Dereeling will begin in the banquet-room of the hotel at 8 p. m. The Puritan will make frequent trips over the lake during the day.

Several outside lodges will send in special trains for the day at Lake Park, June 23. Special trains will leave the M. & St. L. station, Minneapolis, at 9 and 9:45 a. m.

DEFENSE'S COUNSEL ACTS
 Merger Interests Will Move to Set Aside Service of Summons.

The state's move in the merger case caused counsel for the defense to act. Yesterday they served Attorney General Douglas with notice of a motion to set aside service of summons and complaint on the Northern Securities company and on J. J. Hill as president of the company, on the ground that they are not within the jurisdiction of the circuit court for this district.

This motion will be made June 24, when the next term begins. The notice sets forth that the Northern Securities company is a foreign corporation, having no property or business in the state. This is fortified by an affidavit from President Hill, stating that the company was organized to own, operate or manage railroads, has no power to do so, and has never attempted to do so. The company owns no property in Minnesota, and has never transacted any business here.

GRAND LODGE I. O. G. T.

THE INJURED RECOVER

Loop-the-Loopist and Parachute Jumper Leave Hospital.

C. A. Hamilton, the New York cyclist, who was injured while trying to loop the loop at the Elks' fair last Thursday, was able to leave the hospital yesterday. His shoulder was dislocated and his head badly bruised in the accident.

Frank Neuling, the aeronaut, who was injured in a parachute descent last Wednesday, left the hospital Monday. His injuries were not serious.

POWERS' FIRST BOOST

Alderman Fred Powers' eighth ward constituents, assisted by scattering republicans from other wards of the city, gave his mayoralty candidacy a lively send off at a meeting at the Swedish Association hall last night. The hall was packed to the doors and some scores of others crowded around the windows during the progress of the oratory. P. C. Campbell was chairman of the meeting. There were talks by J. A. Kellogg, W. H. Grimshaw, Colonel Towerbridge, S. T. Johnson, Beeton and Frank G. Gye. Alderman Powers made a talk in which he stated his position on the more important municipal issues of the day and reviewed the candidates for the city council.

Dr. Ames Silent Throughout Proceedings of His Arraignment.

PLEA DELAYED UNTIL MONDAY AN OLD TIME MINNEAPOLITAN

Thomas Lowry and Wm. Boutell Sign Bond and the Doctor Is Released.

When Mayor Ames entered Judge Simpson's court room for arraignment yesterday afternoon he was accompanied by his attorney, E. Jackson. Thomas Lowry, one of his bondsmen, and "Coffee John" Fichette, his factotum. Of the four, Fichette appeared the most concerned. Mr. Jackson headed the little procession and elbowed a way for the party into the courtroom. The room itself was crowded, with every seat occupied and people standing along the side walls. Outside the door, in the hallway, the crowd was even more dense.

The mayor took his seat at the attorney's table. He leaned upon his cane and kept his gaze upon the floor. As he sat down, however, he caught the eye of Thomas R. Brown, Jr., his private secretary, who occupied the seat next to him. As their looks met the mayor smiled and nodded. Then he relaxed into the position which he maintained until called before the bar.

At ten minutes past 3 o'clock, County Attorney F. H. Boardman formally moved the arraignment of A. Ames, and Judge Simpson beckoned to the doctor to come forward. He arose and stepped to the clerk's desk. He followed the reading of the indictment closely, reading a copy held by Mr. Jackson. At the time he entered the courtroom until the proceedings were ended, the mayor spoke not a word. Moreover that genial manner which he showed to the crowd and to his friends, but he did not recognize them by so much as a glance. Tom Brown and Frank Neuling, who were seated next to him as if they had not been present.

The indictment proved to be a voluminous document, and the mayor, with having offered County Commissioner E. P. Sweet a bribe of $1,500 on condition that he would vote for Thomas R. Brown, Jr. as sheriff to succeed Paul T. Magaard, and relates in detail the circumstances of Mr. Magaard's removal from office by the governor.

The indictment was read by R. C. Royce, clerk of the criminal court. When the reading was ended, Mr. Jackson asked for time in which to plead and was allowed until Monday morning at 10 o'clock. In the meantime the mayor's attorney, E. P. Sweet, a bribe of $1,500 on condition that he would vote for Thomas R. Brown, Jr. as sheriff to succeed Paul T. Magaard, and relates in detail the circumstances of Mr. Magaard's removal from office by the governor.

LOOKING AFTER PUBLIC SAFETY

Affairs in the Ranks Moving Along as Though Everything Was Serene.

Notwithstanding the fact that the police department is badly demoralized by the grand jury investigation which resulted in the indictment of the chief and several detectives, the uniformed patrolmen are walking their beats and doing their duty as though nothing had happened. While everything at headquarters is topsy-turvy, at the central station everything is going on as though there never was a grand jury or any corruption. The order and discipline of the police department is not affected by the investigation. These men are doing all they can to protect the property of the precinct and to prevent violations of law. Lieutenant Sinclair said to-day:

"No matter what happens at headquarters or how much corruption is discovered among the plain clothes men, we are going to do our duty. As long as we are members of the police force and are on the city's payroll we are going to do that. We are going to prove to the public that there are some honest men on the police force, and that because there is rottenness in other departments it does not follow that the blue-coats are crooked."

DIRECTORS MEET NEXT WEEK

The Accumulation of a Strong Surplus a Feature of the New Plan.

President Thomas Lowry, of the Soo road, has issued a call for a meeting of the board of directors at 11 a. m. on June 23. The purpose of the meeting is not mentioned in the call. It is understood that no action is to be taken on dividends. President Thomas Lowry said to-day:

"The Soo road is not a member of the C. P. R. and it is likely that the plans for improvements and possible extensions on which the C. P. R. has guaranteed the bonds of the Soo company will hereafter issue bonds without the usual interest guaranty of the Canadian Pacific. All bonds issued by the Soo company will hereafter be guaranteed by the Canadian Pacific's guaranty as essential in disposing of the bonds to advantage. There is no doubt that the Soo has important extensions under consideration, and is getting to that point where it feels able to finance those extensions without the aid of the C. P. R. It is our policy to encourage the accumulation of a strong surplus rather than distributing the earnings in the form of dividends. The stockholders of the Soo are pressing for a dividend of 4 per cent on preferred, but there is known to be a strong sentiment on the board in favor of that plan. The work now being carried on in the interests of agriculture. Lunch will be served at noon in Armory hall. The business session will open at 3:30 in the afternoon. Strawberries and roses will be the sole subjects for discussion this year. Papers will be read by O. C. Gregg, B. T. Hoyt, William Lyons, Ersson and B. M. Greenwood. Premiums will be awarded as usual for exhibits of flowers, fruits and vegetables."

THEIR SUMMER MEETING

ENLARGING POWER PLANT

The Street Railway Company Will Increase Its Boiler Capacity.

The street railway company is preparing to prevent the repetition of winter troubles with water power arising from the lodgment of anchor ice and such difficulties at the lower dam power-house. Yesterday J. W. Congdon took out the permit for a one-story addition to the railway company's building at Third avenue N and Second street. It will be built in the rear for the housing of engine boiler and added electrical equipment. Mr. Congdon will put up the building and the piers for the engines and equipment. Connection will be made with the existing electrical apparatus already in the building dependent hitherto on water power. Additional power will be installed in St. Paul at either the Hill street or the Selby avenue station.
