THE PROSIC ONION

Interesting Facts About the Vegetable That Speaks for Itself—Some Ontario Verse.

Nearly every body eats onions. Some people deny it—young ladies particularly are averse to being known as onion eaters, but the demand for onion sets keeps up just the same. Onions are appreciated all the year round, but it is in the spring, when the early onion crop is the family staple for the first time, that all discretion and thought of consequences are thrown to the wind, and the entire tribe of onion eaters falls to with a relish.

Here's to the onion, A botanical bunion, According to some people's ideas; But to those who are wise, Its virtues comprise The essence of much that should please.

"Northern Grown" onion sets are earliest, and J. J. Hill says: "It is well understood that the further north either animal or vegetable life is developed, the better that development is," so that northern grown onions are considered best. Onion sets, ready to plant, and which produce the earliest onions, may be bought at 30 cents a quart to $1.00 a hundred pounds.

These facts, and much more about onions and other kinds of northern grown vegetables, are set forth in an interesting manner in the new catalogue of Northrup, King & Co., seedsmen, at 28 Hennepin avenue, Minneapolis.

If you love flowers you will find much here that you ought to know, besides the price of seeds. If you want to have a garden this summer, for vegetables or flowers, or both, call and see what we have to offer you. If you cannot call, write and we will send you a catalogue free.

UNION MEN ARE SATISFIED

Say Boycott Is Effective—Restaurants Say It's a Good "Ad."

Pickets from the cooks' union, which has declared a boycott against Chinese restaurants, still stand guard at the four Chinese eating houses in Minneapolis, and urge the strikers to keep up the fight. There are two pickets at each restaurant. They are stationed at either side of the entrances, and every one who is headed for the restaurant is stopped with a card bearing this inscription:

"We, as union men, ask you to keep away from Chinese restaurants. They are under a boycott. If you do not remember our actual grand than a majority of the chamber members. He also says, and adds that he is prepared to prove it in court, that a great number of the Chicago Board of Trade members do a larger percentage of their business than does the Coe company.

Mr. Hammond declares that the suit against him has been dictated by jealousy. He believes it has been instigated by Minneapolis firms who are jealous of the big business done by the Coe company since its organization, a few months ago. Said he:

"I do not claim that we place all our business on the Chicago Board of Trade or on the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, but there is as much of it as we want to. We shall fight this suit from first to last, and we will have the best legal talent in the northwest at our disposal. If we win, we will be done, and I firmly believe we will win the case. The Chicago board has been beaten on this proposition every time it has taken it into court, its quotations have been held to be public property just as soon as they are printed on the tape, the courts having held that to be equivalent to publication in a newspaper. They have lost cases in Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin and in other states; and I do not know of a single instance in which they have won. In Milwaukee they did win a case brought against a firm which advertised their quotations for sale; but that is a different proposition from the contention made here.

"You may say for me that when this case comes to trial it will develop some very interesting testimony regarding the business methods of certain firms connected with the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, and that some of them have been guilty of methods in 'treating out' customers that we would not tolerate for a minute; and I propose to do it, too.

Mr. Bedell of Bedell & Vanstrum declaration to give out any statement for publication.

Of the other defendants named all are conducting their business in localities outside of Minneapolis, although within the jurisdiction of the federal court which sits here.

RICH EASTER BLOOM

Brought to Its Prime Exactly at the Right Time.

The Glass Block is to have an exhibit extraordinary of Easter flowers this week. For weeks Manager James Souden of the Donaldson greenhouses, Thirty-fifth street and Portland avenue, has been bending every nerve and turning every trick known to the florist business in preparation for Easter week, and he promises that the results will be commensurate with the effort.

Special arrangements have been made for the reception of all visitors who may prefer to see the Easter stock in the greenhouse than in the store. The exhibit this week, and all will be made welcome. For the accommodation of evening visitors the greenhouses will be lighted through the glass blocks and windows on Wednesday the entire stock will be removed to the Glass Block, and beginning with Thursday morning, will be on exhibition for the night. The exhibit in the Nicollet avenue show windows of the establishment. It is said that it will be the largest exhibit of Easter flowers ever shown in Minneapolis. The exhibit will also include the finest collection of Easter lilies ever shown in the city. Of Easter lilies alone the exhibit will contain more than 8,000. Through exceptional niceties of the florist art every flower has been brought to its final state of perfection for this occasion. The backward ones have been stimulated to more rapid development, those too forward skillfully held back.

BOUGHT STOLEN WIRE

Ben Gordon, a Junk Dealer Gets Stiff Sentence.

Ben Gordon, who keeps a junk store at 129 Emerson avenue N. in the police court this morning on a charge of having purchased 150 pounds of copper wire from three boys, Ray Burleson, Arthur Holland and Martin Heilbach. The boys were arrested last week on a charge of 300 pounds of wire from the car barns of the Twin City Rapid Transit company at 129 Emerson avenue and Thirty-first street. The value of the wire was $100. Gordon was sentenced to six months in the work-house for the habit of buying all their stolen goods and that, moreover, he had told them that he would take all the copper wire that they could bring him. The boys were sentenced to three months in the work-house for the theft of the wire. Gordon stated that he had purchased the wire but had no idea that it was stolen property. The boys, however, insisted that he had bought it with the habit of buying all their stolen goods and that, moreover, he had told them that he would take all the copper wire that they could bring him. WHEN IT COUNTS

Dr. L. H. Hallock's Remarks on Municipal Reform.

Dr. Leavitt H. Hallock of Plymouth Congregational church, his sermon yesterday morning, on "Hosannas All the Week," advertised to municipal affairs. He said, in part:

"Touching some things now going on in our city, it is easy to get up a great meeting and shout ourselves hoarse over that which we condemn. But howling condemnation into the air accomplishes nothing. The time to correct municipal iniquity is when we are deciding upon whom we will entrust the administration. The time to correct abuses is at the time of election. If we are to have a municipal 'loyalty' at any price, or some personal 'pity' over-rides your judgment then, you cannot make it up by shouting your execrations in the air. Begin it right! Choose clean men, and thus only can you get a clean administration. You agree with me now; don't forget it when the primaries come!"

RUN OVER BY A WAGON

Nicholas Cordell's Death Not Due to Foul Play.

Coroner U. G. Williams had an inquest yesterday over the remains of Nicholas Cordell, a farmer living near Excelsior, who died very suddenly and under peculiar circumstances Friday evening. It was rumored at first that Cordell had been run over by a wagon. The coroner's jury learned that death resulted from injuries received by Cordell when he was run over by a wagon. The boys were sentenced to three months in the work-house for the theft of the wire. Gordon stated that he had purchased the wire but had no idea that it was stolen property. The boys, however, insisted that he had bought it with the habit of buying all their stolen goods and that, moreover, he had told them that he would take all the copper wire that they could bring him. The boys were sentenced to three months in the work-house for the theft of the wire.

WHEN IT COUNTS

Dr. L. H. Hallock's Remarks on Municipal Reform.

Dr. Leavitt H. Hallock of Plymouth Congregational church, his sermon yesterday morning, on "Hosannas All the Week," advertised to municipal affairs. He said, in part:

"Touching some things now going on in our city, it is easy to get up a great meeting and shout ourselves hoarse over that which we condemn. But howling condemnation into the air accomplishes nothing. The time to correct municipal iniquity is when we are deciding upon whom we will entrust the administration. The time to correct abuses is at the time of election. If we are to have a municipal 'loyalty' at any price, or some personal 'pity' over-rides your judgment then, you cannot make it up by shouting your execrations in the air. Begin it right! Choose clean men, and thus only can you get a clean administration. You agree with me now; don't forget it when the primaries come!"

RUN OVER BY A WAGON

Nicholas Cordell's Death Not Due to Foul Play.

Coroner U. G. Williams had an inquest yesterday over the remains of Nicholas Cordell, a farmer living near Excelsior, who died very suddenly and under peculiar circumstances Friday evening. It was rumored at first that Cordell had been run over by a wagon. The coroner's jury learned that death resulted from injuries received by Cordell when he was run over by a wagon. THREATENS TO SUE

Ye Sing May Fight Boycott in the Courts.

UNION MEN ARE SATISFIED

Say Boycott Is Effective—Restaurants Say It's a Good "Ad."

Pickets from the cooks' union, which has declared a boycott against Chinese restaurants, still stand guard at the four Chinese eating houses in Minneapolis, and urge the strikers to keep up the fight. There are two pickets at each restaurant. They are stationed at either side of the entrances, and every one who is headed for the restaurant is stopped with a card bearing this inscription:

"We, as union men, ask you to keep away from Chinese restaurants. They are under a boycott. If you do not remember our actual grand than a majority of the chamber members. He also says, and adds that he is prepared to prove it in court, that a great number of the Chicago Board of Trade members do a larger percentage of their business than does the Coe company.

Mr. Hammond declares that the suit against him has been dictated by jealousy. He believes it has been instigated by Minneapolis firms who are jealous of the big business done by the Coe company since its organization, a few months ago. Said he:

"I do not claim that we place all our business on the Chicago Board of Trade or on the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, but there is as much of it as we want to. We shall fight this suit from first to last, and we will have the best legal talent in the northwest at our disposal. If we win, we will be done, and I firmly believe we will win the case. The Chicago board has been beaten on this proposition every time it has taken it into court, its quotations have been held to be public property just as soon as they are printed on the tape, the courts having held that to be equivalent to publication in a newspaper. They have lost cases in Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin and in other states; and I do not know of a single instance in which they have won. In Milwaukee they did win a case brought against a firm which advertised their quotations for sale; but that is a different proposition from the contention made here.

"You may say for me that when this case comes to trial it will develop some very interesting testimony regarding the business methods of certain firms connected with the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, and that some of them have been guilty of methods in 'treating out' customers that we would not tolerate for a minute; and I propose to do it, too.

Mr. Bedell of Bedell & Vanstrum declaration to give out any statement for publication.

Of the other defendants named all are conducting their business in localities outside of Minneapolis, although within the jurisdiction of the federal court which sits here.

RICH EASTER BLOOM

Brought to Its Prime Exactly at the Right Time.

The Glass Block is to have an exhibit extraordinary of Easter flowers this week. For weeks Manager James Souden of the Donaldson greenhouses, Thirty-fifth street and Portland avenue, has been bending every nerve and turning every trick known to the florist business in preparation for Easter week, and he promises that the results will be commensurate with the effort.

Special arrangements have been made for the reception of all visitors who may prefer to see the Easter stock in the greenhouse than in the store. The exhibit this week, and all will be made welcome. For the accommodation of evening visitors the greenhouses will be lighted through the glass blocks and windows on Wednesday the entire stock will be removed to the Glass Block, and beginning with Thursday morning, will be on exhibition for the night. The exhibit in the Nicollet avenue show windows of the establishment. It is said that it will be the largest exhibit of Easter flowers ever shown in Minneapolis. The exhibit will also include the finest collection of Easter lilies ever shown in the city. Of Easter lilies alone the exhibit will contain more than 8,000. Through exceptional niceties of the florist art every flower has been brought to its final state of perfection for this occasion. The backward ones have been stimulated to more rapid development, those too forward skillfully held back.
