MAY TRIP ON TOLLS STOCK

Independent Grain and Stock Exchange Confronted by a Very Serious Obstacle.
Western Union Said to Ask $15,000 a Month for Continuous Quotation Service.

The newly organized Independent Grain and Stock Exchange of Minneapolis, and the Open Board of Trade of Chicago, will be operating in connection. If plans now under consideration are carried through, there will be a private wire service, and continuous quotations will be changed. The Western Union will carry the service.

There is just a possibility that the deal may slip up. If it should fall to go through, it will be because of the rates demanded by the Western Union. The company being a common carrier, is willing to make an arrangement, by which the Open Board of Trade of Chicago and the Independent Grain and Stock Exchange of Minneapolis may send out their quotations continuously, just as the Chicago Board of Trade and the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce do.

The telegraph company, it is said, believes that there will be little return business to compensate, as with quotations sent out by regular exchanges. Neither the Open Board nor the Independent Exchange has much standing among the legitimate grain trade. The telegraph company demands enough to cover fully the cost of disseminating the figures, and will not be changed from the rates derived from return business or independent telegrams.

It is said that it demands payment of the sums semi-annually in advance, that there may be some possibility of loss through the sudden stopping of the patronage at any time. In fact the company will take no chances.

The Chicago Open Board would impose upon the Minneapolis Independent Exchange a part of the expense, and there is an amicable understanding as yet as to just what portion shall be borne by each.

The members of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce evince little interest in the plan.

The chamber is not especially interested in this matter, said an officer to-day. The Open Board has a right, I suppose, to send out quotations if it can get them carried, and while I believe the agreement between the Western Union and the Chicago Board of Trade in some way bears upon the matter of sending out quotations, that those of the regular body, I am not sure that it is close enough to prevent the Western Union from giving its services to the so-called Open Board.

It is not clear, however, whether the agreement upon the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, there will be no effect; absolutely none.

HILL MAKES DISCLAIMER

He Says Chicago Interviews Were Faked But Has Ideas on Over Booming.

James J. Hill denies the sensational Chicago interview of Saturday. He says he never interviewed him in Chicago, though three news articles in three different papers, Mr. Hill said yesterday in St. Paul.

"The business of the country is undergoing a radical change, and it is changing conditions. The most alarming thing is the decrease in our exports. We are importing much more than we export.

"No, there is not due to a larger home consumption. It is because our prices cost too much. Our people demand better things than those of other countries, and we produce them at a higher cost.

"Agricultural products, provisions and such products sell everywhere readily, and are staple the world over. They are not affected by local conditions.

"No, I do not look for the production of articles of a cheaper kind to meet the demands of the export trade. I don't know what will be done. It is hoped that some adjustment will be made to meet the conditions. There is too much speculation now, too much 'boom.' Just how it will come out I do not know.

First District Members Want to Do Away With Their Indorsement of Babcock.

The first district friends of Lawrence H. Johnson are trying to get the steering committee together again. The sentiment of the district is with Johnson as a candidate, rather than with Babcock, who was indorsed by the committee, and it is believed that if a second meeting could be arranged, the former action would be rescinded.

INJUNCTION PREVENTING TIMES CO. FROM TRANSFERRING THE HASKELL PALMER STOCK IS GRANTED.

Service of Summons on Messrs. Haskell and Palmer Is Sustained—Court's Memorandum.

An injunction was issued by Judge Cray against The Times Newspaper company this morning, preventing it from transferring or recording a transfer of the 2,300 shares of stock held by W. E. Haskell and C. M. Palmer of New York, the ownership of which carries with it control of the paper.

At the same time Judge Cray handed down an order denying the motion of A. B. Jackson, attorney for the Haskell and Palmer, to set aside the service of summons made upon his clients in New York.

This means that the case will now be tried on its merits. Mr. Jones will have an opportunity to lay before the court his claims as to the contract which he says was made with Haskell and Palmer for the sale of the stock in question, and which was afterwards repudiated by them on the ground that their local agents had exceeded their authority.

In a memorandum accompanying the temporary injunction Judge Cray says: "The plaintiff in this action seeks to enforce the specific performance of a contract for the sale of 2,300 shares of stock in the Times Newspaper company, a corporation created under the laws of, and domiciled within this state, which stock he claims to have purchased from the defendants, William E. Haskell and Charles M. Palmer, on November 8, 1902.

The contract for the sale of this stock is in writing, executed by the plaintiff himself as purchaser, and by the defendants Haskell and Palmer as vendors, acting by and through S. S. Thorpe and Thomas Peebles, their attorneys in fact.

The plaintiff claims, however, that after the contract had been executed by both parties, and with complete knowledge of what it contained, the stock was made certain payments and tendered performance on his part, should now have the stock in question.

"We do not, as the case now stands, in granting this application for a temporary injunction, undertake to determine certain questions which arise under the contract itself, nor to indicate the kind of judgment, if any, to which plaintiff would be entitled in this action; but, under all the circumstances, the showing so far made, we are of opinion that the case should go to trial upon its merits."

The suit was brought by the plaintiff, Haskell and Palmer, against the defendants, Haskell and Palmer, and S. S. Thorpe and Thomas Peebles, their attorneys in fact.

ONE PAPER SUES ANOTHER

The Northwestern Miller Brings a Libel Suit Against Milwaukee Sentinel.

The Northwestern Miller has brought suit against the Milwaukee Sentinel for $20,000 damages for libel. Papers were filed Saturday in the district court at Milwaukee, High Ryan, one of the best known attorneys in that city having been retained by the plaintiff.

The suit is the outgrowth of frequent references to the "Chit-Chat" column in the Sentinel's daily "Chit-Chat" column on advertising, impugning the motives of the Milwaukee weekly in analyzing the claims of certain meat food companies as to the nutritive qualities of their several products.

IMPROVED MAIL SERVICE

Government Official Looks Into the Question of Interurban Hours.

The extension of the hours for mail service over the interurban electric line from 6 o'clock p. m. until 6 p. m. may result from observations made here yesterday by William G. Jones, chief superintendent of free delivery, postoffice department.

Mr. Edens was agreeably optimistic, as becomes a federal official, in saying that he covers no grounds for the long standing complaints of the mail service between the trains. Mr. Jones surmised that the electric service should not cease at 4 o'clock.

IT IS NO GROWING

Rev. H. C. Mabie Tells Some Unpalatable Truths Regarding the Church.

He Says More and Vigorous Work Is an Absolute Necessity.

Dr. H. C. Mabie, of Boston, former pastor of the First Baptist church in St. Paul, and now secretary of the American Baptist Missionary Union, gave an informal address at the ministers' meeting in the First Baptist church this morning. Mr. Mabie, who is making a tour of ten cities in the east and west, reported that evangelization was the great necessity of the Baptist church. While he did not wish to take on the tone of the pessimist, he declared that the clergy must do more work and more vigorous work, for church attendances were growing lamentably small and would continue to decrease unless immediate action were taken.

Church members themselves were faithful but conversion was at a standstill. He cited the work of the Presbyterians as being marked by the clergy must do more work and more vigorous work, for church attendances were growing lamentably small and would continue to decrease unless immediate action were taken.

Mr. Mabie scored the English Education bill. He said the English church was exercising a tyrannical power toward dissenters only second to that which had driven the Puritans to seek refuge in America.

Dr. W. W. Dawley read a paper on "The Mysteries of Faith. Mystery in the Bible." He said the mystery in the Bible that could not be explained by ordinary means; revelation was necessary to its comprehension.

Christian Science Discussed. J. C. Faries, northwest editor of the Interior presented a paper at the Presbyterian ministers' meeting to-day on "Christian Science and the Bible: Does the Key Fit?" Mr. Faries, who discussed the subject in its relations to God, man, a future life, and the Bible, declared that Christian Science was in accordance with the Scriptures. His opinion was generally accepted by the pastors present.

GAMBLERS SENT UP

Chief of Police Waite and His Officers Raid Several Gambling Dens.

Arrests Are Made and Several Who Plead Guilty Are Sent to Workhouse.

The anti-gambling crusade of Acting Mayor D. P. Jones and Superintendent of Police E. F. Waite is going on with the same activity that has been characteristic of the new administration in all directions from the first. Although the time is near at hand when the reins of city government will be given over to others, the police department continues to raid gambling houses in various parts of the city. As a result of this activity two men were in police court this morning charged with keeping a gambling house, two with aiding in keeping a gambling house, and one with gambling with cards. The officers also secured the names of ten or twelve gamblers who were found in the places raided. Although the time is near at hand when the reins of city government will be given over to others, the police department continues to raid gambling houses in various parts of the city.

TIPS ON HUSTLING

W. G. Nye Has Been Investigating Development Work at Cleveland and Detroit.

He Returns With Ideas Which Will Be of Value to Minneapolis.

Wallace G. Nye, of the Commercial club public affairs committee, who was commissioned to visit Detroit and Cleveland in search of "peepers" for local use in developing this morning.

Mr. Nye found both cities well equipped with strong commercial bodies, whose constant endeavor is to advance the interests of their respective municipalities. He found that as a direct result both cities were developing rapidly along industrial lines. As in Minneapolis, constant agitation is going on for the erection of large business and convention halls. With the exposition building, Minneapolis has a larger hall than either Detroit or Cleveland, but they are better equipped with smaller auditoriums and seating capacities of about 4,000.

Although Detroit is well supplied with hotels, there is a feeling among the representatives of business in that city should have a much finer hotelery than it now boasts. A movement begun by the Detroit Commercial club contemplates the erection of a $1,000,000 hotel. This public enterprise is financed by a stock issue to business men. That is but a sample of the way in which the club looks after broader interests of the city.

Mr. Nye's chief concern is with the commerce, concerns itself largely with an important branch of its work known as "industrial betterments." This work is done after a committee of prominent business men who are constantly adding to the manufacturing and other interests of the city. With the idea of redeeming Cleveland's unsightly lake front, the city's committee on street work plans which will convert the district now given over to "red light" resorts into a lake front park, which will permit of the city grouping its public buildings, including the city and county edifices. The pains when carried out will greatly increase the value of surrounding property and add materially to the beauty of the city.

"Both Detroit and Cleveland," said Mr. Nye, "have troubles of their own with regard to school finances. Cleveland is not alone in that respect. As is the case here, both of these older cities are forced either to ask for an appropriation for school purposes or to issue bonds. In Detroit they are asking for direct appropriation of $100,000 for new buildings to accommodate the rapidly growing school population. Cleveland will raise $125,000 for like purposes by issuing bonds.

"What we want in Minneapolis is more small factories. Minneapolis has made a creditable showing in the past year, but it is only a beginning. It is a revelation to see the number of small manufacturing industries that are springing up in this city. Several small industries of a diverse character mean more for a city's prosperity than one large factory. We may well follow the example of these older and some what larger cities in bending our efforts toward inducing small manufacturers of every description to locate here. Money so spent cannot be more profitably invested."

Mr. Nye does not look for any direct results from the reciprocity convention at Detroit. He is confident that it will be a powerful lever in molding public sentiment in favor of greater reciprocal relations with Canada, and that it will tend also to influence legislation that way.

TOO HOT FOR STOCKWELL

Man Who Eloped With Rose Ceipelt Abandons Girl on Arrival of Her Sister.

After following her sister from Minneapolis to Milwaukee, then to Beloit and finally to Rockford, Ill., Miss Mary Ceipelt succeeded in overtaking Miss Rose Ceipelt in time to prevent her from marrying Charles Stockwell, with whom she eloped from this city two weeks ago. The sisters had a stormy scene in the waiting station at the city railway and finally Stockwell, seeing that things were getting too warm for him, left. The girl had no choice then but to return to her home.

After reaching Milwaukee, Miss Ceipelt wrote to her sisters that she had been married. Her story was doubted on account of the stringent marriage laws of Wisconsin. Her sister, who resides in Minneapolis, decided that she would follow the girl and prevent, if possible, her marriage to a man who already had one wife. She arrived in a nick of time.

Charles Stockwell, the man in the case, came to this city recently from Billings, Mont., where he was employed as a clerk in a retail store. He went east and returned later with a woman whom he introduced as his wife. Shortly afterwards the woman disappeared; it being said that he was unable to support her. Stockwell then came to Minneapolis. He has a wealthy relatives living near Billings, Mont.

CHRISTMAS SLIPPERS AT THE NICKEL PLATE. Danes, and as the Tidende is published in Norwegian-Danish, its field is not so circumscribed as some persons might suppose. S. S. PUPILS WILL GIVE Generous Spirit Shown by Riverside Chapel Children. Riverside Sunday school began a new Christmas movement yesterday. Hither at the close of the annual exercises, the pupils have been presented with candies, etc. This year the tables will be turned and Santa and the children will do some presenting themselves. It was proposed by Superintendent Eastley before Sunday school yesterday, that each class agree what it would do to make some persons lacking necessities of life comfortable. The result was surprising to the officers and to the teachers. The children provided what it would do to make voted large supplies of flour, canned meats and other articles of food, which they agreed to furnish. The little ones in the primary and intermediate classes will each bring a potato, an apple, or something which in the sum total will count for much. The distribution will be made under the direction of the Associated Charities and the pastor of the chapel, Rev. E. F. Pabody. The Christmas entertainment will be held the afternoon and evening of Dec. 29.

TIDENDE BREAKS RECORD

Its Issue of Yesterday the Largest Scandinavian Newspaper Ever Published.

Sunday's issue of the Minneapolis Daily Tidende sets a very high mark for its contemporaries in the field of Scandinavian journalism, and for that matter any newspaper publisher in the northwest will view the paper with admiration and a great deal of respect. The number contains thirty-six pages, and is alike credited to every department of the editorial, advertising and the mechanical.

The half tone reproductions are excellent, the general make-up neat and effective, the advertising harmoniously grouped and catchy. Typographically the paper is first class.

These features, when taken into consideration with the fact that the issue contains 153 columns of advertising matter, gives the publishers license to smile and smile again. This lengthy array of advertising was secured by the regular staff of the paper without the addition of a single outside solicitor, in which case the showing of yesterday is a fine tribute to their hustling abilities.

When the officers left, Lieutenant Cepel remained in hiding in the hall. About two hours later J. E. Waite, whose true name is said to be Walter Isham, returned. He was arrested on a charge of assisting in keeping a gambling house and was held in police court this morning. Judge Holt sentenced him to the workhouse for sixty days.

Another house raided was that of W. E. McCullough, 109 E. Seventh-Sixth street, which was raided last night by Superintendent of Police E. F. Waite and a detail of officers from the Fifth precinct police station. Ten were found, including several boys. Their names were taken and all were allowed to go except McCullough who was charged with keeping a gambling house. He will have his trial Friday.
