Frederick Krause of Buffalo, Minn., had his pockets picked at the state fair grounds yesterday. He lost $30 in cash and three notes for a total of $800. The notes are payable to A. J. & C. Buffalo.

A good second-hand trunk is better than a cheap new one. You can get every kind and style at Barnum's, 715 Nicollet, and suit cases from $1.75 up. We invite you to see the finest trunk and leather goods store in the west, buyer or not.

Detective Otto Wirtensohn, recently returned to the police force, did some clever work yesterday in recovering two valuable picture hats which had been stolen from a Nicollet military establishment. The hats had been taken by a man employed to clean the windows and were found concealed under a wheelbarrow at his residence.

The Minneapolis fire department had the busiest time during August that it has had in any month for years. In the month only fifty alarms were received and few of them amounted to anything. But three important fires occurred, the McCoy mill factory, the First Congregational church and school of mines at the university.

Thomas Ramy of Benson, Minn., came to the city Tuesday and went to the New York hotel, 1000 Hennepin, to get his trunk in the barroom of the hotel and when he came down stairs in the morning it was gone. Later it was found near the hay market, broken open and an overcoat, revolver, silk dress and other articles were stolen.

LOWER TAXES

Controller Rogers Says It Will Be Under 27 Mills This Year.

City Controller Rogers says the average rate of taxation for all purposes this year will be under 27 mills, as compared with an average of 29.86 mills last year. The general assessment last year was 27.9, the average ward rate being 1.96 mills. This year, he says, the ward average will be 1.8. The school board was allowed 6.50 mills last year, the park board 1 and the library board half a mill. A levy of .45 of a mill will net the library board as much this year as the half mill did last year, while a rate of .85 will provide the park board with as much money as last year. There will be a corresponding reduction in the rate in other departments.

Should the state board of equalization decide to assess property at its actual cash value, fully 50 per cent will be added to the valuation of city property, which would reduce the rate to 18 mills.

FALLS 400 FEET

Jacob Hoffman Sustains Possibly Fatal Injuries in Balloon Ascent at State Fair.

Jacob Hoffman, the aeronaut, who made the ascent at the state fair last night, fell 400 feet and received injuries which may prove fatal. He is now in St. Joseph's hospital, St. Paul.

Hoffman started the ascent in a high wind and when he was 400 feet in the air, cut the parachute loose. For some reason the thing failed to work until he had fallen nearly 200 feet. It then opened with such a jerk as to tear the canvas and let him fall with practically no support. He struck upon a pile of lumber near the St. Paul gate to the grounds. His left leg was badly shattered, the bones between the knee and ankle being broken into splinters. His hand was also badly wrenched and it is thought that he was injured internally.

THEN HE WENT.

"Do you know," remarked the young man as the mantel clock indicated 11:30 p. m., "that of all the songs I ever heard, the most horrible is 'Home Sweet Home'?"

"Indeed!" rejoined the fair girl as she endeavored to suppress a yawn. "I never would have suspected it."

"I'm always at a disadvantage out in company," she sighed.

"Why do you sigh with surprise?"

"You see I play and sing."

"I should think that would give you a distinct advantage."

"No. I never get a chance to hear any of the crowd."

WILL KEEP FLAGS

Fourth Minnesota Veterans Refuse to Return Standards Captured From Mississippians.

Five Commands of Minnesota Civil War Volunteers Hold Meetings and Elect New Officers.

Veterans of the old Fourth Minnesota regiment which fought with conspicuous gallantry in the civil war, have decided to retain the two battle flags of the Thirty-fifth and Thirty-ninth Mississippi regiments, captured at the battle of Alton, Miss., Dec. 6, 1864. The survivors of these two southern regiments had made a formal request for the return of the flags, but it was refused yesterday by a vote of 36 to 20, the matter being taken to vote four times and always with the same result.

A resolution was adopted asking the state to appropriate $35,000 for the erection of a Minnesota monument at Vicksburg. The request of the Grant Monument association to have the flag of the Fourth placed in Grant's tomb temporarily was refused. All three flags are now on exhibition at the state capitol.

The Minnesota Veterans' association elected the following officers: President, James Hunter, Fairbault; secretary, A. F. Connolly, Chicago; recording secretary and treasurer, M. R. Prendergast, St. Paul.

Veterans of the Tenth Minnesota formerly known as the Colonel William Torrance's suggestion that the Grand Army should contribute to the support of southern homes for the care of old confederates. B. F. Sanborn was elected president; F. W. Knapp, vice president; and M. R. Prendergast, secretary and treasurer.

The Ninth regiment elected W. E. Williams, Minneapolis, president; and W. B. Dear, Minneapolis, secretary and treasurer. A banquet was held at the Metropolitan hotel, St. Paul, at which Governor Van Hook delivered an address. The Fifth regiment listened to an address from Archbishop Ireland and elected H. B. Dyke, president; Charles Stauff, secretary and Herman Muehlenberg, secretary and treasurer.

The Sixth regiment selected Colonel William Crooks of Portland, Oregon, president; H. B. Wilson of Red Wing, Robert Hutchinson of Fairbault, and A. Mierman of Minneapolis, as vice presidents; and J. P. Lightner, St. Paul, secretary and treasurer.

The First Minnesota, with only fifteen veterans present, elected Colonel William Paefender, president; and H. C. Shepard, secretary and treasurer.

DOWN ON CRIBBING

But Local Educators Do Not Think It Necessary to Inaugurate a Crusade Against It.

Dr. Northrop and Supt. Jordan Say the Practice Is Not Common in Minneapolis.

Last spring when the papers of eighteen of the thirty-one students taking the entrance examinations at Princeton, "thrown out" because of unusually flagrant "cribbing," instructors in the various preparatory schools and colleges in the country raised a hue and cry which portended that in the immediate future at least the chances of passing examinations by such procedure would be vastly curtailed. But the general public that martinet methods are the only methods; but there are others who would put the matter as does the faculty at Princeton, into the hands of university students. "I believe as little in intellectual dishonesty as I believe in financial dishonesty, and I regret that the standard of the university is not sufficient high to discourage the tireless work which I am not going to institute any special campaign against 'cribbing,'" said Dr. Northrop.

"In the first place there is not enough of it to require special action by the faculty, and in the second place, while I put genuine, bona fide 'cribbing' on quite as low a plane as abstracting money from a student's pocket book for instance, I do not believe in the use of the term 'cribbing' to open the book is not only lawful, it is good scholarship. But there is a possibility and even a probability that this, with the aid of a little moral gymnastics, may serve to give the way to a dishonest use of the book."

"What I strongly advocate in this matter is the responsibility of instructors. I don't believe in the custom of leaving the students alone in the room where the examination is being held. To the student, especially the young student who dreads a 'final' examination, is almost irresistible. To avoid that, the instructor should be at his desk until the last moment of the class has passed in his paper. As to whether the girls or the men were more likely to 'crib,' President Northrop looked thoughtfully into space. "Women," he said, guardedly, "are theoretically more likely to have higher ethical code than men. But if they were under temptation, they might succumb. But I don't know anything about it, so don't say anything about it."

"It is an excellent question," said Dr. Northrop, "but I will soon blow over," succinctly observed C. M. Jordan, superintendent of city schools. "One thing is certain, we're not going to conduct a crusade against it here. 'Cribbing' done in our high schools, it must be done on a very small scale, on account of the absence of final examinations. What I do not like is the temptation to cheat. I put my foot down on final examinations. I have always argued that if anyone could judge of a pupil's scholarship, it was the pupil's teacher, and I acted accordingly. There is no cheating the year and the pupil's work from day to day is recorded, but the agony of the final examination is a thing dispensed with, and the student is given a year's credit. At the end of the four years the student is given a certificate, and if satisfactory, this admits him into the state university without the necessity of the hated 'crimbling,' and possible 'cribbing.'"

A FOOTBALL FIEND

Frank Force Travels From the Philippines to Minneapolis to See the Fall Games.

Frank Force, formerly a student of the University of Minnesota, who went to the Philippines with the Thirtieth Minnesota, and who has recently been employed as a teacher among the Igorrotes, has returned home for the football season. He speaks with enthusiasm of the value of the islands and of his experiences there, but he says he does not know whether he shall return or not. Always a football enthusiast, Mr. Force admitted that he made the journey from Genoa to a distance of several thousand miles, for the express purpose of seeing the fall games.

Mr. Force says the children in his school learn readily and are unusually bright. He also says that the islands are peaceful at the present time, with the exception of the strife which is going on in the Moros. He believes the lumber and mineral wealth of the country will be developed shortly and that both will become important industries.

O'KIEFFE RESPONSIBLE

Coroner's Jury Blames Him for Death of Joseph Jacques—Revolver Instrument of Death.

The coroner's jury at St. Paul which inquired into the death of Joseph W. Jacques, the Great Northern machinist who died after a fight with Frank J. O'Kieffe, returned a verdict stating that the death resulted from wounds received in the fight and holding O'Kieffe responsible. The testimony of the jury, as given by struck Jacques over the head with the butt of a revolver, and kicked the man after he was down. It also showed that Jacques knocked O'Kieffe's hat off as they were coming to the street bridge. This seems to have started the fight.

The St. Paul lodge, International Association of Machinists, of which Jacques was a member, passed resolutions denying that the encounter between the two men was premeditated, and that Jacques was known among his fellow workmen as a man of quarrelsome disposition.

OPTICIANS' MEETING

The State Association Yesterday Held Its Annual Meeting at the West Hotel.

The second annual meeting of the Minnesota State Optical association was held at the parlors of the West hotel yesterday. The afternoon session was devoted to business, including a report of the following officers: President, Frank L. Willson, Mantorville; first vice president, J. M. Chalmers, Lake City; second vice president, W. Harper, Renwick; secretary, C. A. Snell, Minneapolis; treasurer, L. M. DeMars, Minneapolis; director, E. Hubner, Stillwater. The remainder of afternoon was given to reading of papers and blackboard demonstration. A banquet at the West hotel followed. The banquet at the West hotel participated in by sixty members and ladies closed a most successful meeting.

MADE A BRIDGE OF CHINESE COFFINS.

Detroit News-Tribune.

Engineers are famous for their ready resource in emergencies. During the Chinese war, it was necessary to get a number of troops across a river in a great hurry, to prevent the enemy taking up an important position. There was no bridge, and there were no boats. An engineer took a detachment to a village near by, raided it, and came back with a number of coffins, each carrying one of those large painted coffins which every Chinaman keeps in his house. With these as pontoons, a bridge was improvised, and the men got across in time, thereby saving the loss of much time, ammunition, and perhaps valuable lives.

MILWAUKEE'S EARNINGS.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Earnings of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul for July were $1,100,000. While the increase in net earnings was small, yet in view of the fact that most of the company's competitors had decreased in net earnings the officials are highly pleased with the result. Gross earnings for July were $3,651,893, against $3,582,041 last year, an increase of $79,852; net earnings were $1,381,085, against $1,367,268, an increase of $13,817.

NOTHING EASIER.

Philadelphia Times.

W. A. Sponser, when in the state legislature, was given to the making of very elaborate and florid speeches, and one day brought an address to a close with "Vox populi, vox Dei."

"I'll bet you don't know the meaning of what Sponser just said," said Al Crawford to Hugh E. Mackin.

"I don't know," replied Mackin, indignantly. "Of course I know!"

"You don't know for ten dollars!" suggested Crawford.

Mackin, still indignant, posted his part of the wager with another member of the legislature, and Crawford said, tauntingly: "Well, now tell us—what do they know?"

"Vox populi, vox Dei," quoted Mackin, solemnly, "as everybody knows, is French for 'My God! Why has Thou forsaken me?'"

"Give him the money," said Crawford. "Darned if he doesn't know after all!"

ADVANCE FOR WALES

Local Coal Man Goes to Chicago as President of Youghiogeny and Lehigh.

Other Changes Take Place in the Management of the Northwestern Business.

Changes in the management of the northwestern coal business, as predicted some time ago, have taken place. Charles E. Wales, president of the Pioneer Fuel company, has gone to Chicago as the president of the Youghiogeny and Lehigh company. With him he took his private secretary, P. S. Elwell.

The Youghiogeny company is the selling agent of the Pittsburgh Coal company, the so-called trust. The Pioneer Fuel company and other offices in the city and St. Paul are local distributing agents for the Youghiogeny company.

Men connected with the companies reiterate that the combination is simply for the purpose of finding out where the companies stand in regard to prices. The result is an agreement as to prices, but no advantage is taken of the situation to advance prices higher than the regular advance of 50 cents in April, 40 cents in May, 30 cents in June, 20 cents in July and 10 cents in August.

The policy of the companies is to sell all the coal they have just as if the stock on hand were a million tons at exactly the price scheduled for the month in which it is sold.

A remarkable feature in the local market is that all of the companies subsidiary to the "trust," such as the Pioneer, the Y & L and the Ohio, are selling in competition. That is although the price is the same at each office, the managers are striving hard each to make a record for his office in the way of sales. No competition is shown in attempts by various means to cut trade off from another office.

Another circumstance is that although these companies are local distributors of the Pittsburgh Coal company they are privileged to buy coal from what source they please if any advantage is thus gained.

George M. Spence, formerly resident manager of the Ohio Coal company and later connected with the headquarters office over the Pioneer Fuel company, is now manager of the twin city trade of the Youghiogeny and Lehigh, with offices at St. Paul.

This week Stewart C. Gailey, secretary and treasurer of the Pioneer Fuel company, moved with the entire accounting department from the Pioneer's building to the third floor of the Minnesota Loan and Trust company building.

WOMAN FATALLY BURNED

Mrs. George Huff Sustains Serious Injuries in Lighting a Fire With Gasoline.

Mrs. George Huff, residing at 646 Fairview avenue N., Merriam Park, was burned in a gasoline explosion yesterday and will probably die from her injuries. She was lighting the fire and used gasoline instead of kerosene. The fluid exploded and her clothing was ignited.

Y. M. C. A. at the University Busy in the Interests of Those Who Need Assistance.

The Young Men's Christian Association at the state university is engaged busily at present in finding positions for scores of new students who desire work to increase their incomes in order to enable them to secure an education. Special effort has been made to procure such positions for general work for stenographers, printers, waiters, clerks, furnace tenders, etc. Persons who desire service will do a great favor in notifying the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at the University of Minnesota.

STATE SPIRITUALISTS

Fifth Annual Convention Begins This Evening at First Unitarian Church.

The fifth annual convention of the State Spiritualists' association will open in the First Unitarian church this evening with an informal reception. To-morrow at 10:30 a. m. J. S. Maxwell, state president, will call the convention to order, committees will be appointed and a conference will be held accordingly. There will be a banquet in the afternoon C. D. Pruden, vice president, will deliver the address of welcome which will be responded to by G. W. Kates. Mrs. Pruden will give the invocation. Tests will be given by Mrs. C. T. Johnson, Will J. Erwood and tests by Mrs. Z. B. Kates and Miss Wickstrom.

Saturday morning will be devoted to reports of local churches, committees and J. H. McDonald will conduct the conference. In the afternoon the program will be given by scholars of the different lycceums. The leadership will be assumed by Mrs. M. S. Skoag and Sauer. Mrs. E. M. Dowell will speak. Mrs. Ella White will give tests and officers will be elected. In the evening there will be remarks by Mrs. C. T. Johnson, Mrs. Z. B. Kates and tests by Mrs. Z. B. Kates and Miss Wickstrom.

Fall and OVERCOATS and HATS.

All styles of our beautiful overcoats are now here—"Wilton," "Fullmores," "Topcoats," "Kos-sacks," etc.

The long overcoats are shown in fancy colors, some with and others without the belts. The heavy covert cloth Topcoat is very stylish especially for the young man, and for afternoon and evening wear the close fitting, full skirt "Century" will be more in vogue. But the "Wilton," cut a little longer than that of last year, will be the overcoat. Black and dark ox-fords will be the colors. Price $10 to $50

Special Prices on Overcoats.

About 200 dark Cambridge overcoats, made of fine imported chevot. There is a softness and lustre to these garments not found in domestic woolsens. Hand tailored throughout and lined with best serge. The regular price is $25, but using such a large quantity we cut the price so that we now offer them at $18

BLACK KERSEY OVERCOATS, 150 all told, some lined with finest serge, others with durable lusteren that looks exactly like silk. All have satin sleeve lining and are hand tailored. Price $14

See our $3 "Standish" hat.

Knox Hats.

There is a depth and richness about the fur, a quality about the trimming and a something in the shape that nobody but Knox seems to have found out how to get. Knox is a young man's hatter. Some people say his hat takes five years off the age of a man. Derbies and Fedoras, $5; Silk hats, $8.

See our $3 "Standish" hat.

Clothing in Basement Salesroom.

$12 to $20 Suits, $7.50.

There are over 400 Suits in this lot. Not one of which ever sold for more than $12, and some are the remainder of our imported garments. This lot includes all our medium weight Fancy Suits. For the most part the colors are dark and suitable to wear till snow flies.

Winter Overcoats, $7.50

This offering is the result of much energy, both on our part and on the part of our manufacturer. We secured an excellent oxford gray all wool fabric; extra heavy and very durable for about two-thirds its regular value. These Overcoats are lined with farmers' satin. It is the same as a $10 Overcoat. Price $7.50

The long overcoats are shown in fancy colors, some with and others without the belts. The heavy covert cloth Topcoat is very stylish especially for the young man, and for afternoon and evening wear the close fitting, full skirt "Century" will be more in vogue. But the "Wilton," cut a little longer than that of last year, will be the overcoat. Black and dark ox-fords will be the colors. Price $10 to $50

Special Prices on Overcoats.

About 200 dark Cambridge overcoats, made of fine imported chevot. There is a softness and lustre to these garments not found in domestic woolsens. Hand tailored throughout and lined with best serge. The regular price is $25, but using such a large quantity we cut the price so that we now offer them at $18

BLACK KERSEY OVERCOATS, 150 all told, some lined with finest serge, others with durable lusteren that looks exactly like silk. All have satin sleeve lining and are hand tailored. Price $14

Knox Hats.

There is a depth and richness about the fur, a quality about the trimming and a something in the shape that nobody but Knox seems to have found out how to get. Knox is a young man's hatter. Some people say his hat takes five years off the age of a man. Derbies and Fedoras, $5; Silk hats, $8.

Clothing in Basement Salesroom.

$12 to $20 Suits, $7.50.

There are over 400 Suits in this lot. Not one of which ever sold for more than $12, and some are the remainder of our imported garments. This lot includes all our medium weight Fancy Suits. For the most part the colors are dark and suitable to wear till snow flies.

Winter Overcoats, $7.50

This offering is the result of much energy, both on our part and on the part of our manufacturer. We secured an excellent oxford gray all wool fabric; extra heavy and very durable for about two-thirds its regular value. These Overcoats are lined with farmers' satin. It is the same as a $10 Overcoat. Price $7.50
