'U' Regents Take Steps for Expansion of Northrop Field. Lake McKenzie No Longer a Formidable Sheet of Water.

PLAN ONE LONG ENTERTAINED FAST WORK ON THE NEW TRACK. Relations Between Regents and Board of Control Still Indefinite.

Steps were taken by the university regents to-day which probably mean the enlargement of the present athletic field and ultimately a great field in keeping with the place the university has taken in western athletics. These steps were in the form of a request to the attorney general to commence condemnation proceedings for the acquisition of the land on the island near Northrop field on the east side of a drill ground. It is understood that the regents have options on other lots adjoining the Northrop field and the island lot, so that the successful conclusion of condemnation proceedings would be made. The local yards are busy and men are working over west to get freight trains ready to go west. The Northern Pacific does not expect to handle all freight without delay until the new track is finished. Jamestown people are fearful of a flood. Jim Lake, located in the James river, north of the city, is breaking up. Precautions will be taken to prevent damage along the river. The lake was filled with snow and ice and the warmer weather of the last few days made a great amount of water. The James river rose four feet last night.

They were accompanied by Professor E. E. Mohrman, their coach. The debate, which is the final in the Central Debate League, is upon the subject, 'Resolved, That the United States Government should demand that the Philippines be returned to the Philippines.' Minnesota has the affirmative.

OPEN A NEW SECTION

Lake of the Isles Property to be Moved. The Buyers Are Improving the Property and Will Push It. A new residence section, Island Park, is the latest development in the real estate situation. H. P. Goodnow has quickly buying in the addition on Lake of the Isles, to be located on 2, 3, 4 and 5 has been acquired over 100 lots—more than two-thirds of the tract. I. C. DeWitt, who previously to his untimely death, had with other men a plan for the development of which fell to Mr. Goodnow, who through Mr. Seeley's influence took up the real estate business about a year ago, immediately following his resignation of a lieutenant in the regular army.

The plan provides for the establishment of a neighborhood essentially homelike. Shade trees will be provided, sewer and water connections and sidewalks placed as fast as required and in a short time a residence section rivaling Sunnyside, Linden Hills and others will be on the market.

Since fall grading of lots hitherto unsuitable has been going on, already 50,000 yards of dirt have been moved. Two new houses are ready for occupancy and three more are about to be begun. Other houses for sale will be erected. This will supply a large market for the present supply of new section takes in all but one block of the addition. It is bounded on the north by Twenty-first street, on the west by Penn avenue, and on the east by Lake of the Isles boulevard. West of the boulevard is a wide strip of land, Oliver avenue, run diagonally through the addition; Newton avenue when put through will divide the section exactly in half. The lake of the Isles, which nearly surrounds the tract connects it with the Kenwood parkway, with Harriet and Calhoun boulevards.

Street facilities are provided by the Kenwood and Oak street car line. Kenwood school is near by.

HE WILL ESCAPE LIFE PENALTY

Being Allowed to Plead Guilty as to a Second and Older Victim. Nils Anderson Who Confesses a Revolting Crime.

If Nils Anderson does not spend the remainder of his life in the state penitentiary he may thank the prosecuting officers of Hennepin county for their mercy. Convicted by his own confession of a crime involving a little girl only 8 years old, there is only one sentence which Judge Pond can impose, imprisonment for life. The law provides that when such a victim is under 10 the court must give the maximum penalty. Anderson, however, has another victim who is 10, and this may save him from the extreme penalty, as a plea in this case will be accepted and sentence imposed accordingly, while, in the other case, the plea of guilty will not be accepted. The prisoner has lived in Minneapolis about eighteen years, and has been a coachman for some of the best families in the city. More recently he has been a teamster. Until these grave charges were made, the fellow had borne an excellent reputation, and many friends interceded for him. He shows every sign of penitence. Attorneys for Creditors Aim to Show Fraud at Present Hearing. Special to The Journal. Fargo, Minn., April 4.—The hearing in the N. P. Clarke case is in progress, and Clarke himself was on stand throughout the forenoon. The creditors' attorneys are examining the books of the assignee, and questioning the bankrupt regarding circumstances surrounding the alleged fraudulent transfers of real estate. They are also going into details regarding the chattel mortgage which he gave to J. J. Clark, of Grand Forks, and Andrew Montgomery of Scotland, these men foreclosing and the property being bid in by Mrs. Clarke. They are making efforts to show that the giving of these mortgages was simply a scheme to get the property into Mrs. Clarke's hands. The examination will last over to-morrow unless there is an adjournment.

STOLE A GALLON OF OIL

Supt. Oker's Burglar Thought He Was Getting Oil. City Officials Simply Can't Hasten Water Main Extensions. City Controller is Willing to Have City Council Anticipate Revenues. Officials of the water department, members of the water works committee and the city engineer consulted with City Attorney Healy and Controller Rogers nearly all yesterday trying to devise some plan of relieving the financial embarrassment due to the mayor's tying up of the water works bond issue in the supreme court.

It was decided that nothing could be done to hasten the construction of the much-needed water main extension. A foot of pipe can be laid before August or September—too late to accomplish anything more than a small part of the work planned for this season.

A way was found, however, to proceed with the new pumping station. It is the city council's duty to anticipate the revenues of the department. The council will be asked to set aside $74,000 of the revenues of the department for pumping station construction, and this amount will keep the work going until additional money can be obtained from the sale of the bonds. This plan is, of course, based on the belief that the court will confirm the validity of the bonds.
