The church was elaborately decorated with palms, plants and roses, and a huge wedding bell was hung from the ceiling above the bank of palms.

The bridal party entered the church to the strains of the "Lohengrin" bridal chorus, which Mrs. S. V. Fisher sang. Miss Belle Osborn of Hankinson, N. MRS. IDA L. ROSER

Grand-Niece of Ex-President James K. Polk, Writes to Mrs. Pinkham Saying:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been married for nearly two years, and so far have not been blessed with a child. I have, however, suffered with a complication of female troubles and painful menstruation, until very recently.

MRS. IDA L. ROSER.

"The value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was called to my attention by an intimate friend, whose life had simply been a torture with inflammation and ulceration, and a few bottles of your Compound cured her; she can hardly believe it herself to-day, she enjoys such blessed health, and looks like one of your Compound and consider myself cured. I am once more in fine health and spirits; my domestic and official duties all seem easy now, for I feel so strong I can do three times what I used to do. You have a host of friends in Denver, and among the best count. Yours very gratefully,—Mrs. Ida L. Roser, 326 18th Ave., Denver, Col.—$5000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free.

LAKE MINNETONKA

This is the season of a daily procession of picnic parties at the lake, and although the excursionist of a day has not been treated very amiably by the weather man in the past week, conditions have not altogether precluded enjoyment. Spring Park seems to be favored with the largest share of the picnics on account of its accessibility to both the trains and the boats. Rowell Park and Lake Park, however, get a considerable share, and Excelsior gets the parties especially interested in sports, on account of the bicycle track and ball grounds.

The Puritan and its barge and the George are enjoying their harvest time, for they are having almost daily picnic parties and evening parties on the lake. The Puritan, however, has been particularly successful in the matter of parties on their regular trips, and all of the small boats catch some of the charter parties or the picnickers who want to flock by themselves in small groups.

The principal picnic yesterday was the celebration of Midsummer Day by the Augustan Lutheran church and the Young People's society at Spring Park. After the arrival of the special picnic train the big company joined in singing a thanksgiving song, and Rev. C. J. Poirer gave a Bible reading and a short address. The afternoon was spent in the boat, and the party was entertained by the band. The principal picnic yesterday was the celebration of Midsummer Day by the Augustan Lutheran church and the Young People's society at Spring Park.

Bacon-Shakespeare Controversy—Its Anecdotal Side. The Bacon-Shakespeare controversy will be given an interesting turn this evening when Mrs. Marion O'Donnely, widow of the late chief controversialist, will give a reading on the anecdotal side of the discussion. This will be given at the Norwegian-Danish church, Thirteenth avenue S. and Ninth street.

THE KOOCHICHING DAM Delay in Construction Attributed to Canadian Influences. Congress has granted the Koochiching Dam and Water Power company, which is partly composed of Minneapolis business men, five years additional time in which to build its dam across the Rainy river at Koochiching. This enterprise was projected several years ago when the Koochiching company bought the necessary land and riparian rights on the American side of the river. Since that time negotiations have been pending with the Ontario government for the riparian rights on the Canadian side. It is understood that Canadian railroad influence has been instrumental in delaying the work.

The Koochiching company plans the development of the immense water power at that point by building a dam 1,100 feet long. This would insure a power equal to almost any water power in the United States, with the possible exception of that at the Soo. It would be especially valuable in developing the pulp and paper industry on the Rainy river. The promoters of the enterprise naturally feel that they should be given the opportunity to acquire the rights on the Canadian side in return for the development work.

WOMAN LAKE CAPTAIN

Miss Mayhew Wants to Join a Yacht Club. The application of Miss Stella Mayhew, who is building an $8,500 yacht, for membership in the Columbia Yacht club of Chicago, has disturbed the good members of that institution considerably. There is no provision in the by-laws or constitution of the club, it appears, against this hideous contingency, and the conservative members of the house object to establishing so unprecedented a precedent. Miss Mayhew intends taking a course of study in marine engineering, and upon passing her examinations will apply for pilot papers. She will then be the only woman captain on the lakes.

NO REAL GIBSON GIRL

The famous Gibson girl is, oddly enough, often a source of irritation to her author. Mr. Gibson is constantly in receipt of letters inquiring the name of her original and for information about her. Public opinion is all wrong, or nearly so, however, concerning her. "There is no Gibson girl," said Mr. Gibson, recently, to a friend. "I'm told she is a portrait of Mrs. Gibson. I drew girls long before I knew Mrs. Gibson. I try desperately to get variety into my work. Nowadays I never draw the same model more than twice at the most. And yet all my girls are said to look alike, as though they were made with a rubber stamp. If the public only knew how hard I try to snub her!"

NEW ROLE FOR EMMA EAMES.

Mrs. Emma Eames-Story is to spend the summer in her Italian home studying a new role in which she is to appear on her return to this country. Just what the new part is to be is Madame Eames' secret until she is ready to present it to the public from the stage. The creation of a character by Madame Eames marks a red-letter day in the musical calendar, and is an event to be looked forward to as a festival.
