S. S. MATTERS DISCUSSED

BY ENGLISH LUTHERANS HERE

Synod Declines Invitation of Augustana Synod for Union of Two Bodies.

The Sunday school convention of the English Lutheran synod organized at Salem church to-day with Rev. C. F. Gehl of Racine, Wis., presiding and Augustana Lagerstrom of Minneapolis, as secretary.

Papers were read as follows: "The Officers of the Sunday School," Professor G. W. Oestlund, "The Call of the Sunday School," Rev. F. E. Jensen, "Our Graded System," Rev. H. G. Gehl, "The Public School Lesson Plan in the Primary Department," Mrs. Heideck, Racine. The last being by a trained public school teacher was highly practical.

The afternoon program was as follows: "Qualifications of the Lutheran Sunday School Teacher," Miss Alma Forrester, "Duties of the Sunday School Teacher," Professor Paul G. Schmidt, "Bible Geography," Rev. William K. Frick, "Bible Text (normal class)" by Rev. A. J. D. Haupt.

To-morrow morning Rev. W. K. Frick of Milwaukee will preach at Salem church. "The First Commandment—the Personality of God, the Majesty of God," Dr. Gehl, will preach at St. John's church and the English Lutheran pulpit of St. Paul, North St. Paul, Lidsman, Milwaukee, will preach at St. Paul.

To-morrow evening Rev. M. Wahlstrom, D. D., president of the Augustana college, will give an address on "Education."

Yesterday the synod declined the invitation of Augustana synod to become its English conference. In the evening Rev. Dr. Harper spoke enthusiastically on his work in India, and of that of the Lutheran missionary in blazoning the gospel to other peoples.

Rev. A. J. Reichert told of his three years of labor in Porto Rico.

WILL CONTINUE FIGHT THE LOCAL ANTIVACCINATIONISTS

Supreme Court's Decision in St. Paul Case Will Not Diminish Their Ardor.

The decision of the supreme court in favor of the St. Paul school board in an anti-vaccination case, will not deter Minneapolis antivaccinationists from making a fight.

William R. Dobbyn said to-day: "The court is as handsomely as it is in this instance the usual order had been reversed. The Order of Eagles had originated in the west and spread eastward."

Dr. Schwatka complimented the Minneapolis aerie for its splendid entertainment to the grand aerie and visiting Eagles as a body.

John Cort of Seattle, Wash., past grand worthy president, responded to the toast, "Early History of Our Order." Others who responded to toasts were: Charles I. Lynn, Baker City, Ore., "The Future of Our Order," A. V. Von Raith, "Our New York Aerie," Senator P. F. Trainor, New York, "Bucking the Tiger," W. F. Edwards, Anderson, Ind., "Tribulations of Our Order," E. P. Palistier, Kansas City, "Carrie Nation," Dr. J. J. Schlowig, aerie physician, "The Prescriptions of an Aerie Physician," Secretary A. E. Parttridge, "The Burden of a Secretary," J. R. Sovereign, Wallace, Idaho, "Eagles and Buzzards."

An informal smoker was given to visit the aerie last evening at the West hotel by the Milwaukee delegation.

"Nosing" Trip of F. G. James, Lester B. Elwood, and E. G. Walton

DELIGHTED WITH MISSOURI CITY

They Return With Valuable Points for Their Business Brethren in Minneapolis.

F. G. James, Lester B. Elwood and E. G. Walton, self-constituted committee of Minneapolis real estate men, returned from a "nosing" inspection of Kansas City libraries.

The trio agree that it would be good policy for every member of the Minneapolis Real Estate board and of the park board to visit Kansas City.

"Kansas City felt the impending crisis of 1893 earlier than Minneapolis did and was far worse hit, its interests were more widely spread and consequently harder to corral, but to prove its strength it came to life earlier and for over two years has experienced an activity in building and improvements second to no city in the country."

"Without parks or boulevards, thinking only of the dollar, without shade trees or lawns, the city one morning woke up to the fact that they needed beauty as well as factories, good roads as well as frackage. So they went to work."
