OFF FOR THE COUNTRY

Outing Children Return for Visits to Country Hostesses.

The outing association has opened rooms on the ground floor of the court-house in the city hall-side, and Mrs. Rebecca Smith will be there from 10 until 12 o'clock a. m. and 2 until 5 o'clock p. m. to receive applications and answer inquiries. Although the rooms have just been opened, the society has already begun work and about 75 children have been sent to the country since Jan. 1. Some of them went for thirty-day outings and for sixty. Those who have lists of children and mothers who need these vacation trips should send them to Mrs. Smith at once, that she may make the arrangements for them. She has already received a long list from Miss Guthrie of Bethel settlement.

The occupants of the room formerly occupied by the association have been bothered considerably since the close of school by boys and girls who had enjoyed the generosity of the society in providing summer accommodations for them. The boys found Mrs. Smith, who has already received a long list from Miss Guthrie of Bethel settlement.

POPS WERE OFFISH

One of the Reasons Alleged for Lind's Withdrawal.

A FULL POP TICKET TO BE NAMED

Party Leaders Admit This Means Van Sant's Election, but Principles Must Be Maintained.

The reasons which induced John Lind to write his famous letter of declination, right on the eve of the democratic state convention, are gradually coming to light, according to reports from populist sources.

It is alleged that the chief of these reasons was the positive information conveyed to him, through S. M. Owen, representing the populist party, that he could not hope for the support of that party.

The populists did not like Mr. Lind's open confession, made last night, that he was a democrat. This of itself, however, probably would not have caused them to withdraw their support and decide to make independent nominations this year, but when taken in connection with the fact that, under existing state laws, they would be wiped out as a political party by fusion in the present campaign, their leaders were satisfied that they could not afford to endorse Lind's nomination by the democrats.

It is said to The Journal, on the authority of one of the leading populists in the state, that Lind had been told he could not expect populist support this year was served on him in this city, by Mr. Owen, last week Thursday or Friday. The letter to Mr. Roseng was published immediately thereafter. Lind wrote the letter, according to this gentleman, just as he was about to leave for the convention in the populist party. He had been counting heavily on populist endorsement, and knowing that he would stand no chance to win without it, he quickly took a definite stand as soon as the truth was told him.

The action of the populists was not surprising, according to one of the party leaders. The Journal, they had been discussing the matter for several months. They had nothing against Lind personally, and believed that he was a good governor. They believed in him thoroughly in every way, and at heart many of them wanted to support him again. As stated, Lind's letter was a blow to a democrat did not take well among the populists, but they were prepared to overlook that, other conditions being favorable to fusion in the present campaign in Minneapolis in which the leading populists of the state took part. It is not understood that all of those participating in it were the same, but time, but they all talked to the same man, and asked him to be their spokesman with the former governor. They were not interested in the situation of one mind, after the situation had been presented to them in detail. The populist party had its existence at stake, and must, therefore, make an independent campaign this year. It could not afford to endorse the democratic nomination.

The matter was gone over thoroughly. Men who did not come to Minneapolis were consulted by letter. Everybody agreed that Lind would have to run, if at all, as a democrat, and rely on democratic votes for his success. Mr. Owen was requested to bear this message to the former governor, which he did. The famous letter, which upset the plans of the democratic convention, was then written.

LUTHER LEAGUE ANNUAL

TO BE HELD IN ST. PAUL, JULY 8-10

League Represents 400 Local Organizations and 30,000 Individuals.

St. Paul will entertain the fifth annual convention of the Luther League of America on July 8, 9 and 10. The Luther league bears the same relation to the Lutheran church that the Epworth league does to the Methodist church and the Christian Endeavor organization to other denominations. It is the largest of the 30,000 members divided among 400 local leagues.

The opening session of the convention will be held at the First Swedish Lutheran church, Bradley street, at 7:45 Tuesday evening, July 8. Addresses of welcome will be given by Dr. Johnson, Gov. Van Sant and Neil Jensen, president of the Twin City Central league. William C. Steever of Philadelphia, president of the national league, will respond for the organization.

Meetings will be held Wednesday evening July 9, in the Lutheran churches of St. Paul, and also in three Minneapolis churches. Among the prominent speakers at these meetings will be Dr. C. A. Albert of Philadelphia, president of the New York state league, and Horace W. Bickel of Pittsburg.

The convention will close Thursday evening with a rally of the leaguers at the Auditorium.

PLYMOUTH'S NEW SITE

Committee to Select It in a Quoaday.

The site committee of Plymouth Congregational church seem to be in a quandary. The general business plan of the church removed from Eighth and Nicollet avenue. Upon appointment, the committee set actively to work to secure a place in the residence section just right for a large family church. It is said that finally the "Turnbull" lots at the southeast corner of Wabasha and Grover, Milwaukee street, were selected for the purpose. This is where the trouble began. A petition was circulated among the residence owners of this fastidious quarter protesting the removal of the church to the church to the detriment of the neighborhood values.

Ordinarily such an outcry is not heeded by the church leaders, but it transpired that one of the signers of the petition was a former trustee and a man who goes deep into his pocket when calls for funds to all the church machinery are made. Consequently the committee is still searching.

SAYS HE FIXED JURORS

D. M. Owens on Trial for Forgery in St. Paul.

D. M. Owens, on trial for forgery in the Ramsey county district court, testified yesterday that he took money from W. C. Keeffe, the complainant, and used it to bribe a juror named "Jimmy" Jones. He said that the work was done under Keeffe's instructions and that one juror, named "Patton", was approached in the presence of Keeffe and offered $200 on condition that he vote for a verdict of $7,500 in the case of Chittick against the Soo line. This testimony is directly contrary to that of Keeffe and an effort will be made to show that Keeffe's evidence is unreliable.

STILL ON PAY ROLL

Norbeck and Brackett Draw Police Pay—Norbeck to Be Dropped.

Detective Norbeck has been absent from duty for some three or four weeks and Detective Brackett has not been on duty for a week. The names of both appear on the police pay roll for June and they will draw their stipends at the end of the month. Norbeck will have only $20 coming, however. It is supposed to turn this balance over to his wife.

To the police committee, Secretary Brown, yesterday, explained that neither man had been discharged from the force and that both were therefore legally entitled to their pay. He added that Norbeck would be dropped July 1.

Guy Landis Going West

Guy C. Landis, the popular assistant cashier of the Security Bank of Minneapolis, who has been taking his vacation on the Pacific slope, has resigned to go into business in the west for himself. While the bank officials, as well as friends, are sorry to have him go, they wish him success in the new venture.

Mr. Landis is one of the self-made men of Minneapolis. Although only thirty years of age he has been for twelve years in the banking business and retires as assistant cashier of one of the largest banks of the city. His success has been founded on sound business principles early settled upon and kept native judgment. Although a native of Wright county, Mr. Landis was a graduate of the Central High School. During vacations he was in the office of his father, W. H. Landis, then traveling auditor of the

THE BITERS BIT

The Nelson's Joke on Carnival Cost Them $10 Each.

Alfred and Olaf Nelson were each fined $10 in police court this morning on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Carl Cornwall who claimed that the men caught him and smeared his face with tar. When Cornwall appeared at the courthouse yesterday to secure the warrant for the arrest of his assailants he presented a ludicrous appearance. His face was blacked almost beyond recognition and his hair and ears were full of the black tar with which he had been covered by his jesting friends. He informed City Attorney Waitte that the men had repeated the offense several times and that he was tired of the joke.

According to the evidence, all the men work for the C. G. Smith Lumber company and the Nelsons caught Cornwall and put the tar on him in fun. He couldn't see the joke and had the men arrested. They tried to prove that it was all in fun, but Judge Hoff considered it a weak joke and fined the men. Justin Nelson, also arrested, was found not guilty.

COLOR LINE DRAWN

St. Paul Commercial Club Will Not Entertain Afro-Americans.

Directors of the St. Paul Commercial club yesterday refused to suspend the rules and grant the privileges of the club to colored persons. Owing to occurrences some months ago, the question was a matter of lively discussion among club members, and at the last annual meeting the rules were changed to limit the granting of privileges to white persons only. The colored member of the club desires to entertain at the club rooms members of the Afro-American congress, which meets in St. Paul soon. He asked that the rules be changed and the privilege granted. The directors refused.

About Your New Suit!

We'll Treat You Rightly.

We know you don't like to be pulled and hauled through a clothing store, passed through the gauntlet of clerks, simply because you don't find exactly what you want.

We are not offering $18 Suits for $7.50, nor $15 Suits for $6.00, and we never advertise any such false inducements. This we do: We sell you a better suit of clothes for $7.50, $10, $12.50 or $15 than you can find in a great many stores for the same price. By comparison you will find this to be true.

Clothing

should stand on its merits and a first-class clothing house should have properly made clothes with a large assortment for a man to be suited without having something forced on him which he forever dislikes. Come our way. If we cannot possibly suit you, we will treat you kindly just the same. One thing is certain—if we can't please you no other store can. And furthermore, if you do not find that our prices are right, don't spend a cent with us. Fair proposition, isn't it?
