Fierce Duels Between Rival Republican Factions of the Missouri Slope Country.

Burling and Stark County Men Are Hunting Scalps—Democracy's Campaign for Cronan.

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 23.—The statement that all is harmony on the slope does not seem to be borne out by the conditions prevailing two weeks before the election.

The same is true of Stark county, where Register A. C. McGilivray of the land office is leading a fight on the republican legislative ticket, and it is asserted by his supporters that the independent ticket will be elected.

The Burlington county trouble is the outcome of the Winchester-Patterson feud which began shortly before the legislative session two years ago, when Patterson was arrested for running a gambling house.

This breach has widened until it is now a battle between Patterson and his old republican associates. He has a paper, the Palladium, which is devoting each issue to roasts on his former partner, E. S. Atch, who is running on the republican ticket for the legislature.

Alexander McKenzie, national committeeman and political leader, visited Bismarck and returned several days ago. McKenzie is perhaps more interested in the state and legislative tickets, than in local battles, and he left after a visit of several days, during which he was the recipient of tales of war from all sides.

It is apparent that the democrats are concentrating their fight on Governor White in the hope of electing Cronan, or of greatly reducing White's majority. It is probable also that the republican leadership is being offered on two main issues, although they are confident of his election by a good majority.

The merger matter is being used as their principal campaign cry. There are critics on both sides, but the special effort to cut down White's lead.

Attorney Tracy Bangs of Grand Forks hopes to obtain a new trial for Barry, the Cavalier county farmer who killed a hired hand, accused of having invaded the sanctity of his home and betrayed his trust.

Truelsen in North Dakota. Among the Minnesotans to see the merits of North Dakota lands is ex-Mayor Henry Truelsen of Duluth, who, with his two sons and two daughters, has moved to a tract of land near Bellevue, Stark county, with the intention of starting a cattle ranch.

NO DRUGS. Just Proper Food and Rest. The regular use of drugs to relieve pain is on the wrong track. Find the cause and remedy it by proper food and quit drugs for temporary relief or you will never get well.

A minister's wife writes: "Three years ago, while living at Rochester, N. Y., where my husband was pastor of one of the city churches, I was greatly reduced from nervous prostration and anemia, and was compelled to go to a well-known eastern sanitarium for my health.

At the sanitarium I was given Grape-Nuts and learned the value of the food. I used it continuously, eating it at nearly every meal, and my recovery was rapid. Its use enabled me to eat and digest food and to give up the drug habit and I am now completely restored to good health.

At the present time I am able to attend to my household and family duties, pursue music, which was formerly my profession, besides reading and studying, all of which I was totally unable to do at the time referred to. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

MORGAN BADLY BEATEN

The Parliamentary Committee Upholds the Claim Made by Mr. Yerkes.

London, Oct. 23.—The contention of counsel for Charles T. Yerkes, before the house of commons railroad committee Tuesday, that the bill providing for the construction of a Piccadilly and City road must be withdrawn, as the Morgans "tube" scheme had no legal status through having been presented to parliament as part of the plan which became inconsistent the day through the withdrawal of its bill, was upheld by the committee to-day.

The Associated Press learns that the Morgans do not propose to abandon their underground projects. Despite the decision of the committee, they will have a bill introduced in 1923 giving facilities similar to those in the bill knocked out by the defection of the London United, controlled by the group purchased by Speyer Brothers, who are financing Charles T. Yerkes' plans. It is extremely doubtful, however, whether parliament will grant the concessions desired.

W. C. T. U. ON "THE NAIL" Work Against the Cigarette—Scientific Temperance Institution.

Portland Me., Oct. 23.—Much time was drawn attention to the merits of the National W. C. T. U. Both were adopted. The first was in effect: "That we stand committed to the principle and practice of compulsory scientific temperance instruction for all pupils in all public schools of this country."

Mrs. E. B. Ingalls, superintendent of the department of anti-narcotics, submitted a report, in part as follows: "The circulation of the year 1921 I said if we worked quietly, easily, and kept at it, the cigarette would be driven out of existence in ten years. A large number of the members of the W. C. T. U. took part in the study of this question and the results are marvelous. Meetings have been held, lectures given and sermons delivered, and educators of the young have drawn attention to the habit."

HE KILLED CUSTER

Appearing Elk, a Sioux Warrior, Now Dead, Felled the General With His Tomahawk.

Rev. Philip Dolora, Formerly an Indian Chief, Gives the Press an Interesting Story.

New York Sun Special Service Philadelphia, Oct. 23.—General Custer was slain by a Sioux warrior by the name of Appearing Elk, according to Rev. Philip Dolora of Flora, S. D., formerly a Sioux chief, but now a minister, attending the council of the Protestant Episcopal church in this city.

Rev. Mr. Dolora gives the solution of the Little Big Horn mystery of 1876 in the words of Custer's captor. Appearing Elk died last spring after having told his story to the minister.

"I was the means of converting an old warrior named Appearing Elk who was in the fight at Little Big Horn into a general Custer fell," said Mr. Dolora. "Appearing Elk gave me the following account of the massacre: "We had surrounded the last cluster of soldiers. I discovered that I myself was wounded. Suddenly a man in blue loomed up in front of me. I knew that he was a chief, but I did not know who he was. He was swaying his spear himself. From exhaustion and loss of blood from many bullet and arrow wounds, I felled him with my tomahawk and then sat on his body to be sure that I should not be robbed of my right to the scalp."

"In order to make doubly sure I took the revolver from the holster of the dead man and stuck it in my belt. When there were no more soldiers left, the noise ceased and the dust lifted. I was still sitting on the body. I did not scalp the man. Afterward I learned he was the chief of the white men."

GOVERNOR MISSED A DATE Omaha Train Carrying the Executive and Judge Torrance Barely Escapes a Wreck.

Shakopee, Minn., Oct. 23.—Train No. 7 on the Omaha, carrying Governor Van Sant and Judge Eli Torrance, narrowly escaped a serious wreck one mile south of Hamilton last night.

Had the train proceeded 100 feet farther, the engine and cars would have been precipitated into a deep gully spanned by a bridge. The train was proceeding at a high rate of speed, and loss of life was averted by a hair's breadth.

The train had left Hamilton at 6:30 p. m., and had proceeded about a mile when the forward trucks of the tender jumped the track. The ties were torn up to a quarter of a mile before the fireman noticed that anything was wrong. The train was brought to a standstill, when it was found that the tender was all but off the track.

Had the accident not been discovered before the bridge was reached the trucks would have left the ties and the train would have been derailed. Governor Van Sant, who was on his way to St. Peter, to address a political rally, was obliged to give up his plan, after endeavoring to charter an engine.

BOLIVIA, SOUTH AMERICA. The ancient land of the Incas, with its wealth of yellow metal, to be exploited with modern American appliances by Minnesota capital. The historic accounts of the fabulous amounts of gold recovered from the streams and rivers on the eastern slope of the Andean range of mountains by the Incas, with their primitive methods, has attracted the attention of a number of prominent business men of Minnesota, who have, after extensive researches, secured a considerable tract of gold placer ground in the heart of the richest country formerly worked, and historically known to have produced immense amounts of gold as a result of these surface workings by the natives. This Minnesota company, known as the Minnesota-Bolivia company, with their principal office at Northfield, Minn., have gone systematically to work, and have now got four first-class placer miners at work on their property, getting it in shape to install modern hydraulic elevators. Their property, which is on the Tipuani river, province of Larecaja, district of La Paz, has perpetual water power, abundance of timber, and a most salubrious climate. The report of Mr. Cary Wright, who is a member of the New York Institute of Mining Engineers, and was on the ground for some months, is very flattering, and there is no question but what this Minnesota company have struck it very rich.
