Denver Contract Taken Here—Minneapolis manufacturing concerns still take a strong figure in competition for western business, especially in the case of steel products. The contract was secured at $31,000.

Mayor Jones has made arrangements with City Treasurer Hulbert by which they will be paid in full for December. There will be two pay rolls and each man will secure two checks. The remainder of the fund will take care of about 90 per cent of the payroll. Mr. Hulbert personally assumes the responsibility of paying the remaining 10 per cent, re-imbursement later.

John Peterson's Testimony Against Margaret Williams, a Thief, Causes His Own Arrest.

The Woman Says He Caused Her Downfall and Prompted Her to Steal.

Little did John Peterson think when he appeared in police court this morning and gave testimony against Margaret Williams, who was being tried on a charge of petty larceny, that he was uttering words which might send him to state's prison. But such appears to be the fact, and no sooner did the woman receive her sentence than Superintendent of Police Waite informed Peterson that he wished to interview him upon the subject of receiving stolen property. The result of the interview was that Peterson was locked up and his case laid before the county attorney.

The Williams woman was arrested yesterday by Patrolman Martin and Sergeant Thomas Russell charged with stealing a watch from a man she had met in a Washington avenue saloon. She told the officers that she had given the watch to John Peterson, a barber. Peterson acknowledged in court that he had received two watches the girl had stolen.

The woman testified that Peterson had received all the property she had stolen and that on one occasion he had told her he wanted her to snatch a pocketbook containing $150 from a man who would probably get drunk. She said:

"He is more to blame than I am. He told me that I could snatch these things from a man and get away with them. He would get me out of the scrape. He has made me what I am, and I think he ought to be punished as well as me."

THE LAUGH WAS ON GOFF

Municipal Court Bailiff Spends Bad Half Hour Believing Himself Under Arrest.

Emmett J. Goff, the big bailiff at the municipal court, was this morning the victim of a practical joke, perpetrated by his fellow officers. The joke did no harm beyond causing Goff considerable worry.

Last night Officer Goff, while walking along Washington avenue N, found a colored man carrying a bundle in his arms. Goff caught the man by the collar and ejected him. A few minutes later the colored man was arrested by Patrolman Neil Nelson on a charge of drunkenness. This time the man pleaded not guilty and Officer Goff appeared as a witness. The colored man was discharged.

Goff was surprised a few minutes later on being told that the municipal court officers on a charge of assault and battery, sworn out ostensibly by the colored man. Goff requested Clerk Nelson to delay the arraignment until all other cases were disposed of and then turned over his keys to Lieutenant Copeland. He appeared much perplexed and it is said even made arrangements to have a certain high-keyed attorney defend him, explaining that if he was not cleared, he might be dismissed from the force.

When Goff learned that the whole affair was a joke at his expense, he threatened to give several persons real ground for complaints of assault and battery and soon recovered his usual good humor.

INTERURBAN RECIPROCITY

Secy. Westlake of the Commercial Club Makes Pointed Talk to St. Paul Commercial Club.

Secretary E. J. Westlake of the Minneapolis Commercial Club made a strong plea for more friendly relations between Minneapolis and St. Paul at the meeting of the St. Paul Commercial Club last evening. Both cities, he declared, were vitally interested in the promotion of reciprocity with Canada in order to give them a broader commercial field. The day had gone when either town could even afford to be jealous of the other, all of their efforts, he said, should be toward the development of their mutual interests. Incidentally Mr. Westlake took a few "census war" veterans to task for having opposed the extension of the Minneapolis car line to Fort Snelling, reminding them that such an extension would mean the speedy construction of a connecting link with the West Seventh street line in St. Paul, thus giving the cities a much needed interurban line. The two interurban lines now operated, he declared, were wholly inadequate. A third line could alone relieve the congestion, and both cities should insist upon its construction. As Mr. Westlake was formerly secretary of the St. Paul club there was no danger of his pointed remarks breeding a riot.

THE NORTHERN SECURITIES

Activity in the Stock and the Various Rumors About It.

New York, Dec. 10.—Various rumors have been in circulation to account for the activity in Northern Securities stock, the most tangible of which is that a "melior" is soon to be cut by the Great Northern which will benefit the Securities as the largest holder of the stock. Insiders as well as foreigners who have good information are accumulating the stock in anticipation of the right moment when the market can be influenced by genuine good news.

SLATE OF SENATORS

The Principal Places in Minnesota's Upper House Are Practically Pledged Already.

S. A. Langum Well Assured of the Secretaryship—Tom Downs for Sergeant-at-Arms.

The contest for the organization of the next state senate is practically over, so far as the principal places are concerned. A majority of the republican members are pledged to S. A. Langum of Preston for secretary of the senate, and he is certain to be the choice of the senatorial caucus when it meets. Mr. Langum has officiated in the same position for the past four legislatures. He has been an anti-Van Sant man, and was supported by some of that element of the party, but some of his strongest support came from friends of the governor, who preferred Langum because of his experience and all around efficiency. He is understood to have the solid support of the six republican senators from Hennepin. W. R. Estes of Madelia has been in the field for this honor.

Countyman of Appleton will serve again as first assistant secretary, a position he has filled for four years past. He is the choice of the same senators who are supporting Langum. He has no opposition for his place.

It is understood that the position of second assistant secretary is not definitely settled. Mr. Smith, the current incumbent, has removed from the state. G. B. Wollan of Glenwood is a candidate, and is thought to stand a good show for the place.

Thomas Downs of Minneapolis is slated again for sergeant at arms, and his dignified and urbane presence will keep the senators in order as with his stock of "yarns." The minor positions will probably not be settled until the caucus meets.

THE SENATE COMMITTEES

Individual Preferences Are Being Considered in Their Make-up.

Ray W. Jones, lieutenant governor elect, is spending much of his time in conference with the members of the senate, will preside this winter. He is engaged in the arduous task of making committee assignments, and has asked all of the senators to let him know the subjects most of them have accepted his invitation to come to the cities and meet him. In St. Paul to-day he met Senators Torson of Watonwan, Harrington of McLeod, Collier of Otter Tail, Pugh of St. Louis, Batz of Stearns and Sundberg of Kittson. The old senators will naturally have the preference in making up the committees.

Senators Torson and Harrington, backing W. R. Estes for secretary of the senate, admitted that Sam Langum would be chosen.

WILL KEEP REESE'S STAFF

New Clerk of Supreme Court Will Make No Changes.

C. A. Pidgeon, who will succeed D. F. Reese as clerk of the supreme court after Jan. 5, was at the capital to-day and announced that he had decided to keep the office force as at present. J. L. Helm's retention as deputy was desired by the bar of the state and was assured some time ago. On his recommendation and that of Mr. Reese, the new chief will retain Mr. A. Main, Mr. J. C. Mack, Mr. O. Broggan as stenographer. Both have had considerable experience and are very efficient.

The North Star Grain company of Springfield, Minn., has incorporated with $100,000 capital, to deal in grain, lumber and fuel. The men who incorporated the company are William A. Anderson, John R. Schmidt, Albert G. Anderson, Haldrup R. Scott, Walter M. Blackmun, Joseph N. Herring and Knud E. Mo, all of Springfield, and Senator George W. Somerville of Sleepy Eye.

TEA PEOPLE RELIEVED

The House Passes the Bill to Carry Out the Intent of Congress.

Washington, Dec. 10.—The house to-day immediately after adjournment, passed the committee of the whole for the consideration of the bill for the relief of tea importers, reported by the ways and means committee. The bill was passed by a recent decision of the circuit court of the southern district of New York that goods imported and held in a bonded warehouse would be subject to the customs duty assessable at the time of importation.

Mr. Payne explained the bill, saying that it would amend the law to make it conform to the intent of congress and the practice of the treasury department. The bill was passed without division.

CHURCHMEN FALL OUT

Dispute Over Location of the Edifice Causes an Assault.

T. E. Riviere, postmaster and justice of the peace at New Brighton, has been in bed since Friday night as the result of an assault by Henry Marsden, a farmer who lives near New Brighton. He was able to be out of the house for the first time to-day.

HEARING ON MERGER IT MADE BIG MONEY

More Testimony Will Be Taken by Commissioner Ingersoll at St. Paul To-morrow.

Business Men From Towns Affected Can't Testify Without Jeopardizing Their Interests.

More testimony in the state's suit against the railroad merger will be taken to-morrow. F. G. Ingersoll, the special commissioner, will reopen the hearing at 10 a. m. and it is expected to continue all day at St. Paul. This session will finish the testimony, and the commissioner will then present his report to the court, which will set a date for hearing the arguments. General George P. Wilson has returned from St. Cloud, Sauk Center and Fergus Falls, where he had interviews with several shippers in regard to testimony for the state. It is not likely that witnesses will be called from these cities, as, no matter how small business men they may be, they hesitate to call down trouble upon themselves because of testimony they might give against the one-man-power roads.

General Wilson is reported as saying that one man dominates St. Cloud with a pistol leveled at the head of every business interest; consequently it is small wonder that these men do not want to go into court and retail their grievances. It would mean ruin if the man at the head of the great railroad consolidation should decide to punish them for their temerity.

BUMPED IN THE YARDS

An Incoming N. P. Train Jars a Soo Line Freight—A Brake-man Hurt.

Thomas Comiskey, a Soo line brakeman living at 2015 Central avenue, was seriously injured in a wreck in the yards near Eighteenth avenue and Second street NE, in an early hour this morning. Five freight cars were badly smashed, and one engine was considerably damaged. Comiskey was taken to Asbury hospital, and it is thought that he will recover.

The collision occurred between the Northern Pacific passenger train due in the Union passenger station at 6:50 a. m. and a transfer train on the Soo line. The passenger train was pulling into the yards and the engineer supposed that he had a clear track, when the transfer train backed into his way. Before he could stop the train, the passenger engine collided with the rear end of the transfer train.

Both trains were moving slowly, but the shock was sufficient to derail five freight cars, while the passenger engine was somewhat injured by the wreck.

THEY DID IT WELL

Crecent Creamery Scores a Big Hit at Food Show.

Anyone attending the Pure Food Show last night will remember the success of the Northern Field witnessing a grilling contest and on getting into the push was a fast facile to backing Capt. Johnny Flynn of the Gophers—there were full backs of half-backs, quarter-backs, way backs and all sorts of backs—the simple cause for this great mingling of good natured people was the complimentary distribution of the Crecent's delicious ice cream.

There was an equal, the reporter was there and was fortunate enough to get into the game in a favorable position playing right tackle and making a touch down for two dishes. Everybody was good-natured and voted many thanks to the management of the Crecent Creamery people. Three young ladies were kept continually on the jump serving visitors and over one thousand snatched their tips in grateful approval.

The Crecent Creamery company have built up an enviable reputation and are the widest known butter and ice cream manufacturers in the northwest, having valuable business acquaintanceship and business connections—furnishing all the prominent hotels and restaurants in the twin cities—besides hundreds of families that are on their regular daily delivery list eating pure, delicious butter that is made the same day. The Crecent company is also alive to promoting new and original ideas. They are endeavoring to interest the private families in taking their butter each day on one pound per day. In that event butter churned in the morning will be served at noon the same day.

Another idea conclusive of widespread business tact, is showing on butter contracts to the individual hotels and restaurants their own individual service or print in explanation, all butter delivered to the West Hotel is inscribed with the initial "W." The Crecent people have one of the most attractive booths at the Pure Food Show, artistically decorated not only from an artist's point of view but from a butter and cream stand point making the "Crecent Brand" (the butter that made Minnesota famous) stand out in artistic prominence with butter churned from pasteurized cream, forming the more delicate lines of decoration, also a very pleasing effect is created by a display of clarified milk and cream in bottles, the later product together with the Crecent company's butter and ice cream enjoy a reputation throughout Minnesota and the twin cities to be envied—their motto is purity, favor, cleanliness and a desire to please their trade.

MARITAL ANOMALY, THIS

Mrs. Ella Johnson, Twice Divorced From the Same Man—But One Marriage Ceremony.

Divorced twice from the same man, although she has gone through with only one marriage ceremony—that is the experience of Mrs. Ella Johnson, who got her second divorce this morning. Mrs. Johnson testified that she had been married to William J. Johnson in 1889 and that they had lived together until 1895, when she secured a divorce. The following year she met her former husband and agreed to make up the quarrel. This was done and she took her place as head of the Johnson household, although they were not remarried.

She claimed, however, that a common law marriage had been established and the court agreed with the contention, finally granting a second divorce on the grounds of cruelty.

Mrs. Johnson alleged that he had entered into a civil contract with her whereby she was to live with him and care for his house while he was to support her, her mother and a niece. He neglected, however, to defend the case in court.

As it bounded along on the ties, Jacoby fell beneath the footboard.

FORESTRY BOARD PLANS

Funds Will Be Asked for Buying Out-Over Lands.

A bill will be presented to the next legislature, appropriating $20,000 annually for purchasing out over land for forestry purposes, at not to exceed $2.50 per acre. This step was decided on at a meeting of the state forestry board yesterday afternoon. Professor S. B. Green, state horticulturist, presented a plan for reforesting the Pillsbury reserve of 1,000 acres. It contemplates establishing a nursery on the ground for Norway and white pine seedlings. This would cover ten acres and the cost for the first year would be about $5,000.
