AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

It may truthfully be said that hard luck lost yesterday's game with Milwaukee for the millers. In one sense it was not hard luck, for the brewers made about 250 per cent as many hits as Minneapolis. In another sense it was not hard luck, for Wilmore's men made just about twice as many errors as did Clingman's.

The hard luck consisted in the fact that Quillin and Curley were both out of the game with injuries, and as a consequence Grant and Zalusky played second base short respectively. Grant performed acceptably, but Zalusky made five blunders out of fourteen chances, and his misplays alone were responsible for half the runs scored by Milwaukee.

No blame attaches to Zalusky, for he is not a shortstop and never pretended to be. Neither can the manager be held responsible for the fact that his infielders were in the hospital. The hoodoo alone was the guilty party.

But even with the misplays and poor hitting, it was a rattling good game, one that was only won by Milwaukee by a close score after fourteen innings of exciting play. Newlin pitched a steady game for the millers and although thirteen hits were credited against him, he kept these well scattered and with any support would have won the game.

Olmstead made his debut for the brewers, and was invincible, allowing but three hits in twelve innings, when McWhirter was sent in to bat for him, after which Herman officiated on the rubber. Billy Phyle carried off the fielding honors for the millers, while Clingman, Schiebeck and Dungan captured several promising hits.

Milwaukee's game was a 2-0 victory over St. Paul. The score: Milwaukee, 2; St. Paul, 0. Runners on base: Milwaukee, 2; St. Paul, 0. Errors: Milwaukee, 0; St. Paul, 0.

St. Paul, June 14.—But for one bad inning Louisville would have shut out Columbus. At all other times the locals proved effective. The locals bunched hits on Wagner. Attendance, 1,500. Score: Louisville, 1; Columbus, 0.

Indianapolis, June 14.—Pardee pitched five good innings and the visiting millers got nothing out of him. Despite a batting roll from Toledo in the seventh, Third Baseman Smith was put out of the game for throwing a ball at Umpire Ehrhart. Score: Indianapolis, 5; Toledo, 0.

St. Paul, June 14.—But for one bad inning Louisville would have shut out Columbus. At all other times the locals proved effective. The locals bunched hits on Wagner. Attendance, 1,500. Score: Louisville, 1; Columbus, 0.

READY FOR SUBURBAN

TWELVE HORSES WILL START

Gold Heels, Advance Guard and Blues Were the Early Favorites in the Betting.

New York, June 14.—The $10,000 suburban handicap at the mile and a quarter was run at Sheepshead Bay this afternoon. There are twelve entries. When T. E. Higgins' Watercolor, who was all along the favorite in the winter books, was declared out of the suburban ten days ago, General F. C. McLevee's 4-year-old colt, Gold Heels, by the Bard-Heel and T. B. was made the choice, partly because of his form of year ago and partly for the reason that he had shown vast improvement in his work this spring.

Gold Heels made his first appearance of the year at Gravesend on June 7. He carried 125 pounds, or two pounds more than he will take up to-morrow and at a mile and an eighth he was beaten by P. B. Madden's colt, Bill, with 90 pounds in the fast time of 1:52 1-5.

In this race Gold Heels, who was clearly short-hung in the final strides. He has not engaged in a race since then, but he has shown such favorable work that the more prominent layers said last night that he would in all probability remain the favorite in the final prices appeared this afternoon.

Advance Guard, the 5-year-old, Great Tom horse, who has displayed consistent form for all the year, was practically on even terms with Gold Heels in the betting. Conservative turfmen agree that Advance Guard comes very near being the best of the older horses in point of form and excellence. Blues has been an erratic performer this season; in fact, he has been put down in some quarters as a disappointment, with his yearling achievements in mind. He was the favorite in the Brooklyn, but failed to come up to expectations.

W. C. Rollins' 5-year-old Herbert, by Albatross and Albatross, was another dangerous factor, it is thought. He should shoulder 121 pounds and will be ridden by Odum, who is in fine form just now. Despite Herbert's disappointing performance in the Brooklyn when he finished far back in the race, he has been working steadily, and on Thursday he turned a mile and a quarter in 2:14.

On work, and keeping in mind his great race in the Brooklyn, when he came from behind and finished third, J. E. Madden's 2-year-old colt, Protector, by Hastings and Tarantella, will cut a big figure in the betting. For the past ten days Protector has been steadily backed in O'Leary's and Chapman's circles, and he has been in fine form in the estimation of the turfmen.

The rain of last night made the track heavy and an outsider may land the prize. The continued wet weather in England has necessitated the postponement of the third and final game of the series for the American polo cup from Saturday, June 14, until Monday, June 16.

The Grand Western handicap tournament, under the auspices of the Denver Trap club, was begun yesterday at Denver. The program included eight events of 25 targets each. The Denver Trap club's handicap of 100 targets. P. C. Hirschey of Minneapolis, champion wing shot of America, missed three targets out of the 200 in the eight, 25 target events. Aside from Hirschey, who was barred from participation in the purses offered, the highest average for the day was 191 out of 200, in which D. A. Heidgood, J. S. Sedam and Charles Younkman tied.
