MINNETONKA

The chief social event at the lake last evening was the large ball given at the Minnetonka clubhouses as the opening affair of tennis week. It was hoped that the visiting players could be in attendance, but the finale in the Chicago tournament delayed most of them so that they did not arrive until to-day.

The local players were much in evidence and were the recipients of good wishes and anticipatory compliments that they knew what to do with. The pretty girls who have been sleeping the sleep of the beauties for nearly a week, in preparation for the ball, were radiant and indefatigable. Scarlet and white, tennis week colors, were everywhere in view. It was pleasant to see what cool effects the young women managed to create out of the usually hot-looking scarlet. The men, in white duck and scarlet coats, did not look quite so cool, but had the comfort of knowing they were picturesque.

Scarlet and white appeared everywhere in the decorations. The club buildings were both draped in graceful bannings of the chosen colors. The larger club beautiful championship pennants added to the gala effect. The staircase was a most effective place for displaying the dainty statuettes and trophies which were particularly striking in its decorations.

The broad verandas were turned into outdoor parlors. Turkish rugs and hangings, low tables and comfortable chairs were invitingly arranged and were appreciated between the dances. Red-shaded lamps made a gratefully dim light and leaf fringes and lemonade were most acceptable. Between the two clubhouses colored lanterns were swung, and the verandas of the pagoda-like Yacht Club were starred with twinkling colored lights. The Mayflower plied between the clubs, and there was a constant exodus from one building to the other. In one club Danz' orchestra, in the other Kossner's, rendered programs of music, and the dancing was kept up by the young people into dancing away the early morning hours.

Nearly 500 invitations had been issued for the ball, and by far the greater number were in attendance. The ball was preceded by a number of pretty dining parties on the verandas, and the lake breeze made dining a delight. E. W. Mapes was host to a party of ten guests, who were conveyed to the club in his motor car. Mrs. M. M. Smith entertained five friends. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scanlon made up a small party.

Mrs. J. McD. Campbell will entertain a party of ten friends at her home on Saturday, and several informal affairs are promised each day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hale are at the club house. Mrs. Harry Waldner, Chicago, will arrive to-day to spend the remainder of the week at the club. Mrs. Waldner is a clever tennis player and practices often with her husband. The young women at the lake are urging each other to arrange a match with her, but each is reluctant to sacrifice herself in the attempt, since it is feared the little lady may be as proficient as her husband in the matter of carrying off honors.

E. E. Farnsworth of Omaha, champion tennis player of Nebraska, is contended at the St. Louis for the week. A number of other players will be guests at the hotel, as the club is taxed to the limit of its capacity by members and those visitors who made early arrangements. The Yacht Club has been arranged as a comfortable dormitory, where the bachelor players will be housed, but even this additional club resources was not sufficient to accommodate the crowd of guests.

Manager Timberlake of the St. Louis plans to entertain his portion of the tennis company and their friends with a pretty dancing party Thursday evening. The usual restrictions upon informal costumes will be rigidly enforced and the event will be made a handsome affair.

With the fireworks porch party at the club to-morrow evening and the german at the tennis lawn and practice on Friday will find their evenings fully occupied.

Tennis enthusiasm has extended to the very young lake dwellers. A small boy appears to have a particular interest in wearing a blue, scarlet cap, white stock and knickerbockers, and establishing himself in an advantageous position upon the crest of the hill overlooking both courts, devote himself enthusiastically to the opening games.

The young women were conspicuous by their absence the games yesterday, but now that the ball is over, they are donning their white gowns, with a touch of scarlet here and there, and making their way to the tennis courts. The grass courts are particularly pretty picture this year, and the natural amphitheater formed by the rising knolls is sure to be filled with spectators the remainder of the week.

Among the recent guests at the club have been J. J. Purcell and John Marshall, Jr., of Chicago, who were entertained by W. K. Morrison.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Sykes had as their guests Sunday Mrs. A. M. Wang, Mrs. Penner and Miss Furbur of Detroit.

Francis J. Craft of St. Louis was entertained at the latter part of the week by T. E. Cooney.

An amusing incident, from the spectators' point of view, occurred Friday evening, when a young couple who were enjoying the pleasures of the pretty hop at Del Otero wandered down to the dock between dances. The night was very black and the lights of the steamers lying at anchor were perhaps a bit confusing, for the young people walked straight forward, straight off and of the dock. They were too surprised to make effective efforts to get out of the water, which is quite deep at that point. Captain Hopkins of the Mayflower made a gallant rescue, however. With the assistance of the long poleker from the boiler-room, he fished out the dripping victims, who retired to the hotel for repairs without spending much time in thanking the gallant captain. There is one funny story which will be hard to make it said, and there is one long poleker which is unusually clean.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

NATURE'S SUMMER HEALTH GIVER. It Purifies the Blood and Multiplies the Number of Vital Red Corpuscles, Feeds the Nerves and Tissues and Gives True Physical Strength.

Weak nerves, exhausted tissue, poor thin blood, impaired digestion and sleepless nights, account for much of the present existing summer misery and suffering.

Dear reader, if you are unfortunately numbered amongst the sickly and weak mortals of to-day, it is now time to awake to a true realization of your danger. The weakening and depressing hot weather will only add to your miseries if you are careless and indifferent.

There is absolute relief and a positive cure for you in Paine's Celery Compound. This wonder-working medicine is successfully combating summer troubles, as you every day. It is a fact verified by able physicians and thousands of testimonials that Paine's Celery Compound makes new, pure, blood; builds up the nervous system, regulates digestion, whets the appetite and gives vigor and strength to combat the discomforts of the heated term.

Mrs. J. N. Morgan, Secretary, Md., used Paine's Celery Compound to banish nervous prostration, heart palpitation and insomnia. "The great medicine quickly relieved my physical suffering, by purifying the blood, bracing the nerves and building up tissue; she says:

"When I began the use of Paine's Celery Compound I was suffering with nervous prostration, had palpitation of the heart and could not sleep. When I first went to bed I would sleep one or two hours, but would wake with a start. I would get up in the morning feeling worse than when I went to bed. Now, after using Paine's Celery Compound, I can eat and sleep well and wake up in the morning feeling refreshed and strong."

NIECE OF VILAS

Wedding Day of Miss Elizabeth Vilas and a Virginian.

Special to The Journal. Madison, Wis., July 29.—Miss Elizabeth D. Vilas, daughter of the late Levi D. Vilas, of Minneapolis, and niece of ex-Senator W. F. Vilas, of this city, and G. E. Gary, of Richmond, Va., will be married this afternoon at 6:30. The wedding, which will be a quiet affair, will take place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Lizzie L. Vilas, with only a limited number of relatives and intimate friends. Miss Katherine Vilas, sister of the bride, will be maid of honor. Henry C. Buell, of New York, cousin of the bridegroom, best man. Rev. A. W. Stalker, pastor of the M. E. church, will officiate.

The annual excursion and picnic of the Minneapolis Amateur Choral Society was held at the lake yesterday. G. H. Normington, musical director, was in charge of the young people, who came out in large numbers. The program was most enjoyable. A cruise of the upper and lower lake was enjoyed and a picnic luncheon was served on the shore of the upper lake. Many of the young people were accompanied by their parents and friends, and a delightful day was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gluek entertained the Upper Yacht Club at Lyndhurst Saturday. Baseball, a swimming contest and other sports were the amusement in the morning. The tub race was won by Julius Heinrich. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Gluek took their guests for a ride on the launch.

The friends of Miss Margaret Cummings will be sorry to learn that she is suffering from an accident caused by a runaway team at Spring Park Sunday. A team of horses became frightened at the automobile in which Miss Cummings was riding, and before the auto could be turned out of their way the team had crashed into it. The young lady escaped with a broken collarbone and a dislocated shoulder.

Neighboring Clubs. The Parliamentary Club of Rock Island, Ill., has been merged into a study club, and the United States will be the topic for the coming year. The club has filled its membership of twenty. Mrs. J. M. Silvia is the new president and Mrs. Canode secretary and treasurer.

The Ladies' Round Table Club of Kenyon, Minn., will study the history and literature of the United States next year. The new officers are as follows: President, Mrs. Marshall; vice presidents, Mrs. S. A. Bullis, Mrs. Picha, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. L. G. Miller; program committee, Mrs. Leland, Mrs. Baer, Miss Hansen; reception committee, Mrs. Patton, Mrs. Picha and Miss Holman.

The Value of a Cent. The Gould family, probably the greatest money-makers in the world, are noted for their appreciation of the value of money. Jay Gould started in the world with 50 cents and earned a million dollars in less than thirty years. He knew the value of money and his little grandson, Edwin, who picks up every pin he can find and sells them at the rate of 200 for a cent also knows the exact value of a penny. One certainly gets his money's worth when buying golden grain belt beer, for it not only serves as a table delicacy, but is the most refreshing tonic imaginable. Better get a case to-day and use it regularly.
