IN A NUTSHELL....

The Revival of the Schooner as a Rival of Steam Transportation on the Ocean.
A few years ago it was generally believed that the time would soon come when vessels using wind-power instead of steam would disappear from the ocean.

Time goes on. Emory Lou begins to feel tall and conscious of her angles. She knows she is wearing a sailor suit. "It was in Aunt Cordelia's mirror that she viewed herself with much dissatisfaction; but while looking the especial grievance was forgotten by reason of the reflected face.

WHEN SILENCE WAS A VIRTUE

By NELLIE CRAVEY GILLMORE
Copyright, 1902, by T. C. McClure.
Margaret Kelton folded the Times mechanically and laid it on the table beside her. For some time she sat in deep thought.

THE JOURNAL is published every evening, except Sunday, at 47-49 Fourth Street South, Journal Building, Minneapolis, Minn.

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.
Subscribers ordering addresses of their papers changed must always give their former as well as present address.

COMPLAINTS.
Subscribers will please notify the office in every case where their papers are not delivered promptly, or when the collections are not promptly made.

the sick as should the certificate of some responsible school which represents from four to six years' study.

The Journal does not mean to argue that all schools of healing not recognized by the state are necessarily wrong; nor does it hold that all the regular schools of medicine are all right, but it does believe that with human life involved, years of training and study are not too much.

Paul where such children are treated at public expense. Already scores of little sufferers have been restored to health and prepared for useful and active instead of burdensome and dependent lives.

Again, Delay.
The state department at Washington finds the government of the United States of Colombia as slippery as an eel in the canal franchise negotiations.

marital union and more girls are invited to take charge of homes of their own.

President Roosevelt has seldom met with a more enthusiastic reception or more cordial welcome from any community than he received from the people of Memphis yesterday.

MINNESOTA POLITICS
The Babcock forces have sprung a canard to weaken the Johnson candidacy for speaker. They say that Johnson is in the interest of the state.

Carried in Fawcetts.
The Sauk Rapids Sentinel plumes itself on the fact that the amendments carried in Benton county, because the gross earnings bill got 876 votes to a few dozen negative votes.

Equalize Opportunity.
Congressman Cooper of Wisconsin, chairman of the Insular affairs committee of the house of representatives, is out in an interview in the Milwaukee Free Press in which he says that in his opinion the great contributing cause of the power of the trusts is the enjoyment of special railway rates.

The enthusiastic reception given to President Roosevelt at Memphis shows that the president is just as popular in regions where his own political party is in a minority as elsewhere.

The worst feature of football, considered purely as a game and not as to its incidence, is the bad feeling that characterizes so many games.

The Pioneer Press has another long article to demonstrate the value of control of the Burlington by Mr. Hill. Nobody hereabouts has any objection to the control of the Burlington by Mr. Hill, so far as we have heard.

General Pope, the big Boston bicycle maker, attributes the decline in the bicycle business to the bicycle combine's policy of eliminating advertising in the interest of economy.

A Gatling gun expert has been killed by a trolley car. It takes experience with something more murderous than a Gatling to equip a man to meet a trolley car on equal terms.

Where Will the Populists Go?
The Fergus Falls Journal says: "In view of the result of the recent election, the interesting question now confronting the populist politicians is what to do two years hence.

Salt for His Wounds.
Joel P. Heatwell "rubs it in" on his friend Congressman Babcock (not Dr. Babcock) in the last issue of the North Star.

Boom for Judge Torrance.
The Globe-Gazette, of Mason City, Iowa, looks across the line into Minnesota politics long enough to suggest that the best man to carry a tub full of wet clothes up stairs from the laundry.

A morning paper quotes a Californian as claiming "the most fertile climate in the world," and yet the papers printed in foreign languages say that the English language is coming into such general use that they must soon adopt it themselves.

The Railway Age complains of fear that J. J. Hill is going to make too low railroad rates. No. This is very bright. On this score have been received yet.

When Italy was sliding by the jumping On Place as the great planet whirled around in space yesterday, Little Princess Mafalda, aged one day, leaped aboard and was cheerfully received in Italy's royal circles.

"Emmy Lou, Her Book and Heart."
"Emmy Lou," about the dearest little girl ever, called on us yesterday and left her new book entitled "Emmy Lou, Her Book and Heart." As the New England Primer says: "My book and heart 'Must never part."

In the end the University of Michigan will ignore Detroit, just as Wisconsin always ignores Milwaukee, and the game for the western football championship will be played in Ann Arbor.

Books and Authors
AN ENGLISH CRITIC.
The late Matthew Arnold had a constitutional dislike for us Americans, which is constantly seen in his published letters.

NEW BOOKS.
MIND POWER AND PRIVILEGES. By Albert B. Olston. New York: T. Y. Crowell & Co.

AMUSEMENTS
Foyer Chat.
E. H. Sothern is to appear at the Metropolitan for three nights and Saturday evening at the Metropolitan.

Howard Pyle.
American news. Mr. Arnold frequently expresses his detestation of our newspapers, but he read them all the same.

Not a Practical Question.
The archbishop of Toronto, evidently replying to Archbishop Ireland, says that none of the Canadians have any desire for any closer political relations with the United States than exist at present.

As a practical question for these times no one in either Canada or the United States thinks or talks annexation. We have no illusions, whatever, on the subject in this country.

It would be wrong for the state directly to destroy equality, and it is almost as grave an offense for the state to permit its creatures to interfere with it.

There is no doubt that unjust discrimination by railway companies is the chief promoter of the excessive power for evil of some of the large corporations.

It is hardly possible for one company to maintain itself in business against a competitor that, by means of rebates, secures transportation rates that are about 50 per cent less than the other has to pay.

Perhaps it is the very mystery of life which makes human kind so prone to take up with pseudo scientific investigators who promulgate new and picturesque theories regarding the care of the soul or the body.

It is understood that the instructions given to General Bliss as to his mission to Cuba, embody a reciprocity proposition looking to the cut of 20 to 25 per cent in our tariff duties in Cuba's behalf.
