The striking journeymen bakers are trying to induce the grocers to boycott the bakeries which refuse to recognize the union. Proprietors of restaurants are being asked to take the same stand, and several have already done so. The union bakers have greatly increased as a result of the strike. Only one bakery is still open out of work.

THE WEATHER

The Predictions.

Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota—Partly cloudy, with probably showers to-night or Thursday; easterly winds. Upper Michigan—Fair, with probably frost to-night; Thursday, partly cloudy, with probably showers in western portion; northeast winds. Wisconsin—Partly cloudy, with probably showers to-night and in the western portion to-night; northeast winds. Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota—Partly cloudy, with probably showers to-night or Thursday; variable winds.

For Minneapolis and vicinity: Unsettled, with probably showers to-night and Thursday.

Weather Conditions.

There have been light showers during the past twenty-four hours in the Ohio valley, and thence southward to the Ohio gulf region and westward into central Nebraska, and also along the Pacific slope. There have been very slight changes in temperature except in the middle Mississippi valley, where it is cooler than it was yesterday morning. The pressure conditions have changed very little during the past twenty-four hours. The high pressure continues north of Lake Superior and Minnesota, and the "low" is still in the western part of the Rocky mountain region.

HER LONG LOST SON

Found by a St. Paul Woman After Nine Years' Search.

Mrs. Ethel Seales of St. Paul, after searching diligently nine years for her son, who was kidnapped, was rewarded yesterday by finding him an inmate of the state training school at Anckerly, Minn. Mrs. Seales secured a divorce from her husband nine years ago and was awarded custody of the child. Shortly afterwards the boy was kidnapped and all trace of both him and the father disappeared. Not long ago it was ascertained that the father was living in Pueblo, Col., and an investigation revealed the fact that the boy had been sent to the training school for larceny. Mrs. Seales secured permission from the authorities to take the child back to St. Paul with her.

Employers Formally State Their Version of Present Difficulties.

WAGE QUESTION NOT INVOLVED

Demands of the Union Reviewed and Reasons Given for Refusing Them.

Minneapolis employing bakers, who decline to consider all the demands of their striking employers, are doing so in the belief that a stand at this time will prevent more serious trouble in the future. Aside from the physical impossibility of abolishing night work on account of equipment, there is a question as to the status of the union. The employers to-day issued the following statement:

To the Public: Believing that the public will be interested in knowing the truth about the position taken by many of the employing bakers of this city in the trouble which exists between some of us and our former employees, we desire to make the following statement:

There was no dispute between us and our employees on the question of wages; all of us were willing to pay the scale of wages and give the number of hours of labor asked for. Many of us were paying even higher wages than the men asked, and are to-day paying higher wages than the union scale. The men made two special demands that we could not accede to—

The first was that night work should be entirely done away with. Many of us could not give up night work at the present time, because of the absolute need of fresh goods every morning in hotels and restaurants, and also because it was impossible to make all the goods needed by our customers by working in day time only. Article 4 of the Bakers' Union Agreement demanded that no work should be done after 8 p. m.

This would prevent any employer who is a practical baker and doing business on a small scale, from going into his own bakery shop at 8 p. m. and making even a pie or a loaf of bread.

Cakes, pies and pastry require our ovens to be cooled down to a moderate heat while bread needs a hotter oven to be baked in, and with a high temperature are secured by baking the bread at night, and letting the ovens cool off while baking cakes during the day. The public can readily see that firm baking both cakes and bread, would have to have a double outfit of ovens, and much additional expense for fuel, etc. In order to do all the work in day time, and many of us could not secure this additional outfit because we are doing business in rented premises and our landlords would not build the extra ovens, as a first class brick oven costs a great deal of money to build.

One of the demands that was made on us, was that we should employ no one but members of the Bakers Union, No. 222.

As to this demand we all felt that an employer should have the privilege to employ any one and be the judge as to his fitness and willingness to pay even better wages than the union scale. We have never discriminated against union men; many of our employers, and we have conferred with committees appointed by the union; communicated with its officers, and offered to leave all our employers would not arbitrate between us and our employees to an arbitration committee of five; two of whom were to be appointed by Bakers Union No. 222, two by the employer, and these four to choose a fifth member.

We offered to compromise the night work question by paying more wages to men working nights in the shops where night work was necessary but our offers of compromise were rejected, and the men insisted on the contract prepared by them, or nothing.

We regret the trouble which has arisen, knowing that the public has been put to much inconvenience; that many of our best workers have lost positions they had held for years at wages of from $12 to $18 per week, with steady work, and because we also have been much less and inconvinient.

Signed: Minneapolis Bakers' Association. C. M. Volander, E. M. Dorrett, E. J. Lovold, Norway Bakery, C. T. Lewis, G. T. Green, in the ladies' ordinary, where toasts were responded to by Rev. H. P. Harding, Rev. G. L. Morrill, Judge Daniel Fish, former Mayor James Gray, Rev. E. W. Shurtz, N. Matson, Professor Matson, and Samuel Thayer. During his remarks Judge Fish thanked the Loyal Legion for electing a Rawlins post man to the position of commander. George Bradley, Jr., Minneapolis; Kenneth Clark, St. Paul; Lyman Dauphin Baird, Austin.

Following the election members sat down to a banquet in the ladies' ordinary, where toasts were responded to by Rev. H. P. Harding, Rev. G. L. Morrill, Judge Daniel Fish, former Mayor James Gray, Rev. E. W. Shurtz, N. Matson, Professor Matson, and Samuel Thayer. During his remarks Judge Fish thanked the Loyal Legion for electing a Rawlins post man to the position of commander. ## EXPECT TO GET THEM

St. Paul Police Close Up on Mayor's Murderers.

The St. Paul police are elated over the prospect that the murderers of Officer Mayer will be under arrest within a few days. Chief O'Connor left the city in a mysterious manner Monday night, and while nothing is known of his whereabouts, yet it is thought that he has received a tip of the whereabouts of Havlin and Kirby and has gone to get them. Meeting them at the depot, he is awaiting the return of Inman from Kansas City, which may not be for some time, as he is also wanted by Nebraska authorities for murder and by Iowa officials for bank robbery.

HOGS WITH RABIES

An Infected Dog Started the Trouble Near Jordan.

Reports received by the state board of health from Jordan, Minn., state that a dog suffering with rabies bit several hogs belonging to a farmer near there, and that all the animals have died from the disease. The dog was killed, but it is not known yet whether there will be a spread of the disease or not.

JULIUS VOIGHT AND HIS VICTIM

JULIUS W. VOIGHT ELZORA WELCH

Mrs. Julius W. Voight, wife of the man who committed suicide Monday night after murdering Elzora Welch in the Park Hotel on Fourth street, called at the morgue last night and identified the remains as those of her husband. She became hysterical when she saw the body. She said that her married life had been happy until her husband became acquainted with the girl, upon whom she laid all the blame.

Mrs. Voight is in poor circumstances and is left with three children to care for, the eldest of whom is but 8 years of age. She made partial arrangements for the disposition of the remains and her brother came to the city to-day and took the body to Chaska, where it will be buried.

A telegram was also received by Chief of Police Ames from the dead girl's father ordering the remains shipped to Verdale. They were taken to an undertaker and were shipped to-day to her former home, where interment will be made. The girl was 20 years of age.

COOLTH TO COST MORE

Ice Cream Jobbers Agree to Raise Their Prices.

That cold, hard fact—the organization of an ice trust in Minneapolis—is said to be responsible for the action of the Minneapolis Ice Cream Manufacturers' association in boosting prices yesterday. One quart of ice cream in bulk or in one-flavor bricks, was raised from 20 to 25 cents. Special Sunday prices for one and two quarts and one gallon, heretofore quoted at 30 cents, 50 cents and 80 cents, respectively, have been raised to 35 cents, 55 cents and $1.20.

One of the association explained that prices would be adapted from time to time to the rise in the cost of materials. Seven of the nine firms of the association signed the agreement.

BOOTHS FOR ELKS

Carpenters Begin Construction—Mensagerie Coming in Installments.

The work of constructing booths for the Elks' June fair and carnival was commenced yesterday. The carpenters are running the work rapidly, and by evening the foundation timbers for booths had been laid for a block on First avenue N. between Sixth and Seventh streets. George Cooke, chairman of the committee on building, says that the booths and special architectural features of the fair will be completed in ten or twelve days.

Seventeen trained wild animals which are to be a feature of Jabour's circus and mensagerie arrived in Minneapolis yesterday over the Great Western from the circus show at Kansas City. They were in charge of Tom Auer, a noted animal trainer. The beasts were taken to the Exposition building, where they will be given daily exhibitions in their respective acts until the opening of the carnival June 2. The lot included eight lions, three leopards, a dancing bear, a pack of hyenas, wolves and a dog. More animals will be arriving every few days from now on. Most of them will leave New York for Minneapolis June 25, when Jabour's entire show will be on route.

The preliminary arrangements for the big annual parade which is to be a special feature of Tuesday, June 10, were made yesterday, when the Elks' executive committee met with a committee from the Automobile Club consisting of H. H. Kenkel, chairman; H. J. Clark and F. E. Dickinson. Mr. Kenkel says there will be not less than seventy-five floats in line. The arrangements will be beautifully decorated with flowers. Valuable prizes will be awarded the winners.

FINE FURNITURE

Your Credit is Good at the New England.

We are well aware that our store buildings are old-fashioned and illly conform to the standard of service we aspire to, but this is a matter we cannot remedy—we would if we could. But there are some distinct advantages about our establishment worthy of mention. One, that our enormous floor space makes a most comfortable place to shop in; and again, goods always look a hundred per cent better when they reach one's home than when seen in our store; and yet again, our small comparative expense account enables us to sell fine goods a third cheaper (an actual fact) than in other cities or other stores. So, when looking for Fine Furniture, Carpets or Draperies, just forget, if you can, the frame of the picture, (our buildings), and rivet your attention on the beautiful artistic goods we are showing, the pick of the foremost factories of the land.

THE FRAWLEY COMPANY

Its Coming Engagement Will Introduce Some New Players.

Members of the Frawley stock company will arrive in Minneapolis early next week, although the company does not open its season here until May 25. This week the company is in Denver, where crowded houses have enjoyed its production of "Tribby." The opening bill here will be "Brother Officers," a play new to local theater-goers.

Afternoons of the company have been changed considerably since its last appearance here. Chief among the new-comers is Edwin Holt, the original colonel in "Arizona," and a great Minneapolis favorite. Mr. Holt will be remembered also for his work with Nance O'Neil in the McKee Rankin company.

May Buckley, leading lady of the Critteron stock company last season, is with Frawley. Miss Mary Van Buren will play the leads. Marie Howe the character parts, Christine Hill the old woman, and Miss Buckley the ingenue. Other members of the company are J. R. Amory, Wallace Shaw, Frank Matthew, William De Shetley, Gaston Bell, Edwin Ribarz, Louise Compton and Daniel Frawley himself.

Wonderful Cures

Men, contemplating treatment, you should consider thoroughly the factors of skill, experience, reliability, etc., of a Doctor or Specialist before intrusting to him your health; the perfect and lasting recovery of which means so much to your future life and happiness. You should consider the quick cure illusion and free cure fallacy as an intelligent man would consider a business proposition. You do not want to be mutilated and maimed for life in trying to be cured of Rheumatism, painful obstructions and kindred troubles in a few days. Every afflicted man owes it to himself and his posterity to get cured safely and positively without leaving any blight or weakness in his system. The many years of my successful practice prove that my methods of treatment are certain and not experimental. Call at my office, and if I find that you cannot be cured I will not accept your money under any conditions; but if upon examination I find you are curable I will guarantee a safe and positive cure in as short a time as the nature of your case permits. I will render you robust and strong mentally and physically. My patients, middle-aged and old men, call at my offices to-day or write for my book, free, which will explain the diseases I cure and how I cure them to stay cured when others fail.
