NORTHERN IRON MINES

They Will Pay $500,000 in Taxes—July Shipments of Ore.

DULUTH, MINN.—The St. Louis county board of commissioners have set the value of iron mines in the county at $300,000, a raise of about $18,000,000 from the last assessment. The total tax to be raised from mines this year will be about $500,000. None of the larger owners of mines complained at the increased valuation.

The Duluth, Missabe & Northern road has ordered several large locomotives weighing with tenders, and eight miles of road work among the largest engines for road work in the United States.

The Mesaba Central Land and Exploration company, which has been in business since the commencement of the Mesaba boom, has sold all its holdings to Pittsburg men for $250,000. The company owns one mine containing about 5,000,000 tons, which is under lease at 18 cents a ton, and another mine containing almost four times. There are also 1,600 acres of unexplored lands which will be drilled as fast as they can be located.

The books of the state inspectors show about 20 steam drills at work on the Mesaba range, which is about twice as many as were there a year ago and far more every year in the history of the iron lake ranges combined at any period in the past.

It is now about five years since explorations commenced with renewed vigor on the Mesaba range. Many thousands of dollars have been spent, but the results so far are the finding of only a few mines of any special value, of only one indeed that is really a large mine. In the past few years, however, a number of mines, notably the Chapin, Aragon, Mansfield and others have increased their output largely, in the case of the Chapin enormously. That mine is to-day one of the large mines of the Lake Superior district, and does not greatly suffer by comparison with the immense deposits of the Mesaba range.

The Thomas Furnace company of Milwaukee, which owns undeveloped lands on the Mesaba range, has secured the adjoining property to the Bird on the Menominee and will open it for the grade of ore supposed to be that of the last Mesaba range.

The Helen mine, in Canada, on the northeast coast of Lake Superior, is mining less heavily than early in the year on account of a change in methods from surface to underground. The Algona Central road will be graded to the mine in September but trains will not be running through before spring.

Reports already made in July of this year, however, in iron ore shipments for the life of the Lake country, though the exact figures will not be available for a week or more, it is probable that total shipments of the month will show up at about 2,000,000 gross tons. This is from all lake ports and all ranges except the Michipicoten in Canada.

The Penn Iron Mining company, belonging to the Cambria Steel company, has just closed its "company store," an institution that has been in existence for twenty years. It is the last of these stores to close and all mercantile business on all the lake ranges is now conducted by merchants and by the mining companies.

Maas shaft of the Cleveland Cliffs company is not yet on the ledge, though it has been sinking rapidly for the last few days. It is about 150 feet to go.

Among the Coppers.

CALUMET, MICH.—The third head at the Baltic mine has been installed and will go into commission next week on rock from the Champion mine. The Champion is now shipping to the Atlantic coast mill, where the sixth head is being installed. The new head at the Baltic in commission it will be prepared for a larger output.

The new mill of the Wolverine at Traverse Bay will go into commission in a week. Work has been done on the non-delivery of material. Just as soon as the new mill goes into commission the old mill will be dismantled and the machinery shipped to the Phoenix mill.

The new mill of the Mohawk mine is well advanced and will go into commission in September. The Mohawk is regarded as the most promising of the new mines in the district. It is operated on the Kearsarge and old and the formation is uniformly well mineralized. In addition, another mine is opened on the fissure veins of Mohawk, which is at right angles to the regular formation.

The Mass company has recently completed additions to the coal docks at Keweenaw bay and is now prepared to receive the supply for the coming winter. The docks have a capacity of 25,000 tons of anthracite coal.

Work in "F" shaft of the Atlantic mine will be resumed next week and the shaft will be cleaned out, and then closed. The other shafts can be operated to better advantage.

The Calumet & Hecla has declared a regular quarterly dividend of $5 a share. This is a decrease of $5 over the amount paid last year.

Recent reports that assessments were to be levied on Old Colony and Mayflower are officially denied. The companies have sufficient funds in hand to last for some time. At present work is purely of an exploratory nature and expenditures are moderate.

The Calumet and Pittsburg Development company's directors in session here have voted to recommend to the stockholders the increase of the capital stock from $200,000 to $400,000. This will be used for the purchase of the Del Oro and a bond on the Ormond group of five claims close to the working property of the company in Biabee, Arizona.

The Briggs shaft of this mine is now down more than 400 feet and the indications are more than favorable as was Calumet & Arizona at the equivalent depth.

NO CARNIVAL

Harvest Festival at Aberdeen Decried for Lack of Time.

ABERDEEN, S. D.—At a meeting of the Commercial Club and the committee in charge of the proposed carnival and harvest festival project, it was decided to declare the enterprise off for the present year. The committee on contributions had met with good success, but it was decided the start was made too late to have the carnival the success that it should be made.

The county auditor's office has completed the figures on the valuation of the property of Brown county as equalized by the county board, and the total, exclusive of railroads, telegraph and express, amounts to $7,118,952, of which $1,438,302 is personal property. The gain over last year is $653,769, of which $107,436 is credited to Aberdeen, the total for the county being $1,388,299.

The railroad valuation is about $500,000, which puts the taxable property of the county at over $5,000,000.

The state board of regents of education held a session in Aberdeen yesterday. Part of the day was given to the consideration of matters in connection with Brookings agricultural college, the course of study being revised and several lesser instructors being engaged. The remainder of the time was given to the northern normal and industrial school of this city, just completed, which will begin its first year's work Sept. 9. The board provided for an additional member of the faculty.

Calvin A. Glidden, one of the old residents of the city, died yesterday, after being confined to his bed for eight months. He was 60 years old and served during the war with volunteers from Maine, of which state he was a native. He was married at the home of his sister, Mrs. P. M. Morse, at White, to Fred W. Drickson, county judge of Brookings county. They will be at home at White after Sept. 1.

MILWAUKEE, WIS.

Kassaba & Co. and the C. C. Rogers company defaulted on deliveries of July wheat in the Milwaukee market yesterday. It was alleged that Kassaba was short 135,000 bushels and Rogers about 35,000 bushels when the time expired for making deliveries on contracts. The bulk of this wheat was sold to the Burger-Crittenden company, which demanded a settlement on the last day of 23 cents a bushel, a claim which the two Milwaukee firms will contest.

Joseph C. Wallace, who took out a marriage license in Chicago to marry Harriet J. Curtis of Fond du Lac, Wis., is a retired member of the United States army. For several years he has been teaching dramatic art and elocution and is well known in the city. He died yesterday, after being confined to his bed for several weeks at Camp Douglas, camped on the way to the front during the war. He was a member of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Veterans, west of the city. This is the first time in the history of regular army marriages in this state.

CALUMET, MICH.

The Houghton county lodges of the Foresters of America will hold their annual summer reunion in this city, Aug. 2. Large numbers of members of the order will be present. Articles of association of the Lake Superior School for Nurses have been filed. The school, which is now in session, is a 25-bed, divided into 100 shares. The company will conduct a hospital and school for nurses. Thirty nurses of the Red Jacket Congregational church will spend two weeks at the school, which is now in session at Eagle Harbor for an outing. The Red Jacket line will be torn up. The old Hollman county fifteen miles will be torn up. The line is not being used and the steel is too valuable to leave on the ground. Julius Beck, a freeman on the crew of the Harriet, a state convict, died in a prison war, was taken with cramps and drowned in Lake Superior.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

DULUTH, MINN.

Harry Belker, of West Superior, was instantly killed here yesterday in a runaway. He was taking a party of friends to the city and was driving down a steep hill when the horses became frightened and started to run. A young woman in the party seized the reins and the animal suddenly swerved to one side, overturning the carriage. Mr. Belker struck his head on the ground and sustained fractures of the skull and shoulder. The sunken whaleback steamer Thomas Wilson will be sold on August 15. The bodies of the sailors lost in the wreck have been abandoned.

OACOMA, S. D.

The "noble red man" is rapidly becoming civilized in this, the country of the Sioux. This week has been a busy one for the clerk of courts of Lyman in the district of East-Faced-Bear, his wife, alleging that Mary had been guilty of carrying on an illicit business with the cowboys on the round-up. Daniel Thiel-Bread and Jennie Shott. They were married in the county judge at his residence. It is now a rare occurrence for two young Indians to marry in the old Indian fashion.

CHICAGO, ILL.

The assets of the Waukesha Water company, including the pipe line from Waukesha to Chicago, were sold in bankruptcy to E. Mitchell of Chicago, said to be representing the interests of New York, for $51,000. Conklin & Jarvis, Inc., of New York, to E. H. Everett of Newark, Ohio, for $47,450, but the court set aside the purchase. The sale price of the property was only $31,000. The sale is made subject to the confirmation of the United States district court.

GRAND FORKS, N. D.

At the republican county convention yesterday the following were nominated: Sheriff, A. F. Turner; treasurer, J. R. Poupore; auditor, William Ackerman; county judge, L. K. Myers; assessor, J. B. Wiseman; register, H. H. Hancock; coroner, M. W. Matthews, assistant coroner, J. H. Thomas; state driver, Thomas L. Lawson. The platform declares for the direct primary, the referendum and the prohibition law.

LETTER WRITING STRAGE

Breach Between Factions in Wisconsin is Widening.

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—Now that the trouble in the republican camp has reached the letter-writing stage, no one dares to predict what the outcome will be.

It was almost certain that General Winkler's open letter of inquiry to General Bryant, the chairman of the state central committee, would receive an answer. The reply, which is said to have been the joint work of General Bryant, the members of the state central committee and Governor La Follette, has been made public, and it practically reads General Winkler and his stalwart associates out of the party. That the letters that have passed will have the effect of widening the breach between the two factions is conceded by the leaders.

Even if Governor La Follette is re-elected, the fight between him and Senator Spooner will not be ended. Spooner chairs are being formed all over the state with the avowed purpose of naming candidates for the legislature who favor his re-election to the senate. Will Governor La Follette be able to bend these men to his will and make them do his bidding when they assemble at Madison next winter? The wise men of the party say he will not and that the senator will be chosen to succeed himself, regardless of the wishes of the chief executive. It begins to look as though Senator Spooner understands the temper of the people of the state better than the governor does.

The democrats of this city are taking a great interest in the candidacy of John Lind for congress, and every scrap of information bearing on the subject is eagerly caught up and discussed. They believe he would be a valuable asset and that he would prove a tower of strength to the party at Washington.

State Superintendent Harvey will not have to go hungry, even if the recent republican state convention did refuse to give him another term of office. One of the largest department stores in the city has proffered him a position as manager of an immense book department which it purposes to establish. The salary is said to be in excess of that which he receives as superintendent. The offer was made soon after he was turned down by the convention. He has promised to give his answer this week.

CUMBERLAND, WIS.

While working on the Omaha road yesterday, Ed Bennett, of Dallas, was struck by a train and hurled several feet. He was made unconscious, but his injuries are not considered dangerous. The following teachers have been employed to teach in the public schools: Principal, Professor J. H. Ames, of Chicago; first assistant, Miss Maude Letter, of Annapolis; second assistant, Miss Maude Abbott, of Madison; grades, Misses Rose Drowatzky, Tomah; Phoebe Hagen, Dallas; Grace DeWitt, Florence; Daisy Doolittle, Stevens Point; Jessica Emmons, Waupaca; Augusta Jahr, Alma; Florence Williams, Comstock, and Josie Pritch, of this place. At a mass meeting, the inland city brass band was formed with the following officers: President, S. E. Priddy, of this place; A. N. Anderson, treasurer; Ed Johnson, leader; Will Cole, twenty players joined the association. White walking on the beach, Esther, the 4-year-old daughter of John Higgle, fell and broke her arm.

HASTINGS, MINN.

Captain R. C. Libbey has contracted with William Kaiser, of Muscatine, Iowa, to saw the Mississippi river logs, and will start the mill in about ten days, or as soon as the necessary repairs can be made. It is expected to cut about 5,000,000 feet this season, formerly of this city, is seriously ill with pneumonia at his home in Becker.

LE SUDBUR, WIS.

Fred Messmer, a farmer, was kicked in the face and side while hitching a strange horse to his binder. His skull is fractured, and two ribs broken. Miss Kalbow was severely injured in a runaway last evening. The driver was upset and she was thrown violently to the ground. Henry Harriberger, a type farmer and 200 bushels on the right hand crushed in a binder. Amputation may be necessary.

MINNESOTA EDITORS

Features of Entertainment in the Copper Region.

HOUGHTON, MICH.—Members of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association who visit the copper country will find that proper arrangements have been made for them during their stay.

C. H. Kelsey, editor of the Daily Mining Gazette of Houghton, representing the newspapers, and J. R. Dee and W. D. Calverly, representing the citizens, have arranged the itinerary of the editors while in copperdom. Upon arrival of the steamer Ironclad the visitors will be taken aboard a special train and whisked to Dollar Bay and Lake Linden, where they will be shown through the "smelters." When they have seen how the copper is smelted, the trip to Calumet will be made. There the editors will be shown through the great plants, where they may observe how the "rock" is hoisted from hundreds of feet underground to the surface.

After viewing all the sights of Calumet, the train will return to Houghton. This is a reversal of the customary route for generally visitors are first taken to the great mines at Calumet and thence to the "smelters" at Dollar Bay and Lake Linden.

In the evening the guests will be entertained at planked-whitefish dinner at the Douglass House.

WEST SUPERIOR, WIS.

The striking machinist helpers of the Great Northern shops are citizens to help them win their strike by temporarily boycotting the Great Northern. At a meeting of the union, resolutions were passed asking all merchants and business men to patronize other roads. No complaining witness appeared to-day to the grand jury. Attorney S. F. Grover, of Grantsburg, the United States district attorney and all others connected with the case were present and, after waiting about a day for H. F. Bacon, the complainant, to come from Iowa, the case was dismissed. Now talk of having Bacon put through for alleged contempt of court. Bacon had

BUT 1 PER CENT INCREASE

The Iowa Railway Assessment Completed by Executive Council.

DES MOINES, IOWA.—The executive council has completed the railroad assessment, increasing it from $47,071,258 to $51,123,814, a rate of over $4,000,000. This is the largest increase since Governor Larrabee's time. Considering the gross earnings, however, the assessment is little more than last year. In 1901, the assessment was 50 per cent of gross earnings. This year it is but 91 per cent. Half the total increase is borne by two roads, the North-Western and Milwaukee. The increase for the North-Western is $1,100,000, and for the Milwaukee $300,000. The Burlington is increased $650,000. The Great Western is increased $250,000, and the Minneapolis & St. Louis $25,000.

Governor Cummins is said to have urged a higher assessment in the executive session of the council. The general state levy was fixed at 2.5 mills.

WAYZATA, MINN.

G. Bohm, of Crystal Bay, lost his team of beautiful bay horses Tuesday night. It was thought at first they had been poisoned, but a veterinary surgeon from the city could find no trace of poison. The team was one of the finest in the lake, and the horses were splendidly matched, graceful and speedy.

SIBLEY, IOWA

The Osceola county republican convention to nominate a county ticket will probably meet here before the middle of September. The indications are that George W. Thomas, auditor; J. W. Beaman, recorder; H. C. Taylor, clerk of the district court, and C. M. Brooks, county attorney, will be renominated.

JANESVILLE, MINN.

The 12-year-old son of Charles Cummings, of Smith Mills, was killed last evening. He was playing with a horse, which fell backwards, crushing his head and killing him instantly.
