votes cast, at the election. The bill was sufficient to carry the proposition. The bill was on general orders and was taken up in committee of the whole, its passage being recommended.

Light for Kasota.
The house memorial to congress, favoring Senator Hoar's bill defining "conspiracy" went through without opposition. Senator Johnson's bill, a law permitting small cities to furnish electric light, also had easy sailing. It is designed to be a law to permit to furnish Kasota with electric light. A bill was passed legalizing certain orders issued by the village of Olivia in excess of the authority of the village. Senator Grue secured the passage of his bill amending an act to provide that contracts and policies of insurance on property shall be valid and continue in force notwithstanding the promissory notes given by the insured thereon are not paid at maturity. The amendment provides that a lapse of six days in the payment of premiums or asessments to mutual companies shall operate to cancel the policy.

Two bills introduced by Senator Brower were passed. One is a bill to amend the force of final decrees issued by probate courts; and the other is a curative act. Senator Johnson's bill amending the law relating to vacation of offices, highways, etc., was passed; as was also the Schults bill, legalizing the incorporation of certain cities having a population of not less than 10,000 or over 15,000 inhabitants.

In committee of the whole, the senate reported for passage Senator Wilson's bill placing the care of persons suffering from infectious diseases a charge against the county instead of the city or town; Senator Grindelund's bill to authorize the formation of a new town and to issue bonds for that purpose; and Senator Sheehan's bill including telephone and telegraph companies within the provisions of the law permitting the issuance of mortgage bonds to raise money for the betterment of equipment or extension of lines.

A Bill to Amend "An act to appropriate money out of the internal improvement fund to build bridges and constructing roads in certain counties of the state."
The senate voted to postpone indefinitely the bill creating a state agent of the humane society. This bill proposed to entrust to the official named the duty of enforcing the laws against cruelty. It also provided that fines paid on account of violation of the law should go to this society.

A Party to Milwaukee.
"Unser Fritz" Weidenhammer and a party of well-known Minneapolitans will leave Milwaukee for Milwaukee on the Pioneer Line tonight at 7:30 this evening. Mr. Weidenhammer is so busy making the final preparations for the trip this afternoon that he could not be located in order to secure the list of Minneapolitans who expect to grasp the hand of royalty when Prince Henry reaches Milwaukee. Mr. Weidenhammer has been besting himself for the past week as to the plans of the Minneapolis delegation and many outsiders believe Minneapolis so as to be with the "bunch."

FERGUS IS LEAVING
Pioneer of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Montana.

FOUNDER OF FERGUS FALLS, MINN.
Fergus County in Montana Named for Him—Relatives Summoned to Lewistown.

Special to The Journal.
Lewistown, Mont., March 3.—In his 58th year, James Fergus, a pioneer of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Montana, is dying at this place, the county seat of Fergus county, that was named in his honor. His relatives have been summoned to his bedside.

The aged pioneer is one of the most respected men in Montana, and has played a large part in making the state. He was born in Scotland Oct. 13, 1813, and came to America with his parents when 19. He lived in the wilds of Wisconsin, then moved to Chicago, spending the winter of 1836-7 there. He owned 100 acres of land almost in the heart of Chicago for $8 an acre, but declined, thinking the price was exorbitant.

He moved to Lewistown in 1854 and founded the town of Fergus Falls, named in his honor. Seven years later he started across the plains from Minnesota with an ox team for Montana. He was in wagon and there were frequent brushes with the Indians and several thrilling experiences.

Mr. Fergus located the mining town of Bannack in Beaverhead county. The next year he moved to the Diamond mining camp in Beaverhead county. He represented Meagher county in the first constitutional convention and in the territorial legislature, and introduced a bill creating Fergus county.

For the past quarter of a century he has been looking after his stock interests in Fergus county. He visited Helena last year, and while absent went with age, but his intellect was as clear as ever.

Mr. Mayor and representatives of the citizens of St. Louis: It is my desire to thank you for your kind words in welcoming me to your city. I have now reached the most western point of my visit to the United States. I am sorry that I cannot go further westward and see more of your magnificent country, but, as you know, my time is limited. Since reaching America I have been traveling day and night through this wonderful country and I assure you that I have been deeply impressed by the hospitality and the kindly feeling that I have met with day and night. I wish to thank you and also to thank all of those with whom I have not been able to talk and shake hands. Many have come to my train in the middle of the night to welcome me and I am deeply grateful.

You know whose representative I am. I want you all to know the object of my mission to the United States—to cement the friendly bonds existing between the two countries. I want you to know that Germany is ever ready to exchange greetings: I want to shake hands across the Atlantic, whenever you are ready to do so. I am also the representative of a nation which is ever ready to fight: a nation of arms, but not a belligerent nation. My sovereign is ever an advocate of peace and intends keeping his peace with the nations.

I am deeply impressed by the vastness of your country and the largeness of its commerce and resources. This greatness grows more and more daily as I travel through your land. I find that the United States is worth having as a friend. Now let us drink to the city of St. Louis and its prosperity.

Drive and Departure.
On the conclusion of these ceremonies the party re-entered their carriages for the drive to the train, which was transferred to Forest park. The route followed took Prince Henry and the others through the finest residence section of the city, and over the route to the Fair site in Forest park, to the train.

ABDUL AZIZ BEN FEYSUL
He Captures an Arabian City in a Romantic Style.
Bombay, March 3.—Abdul Aziz Ben Faysul, a descendant of the old Wahabi empire, with an army of 2,000 men, has captured the city of Erid, in Central Arabia, and has taken possession of the city by stratagem at night with fifty followers. These men rode to the palace and killed the governor of Erid and the prince, and the governor's garrison of the city then surrendered, whereupon the army of Abdul Aziz Ben Faysul entered. It is believed that the Wahabi dynasty is endeavoring to regain its supremacy in Arabia, and that the capture of Erid, Nejd, and conquer the latter city. Many tribes are looking to the banner of Abdul Aziz Ben Faysul.
