A man dressed in a painter's uniform has been passing forged checks in the city for several days. He entered the store of W. K. Morrison & Co. yesterday and wanted a check for $23 cashed. When the clerk asked him to wait he became frightened and left without delay. The police have a good description of the man.

The degree team of McKinley Tent No. 56, Knights of the Maccabees, with city members, will go to St. Paul this evening to confer the work for Unity Tent No. 8. A large number of candidates, including Governor Van Sant, is to be admitted. A chartered car will leave 2415 Bloomington avenue at 7:30 p. m. All members of the order are welcome to come.

Contributions are not coming in as rapidly as expected to the fund which the Commercial club is raising for the purchase of one of Alexis Fournier's best known landscapes, "Going to Pasture in Lombardy," which now adorns the parlor with three other works of Mr. Fournier's notable contributions to art. Contributions came in rapidly at first, in $5 and $10 amounts, and it was believed that the necessary $450 would be raised in a short time. Interest in the project has abated noticeably of late and but $140 has been received. Mr. Fournier will take his other pictures to Chicago this week.

THE WEATHER

The Predictions.

NORBECK'S CLOSE CALL

An Insane Prisoner in the County Jail Gives Him a Hard Tussle.

Emil Hiles, an inmate of the insane ward at the county jail, viciously attacked Christopher C. Norbeck yesterday, and would, perhaps, have killed him had not Jailer Alexander arrived upon the scene in time. Hiles was taken to the jail yesterday morning, and Norbeck was told of the trouble to-night. Hiles was sitting quietly, when suddenly the maniac made a rush at the former detective and kicked him in the eye. He then seized his victim around the neck, and the incident in action to strange him. Norbeck cried out and his cries attracted Captain Alexander, who at once ran to the rescue. Hiles will be sent back to his home at Sioux City, Iowa.

The question of pure water and sanitation in cities and homes will also be dwelt upon.

Dr. H. M. Bracken, secretary of the state board; Dr. Westbrook of Minneapolis, and Dr. Sweeney of St. Paul are on the committee on arrangements.

If Every One Knew the Superior Merits of "Original"

Albrecht Furs

As Well as We Do, We Could Not Begin to Supply the Demand.

For forty-eight years we have been perfecting them, studying the markets of the Old World and the needs of the New, being careful not alone of every change of style from year to year, but also finding out what were to be the favorite skins. We've not trusted this study to others, but have obtained our information at first hand by personal visits to primary markets and fashion capitals.

Our Mr. E. Albrecht is home from Europe. The results of his annual visit this year are here for your inspection. "Cosmopolitan Styles"—that's what "Original" Albrecht Fur Styles are. They represent the adaptation of the world's latest fashions to America's needs. Their modish effect stamps them the world over as "style current," and the wearer may rest assured that in whatever part of the world he may be, he is correctly dressed as far as Furs are concerned.

The most comprehensive Fur Guide in America will be mailed to non-residents upon request. Address Dept. 5,

A PROFITABLE "AD" Mr. Smith Discovers the Fire

A Pouch Containing $1,500 Worth of Jewels Is Lost and Quickly Recovered.

"Want Ad" in The Journal the Medium by Which the Finder Discovered Owner.

Frank Valerius, a former Kansas City restaurant keeper, who is in the city in search of a permanent location, is thoroughly convinced that The Journal "Want Ads" are a profitable investment. At any rate, the use of one yesterday afternoon brought about the return of $1,500 worth of jewels, lost on the street by Mrs. Valerius.

Mr. and Mrs. Valerius arrived in the city a few days ago and, after investigating the situation, determined to locate here. Accordingly, they started out yesterday afternoon to find suitable quarters. Mrs. Valerius carried in her hand a chamois leather bag containing jewels valued at $1,500. As she alighted from a carriage, she unknowingly dropped the bag and the costly stones were not missed until they returned to their hotel.

As soon as the loss was discovered the matter was reported to the police and Mr. Valerius was advised to employ the "want" columns of The Journal. A "want ad" was inserted and within three hours from the time the paper was issued, a man called at the hotel and restored the missing jewels to their anxious owner.

The bag containing the jewels was picked up by Rev. James A. Paige, a retired minister, who lives at 114 1/2 Yella avenue. He found the packet lying on the sidewalk at the corner of Hennepin avenue and Thirteenth street, in front of one of the houses visited.

The bag contained a diamond pendant with chain attached, a large oval ring set with diamonds, a diamond ring with two settings, a diamond ring with square cut diamonds in the center, and three small diamonds on each side, and a $10 bill.

THE FATHER OF MONTEREY

Colonel J. A. Robertson Tells Some Interesting Things About the Thriving Mexican Town.

Colonel J. A. Robertson of Monterey, Mex., is at the Hotel on business. Colonel Robertson has frequently been called the "Father of Monterey," it being through his influence that the manufacturing interests of the city were built up and the little town now has come into a manufacturing city of 100,000.

"The extension of the railroads into the northwestern part of Mexico," said Colonel Robertson to-day, "has done an excellent piece of work. Heretofore the country has imported thousands of cars of lumber, but when the pine regions of Sonora and Sinaloa are opened to the market of the world, there will be but little lumber shipped into the country."

Mexico will never be an exporter of lumber, however. In addition to its ores, which are shipped to the states of the north, there will be nothing but coffee and rubber exported in important quantities. Even sugar, which is much raised, will never be an item of export because the available sugar lands are insufficient to supply the demands of the country itself.

"Coffee of the finest quality is raised in eastern Mexico and is one of the important products of the country. The states of Moravia, Michoacan, Tamaulipas and Vera Cruz contain vast coffee plantations, and the cultivation of this crop is a source of great wealth. The plantations are being rapidly developed and a great deal of American money is being invested in this line."

JOHN S. O'KEEFE DEAD

St. Paul Man Passes Away Unexpectedly—Deputy Coroner Thinks Overdose of Opium the Cause.

John S. O'Keefe, 50 years of age, an employe of Mannheim Brothers, St. Paul, was found unconscious at an early hour yesterday morning. He died after being removed to St. Joseph's hospital. After a thorough investigation, Deputy Coroner Whitcomb decided death was due to an accidental overdose of opium taken to relieve nervousness.

INVESTIGATION ORDERED

The Governor Names Commissioners to Inquire Into an Itasca School Treasurer's Affairs.

Charges of malfeasance in office have been made to Governor Van Sant against C. W. Robinson of Deer River, treasurer of school district No. 1 of Itasca county. Governor Van Sant yesterday appointed Alfred F. Thwing and Miss E. M. Campbell of Grand Rapids special commissioners to take testimony in the case. Examinations of Robinson's books by the public examiner's deputy showed that he had received $1,411 from the county auditor for the district, which he had not entered on his books. It is claimed that he owes the district $2,600, but he will only admit $1,500.

New Probate Judges.

Governor Van Sant yesterday appointed Henry Moll of St. Peter probate judge of Nicollet county, in place of Benjamin M. Rogers, deceased. Bert O. Loe of Granite Falls was appointed probate judge of Itasca county, to succeed the late John D. Otis.

For Smokers and Stags

There's nothing so good as a Keiser-Barthel Bag Tie. The Plymouth Clothing House.

Majestics at the Dewey.

Fred Irwin's "New Majestic Burlesques" are at the Dewey this week. Unlike most of the combinations which visit this house, the burlesques are by one burlesque, the program opening with a short farce entitled "Back to Ireland." Then comes the olio and, when that is over, the burlesque, in which the tin is extracted from the "King Dodo," the monarch masquerading under the name of King Popo. The burlesque has been excellently staged and is well costumed. Moreover, the musical numbers are new. Minnie Polka—at least most of them are—although, of course, there is the ballad about the "Good, Old Summer Time," and a parody on "Josephine."

The writer of burlesques has an easy time of it. He has only to select the best things from recent productions, exaggerate them sufficiently, supply his comedians with a slapstick, settee, horn or flaming buff and, voila, there you are. That is just what has been done in this case, and the result is not displeasing. In addition to "King Dodo," "The Idol's Eye" has been leveled up to supply the burlesque for the leading comedian; but what of that? Burlesque does not purport to be original. If it is only funny it fulfills its mission, and "King for a Day" is funny—at least in spots.

The best thing in the olio is the slack wire act of Cole and De Losse, which is deservedly popular with the audience. Lulu Valmore contributes a novel act in the shape of a rag-time toe dance, and carries Jack Horton with her as excess baggage. Gertie De Milt sings as well as dances—and dances as well as sings. Larry McNamee and Mabel Carey present the same sketch they had last year; and Ziska and King entertain as a magician and his assistant.

The chorus is large and not unattractive. What is more, its members fit their respective costumes to a nicety. There are several passages in the opening sketch that should be expurgated.

A new rule of courtroom etiquette was laid down yesterday by Al J. Smith, first assistant United States district attorney. "Even if court has adjourned," said he, "you should always face the judges as you leave the room."

But other members of the bar association who witnessed the first assistant's impressive retreat would not accept his novel ruling. "It's immaterial and irrelevant," said they.

The fact of the matter was that upon the adjournment of court, some thoughtless smoker behind Mr. Smith lighted a cigar and gave the still blazing match a careless toss. It happened to be one of these smokers' matches with a club shaped end of combustible chemicals on the end and warranted to burn thirty seconds in a hard gale. This active bit of Greek fire fell all unobserved into Mr. Smith's chair.

A few moments thereafter the assistant district attorney moved uneasily in his seat and sniffed suspiciously. A faint odor of burning wool crept out into the air and suddenly Mr. Smith arose as suddenly as though he had been sitting on a dynamite cartridge which had exploded. He had learned that there was a fire somewhere and that it was one on him.

Another investigation revealed that a neat, round hole about the size of a silver dollar had been burned in his trousers in a place where he could conceal it by remaining seated. This sort of concealment, however, so Mr. Smith backed gracefully away and sidled hurriedly to his tailor's on Fifth street where, by rare good chance, another pair of trousers was awaiting him.

Hereafter he will either avoid the vicinage of smokers or carry a pocket fire department.

PLANS FOR IMPLEMENT MEN

Social Features Are Arranged for Their National Convention Here Next Month.

The meeting of the National Association of Agricultural Implement and Vehicle Manufacturers at Minneapolis, Oct. 15, 16 and 17, will bring to Minneapolis manufacturers from Chicago, Kansas City, Lansing, Mich., and many other points east and west. The convention headquarters will be at the West hotel. Carriages will meet all incoming delegates at the depot, Oct. 15, and reception to the women attending the convention will be held at the home of some prominent implement man, Wednesday afternoon. The attraction for the evening will be a theater party, to be followed by a smoker and luncheon at the Commercial club.

A CLERICAL INDORSEMENT

Swedish Pastors Cordially Approve the Acts of the Present City Administration.

Swedish clergymen heartily approve of the administration of Acting Mayor Jones, and particularly of that recent order announcing that liquor will not be tolerated at dances and social functions held in public places. The pastors of the Swedish churches of the city, in a unanimous sentiment of the Swedish tabernacle Sept. 19, 1902, at 19 King Dodo street, expressed their approval of the act of the city council, and the following note was sent to him:

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 20, 1902.—Hon. D. P. Jones, Acting Mayor, Minneapolis, Minn.—The pastors of the Swedish churches of the different denominations held a meeting at the Swedish tabernacle Sept. 19, 1902, at 19 King Dodo street, and unanimously expressed their approval of the act of the city council, and the following note was sent to him:

CLIMATE AND CROPS

Bulletin for Last Week—Corn Seriously Injured by Frost—Fall Plowing Backward.

Minnesota's climate and crop bulletin summarized follows:

There were light and scattered showers on the 19th and 20th and more general rains on the 19th and 20th and 21st. The mornings of the 19th and 20th were cool, with heavy frosts in many places. Plowing has been going on as rapidly as possible during the dry parts of the week, and the grain left in shock is nearly all threshed; threshing from the stack is begun. High winds on one or two days made threshing difficult. In some of the low lands of the Red River valley small areas of rye have been cut and flax were still uncut at the time of the killing frost on the 19th, and these are now hard to earth cutting. The corn crop has been very seriously injured by the frost and stalks stand dried and bleached; some of this corn has been cut and shocked, but a great deal will be left standing in the field. Fall plowing is backward because of the delay in getting the crops off the fields. The second crop of clover has very little seed in it. Winter wheat is being seeded in small areas in some southern counties. Early seeded rye is coming up nicely.

The Plymouth Fur Show Room on the second floor, adjoining the beautiful Suit and Wray department, is an inviting place these days. Make your fur selection now at price inducements which cannot be duplicated when the frost is in the air.

T. C. R. T. Dividend. It is reported from New York that the Twin City Rapid Transit company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent on its preferred stock, payable Oct. 1. Transfer books close to-day and reopen Oct. 1. President Lowry will be in New York some time before Oct. 15. While in there it is expected that the first important meeting of the directors will be held.

RAILROAD NOTES. The Hudson Manhattan Railway company has filed articles in New Jersey. It is believed to be the purpose of the projectors to connect in New York City the terminals of the Essex, Erie and New Jersey Central roads.

Grain for the head of the lakes will be distributed next week by the Northern Pacific from the new Duluth Rice's Point yard. Three hundred and sixty-two cars and about 7,500 tons of cattle were received yesterday at the South St. Paul Union stockyards. The cattle were mostly from North Dakota and Montana. The record of Sept. 1 was broken.

The North-Western line announces exceptionally low rates for Minneapolis and intermediate points to Chicago, St. Paul, St. Louis, St. Joseph, Mo., and other points. The rate to Chicago is $1.00, to St. Paul, $1.00, to St. Louis, $1.00, to St. Joseph, $1.00. The rate to Chicago is $1.00, to St. Paul, $1.00, to St. Louis, $1.00, to St. Joseph, $1.00.

RAILROAD RUMBLES

Handsome and Valuable Work Issued by the Santa Fe Company.

The passenger department of the Santa Fe road has issued a well gotten up book descriptive of the route over the Santa Fe Trail. It was written by C. A. Higgins and illustrated by J. T. McCutcheon and Carl N. Wertz. The only distinctively descriptive matter is a list of the road's ticket offices.

The book is devoted wholly to a description of western travel. It is a trustworthy reference volume or as a story of travel. The book is unincumbered with statistics or itineraries and it is the expectation of the author that a perusal of the pages will whet the appetite to visit the places described. Specific directions may be obtained from representatives of the road.

The Santa Fe has also issued a delicately illuminated booklet describing the new Albuquerque hotel called Alvarado. It was named after Captain Hernandez de Alvarado, commander of the artillery for Coronado's expedition. His gallantry in storming Cibola is well known. The captain commanded the first expedition east from Cibola and was the first European to visit Acama and other neighboring towns. He returned to Mexico in 1542.

The booklet is a work of art and is a charming specimen of the art of the printer and the skill of the advertising man.

ACCESS TO MICHIGAN

The Pennsylvania Will Get It Through the Pere Marquette.

Special to The Journal. Reports from authentic sources that there is to be a merger of the operation of the Norfolk & Western and the Pere Marquette railroads explain the purpose of the Pennsylvania's interests in acquiring control of the latter system. It gives the Pennsylvania the long coveted access to the iron mines of the Michigan peninsula and an outlet to the shore of upper Lake Michigan.

The Norfolk & Western runs through the rich soil coal section of the Virginia and the mountain regions of Kentucky and Tennessee, crossing the Ohio river at Keokuk and extending to Columbus, Ohio. It has been owned by the Pennsylvania about a year and the two lines will connect these two rich traffic-producing pieces of country.

Shorter Hours to New York.

The North-Western has announced a schedule of about thirty-four hours from Minneapolis to New York, to take effect next Sunday. The Atlantic express will leave a few minutes earlier and arriving at Chicago before noon, will make good connections with the Pennsylvania and New York Central limited trains.

Coal Rate Investigation.

Eastern coal roads and their coal tariffs are to be investigated by the interstate commerce commission. It is said that the roads are carrying from the Pennsylvania coal fields to great lake ports at exorbitant rates.

Illinois Central Expansion.

At the next meeting of the Illinois Central, Oct. 15, propositions for the acquisition of a few miles earlier and arriving at Chicago before noon, will make good connections with the Pennsylvania and New York Central limited trains.

Your Credit Is Good at the New England.

ROOSEVELT DAY.

Special Notice to the School Children of Minneapolis.

We have received 2,000 "Roosevelt" Buttons, bearing an accurate portrait of our President on a bronze background—a beautiful, permanent souvenir of his visit to our city—which we shall take pleasure in distributing to all School Children who apply for them in person Wednesday morning from eight to nine o'clock, Wednesday afternoon from five to six, and Thursday morning, if they last so long, from eight to nine o'clock.

PIANO NEWS.
 Our Piano Department is making good progress, but we desire to push things a little harder. This is the way we propose to do it: On each day for the next ten days (possibly longer if it works well) we are going to offer one Piano, and one only, at a ridiculously low price, to be sold to the first customer desiring it. Only one will be sold per day on this basis. If we have twenty customers who want the instrument, there will be only one who will get it, and the other nineteen will have to wait until the next day's offer.

The first instrument we offer is a mahogany "Guthrie" style Colonial Inverted Grand, with every latest improvement and the latest and most artistic designed case, with beautiful handsome carved trusses, double pillars, patent grand fall board—our regular and lowest price for which is $475, Wednesday $325, Cash or $350 on payments of $10 down and $10 per month until paid for, without interest.

For Thursday we shall offer a "Albrecht" Piano; for Friday a "Poole"; for Saturday a "New England," and for next Monday a "Blaisus." These are all new instruments, fresh from the factory and carry the fullest guaranty.

TERMS ON HOUSEFURNISHINGS.

WE POSITIVELY STATE, AND YOU MAY DEPEND UPON IT, THAT THERE IS NO HOUSE IN THE CITY WHICH HAS THE SAME INCLINATION AND ABILITY AS THE NEW ENGLAND TO ACCOMMODATE ITS CUSTOMERS IN THE MATTER OF TERMS. YOUR CONVENIENCE IS OURS; TELL US YOUR REQUIREMENTS AND IT WILL BE A RARE CASE INDEED WHERE WE CANNOT CONNECT.
