

CITY NEWS

WEATHER NOW AND THEN
Minimum Temperature To-day 3 Degrees; a Year Ago 28 Degrees.

Entertainment at Synagogue—An entertainment will be given to-morrow at 2:30 p. m. to the pupils of the Sabbath school of the Jewish Reform congregation in the vestry rooms of the synagogue.

A Wealthy Beggar—Joe Rukavar was arrested at the South Side police station yesterday on a charge of vagrancy.

Cash and Watches Stolen—Thomas Cowan, an engineer at the West Side pumping station, lost $50 in cash and two silver watches through the carelessness of someone who broke into his residence at 707 Third street S. recently.

New Store Toy Distribution—The distribution of toys, dolls, etc., by the New Store to the poor children of the city will take place at the armory to-morrow at 10 a. m.

New Corporations—The Globe Investment company of Duluth has incorporated with $50,000 capital. The state bank of Badger, Minn., has been authorized to do business with a capital of $10,000.

REAL ESTATE, FARM AND CITY PROPERTY.
Insurance Loans and Business Chances.
No. 517 Phoenix Building.
Phone City 2218.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 16, 1902.
Advertising Department Minneapolis Journal:
Gentlemen—I have used your paper for advertising farm and city property and am well pleased with the result.

Table with 2 columns: Residences, Journals, Tribes.
12 Residences, 8 Journals, 3 Tribes.
8 Residences, 7 Journals, 1 Trib.

NEUROLOGICAL
MRS. PAULINE J. PARTRIDGE, mother of Ruth and Paul Partridge, died Sunday morning at her residence, 127 East Fifteenth street.

FRED M. GORDON, aged 25 years, died this morning at the home of his father, C. F. Gordon, 2209 Hennepin avenue. He had been an invalid for some years, but it was only a few days that his illness assumed a serious form.

HIGH PRICE FOR PRINTING
That Paid by County Board for January Court Calendar.
The county commission has again subjected the printer to criticism for his peculiar methods of transacting public business.

SEATS FOR "BEN HUR"
They Went Like Hot Cakes to a Long Line of Shivering Buyers.
If the crowd at the opening of the sale of tickets for "Ben Hur" at the Lyceum on a Monday night was any indication, the people of Minneapolis are eager to see the famous production for the proper setting of which stage carpenters have for weeks been making ready at the Lyceum theater behind the footlights.

BRONSON HOWARD HERE
Dramatist Is Here for a Visit With His Cousin.
Bronson Howard, one of America's greatest living dramatists, is visiting his cousin, Albert W. Howard, at the Holmes hotel. He was the guest of honor at the luncheon at the Minneapolis Club this afternoon.

Christmas Presentations.
The employees in the office of the secretary of state presented Mr. Hanson yesterday with a cut glass water set. Captain C. C. Whitney making the presentation.

Gifts of West Hotel Management to Hotel Employees.
The 125 employees of the West hotel were remembered by the hotel management this afternoon. In line with the custom since the erection of the big hotel eighteen years ago, every man, woman and child in its service was provided with a Christmas gift.

Employees of the county auditor's office presented County Auditor Scott a handsome gold watch yesterday as a Christmas gift. The presentation was made early because Mr. Scott left the city to-day and will not return until after the holidays.

Christmas presents fairly "showered" in the health department this morning. Health Commissioner P. M. Hall presented a box of cigars to each one of the twenty odd male members of the sanitary staff.

Timber Board Refuses Permit.
The state timber board was compelled yesterday to deny an application for a second extension of a permit to cut timber on state land. The applicant stated that the log haul and security money had been expended in clearing the land.

Timber Board Refuses Permit.
The state timber board was compelled yesterday to deny an application for a second extension of a permit to cut timber on state land. The applicant stated that the log haul and security money had been expended in clearing the land.

'T WAS A JOY OF RINGS

'Bill' Leary's Intermittent Alarm Clock Made a Marked Man of Him.

An Appropriate Christmas Gift That Kept Cutting Loose in a Crowded Car.

The Hon. William Leary, present assistant county attorney, who was accorded a master's degree by the University of Minnesota for original work in the footlocker of the Jewish Reform congregation in the vestry rooms of the synagogue, "there will be games, awards of prizes and good things to eat."

As the speaker finished the clock cut loose and rattled off an alarm that lasted for sixty seconds. The Hon. William Leary smiled.

"Why, that's a cinch," he said. "Why didn't you allow a real clock? That will just wake me up enough so I can enjoy the after-nap."

The conspirators snickered, but said nothing. The dignified assistant county attorney put his gift in his box, tucked the package under his arm and started for home. When he got outside he boarded a car.

A minute later something happened. The alarm began again, softly, at first, but with increasing volume as the clock warmed up to its work. It continued for two minutes this time and Leary couldn't stop it. Passengers on the car laughed outright. Leary blushed, but he didn't say a word.

The car sped on until, suddenly, that familiar tintillation again burst upon his ears. This time the passenger Leary and Leary said something, half under his breath. Then he tackled that clock long and he tackled hard, and started on a run through the streets.

Before he got there, however, an obtruding foot overturned his calculations and himself. This wasn't football and he didn't know it, but he was in a tight spot, and he stopped to argue with the man who had been the cause of his downfall.

Fatal error! For just as he had started in to explain the rules of the game, his voice was drowned out by that infernal bell. A young woman across the aisle included a burst into cackling merriment, and then the Hon. William stood upon the order of his going, but went at once. He bolted through the door, and he was in a tight spot, and he stopped to argue with the man who had been the cause of his downfall.

Andrew Presbyterian Sunday school gave evidence of its hustling and before-hand qualities by holding its Christmas entertainment last night, while the edge of expectation was still undulled. There was only a few days that his illness assumed a serious form.

The entertainment planned and carried out by the school was made all the way by E. G. Chapman, assistant superintendent, with the assistance of many willing aides was a novel and attractive one. An address by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Couper, and four barrels were gathered in this way. The music was in charge of Mr. Chapman and several numbers were given by the Sunday school orchestra.

The scholars had arranged to bring gifts by classes and to provide an original mode of presentation. The primary class began this exercise by singing "The Dolls' Song," with appropriate action, while offering their gifts of toys and dolls. Mrs. J. S. Clark's class appeared in the costumes of millionaires and offered their gifts of dolls, with appropriate action, while offering their gifts of toys and dolls.

Santa Claus in the person of Rev. James H. Rankin, appeared during the festivities and after appropriate comment on the spirit of the celebration he bestowed him- self on the children, distributing to each of the pastor a package provided by the congregation. This proved to be a handsome gold watch with some trimming, which was presented to the pastor.

They Went Like Hot Cakes to a Long Line of Shivering Buyers.
If the crowd at the opening of the sale of tickets for "Ben Hur" at the Lyceum on a Monday night was any indication, the people of Minneapolis are eager to see the famous production for the proper setting of which stage carpenters have for weeks been making ready at the Lyceum theater behind the footlights.

Notwithstanding the bitter cold wind from the west, a long line of messenger boys and errand boys, many of them dressed in top hats and overcoats, marched in lock step for an hour gradually nearing the coveted box office. Speculators were on hand carrying the advantage of the gallery and balcony tickets, which they held for sale to the man, the proprietor of a family hotel, who had promised his guests a treat opening night when "Ben Hur" came to town.

Notwithstanding the bitter cold wind from the west, a long line of messenger boys and errand boys, many of them dressed in top hats and overcoats, marched in lock step for an hour gradually nearing the coveted box office. Speculators were on hand carrying the advantage of the gallery and balcony tickets, which they held for sale to the man, the proprietor of a family hotel, who had promised his guests a treat opening night when "Ben Hur" came to town.

Notwithstanding the bitter cold wind from the west, a long line of messenger boys and errand boys, many of them dressed in top hats and overcoats, marched in lock step for an hour gradually nearing the coveted box office. Speculators were on hand carrying the advantage of the gallery and balcony tickets, which they held for sale to the man, the proprietor of a family hotel, who had promised his guests a treat opening night when "Ben Hur" came to town.

Notwithstanding the bitter cold wind from the west, a long line of messenger boys and errand boys, many of them dressed in top hats and overcoats, marched in lock step for an hour gradually nearing the coveted box office. Speculators were on hand carrying the advantage of the gallery and balcony tickets, which they held for sale to the man, the proprietor of a family hotel, who had promised his guests a treat opening night when "Ben Hur" came to town.

Notwithstanding the bitter cold wind from the west, a long line of messenger boys and errand boys, many of them dressed in top hats and overcoats, marched in lock step for an hour gradually nearing the coveted box office. Speculators were on hand carrying the advantage of the gallery and balcony tickets, which they held for sale to the man, the proprietor of a family hotel, who had promised his guests a treat opening night when "Ben Hur" came to town.

Notwithstanding the bitter cold wind from the west, a long line of messenger boys and errand boys, many of them dressed in top hats and overcoats, marched in lock step for an hour gradually nearing the coveted box office. Speculators were on hand carrying the advantage of the gallery and balcony tickets, which they held for sale to the man, the proprietor of a family hotel, who had promised his guests a treat opening night when "Ben Hur" came to town.

Notwithstanding the bitter cold wind from the west, a long line of messenger boys and errand boys, many of them dressed in top hats and overcoats, marched in lock step for an hour gradually nearing the coveted box office. Speculators were on hand carrying the advantage of the gallery and balcony tickets, which they held for sale to the man, the proprietor of a family hotel, who had promised his guests a treat opening night when "Ben Hur" came to town.

Notwithstanding the bitter cold wind from the west, a long line of messenger boys and errand boys, many of them dressed in top hats and overcoats, marched in lock step for an hour gradually nearing the coveted box office. Speculators were on hand carrying the advantage of the gallery and balcony tickets, which they held for sale to the man, the proprietor of a family hotel, who had promised his guests a treat opening night when "Ben Hur" came to town.

SANTA'S ASSISTANTS

They Are All as Busy as They Can Be—Especially at the Postoffice.

Express Companies, Too, Are Overworked—Store-keepers Say Crowds Are "Spenders."

Holiday business at the Minneapolis postoffice beats all records. Though exact figures are not yet at hand, the business will be easily 25 per cent greater than for any previous Christmas. The big increase in the amount of mail matter handled is reported not only from the main office, but from all of the sub-stations. One of the statistics sent to the main office Monday seventy-five pouches of mail matter, or 225 bushels. There are three extra stamp clerks at the main office, several extra clerks doing miscellaneous work. Fifteen additional men in the registry division, and twenty substitutes reinforcing the regular carriers.

From the four corners of the globe mail packages are coming by the thousand to the people of this city, and the outgoing mails are almost equally as numerous. The quantity of Christmas greetings to distant friends and relatives. Even with reinforcements it is only by keeping steadily at work, day and night, that Postmaster General Hale can begin to handle the big and little packages that flow constantly in upon them in bulging pouches.

All day and night men are pitching packages into pouches destined for outside points. As fast as the outbound mail is sorted out, it is loaded into high box-cars and hurried to the different stations. Notwithstanding the unprecedented rush, Mr. Hale says that with a few unavoidable exceptions, the mail will be delivered as scheduled.

An idea of the amount of local business may be had from the fact that wagons loaded with presents are on the move unceasingly from the city to the suburbs to the central office. The business has increased to such an extent that but for the annex and the general delivery department for dispatching the mail, Mr. Hale says, it would be impossible to handle it on anything like a satisfactory basis.

Express Companies Busy.
While Uncle Sam's postoffice is a Claus to the best of its ability, the eleven express companies of Minneapolis are burdened every outgoing train with the complements of the season. There was a crush at every station this morning. Even by greatly increasing their usual working forces, some of the companies are unable to meet the unparalleled demands now upon them.

Every delivery wagon for the big stores is working overtime to deliver Christmas goods to all parts of the city. The stores have all arranged to have their service and wagons will be carrying packages until the early hours of to-morrow morning. Notwithstanding the rush, Mr. Hale says that with a few unavoidable exceptions, the mail will be delivered as scheduled.

"Spenders" This Year.
"We always have large crowds at Christmas time," said the proprietor of one of the large stores, "but it has been years since we have had so many spenders. These are the best of the year, and we can simply stand around, with no definite idea of actually buying something or of perhaps making some trifling purchase. The crowds are here to see the goods in the store. They pick their things out quickly and there is a larger demand for costlier gifts, all of which become loose purchases upon them."

Another sign of the times is the infrequency of shop-lifting this year as compared with the past seasons. Detective forces are being kept busy with the lifters were unusually scarce, and that few suspicious characters had been detected about the stores. He expressed the belief that prosperity and peace will continue with the falling off in this branch of crime, because when times were good there was less incentive for people to appropriate that which their purses could not supply.

C. W. SIMMONS SURPRISED
Bemis Bag Factory Employee Takes His Breath Away.
Charles W. Simmons, superintendent of the Bemis Bag factory, was subjected to another Christmas surprise this noon, when the factory employees presented him with a handsome cut-glass berry bowl as a Christmas gift. Mr. Simmons had called him before them. Mr. Simmons had the slightest intimation of what was coming and just about lost his breath when the spokesman for the force, after explaining the nature of the gift, presented the surrounding assemblage, unveiled a handsome speeding cutter, in which a fine fur robe and a handsome whip reposed invitingly. Mr. Simmons' eyes were wide for horseflesh and the unexpected gift caused a ring of emotion in his voice as he expressed his thanks and his appreciation of the gift.

Register of Deeds Merrill was made the recipient of an unusually handsome cut-glass inkstand, gold trimmed, on which his monogram had been engraved. The stand was surmounted by a pair of chamois horns, also trimmed in gold. The piece is the work of a well-known Parisian jeweler, probably the most elaborate thing of the kind ever seen here. The presentation speech was made by Deputy A. L. Skoug.

Yesterday morning in the office of County Auditor Hugh Scott presented him with a handsome gold watch. When they got to their homes they found that the auditor had ordered a pair of diamond cuff buttons. The staff of Dairy Commissioner McConnell gave him a gold headed umbrella.

Christmas Presentations.
The employees in the office of the secretary of state presented Mr. Hanson yesterday with a cut glass water set. Captain C. C. Whitney making the presentation.

Gifts of West Hotel Management to Hotel Employees.
The 125 employees of the West hotel were remembered by the hotel management this afternoon. In line with the custom since the erection of the big hotel eighteen years ago, every man, woman and child in its service was provided with a Christmas gift.

Employees of the county auditor's office presented County Auditor Scott a handsome gold watch yesterday as a Christmas gift. The presentation was made early because Mr. Scott left the city to-day and will not return until after the holidays.

Christmas presents fairly "showered" in the health department this morning. Health Commissioner P. M. Hall presented a box of cigars to each one of the twenty odd male members of the sanitary staff.

Timber Board Refuses Permit.
The state timber board was compelled yesterday to deny an application for a second extension of a permit to cut timber on state land. The applicant stated that the log haul and security money had been expended in clearing the land.

Timber Board Refuses Permit.
The state timber board was compelled yesterday to deny an application for a second extension of a permit to cut timber on state land. The applicant stated that the log haul and security money had been expended in clearing the land.

Timber Board Refuses Permit.
The state timber board was compelled yesterday to deny an application for a second extension of a permit to cut timber on state land. The applicant stated that the log haul and security money had been expended in clearing the land.

Timber Board Refuses Permit.
The state timber board was compelled yesterday to deny an application for a second extension of a permit to cut timber on state land. The applicant stated that the log haul and security money had been expended in clearing the land.

Timber Board Refuses Permit.
The state timber board was compelled yesterday to deny an application for a second extension of a permit to cut timber on state land. The applicant stated that the log haul and security money had been expended in clearing the land.

Timber Board Refuses Permit.
The state timber board was compelled yesterday to deny an application for a second extension of a permit to cut timber on state land. The applicant stated that the log haul and security money had been expended in clearing the land.

Timber Board Refuses Permit.
The state timber board was compelled yesterday to deny an application for a second extension of a permit to cut timber on state land. The applicant stated that the log haul and security money had been expended in clearing the land.

Timber Board Refuses Permit.
The state timber board was compelled yesterday to deny an application for a second extension of a permit to cut timber on state land. The applicant stated that the log haul and security money had been expended in clearing the land.

REMEMBER THE POOR

Salvationists Begin the Distribution of an Even Thousand Christmas Dinner Baskets.

The Volunteers Will Give Poor Children a Treat at Century Hall To-night.

Both the Salvation Army and the Volunteers of America are giving liberally to-day in Minneapolis. The Salvation Army distributed this afternoon 500 baskets containing Christmas dinners for 2,500 persons. To-morrow the army will give away 500 more dinners. The food sent has been contributed, in a large measure, by friends of the Army. Many of the provisions hoarded have been purchased by the soldiers of the Army in the iron kettles that have hung for the last two weeks at the Century hall.

The 500 baskets given away to-day were presented to qualified applicants at 220 Washington avenue S. Each basket contained potatoes, onions, bread, flour, crackers, coffee, sugar, pickles, a chicken, a big mince pie, and a copy of the War Cry. The quantity of provisions in one basket was sufficient for five persons. But if the applicant represented a family of six or more members, he received two baskets.

The baskets were given only to those vouched for by some responsible person. The names and addresses of needy families have been collected by the volunteers, letter carriers, the police matron, the humane society, and others.

From noon until 3 p. m. to-morrow dinner for 500 "transient" individuals will be served by the Army at 220 Washington avenue S.

To-night a Christmas tree for the benefit of poor children will be set up by the department of the Century hall. Nearly 400 children will thus obtain clothing, toys, candy, nuts and fruit.

The Christmas activities of the Salvationists have been conducted by Ernest Henry Stillwell, assisted by Mrs. Stillwell, by Staff Captain and Mrs. Waite, and by Staff Captain and Mrs. Faulkner.

The Volunteers' Work.
To-night at Century hall, Fourth street and First avenue S., the Volunteers of America, under the guidance of Adjutant Andrick, will welcome a multitude of needy adults and children into the presence of a fruitful Christmas tree. At least 1,000 children will pick from the tree candy, nuts, toys and other pleasing produce. The same branches will bring forth clothing, hats, shoes, coats, and big. The Journal's newsboys' band will play and Mayor-elect J. C. Hayes will speak.

WILL ASK FOR THEIR MONEY
Schools Whose State Allowances Have Not Been Fully Paid.
The legislature will be asked to appropriate money to make up the deficit in state aid to high, graded and rural schools, which aggregated $104,000 the past two years. High schools drawing state aid are entitled to $1,000 a year, schools of $200 and rural schools to $100. In 1900 the $29 high school fell short of the amount due them by $150 each, or $19,500. In 1901, 141 high schools failed to receive their share of the appropriation, making $31,020 in aggregate. In 1902 $81,000 of the appropriation fell short of the amount due them by $150 each, or $19,500. These are the figures of the state auditor's report, making $104,000 in aggregate. In 1901 138 semi-graded schools fell short $74,883 each—a total of $14,826.28. In 1902, 248 schools lacked $49 each of the appropriation, or $9,807.50 in aggregate. Rural schools' fell behind their quota in 1902, 747 receiving $20 less than their share of the appropriation, or $14,940 in aggregate. The schools want the balance to-day and will ask for a deficiency appropriation.

COLDER TO-MORROW
The Mercury Will Probably Spend Christmas Below Zero.
Christmas will be colder than to-day. The lowest temperature since the present cold wave arrived was six degrees above zero, and that was on Monday. To-morrow will be below zero throughout the Canadian northwest and North Dakota. In the eastern, northern and central parts of the United States, the lowest record was reported from Swift Current, Assiniboia, where the mercury had dropped to 18 below, and in Montana. The lowest record was reported from Swift Current, Assiniboia, where the mercury had dropped to 18 below, and in Montana. The lowest record was reported from Swift Current, Assiniboia, where the mercury had dropped to 18 below, and in Montana.

DUMPED ON MINNESOTA
An Insane Patient Sent Here From Washington to Get Rid of Him.
George Navell was examined in the probate court this morning and ordered committed to the St. Peter asylum. He is a resident of the state of Washington and appears to have been shipped here by the Washington authorities for the extradition of the defendant in the case of the late Senator Henry W. Longfellow. Other bright names are Sargent S. Prentiss, one of the ablest lawyers, and by many regarded as the most brilliant in the country ever produced. John P. Hale, of free soil, anti-slavery fame, and John A. Andrews, a noted lawyer of Boston, and the war governor of Massachusetts.

CANDIDATES TAKE HOLIDAY
Speakership Contestants Close Their Headquarters in Order to Celebrate Christmas.
Headquarters of the speakership candidates close to-night for Christmas. No outside legislators were in the twin cities to-day. The contestants are experiencing the lull before the storm that is sure to break out immediately after Christmas. Mr. Babcock's supporters claimed to-day a gain of three votes. Johnson men are confident that they will have a majority in the house republicans pledged before the caucus Jan. 5. There are few voters in the city to-day. The speakership contestants are experiencing the lull before the storm that is sure to break out immediately after Christmas.

YENOH BOOT TRADE HURT.
Paris, Dec. 24.—In consequence of the increased cost of hides used in the manufacture of American tanned, French shoemakers have resolved to advance prices 10 per cent. It is stated that the French boot trade has been hurt by American competition. Agents from the United States are buying a better class of supplies which the French makers are unable to afford to pay, and despite protective tariffs, are underselling the French makers.

ROBBED ANOTHER POSTOFFICE.
Bloomington, Ill., Dec. 24.—The gang of bank and postoffice robbers which has been at work in this vicinity for the past year cleaned out the postoffice at Towanda last night. One hundred dollars in money and all stamps and registered mail, estimated in value at $500 to $1,000, was taken. The safe was blown, but no one was hurt.

MINE WORKERS' CONVENTION.
Scranton, Pa., Dec. 24.—The convention of the United Mine Workers of America, has opened at Scranton, Pa. The convention is organized to-day at 10 a. m. The convention is organized to-day at 10 a. m. The convention is organized to-day at 10 a. m.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 24.—Fugitive from justice and exile for nearly seven years, hunted in London and elsewhere, Gideon W. Marsh is at last a free man. To-morrow he will be with his wife and children in Philadelphia. The former prisoner was arrested in London in 1895, and was held in the Revere bank in the last of seven men to come out of the penitentiary, to which they were sent for their part in the wrecking of that institution and the Spring Garden bank.

J. L. MCBRINEY DEAD.
New York, Dec. 24.—Joseph L. McBrieny, treasurer of the National Lead company, died to-day of pneumonia.

DEMS MAKE THREATS

Minority Aldermen Are Said to Be After Committee Appointments With a Club.

Permanent Improvements May Be Blocked if Their Requests Are Not Granted.

Democratic aldermen threaten to stop all permanent improvements for the coming season unless they secure what they regard as adequate representation on the important council committees. They are in position to carry out their threats, and in consequence the republicans who had expected to divide the plum among themselves are becoming a little fearful that they are compelled to give some of the good things away. While there are only nine democrats on the council, the republicans have just enough votes to prevent all legislation requiring a two-thirds majority, and consequently if they desire they can block permanent improvement measures, with the exception of such as relate to the waterworks department.

It is believed that the members of the minority party are in a mood to proceed to any extremes if they are not given a fair representation on the big committees, even to the extent of bringing the welfare of the city. It is to outline a campaign and to effect a solid organization that the democrats are holding their fire.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation. President Jones is urged to recognize the minority party as he has in the past. It is believed that there are any threats in the communication, but the democrats rather expect to have a fair share of the plum.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this communication it is recited that the various wards represented by democrats are important parts of the city, and that the welfare of the municipality improvements and that their aldermen should have an active participation in the legislation.

Should the democrats be relegated to the minor committees it will be through the fault of the majority party. It is their duty to take whatever steps may be necessary to get something. An address or memorial to Alderman D. P. Jones, who will be expected to introduce the bill, has been prepared. In this