KEEP YOUR MOUTH SHUT

A Chicago Man Invents an Apparatus That Will Stop Snorers.

New York Sun Special Service.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Persons who snore have a longer any excuse to offer for disturbing the slumbers of those who occupy berths above them in sleeping cars or rooms next to theirs in hotels.

George H. Geraghty, who has supplied campaign buttons for every candidate who has ever been elected to office in Chicago, has discovered a preventive for snoring. His invention is a simple one. The device consists of a tortoise shell mouthpiece, which hean be adjusted to fit the mouth of any person.

When the mouthpiece is placed between the teeth and the lips, Geraghty declares it is impossible for any one who wears it to snore. He says there is no danger that the person who wears the mouthpiece will choke, for it does not discommodate the person in whose mouth it is placed.

In addition to its ability to prevent snoring, the mouthpiece has other uses. It compels persons who have been making speeches or have been in warm rooms to breathe through their noses when going out into the cold air.

"Doctors have told me," Mr. Geraghty said, "that my invention is a sure preventive for bronchial diseases. They say it is so simple they wonder no the thought of it before now. If they had hundreds of lives would have been prolonged."
