

THE NEWEST VEILINGS

Popularity of the Green Veil on the Wane.

In the mornings and afternoons veils are worn, but seldom at night. Two veils are seen on many of the hats. A fancy mesh of black or black and white with or without spots, is worn over the face, while the chiffon veils are used to drape the hats. The Gainsborough is one of the new chiffon veils, and the Meteor is another favorite. Some of the women wear the chiffon veils over their faces to keep them from tanning. They are worn very loose so that they can be thrown over the hat when desired. White and black, black and white, brown and blue are all desirable. A few greens are seen here, but they are not as popular as they were some weeks ago.

The seashore is an excellent place to show off a pretty wrap. The evenings are cool and mildly like to have something to throw over her shoulders. For this purpose the loose Empire coats are very desirable. Black silk ones are seen in all lengths from the long ones reaching to the hem of the dress to the short, coffee ones. Pongee coats are very much in evidence. They are very light and do not crush even the daintiest gowns and are fairly warm at the same time.

Lace wraps are the most elegant and would be even more popular if they were not so expensive.

Some of the younger set are wearing long Norfolk jackets, reaching to about the hips. These are made of white flannel or pique and look very chic with a summer gown.

THE NEW GAINSBOROUGH VEIL.

This is certainly a season for veils. There are veils for morning dress, for carriage wear and for almost every occasion when a woman goes out in the day time. Of course, in the evening they are entirely out of place. White and black, black and white, green and blue are the fashionable colorings now. The Gainsborough is one of several of the new novelty veillings so chic and popular this summer.

The style of wearing two veils, one over the face and one draping the hat has many advocates. This is not surprising, as a pretty woman knows they enhance her charms, and her plainer sister that they hide many defects. The Meteor and Du Barry veils shown here are the swellest veils so far shown, and are affected by the matinee girl.

SUNSTROKE INSURANCE

When the summer's heat gets about 90 degrees, you are liable to be sunstruck any time you are out in the sun, unless you take the proper precautions. Several years ago, the writer of this, who has spent much of his life in the tropics, thought he was safe from sunstroke. One day he collapsed, remained unconscious for five hours, and at times his life was despaired of. As a matter of fact, any person whose stomach and bowels are in bad shape in the summer time, is liable to be sunstruck in temperature that would be harmless under normal conditions. That's all there is to it. Stomach and bowels full of festering, fermenting refuse that forms acids and gases, raise the heat of the body and blood many degrees. Scientists have found that natives of the South Sea Islands, living on laxative fruit, bananas, coconuts, bread-fruit, have a temperature 20 degrees lower than that of white men who are careless about their food or their bowels. It has been found in years of experience, that a CASCARET Candy Cathartic taken at bed-time every night will keep the body clean and cool inside all day, and forms a safe and thoroughly reliable form of sunstroke insurance.
