G. A. R. Would Not Resent Retirement of Miles.

SO SAY LOCAL REPRESENTATIVES

They Think Miles Has Been Indecret and Are Willing to Trust President.

Sympathy with General Miles over his difficultly with the administration finds little expression among Grand Army men of this city. On the contrary, many of them strongly uphold the president and would not resent the retirement of General Miles. The G. A. R. as an organization, would not take any official action, but any opposition to Miles' retirement would come from individuals. S. H. Towler, adjutant general of the Grand Army, in speaking of the matter to-day, said:

There has been no expression from the Grand Army of the Republic in regard to the controversy between President Roosevelt and General Miles. The matter is of a political nature and the G. A. R. doesn't take part in political affairs in an official way. The only expression of any retirement would come from individuals, and then largely for political reasons. There is no reason why Grand Army men should love General Miles more than hundreds of other civil war veterans who have achieved distinction and who hold high positions and commands than Miles. General Miles has had his fair share of honors which come as the result of faithful and efficient service, but he has not advanced military honors since the civil war. An officer of the army is entitled, as a matter of course, to his individual opinions, but he has no right to speak for the Grand Army. As far as I know, the president is not displeased with the attitude of the Grand Army. I do not believe that any protest from civil war veterans would be made. If any were made, it would be largely for political reasons. As far as I know, the president is in a position to know what is best. I have the greatest confidence in his judgment.

Major H. A. Norton, a member of Rawlston Post, said: Miles is a good man but the president is right in the matter. Miles' retirement would bring no protest from me, and I think that the Grand Army men of Minneapolis and the west would not resent it to any extent. Of course Miles has personal admirers and these might be displeased, but the G. A. R. as a whole would not. Miles has a good record, but at the present department commander in St. Paul with whom I talked expressed it, "he has got his foot in it" by his unwise actions. If there is any one thing supposed to be done by the president, it is to get rid of the part of a soldier, and Miles should have an example in this. The Grand Army, I think, would support the president in any action he may take.

ENTITLED TO LICENSES

Pharmacists and Assistants Who Passed the Recent Exams.

Results of the recent examination held by the state board of pharmacy have been announced as follows: Passed the examination for full pharmacists: J. Alfred Ringnell, Frank J. Burke, Cyrus C. Carpenter, Joseph H. Cosgrove, Arthur G. Drake, Paul C. Fuller, George C. Greening, Louis H. Hand, Oscar A. Helberg, George A. Hallman, Olof Johnson, Albert A. Kurtz, Frank T. Shackelford, Lindsey A. Stockell, Adolph C. Douglass, Minneapolis; Walter P. Davis, Charles E. Wieg, Andrew T. West, St. Clair, Ennis N. Weed, St. Paul; Peter J. Aftens, New Ulm; Samuel Evander, Battle Lake; Will L. Goodrich, Audubon; Oscar Hargrave, Roseau; Elms set in the next few days there will also be danger of a greatly reduced acreage of corn, spring wheat, oats, etc.

Shipments of flour, eastbound, last week, were 48,558 barrels, a decrease of 47,845 barrels from the previous week and 27,771 from the corresponding week last year. Grain shipments were 1,119,000 bushels, a decrease of 231,000 bushels from the previous week and of 923,000 bushels from last year. Provision shipments were 21,293 tons, a decrease of 8,847 tons from the previous week and an increase of 2,135 tons over last year. All western lines report a good miscellaneous traffic in merchandise, coal, lumber and building materials, but, although large, it does not show any increase of importance over last year, and first-class merchandise traffic showed a slight easing up last week in westbound shipments. The grain business of the western roads last week was lighter than at any time within the last three years.

J. J. HILL NOT WORRIED

Supreme Court's Action Doesn't Affect Main Point, He Says.

New York, April 22.—President James J. Hill of the Northern Securities company says that the action of the supreme court in the Washington merger case does not worry him in the least. He says: "The main point at issue is not affected by permitting the state of Washington to bring an action against the Northern Securities company. No matter what is done our property rights cannot be taken from us. The men who formed the Northern Securities company own certain railroad properties. I don't see that any construing of the law can interfere with our rights to hold properties legally acquired. Suppose the courts decide that there shall be a change in the form of ownership. That cannot alter the actual conditions of control. Some men have a coat cut one way and some have the garment cut another way, but each man is entitled to his coat so long as he pays for it and enjoys legal ownership of it.

I can see no reason why the Northern Securities company should be dissolved. That is an organization formed solely for the purpose of holding certain securities which the legal owners wish to retain. The dissolution of the company would mean the dissolution of interests at stake in the decision in this case. The tearing to pieces of the Northern Securities company would mean the dissolution of combinations involving thousands of millions of dollars.

Want Their Station Reopened.

Washington, April 22.—An effort is being made to have the Elgin station reopened in Central City for the transaction of business. When the company built several years ago, a station, building, tracks and freight cars were used for some time, but were discontinued because of the falling off in business. The increase in population of the hills, however, has caused the reopening of the station-house. C. W. Sherman, who is preparing a directory of the Black Hills, believes that there are 1,100 persons residing between the mouth of Poudre river and the mouth of the Black Hills. This is taken from Central City and Gayville. This is almost 650 shown by the 1900 census.

A New Omaha Extension.

The extension of the Minnesota and Wisconsin division of the North-Western system, from Elmwood to Weston, will be opened May 1. This will give the Omaha system, which is a part of the North-Western, 1,606 miles.

MISS MCKINSTRY HONORED. Awarded a Place in Exhibition in Paris Salon. Special to The Journal. Fairbault, Minn., April 22.—Miss Grace E. McKinstry of this city, and Mrs. W. McKinstry of this city, have been awarded a place in this year's exhibition in the Salon in Paris. Of 2,000 foreign artists competing for prizes, she is the eighty-ninth successful one. Miss McKinstry has been traveling the past year in Spain, France and England. At present she is in London, but expects to return to America in the early summer, soon after the opening of the Salon. This is the second time she has been awarded the honor, her first picture having been exhibited several years ago during a previous trip to Europe.

A FAMOUS TRIO. Hofmann, Gerardy and Kreiser Enjoying a Triumphant Progress. The most important musical event of the spring is the "rain" festival of Josef Hofmann, pianist; Jean Gerardy, cellist; and Fritz Kreiser, violinist, on Thursday evening at the Lucean Theater. These three distinguished artists played last year at the University of Detroit, Cleveland, and Cincinnati before the largest audiences that have greeted any musical attraction in those cities during the present season. Neither Hofmann, Gerardy, nor Kreiser expects to return for four or five years to come. Their concert here on Thursday evening therefore will be the last opportunity the music lovers of Minneapolis will have to hear them for some time. Judging from the enthusiasm manifested and the constant demand for tickets, the audience will be one of the largest of the season.

All leading real estate dealers will be represented with good bargains on real estate pages in to-morrow night's Journal. Watch for them.

MINNESOTA CAPTURES A BRIDE. Special to The Journal. La Crosse, Wis., April 22.—Fire, started by a cross, swept the Minnesota side of the river opposite La Crosse for three miles last night, burning buildings and everything in its path. The total destruction of River Junction was prevented by the arrival of two Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul engines. The crews started counter fires which checked the big conflagration within a few rods of the town. The loss is estimated at $5,000.

THESE WORE THE GRAY United Confederate Veterans in Possession of Dallas. Dallas, Texas, April 22.—With the music of many bands and cheers from thousands of throats, the twelfth annual reunion and meeting of the United Confederate Veterans began to-day at the Auditorium at the fair grounds—now called Camp Albert Sidney Johnston. The crush of visitors was the largest in the history of Dallas. The convention building, seating 8,600 people, was filled soon after the veterans were called to order by General K. M. Van Zandt, president of the Texas Reunion association.

Interpersing the speeches songs of the Southland were mingled with those of the whole nation. They were sung in this order: "America," "Bonnie Blue Flag," "Dixie," "Star Spangled Banner," "The Girl I Left Behind Me," and again the unifying "Dixie."

SAVED A TOWN Minnesota Side of River Opposite La Crosse Swept by Fire. Special to The Journal. TO STOP SPITTING Sidewalk Hogs Must Quit or Suffer the Penalty. The health department will very shortly begin a crusade against the obnoxious custom of spitting on the sidewalk. An ordinance making this a misdemeanor, with a penalty of from $1 to $5 attached, was passed by the council in 1898, but no attempt has ever been made to enforce it. Health Commissioner Hall plans to first call the attention of the public to its carelessness in this regard by warning signs, believing that much good will be accomplished thereby. Later it may be found necessary to make some arrests. Dr. Hall recommended the above action at a meeting of the board of health yesterday and was told to go ahead. He was authorized to purchase as many signs as necessary up to $500 and locate them along the downtown thoroughfares.

TOOK A SHOT AT PASTOR FUNERAL WAS DELAYED

HE WAS PREACHING AT THE TIME LABOR JAR HAD TO BE SETTLED

Career of Negro Minister No Summer-Day Dream—He Has Three Wounds. Special to The Journal. Des Moines, Iowa, April 22.—Rev. O. A. Johnson of the African Methodist Episcopal church of Oklaheola is entitled to wear the crown as the most strenuous representative of the church militant in this part of the country. The Rev. Mr. Johnson's life is one continual round of excitement. Six months ago, while he was fervently engaged in unraveling the problem of salvation from his pulpit, Miss Hattie Nelson, one of his flock, walked into the church and, after dramatically charging him with having betrayed her, fired a shot at him, but missed. Recently he was bombarded by a colored man named Edward Murray, city scavenger of Oklaheola. Murray maintained the pastor has wronged him in a land deal, and to get revenge rammed the contents of a 38-caliber revolver at him and finally threw the gun at the reverend gentleman. Johnson is now lying in the hospital with three severe bullet wounds, none of them of a fatal nature, and Murray is in jail.

Special to The Journal. Omaha, Neb., April 22.—Labor troubles caused an unobscured wait of an hour at the funeral of James R. Stafford yesterday. Stafford was a pest master of the Masons and his lodge made arrangements to hold services at the grave. The family ordered a hearse and two carriages from another house. When the drivers of the carriages secured by the lodge arrived and saw the vehicles of the rival place, they returned their rigs to the stables, asserting trouble between the employers and employees of the other firm. Another hearse was ordered before the funeral could proceed.

AN EARLY CONVENTION

IOWA REPUBLICANS SPEAK FOR IT

Special to The Journal. Des Moines, Iowa, April 22.—The republican state central committee will probably meet Tuesday, May 6, for the purpose of fixing the time and place of holding the state convention. It is possible the meeting may be arranged a week earlier, but this is unlikely and Senator James E. Bruce, member of the committee from the ninth district, said to-day he thought the meeting would be early in May. There is a strong movement among candidates to have the state convention held early. Some favor holding the convention in June or early in July. If this is not done, then it is probable the date will be fixed much later than usual and the first week in September will be the time most likely to be set. There is little of no question the convention will be held in Des Moines and about all the candidates for state offices have already taken headquarters at the Savery. It is generally understood here that State Chairman Spence wants to be re-elected as head of the state central committee. Whether he is re-elected depends largely on how completely the Cummins men get control of the committee. The belief is that R. W. Clayton of the sixth district, whose term will not end until 1903, will not resign, even if he is out of the state and holding down a job under Secretary Shaw at Washington. If he should resign, this would give the Cummins men the chance to elect a member of the committee from the sixth district and would give them full control.
